Union Pacific Officials Anticipate a Revival of Railway Busings Next Month.

CUTTING RATES AS WELL AS SALARIES

Trimming Pacific Coast Passenger Schedules on First and Second Class Tickets-Hotspur Hill Called Freight Rates May He Restored Soon,

"Will not a receiver for the Northern Pacific have a sympathetic tendency to embarrass the Union Pacific?" was asked an official of the Union Pacific yesterday morn-

"I cannot see how it will affect our standing," replied the official. "For months past the Northern Pacific has been in very embarrassing circumstances. It is a fact that their material bills have been accumulating for nine months past, while the Union Pacific has been meeting its bills as they fall due, which has given us a standing in the business world decidedly pleasant to contemplate these troublous times. There is considerable comfort in the thought that the Union Pacific is considerable to the considerable comfort in the considerable confort in the considerable considerable considerable. cific is regarded by 'material men' as better pay than such strong roads as the Baltimore & Ohio and Alten. While we are suffering, & Ohio and Alton. While we are suffering, we are in no worse condition than any of our rivals and I cannot see how the Union Pacific can possibly feel the Northern Pacific's position. Of course things cannot go on very much longer as at present, but within the next thirty days we will be out of the woods, for grain and other commodities must commence to move by that time." nence to move by that time.'

Cut on Coast Rates. For several days past Mr. E. L. Lomax of the Union Pacific has been considering the advisability of making the present basing rate of $25 first-class and $18 second class on west bound business from Missouri river terminals the selling rate, but has been somewhat undecided as to just what to do. Tuesday evening, however, he took the bull by the horns and telegraphed Chairman Cald-well of the Western Passenger association his decision, which is as follows: The pres-ent basing rate, as above noted, to become the selling rate, effective Sunday, August 20. good for continuous passage on west bound business from Kansas City, Omaha and Missouri river terminals to Butte, Helena, Spokane and Portland.

For six weeks or more the Northern Pacific and Great Northern have been mak-ing these rates from St. Paul to the mortification of General Passenger Agent Lomax. He has seen his business dwindle to infinitesimal proportions, notwithstanding his basing rate, and rather than go out of busi-ness entirely in the Sound country determined upon meeting the rate of his northern competitors. The first class rate applies in both directions, the second class only west

The rates decided upon are considerably below the present selling rates of $30 on first class and $25 on second class business. It must not be understood that this is a cut, the difference only being in making the bas-ing rate the selling rate and abolishing the basing rate entirely,

Milwaukee in it Again. Again has the Milwaukee thrown dust in the eyes of its competitors, this time walk ing away with a good sized party of Indians from the Genoa school, some forty-five in all. Traveling passenger agents for the Northwestern, Milwaukee, Burlington and Rock Island have been camping on Superintendent W. B. Backus' trail for days, and the deeds of some of these men would finke interesting stories for dime novel readers. They have resorted to all sorts of subterfuges to throw one another off the track in getting to Genoa before the arrival of their competitors. Backus has been pulled out of bed at dead of night by some indefatigable passenger agent and his life made miserable by glowing descriptions of the "only route to the World's fair." But the funniest incident connected with this rustle for business happened yesterday morning. Northwestern, Milwaukee, Burlington and Monday the bids were opened for the bus-iness, and the Milwaukee's bid being the lowest the haul was awarded that company from the river, the Union Pacific delivering the students to that road here. Yesterday, however, "Jimmy" de Bevoise of the Rock Island started to Genoa to secure the business, willy nilly, and arrived on the scene this morning in time to see the Indians boarding the cars to go to Chicago via the Union Pacific and Milwaukee. However, there are the incidents in a traveling passenger agent's life that go far toward making his existence at all pleasurable. There is a growing feeling among transcontinental roads that the present freight tariff means ruination if permitted to continue for an indefinite period and the traffic managers have commenced to agitate a meeting of ail lines interested, looking toward a readjustment of the tariffs. No concerted action has been agreed upon and no day set for a meeting of the officials of the overland routes, but a more neighborly feeling is discernible which will undoubt-edly bring about a settlement of long stand-

mer rates. The Union Pacific has felt the present stringency greatly, but has been powerless to change existing conditions. Anything looking to a readjustment of the rates will therefore meet with hearty support at the hands of Mr. Munroe.

On February 15 the northern lines put in the new rates which recent religious parts the mean than the new rates which recent religious person the second religious persons the recent religious persons the religious persons the religious persons religiou the new rates, which necessarily began the work of demoralization. In March the Cali-fornia lines met the reduction on the part of northern roads, which was followed still later by wholesale cuts by the Great North-ern and California lines to meet the stampede caused by the "Sunset" rates. All summer long the rates have been practically nil. With the opening of the fall season and the movement of business, the roads having had an experience of six months reduction, are only too willing to get back to the old basis and make more commodity rates than prevail at present, the design being to cover more specifically the commodities carried to the coast instead of giving them classification.

The Transcontinental association, which succumbed to the inevitable last March, was, up to that time, the strongest of any of the associations, having had an actual existence of five years. During its life transconti-nental rates were iron clad.

It is thought that the roads will get together shortly and endeavor to recreate the old Transcontinental association with certain modifications in some of its features. Headlight Plashes. General Manager Dickinson went to Chi-

ADAM AND ETE WERE BLACK. so Says Bishop Turner-All Civilization Inherited from the Negro. CHICAGO, Aug. 16,—Bishop Turner, president of the Methodist Episcopal Missionary society, believes that Adam and Eve were colored persons. In an address before the congress on "Africa" at the Art palace, he made an attempt to prove that assertion and created a "Revolting as the story may be to some present," he said, "I believe that all humanity started black-that black was the original color of mankind."

Before reaching details as to what had been done by the colored race Bishop Turner had taken the declara-tion quoted and added: "If theoretical geology is entitled to any consideration whatever, the time was when the poles of the earth and the now icebound Arctics were so warm that the flora of the now tropic zones grew there luxuriantly and the same animals that now live at the equator roamed abroad in that ancient forest. This has been verified by the bones which have been found there of animals now restricted to the tropical regions. So, as I see it, instead of black being an abnormal color, an execrated color, a color to be despised and made the badge of degradation and infamy, to the extent that it involves the humanity of those who are black, if it is any color at all, it is the primordial, most ancient and original color of mankind. I have reached this conclusion after years of meditation, with such lights as revelation afforded to my understanding, aided by the study of geology and the archeological collections found in the British museum. Yet my interpretations may be greatly at fault, or wholly absurd, but scientific analysis undoubtedly makes black the base of all color, and the black man is therefore a primitive man.

"The drift of nature, whether interpreted speculatively or historically, would therefore appear to be whiteward Primitive man, who doubtless has existed for ages longer than our chronology fixes it, in my opinion was black and is the father of the white races of the earth; and the same black, primitive man gave to the intermediate color, or Egyptian civilization, learning, science and philosophy, including skilled labor in its highest form, and the red race has transmitted to the white races letters, poetry, logic, mechanics and all the fundamentalities that the white race has embellished, refined and improved upon, until it has reached the grandeur of this world-famed Chicago exposition.

Good Advice. in August, 1892, J. W. Vannoy of this place had a severe attack of flux. A physician was called, who treated him for four or five days, but as he continued to grow worse the family decided to have the aid of another doctor in the case, and sent to Ravenswood for a prominent physician of that town. Be-fore he arrived, however, I had some conver-sation with the physician in attendance, and said to him: "I believe Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhosa remedy worthy of a trial." He readily consented and I gave him a bottle. One dose of that remedy gave re-lief. When the doctor from Ravenswood arrived his advice was, "Keep quiet and continue using Champerlain's colic, cholera and diarrhœa remedy." Which we did and in two days was cured.—C. B. # LIKELY TO BEAT THE RECORD.

Promises to Eclipse All Past Meetings. Indianapolis, Aug. 16.—Requests from posts to have their accomodations in free quarters at the national Grand Army of the Republic encampment increased are received by every mail. The committee feels confident if the requests continue to come in for the next wo weeks the attendance will be larger than it was at Washington last pear.

Lyon post of St. Louis asked for quarters for only 125. That application has been changed to 500. There is an Indiana post that at first wanted daily room for twenty-one persons. It has since asked for accommodations for forty. Another that reported sixty as coming has increased the number to seventy-six, each of whom has signed an agreement to be here. With this post will come eighty veterans, not members of the Grand Army.

From the latest reports it is estimated that the parade on Tuesday of the en-campment week will have 60,000 men in line. This would be 10,000 more than were in the Washington parade, which was the largest in the history of Grand Army encampments. The men will march in platoons of twelve, four paces apart, and it will require seven hours for the procession to pass a given point. There will be 1,000 officers in line on horseback. James R. Carnahan, grand marshal, will have a staff of sixty, com-posed of old army officers who have staff experience. A feature of the parade will be salutes from artillery along the line and the Indiana battery of light artillery.

In September, 1892, dysentery in a very severe form prevailed at Jamesburg, N. J. Walter Willard, a well known me the place, procured a supply of Chamberlain's coile, cholera and diarrhosa remedy He says: "It is certainly one of the bost things ever made, and has given the highest satisfaction in the most severe cases of dys-entery." #### WORLD'S FAIR FINANCES.

and Income-Directors Expect a Profit. CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Auditor Acker-man of the World's Columbian Exposition company has made his official report showing the condition of the exposition finances on August 7. According to the statement the exposition has expended for construction and administration, $22,183,423.93. It still hasoutstanding liabilities of $1,100,463, besides $1,444,500 of debenture bonds. One feature of interest to stock-holders is the item of receipts from concessions, which shows that collected revenue from that source during July was over $600,000, a total of $100,000 more than the returns from the same source during May and June. As near as can be judged from the situation the receipts from all sources, including admissions, is about $80,000 a day. Operating expenses are in the neighborhood of $15,000, and decreasing constantly. This leaves a net revenue of about $65,000 a day, or somewhere near $4,000,000 for the remaining period of the fair. The attendance, however, is increasing so steadily that the directors expect to realize considerably more than the estimate, and clear up all bonded and floating indebtedness and leave a good margin.

PLOT TO DELIVER AN INDIANA DEFAULTER

How Treasurer Cal Armstrong's Liberty Was Planned For and Frastrated-Blut Decimed to Take Chances Without Coin-A Story from Tipton, Ind.

DELPHI, Ind., Aug. 16.—No defalcation ever occurred in Indiana that has attracted the attention given that of James K. Armstrong, treasurer of Tipton county. The original discovery of his shortage of between $40,000 and $50,000, made a short time ago, followed by the arrest and imprisonment of his son, Cal Armstrong, deputy treasurer, had ceased attracting interest when it was followed by the unearthing of a conspiracy to rescue the young deputy from fail. Now comes the alleged sensational robbery of the Armstrong residence, with the story that the booty sought was $33,000, which the Armstrongs are said to have hidden away. The case has taken on many phases of interest. A special visit to the quiet little town of Tipton developed the fact that there are some parts of the story that have not yet been told.

Decided on Dynamits.

When James K. Armstrong, the treasurer and father of Cal Armstrong, together with Cal's friends, Watson Pitzer and Joe Cressler, canvassed the field for a man to do the most desperate and dangerous part of rescuing Cal from jail, they decided upon Bluf Falkenburg, a daring, courageous and powerful man who had been in the penitentiary three times for grand larceny. On a trumped-up charge Bluf was placed in jail, where he and Armstrong talked over the plans for the latter's escape. The plan decided upon was to dynamite, and when Falkenburg left the jail young Armstrong gave him $6 to buy the explosive. Sunday morning Watson Pitzer drove up to Bluf's residence and took him out in the country. Bluf demanded $500 for committing the crime agreed upon between him and Cal, but Pitzer told him that $400 was all that could be paid, as the Armstrongs were at a heavy expense and that was all they could spare.

Gave the Scheme Away.

Bluf did not want to do the work for two or three weeks, but he was urged to do it right away, as the books of the treasurer's office were going to be investigated, and it was necessary for Cal to be free before that was done. And so they decided to attend to it at Pitzer counted out $400 and told Bluf that when the crime was committed the money would be paid him. Bluf demanded his pay in advance. Pitzer re-fused and Bluf made an excuse to postpone negotiations until a later hour, during which time he decided to reveal the plot and turn the conspirators over to justice. The plot was so altered that Bluf was to go to the jail yard and sandbag Charley Miller, who was guarding the jail. He was then to enter the residence of Sheriff Wright, chloroform the family. secure the keys, open the door and give young Armstrong his liberty. Pitzer was to be located across the river with another man who was to drive Cal to Noblesville. Bluf was to give the signal by firirg several shots in quick succession, 1y which Pitzer was to know that #### everything was all right. Caught the Conspirators,

Under the instructions of the sheriff deputies being sworn in to gobble up the eonspirators. Pitzer fell into the hands of the officers, and the man in the buggy drove off at breakneck speed, followed by several bullets which failed to take effect. Pitzer was taken to jail and searched, and on his person were found a large revolver, $100 in money and a satchel containing Cal Armstrong's clothing. The articles found in his possession were criminating, so he was lodged in jail.

The man in the buggy was pursued to Arcadia, where he was overhauled and found to be Joe Cressler. He was brought back to Tipton and put in jail Meantime, the elder Armstrong was lodged behind the bars. Pitzer and Cressler have both confessed. They lay the concoction of the scheme upon James K. Armstrong, the defaulting treasurer. After Pitzer had made his confession he pulled off his shoes and brought forth a large roll of bills, showing that he was supplied with money to do his part. On another occasion an attempt was made to sandbag the sheriff while he was taking Armstrong to the city. The cause of Armstrong's downfall was fast

FIGHTING FOR PASTURAGE.

rado Mesa-Three Reported Killed. RIFLE, Colo., Aug. 16.—It was re-ported late last night that war had broken out between the cattle and sheep men on the mesa north of Parachute; that three cattlemen are killed and that the sheepmen are ensconced in a canon and lighting stubbornly. The trouble arises over the attempt of cattlemen to drive the sheepmen out of the country. Sanday evening Mr. Billeler, a sheep man, arrived from Parachute and reported that early in the morning a party of about thirty armed and masked men appeared on the mesa among the sheepmen, put a rope around one man's neck and drove the balance of the herders out of the country, and warned the men not to drive their sheep back under penalty of death. Monday a formidable band of sheep men started to drive the sheep back again. The fight is supposed to be the result.

A number of cattlemen came into De
