

ANxious to Get into Debt

Superintendent of the Norfolk Asylum Discounting a Distant Deficit.

HIS APPROPRIATION IS BARELY TOUCHED

Appeal to the State Board of Public Lands and Buildings Brings Some Good Advice—Hearings—Other Lincoln News.

LINCOLN, July 21.—[Special to The Bee.]—

There is a lively impression about the state house that the superintendent of the Norfolk Insane asylum is evincing too great an anxiety to run into debt so early in the biennial fiscal period. He has written a very plaintive letter to the State Board of Public Lands and Buildings, in which he draws a most dismal picture of the finances of the institution. He complains that he has been compelled to reduce his pay roll and intimates that a great many of the patients will have to be returned to the counties from whence they came, in order that the state may come out even on its appropriation. He winds up his touching appeal for sympathy by asking the board whether he had better run into debt.

The State Board of Public Lands and Buildings has very properly informed the Norfolk superintendent that he must on no account go into debt to maintain the institution. In other words, he is expected to do just what the legislature intended that he should do—conduct the institution upon an economical basis and reduce expenses to the minimum. The legislature appropriated $53,000 for the maintenance of the institution for the two years commencing April 1 of the present year. This is a decrease of $20,400 from the appropriation of two years ago, and it may be possible that the effect of the fiscal period will show that the amount is too small; but from the present state of the asylum's finances it looks as if the Norfolk superintendent is frightened before he gets into the woods.

Condition of the Several Funds.

An examination of the appropriation book shows that while he is allowed $5,000 for his own salary, he has expended $27,000 on new appropriation. So, personally he is all right. The decision of the supreme court has enabled the auditor to pay warrants from the old fiscal year, there being a considerable amount of money yet remaining unexpended in that fund. Consequently it has not been necessary to touch the regular appropriation very extensively. On the fuel and light fund the appropriation has been reduced by $71.20 and there was $12,000 in the fund originally when the accounts were opened. The board and clothing fund, originally $30,000, has been touched for $2,416.50, leaving a balance of something like $27,000 to be drawn upon before poverty strikes the Norfolk asylum in the face.

The appropriation for drugs, etc., is untouched, and so is that for furniture and bedding, carpets and curtains. Of the $300 set aside for books and stationery, $120 has been expended, leaving $180 margin for the balance of the two years. The music and amusement fund is still untouched. Out of $500 for repairs and improvements, $51.35 has been expended. The telephone and postage fund has been dipped into to the extent of $91.32, leaving about $200 for the superintendent to draw upon. The superintendent has also drawn for his telephone rental, while the charge to the business men of Norfolk is out $48 per year, and there is a very strong suspicion that he might secure a reduction in this expense.

Not a single fund has been exhausted, and in the light of this fact the superintendent's request for more money from the state in debt comes a little early in the day.

Special Rates Abolished.

The State Board of Transportation today received an official notice from the manager of the B. & M. railroad to the effect that all freight tariffs, billing rates or special rates of any kind applying between points in Nebraska on that line within the state of Nebraska will expire on July 21. The manager further informs the board that the tariffs in accordance with the Nebraska maximum rate law, which are now in effect, will be prepared and mailed to all agents at an early date.

The effect of the order will be to wipe out all special tariffs heretofore in effect on shippers in Lincoln, Fremont, Beatrice and other interior points in the state. The special commodity rates on grain, stock, etc., and the order will fall especially heavy upon the beet sugar men of Grand Island and Norfolk, the brick manufacturers, paper mills at the coast and the shippers, the lumber and canning factories and the Kearney cotton mill.

In this connection it may be stated that the railroad bill prepared and introduced by the late Senator Clarke of Douglas county contained a provision which would secure to the manufacturer of the state a continuation of the favorable terms which they had always enjoyed. Clarke's bill was killed by the legislature, and the result of this clause, which would undoubtedly have been of great value to Nebraska manufacturers, was killed with it.

Something of a Complication.

Shortly after the Farmers State bank at Shubert failed the bank at Shubert, an order directing the bank to show cause on the 30th inst. why the bank should not be closed. The order was issued by the state business wound up in accordance with the law. George W. Goodell had been named as temporary receiver and had taken possession of the bank's assets. In the meantime the creditors had attached certain property owned by the absconding receiver and the attorney general had taken steps to prevent the receiver from losing anything by the attachment. Yesterday the title in which the bank could show cause why it should not be closed expired, but Attorney Frank Martin of Falls City went before Chief Justice Maxwell at 10 o'clock and secured an extension of time until August 1. The attorney general's office could learn of the fact, however, it had prepared the papers to attach the property of the receiver. The attachment case comes up for hearing on the 31st, but before the local department of the state can protect the interests of the receiver, a permanent receiver must be appointed. The action of the chief justice has complicated the matter to a considerable extent.

Gossip in the State House.

Auditor Moore started for Chicago this afternoon to investigate the Nebraska exhibit. He will return early next week.

Attorney McKinley of Wilber, Saline county, was at the state house this afternoon.

Notarial commissions were issued this afternoon to A. Hansen of Hastings, I. R. McKinley of Arapahoe and S. Wiley of Ponca.

The Board of Public Lands and Buildings, through the attorney general, has notified Governor Croome to appoint a superintendent for the Home for the Friendless in this city. Therefore the institution has been managed by a superintendent elected by the board of the Home for the Friendless, a state organization, but the board feels that the management was not satisfactory and that the institution should be placed under the control of the state authorities if the superintendent is appointed by the governor.

Two Douglas county cases were filed with the clerk of the supreme court this afternoon. One is entitled Emma L. Van Ethen against Dell R. Edwards, and the other Henry Langmuir against G. S. Anderson.

The case of the City of Kearney against Mrs. Louisa Smith was filed in the supreme court this afternoon. Mrs. Smith fell through a defective sidewalk in Kearney some time since and was damaged to the extent of $283. She sued the City for that amount and the jury gave her an even $450. She is perfectly satisfied to accept the amount in lieu of all claims, but the city proposes to see what the supreme court will do for it before it makes a final settlement.
