INSURANCE COMPANIES SUED

Buckstaff Brothers Manufacturing Company of Lincoln Creates a Sensation.

WANT PAY FOR THEIR BRICK WORKS

Policies Not Honored on the Plea that the Valuation of the Plant Was Placed Too High by the Owners.

Lincoln, July 15.—[Special to The Bee.]—A series of suits was filed in the district court of this county this afternoon which will create something of a sensation in insurance circles all over the country. The suits were filed by the Buckstaff Bros. Manufacturing company of Lincoln against thirty-four prominent insurance companies, the amount sued for ranging from $1,000 to $3,000 in each case. The cases grow out of the destruction by fire of the brick works owned and operated by the Buckstaff company in this city, last February. The works were the largest in the state and did a large business in the manufacture and sale of vitrified paving brick, shipping the product to Omaha and all prominent cities in the west. On February 16 of the present year the works burned, resulting in a complete loss to the company.

It was believed at the time that the company would resume business as soon as the insurance could be adjusted and the money received from the company; but for some reason not yet clearly understood in this city the insurance companies refused to honor their policies and all attempts to reach a settlement have failed. The companies claim, among other things, that the valuation of the works had been placed at too high a figure and that they were not nearly as great as represented by the company. An attempt was made at one time to settle the matter by arbitration, but nothing came of it, and so the matter has found its way into the courts.

Substance of the Pleading.
The petition sets forth that the plaintiff company was the owner of the brick works described in the policies, that at the time the policy was issued the property described therein was real property, and at the time of the fire the policy was in full force and effect and that the day of the fire all of the property was used in the process and in the business of manufacturing brick. On February 16 the property covered by the policy was burned and wholly destroyed by fire without criminal fault on the part of the plaintiff, and said fire did not originate by any act, procurement or design of the plaintiff. At the time of the fire and within thirty days thereafter the plaintiff gave due notice and proof of loss. Judgment is asked for the amount of the policy, costs and $250 attorney's fees in each case. The company is interested in the matter from doing business in the state of Nebraska. The friends of the plaintiff believe that the companies can be prosecuted under the anti-trust law now upon the statute books, for the reason that all of the companies are practically controlled by one company, which formed for the purpose of maintaining rates.

Filed Sensational Charges.
Dr. S. D. Mercer came into the Lancaster county district court today with some voluminous documentary allegations in which he charges a number of the estimable citizens of Plattsmouth with conspiracy. The history of the case as set forth in the papers filed with the clerk of the district court is briefly as follows: Some time since the Sprague Electric Motor company commenced a suit in the district court against Dr. Mercer, to recover a balance of $8,000 alleged to be due the company for the equipment of the Plattsmouth street railway, of which he was one of the stockholders. The Sprague people obtained a judgment for the amount, but afterwards the court set the verdict aside. In the papers filed in this case today Dr. Mercer alleges that in 1889 the Sprague Motor company, O. H. Bailou, the Western Engineering company and several individuals claiming to be officers in the Plattsmouth Street Railway company, entered into a conspiracy to defraud Dr. Mercer. The conspiracy entered into a contract with the Sprague Motor company and the Western Engineering company for the necessary equipment to transform the Plattsmouth street car system into an electric line. Dr. Mercer, as one of the stockholders, refused to consent to the improvement in the system, and so notified the parties who held the contract from the plaintiff. In spite of his notice, however, they went ahead and equipped the line with electric front. When the work was completed the property failed to pay running expenses, and it was finally sold under a foreclosure of a mortgage, the Sprague company being the purchaser. The road is now operated by that company. Dr. Mercer alleges that the whole scheme was concocted to defraud him and other stockholders of their interest in the Plattsmouth company.

Another Side to the Story.
The Lansing-Oliver imbroglio has occupied the boards in Lincoln, in the absence of any great high-sounding attractions, for some time, but the probability is that the curtain will fall for the last time with the following episode given to the local representatives of the state press by Mr. Oliver this afternoon:
Mr. L. C. Burr, as attorney for Church and Co., has recently made a collection of $600. The money really belonged to Lansing & Oliver, being part of the subscription fund to the theater building, and was by Mr. Burr, without Oliver's concurrence, paid to Lansing. Of course it was Lansing's duty, on receiving the joint money, to pay Oliver his part. On the morning on which the transaction took place Burr, along with his card, tickets and hatchet, and had tucked the card on his vacant house on P street, east of his mother's. He had also been had to pass Lansing's office and went in to ask Lansing for his part of the $600, as he had been directed by Mr. Burr to do. But it seems Mr. Burr had also instructed Lansing to be ready for Oliver in case the latter came to his office; so Lansing was armed with a loaded cane with which he threatened Oliver. Oliver was a mere accident of course that Oliver had a hatchet in his hand, but most fortunate for Oliver. When Lansing saw the hatchet he took refuge with his loaded cane and gun behind the door. Oliver thinks it was the hatchet that saved his life. The street that followed was purely malicious, and the first intention of Lansing being only to swear out a peace warrant and the charge of felony being made only after learning that the $1,000 was the limit of the liability of a peace warrant. Oliver promises that his running at large will not endanger the public peace.

Asking Executive Clemency.
Pat O. Hayes of Omaha came to Lincoln this afternoon for the purpose of laying a petition for executive clemency before the pardon of George Reed, an Omaha man sent to the penitentiary two years ago for grand larceny. Reed received a four-years' sentence for leading a tug of whiskey and severance in cash from a saloon at the corner of Sixteenth and Nicholas streets and was convicted upon the testimony of a woman with whom he boarded. The woman afterward said that if she had known that the penalty was imprisonment in the penitentiary she would not have testified against him. The judge presiding at the trial is a number of judges have signed a petition for his pardon.

Gossip at the State House.
Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings Humphrey started upon an eastern trip today morning.
A meeting of the State Board of Public Lands and Buildings called for this afternoon was postponed until Monday in order to give the State Banking board an opportunity to go into executive session.
Private Secretary Andrews went out to Hastings this evening to spend the Sunday at home.
It is expected that the Board of Public Lands and Buildings will at its next meeting advertise for bids for the new state road to be placed upon the maine hospital near this city. The last legislature appropriated $50,000 for the work.
The case of the Union Pacific Railway company against J. J. Kinney and L. D. Kinney, which was argued before the Supreme Court of this state last week, was decided in favor of the railroad company.
C. A. Kissenager and M. V. Staley is the title of a case filed with the clerk of the district court this morning. The amount involved in the case is only $7.48.

Lincoln in Brief.
John Rosenstein and Mary Cooper, the former a waiter in a local chop house, and the latter a comely young miss of some 17 seasons, were arrested late last night upon the complaint of Mrs. Wilson, a boarding house keeper at 1183 G street. Mrs. Wilson found the young couple snugly ensconced in a single bed in one of her rooms, and her sense of propriety was so severely shocked that she notified the police. Rosenstein was fined $10 in police court this morning, while the girl was permitted to go.
Fred Shaffer and Frank Burr, two well known Lincoln boys, are booked to accompany an Illinois troupe on a trip to the clouds from this city tomorrow afternoon. The young men are receiving so many expressions of sympathy that they are showing some symptoms of resigning the prospective pleasures of the trip to the more venturesome joys of the state.

Lincoln's new steeple pipe has been completed. It has a capacity sufficient to meet the needs of the city for some time to come.
The judge of the probate court today appointed Mrs. M. A. Mendenhall administratrix of the estate of her mother, Mrs. Dora White, late of Lincoln. She also has a claim for damages against M. M. Catlin, Victoria Hartford, E. J. Bush and Mrs. Catlin. He asserts that they made misleading statements in regard to a farm in Red Willow county which they sold his mother and he wants $200 to make up the deficiency.

Lost by Fire.
BURCHAM, Neb., July 15.—[Special Telegram to The Bee.]—The dwelling and contents of H. Wilson, three miles east of town, were destroyed by fire at noon today. The total loss, including about $600 in money, is estimated at $4,800. The building was insured for $500 in the German of Freeport.

and they all asked for a sign off in order that they might come up to the city and draw their money before the doors were closed. A little effective talk from the local representatives of the company assured them that the bank was all right and what might have been a run was thus avoided. The spectacle of a large body of men moving upon a bank at once would have precipitated a panic.

Investigating a Peculiar Case.
UNION, Neb., July 15.—[Special to The Bee.]—Friday afternoon James Baker picked up in the river east of here a small bottle containing this note:

She will start in a few days and if her determination goes for anything she will make a good ride.

CHET, July 15.—[Special to The Bee.]—The Nebraska Chautauqua assembly closed at 2 o'clock this afternoon its twelfth annual session. And it can be said that the session has been a most successful and satisfactory one to the visitors, as well as to the management. The lecture of Hon. John M. Thurston on "Abraham Lincoln" was well received. It was a magnificent oration.
The concert of the Lincoln Oratorio society yesterday evening was listened to by a large audience. A great number of Lincoln visitors came down on a special train. This morning Hon. H. L. Lusk, president of the National Farmers alliance and Industrial union, spoke in the auditorium, and at 2 o'clock this afternoon Colonel S. F. Norton of Chicago closed the assembly with an address on the "Populist Movement."
