A meeting of the city council was held Monday evening at which the ordinance which was passed recently to compel the motors to stop at all railway crossings and the conductors to run ahead and signal to their motormen if the road was clear, was repealed and a similar ordinance was passed, so as to apply to the Manawa railway as well as to the electric line.

Dalbey's band furnished the various newspaper offices in the city last evening with serenades. The band is now under the leadership of E. D. Patton, and it is not stretching the truth a particle to say that they are in better condition now than ever before. They have been practicing vigor-ously for several weeks past, and has made themselves into an organization of which the people of Council Bluffs are justly proud.

Oscar Jones and R. H. Robinson, colored who have been litigating to a considerable extent in the justice courts for the past few days as the result of a free-for-all fight, came into court yesterday afternoon and stated that they had had fun enough for hot summer months and wished to compromise. They were told that the case could be dismissed upon the payment of the costs. They made up a purse and paid the costs, and the Jones-Robinson feud is a thing of the past. A certain family living on Lincoln avenue was visited with measles a short time ago, but having a deadly dread of the yellow card, neither reported the case according to the state law, nor hired a physician for fear that he would report it. The boy who had the measles is now up and around, but a day or two ago the city marshal discovered that he had had the discase. He accordingly went to the place and tacked up the card, which will have to remain in statu quo un-til the thirty days have expired. The family in question has come to the conclusion that it doesn't pay to try to beat the Board of Health and the city physician.

BEE NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Sad Tragedy that Closed What Would Have Been a Happy Excursion.

WALLACE HATCHER ACCIDENTLY KILLED

Andrew St. John Fired a Rifle at Nothing and the Bellet Hit His Friend in the Head-Details of the Affair.

A party of boys whose ages ranged all the way from 13 to 17 went out to Hanthorn lake, seven miles northeast of the city Monday morning, for a few days camping out, but their fun was put an end to by a tragic event that took place yesterday morning. The party was composed of Roy and Paul Hazen, sons of Sheriff John T. Hazen, Earle and Andrew St. John, sons of S. S. St. John, Wallace Hatcher and Harry Hines, two boys who live with their relatives, Mrs. R. P. Snow and Captain B. W. Hight

o Fourth Street. About 6 o'clock yesterday morning the boys were having a good time on the shore of the lake. Hatcher was fishing, and a few feet above him on the bank Andrew St. John was playing with a small target rifle. St. John suddenly came to the conclusion that it would be a good plan to see whether the gun would shoot across the lake. He shot. Just at that instant Hatcher saw his cork go under the water and leaped to land his fish. The ball, a 22-caliber bullet, caught him in the back of the head and knocked him over. He fell into the water, which at that place was quite deep. At first St. John could not believe that he had shot his friend, but he immediately jumped into the water, and with the assistance of the other boys towed Hatcher to shore. A neighboring farm hand was at once sent to the city with the news of the tragedy. When he arrived here he said that it was Hines who was shot, instead of Hatcher. This gave rise to the report which was current upon the streets during the earlier part of the day.

Captain Hight left at once for the scene of the accident in company with physicians. Just about the time they arrived Hatcher breathed his last. This was about 1 o'clock in the afternoon, and as soon as the body uld be gotten in readiness it was removed to the residence of the family on Fourth

Sons of Veterans Gather from all Parts of the State for a Reunion.

The Sons of Veterans of Iowa took posses sion of the city yesterday and will keep it in their hands for two more days. Every train yesterday morning and up until noon brought in delegations, until the city fairly swarmed with them. Everything possible was done by the reception committee to insure a good time for the visitors, and to all appearances their attempts were successful. The afternoon was taken up with a business session, at which but little business of any interest to the outside public was tran-sacted. In the evening there was a camp fire at the Masonic temple, the large hall being filled almost to suffocation. The ex-ercises were very interesting after they got to going although owing to mismanage on some one's part, it was 0 o'clock before

MADAM DUNNE'S DEATH. Founder of the Sacred Heart Convent in Omaha Dies in the East. The announcement of the death of Mme. M. J. Dunne, who died at Kenwood convent on the Hudson river, near Albany, N. Y., June 19, cast a gloom of sadness over the sisters and scholars of the Sacred Heart convent in this city yesterday. At 8 o'clock this morning, the hour set for the funeral, solemn wass in her memory will be held, in which Mgr. Satolli, Bishops O'Gorman and Scannell and the sisters, mothers and scholars of the Sacred Heart convent will participate.

Mme. Dunne is well known in Omaha and came to this city ten years ago. She at once established the Sacred Heart convent at Ninth and Howard streets in J. A. Mc-Shane's old residence property, and when she began this good educational work she had ning scholars. Since then two schools had nine scholars. Since then two schools have been established and the pupils are numbered by the hundreds.

Her kind, charitable disposition and pure

Christian character attracted to her many influential friends, who lent their influence to aid her in her noble work. She came here from the east and undertook a work which a less courageous Christian might have shirked. But she was thoroughly imbuck with the spirit of her duty and she overcome all obstacles, and since then has been the leading spirit in Catholic educa-tional work in the state of Nebraska.

After ten years of untiring labor in the work, which had become her life object,

Mme. Dunne found that her health was fail-ing and that she had become a victim of con-sumption. Upon the advice of solicitous friends she was persuaded to give up her task and go in search of health.

CRIME IN HIGH PLACES! It is not strange that some people do wrong through ignorance, others from a failure to investigate as to the right or wrong of a matter. But it is strange, that individuals and firms, who are fully aware of the rights of others, will persist in perpetrating frauds upon them. High-toned, wealthy manufreturing firms will offer and sell to retail merchants, articles which they know to be infringements on the rights of proprietors, and imitations of well known goods. We want to sound a note of warning to the retailers to beware of such imitations and simulations of "CARTER'S LIT-TLE LIVER PILLS." When they are offered to you, refuse them; you do not want to do wrong, and you don't want to lay yourself liable to a lawsuit. Ben Franklin said "Honesty is the best poli-cy"; it is just as true that "Honesty is the best principle."

What then of the fathers and mothers? Their single thought should be how to keep the baby well. If they only knew that with all their loving care their baltes are in danger in the summer pr'n ipally from being impreperly fed. how quickly would they run to correct

ALLAN E. HILLS.

Such is, however, the plain, true statement. Hosts of innocent babies watched with the utmost care, have died because their badly nourished bodies could not resist the summer dangers. Unless lactated food is used, feeding s fraught with difficulties. Mother's mi'k will always be the ideal food before the baby is weaned. But if for any reason the mother's milk is not perfect, if boby is to be weaned, or if the little one is inclined to be nervous and fretful in the summer heat, then lactated food is to be desired above all else.

It is as harmless as the mother's milk and as capable of sustaining robust health. It is prepared with unrelaxed watchfulness. Its purity and an absolute impossibility of contamination is a purpose never forgotten in the wonderfully clean establishment up in the Green Mountains of Vermont where it is

This exceeding care has borne fruit; hundreds of physicians in every state in the union use lactated food in their daily practice, confident from years of experierce, that it is a safe diet for the youngest and most delicate children.

WILLIE PENNEY.

It is used in the most famous public nursecies. Countless numbers of thankful mothers have testifled to its merits. Lactated food is so made that age, climate or variations of temperature do not affect it. Sugar of milk is the basis of mother's milk, and it is the basis of lactated food. With it is combined pure barley malt, the finest wheat gluten and the nutritious elements of the oat. It is thoroughly cooked by high steam heat and a pre-digested, nutritious food that fulfils every requirement of the growing child is the resu t.

Thousands of happy infants have been brought up on it. Mrs. L. W. Hills, of Riverside, Ill.,

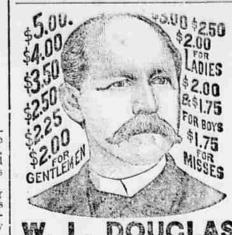

BABY BARTLETT.

"Lactated food saved my baby's life. At the age of five weeks I put him on artificial food. Not being successful with the first brand I discontinued that and tried condensed milk. That did not seem to contain nourishment enough and at the age of five months he was so poor and sickly that I had no idea would raise him. Reading of lactated food I gave it a trial. He began to improve within a few days and has continued to do so. We have not given him s drop of medicine since using lactated food. I consider that it saved his life, and whenever my baby is praised for his bright, healthy looks. I never fail to tell his admirers that he is a lactated food

Says B. Frank Penny, of the New Bed-ford, Mass., Standard; "Shortly after our baby Willie was born he had a severe attack of sickness with symptoms of cholera infantum. We tried various foods and remedies, but he grew thinner every day, until we degan to despair of saving his life. Finally a friend recom-mended factated fool and we began using it. The effect was extremely gratifying. He began to grow better at once, and in a short time he was fat and strong and the very picture of health. We have fed him on lactated food ever since and he has not been sick a single day."

Mrs. L. L. Bartlett, 568 W. Sanborn St., Winona, Minn., writes: "I nursed our baby until he was four months old, health was in such a terrible state that it threw him into inflamma tion of the bowels of a severe type. His life was despaired of. I had heard about lactated food, and by the advice of the attending physician we purchased some. The baby liked it from the first, and it agreed with him. He got well and began to grow fat at once. At six months of ago he weighed twenty-five pounds. He never had the slightest trouble with teething, his teeth coming without our knowledge until we could see them. On the whole he is one of the happiest, sweetest babies one would care
