NEBRASKA PROHIBITIONISTS

They Meet at Lincoln and Nominate a State Ticket.

NOT AS NUMEROUS AS LAST YEAR

Enthusiastically in Favor of the Suppres sion of the Liquor Trame Without a Single Compromise-Features of the Platform.

LINCOLN, Aug. 24 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-The prohibitionists of Nebraska are the first in the field with a state ticket. Their state convention assembled in Lincoln today, and, atthough the attendance was somewhat limited as compared with former years in the history of the party in this state, it was evident that the same old time enthusiasm was on tap.

The convention was held in the hall in the Young Men's Christian association building. with A. E. Ricker of Alma as chairman and J. I. Frederick as secretary. The usual preliminary work, such as the appointment of committees on credentials, resolutions, etc., was all done last night, and the convention plunged into business at once this morning.

The platform took up most of the forenoon's session. It declares first of all for noon's session. It declares first of all for the prohibition and suppression of the liquor traffic and opposes all plans for compromise or regulation of the sale or manufacture thereof. It then embraces the women's suffrage plank and a plank favoring the pro-hibition of all trusts. The financial question received consideration. This plank asks that all money be issued by the general gov-ernment in such a manner that no individual or corporation can make anything thereby. An increase in the volume of money is de-An increase in the volume of money is de-manded and also that gold and silver be received at the mints on a parity. While the circus parade was passing along O street this forenoon Matthew Wagner locked up his meat market at 118 South Ninth street and went out to see the clown and the elephants. When he returned to his shop he was somewhat startled to observe that during his absence some unknown party or parties had forced an entrance through the rear door and helped themselves to a fat pocketbook which he had left in a drawer in the safe. The thieves gained ac-cess to the shop by throwing the weight of their bodies against the door and forcing by main strength the screws which held the fron brackets which supported a heavy bar across the door. The safe had been left open, and the pocketbook stolen simply contained notes and shares in a western gold mining shares were worth about $500 and the face value of the notes was $350. Sullivan Was Discharged.

The case of the state against Dennis Sullivan, the man accused of outraging a colored woman, came to an untimely end this afternoon. The woman did not appear and evidence was produced that showed that she submitted to his amerous embraces, but the landlord of the "place" raised a row because Sullivan declined to settle for the rent of the room which the pair had occupied. On the other hand, Sul livan claims positively that he never saw the woman before, and that he can prove by several witnesses that he was elsewhere the time the alleged assault took place. The judge was disgusted with the dirty phases assumed by the case and dismissed it.

Result of a Misunderstanding. SHELTON, Neb., Aug. 24 .- [Special to THE BEE.]-It is now said that the cowhiding of Rev. Mr. Loomis by Dr. Paxton here was caused by a faise report made by some one to Dr. Paxton concerning what Mr. Loomis said. The doctor in his excitement did not make any explanations, neither would be hear one, but came up to Mr. Loomis and asked: "What have you been lying about Mr. Loomis replied: "I don't know that I have lied about you."

Dr. Paxten said: "Yes, you did; you said I got drunk and insulted a lady."

Mr. Loomis replied: "I never said it."

The doctor then said: "Come along with me." Mr. Loomis wanted to know where to "I don't know that I will go with you until I have to.' Then the doctor said no more, but began belaboring Mr. Loomis with a stick of some kind about the head, striking only around the head. Mr. Loomis stood calmly through it all and offered no resistance. By this time an excited crowd had gathered, and the doctor left the scene and wont immediately to the office of Justice Edward Oliver, asked Mr. Scott Smith, whom he met on the street, to swear out an affidavit of assault and battery against him, which he did; the justice fined the doctor $1 and presumed it settled. The excitement prevailed through the evening. A few were saying the doctor did just right and con-gratulated him. Others were denouncing the act as a disgraceful affair.

The last car will leave Farnam street going south at 12 o'clock, and north at 12:15.
It was rumored last night that there would be a general reduction in time on the street transatt lines, but the railway offi-cials deny this and the men have received no notice except as above.

As it was reported some time ago that the street railway would make a general reduc-tion, some of the employes were uneasy yes-terday, but there seems to be no grounds for such a report. The time or train service on none of the other lines will be changed.

"All this tempest in a teapet grew out of the eastern committee of the Western Passenger association, so called, refusing to accept our basing rate of $25 first class and $18 second class from the Missouri river to Pacific coast points. I asked Mr. Caldwell the temperature of the property of the coast points. why the eastern committee refused to accept the basing rate, and if they could con-sistently do so under the association's rules. That was all that was sent to Mr. Caldwell. We have no intention of leaving the associa tion," and Mr. Lomax preceded to write his name with an indelible lead pencil upon a score of letters with larger flourishes than

But Mr. Lomax's denial to the contrary the Union Pacific feels decidedly sore over the refusal of the Burlington, Rock Island, Milwaukee and Chicago Great Northern to basing rate, which he recently made the selling rate.

The contention of these roads has been that it was too low for them to touch but they had no objection to the Union Pacific's ally, the Northwestern, using it. For a time things went along without much friction but the Union Pacific didn't get the business it thought it was entitled to via the Mis-souri river and it sought to broaden its fields by asking the other lines touching the river to accept the basing rate of $25 first class and $18 second class. Mr. John Francis of the Burlington, assuming that Mr. Lomax wanted to get out of an association which gave him so little comfort, remarked in his quiet way that it was easier to catch flies with molasses than with vinegar. "Mr. Lomax," said ne, "will be better off in the association than out. While the lines decide not to accept the basing rates of the association than out. While the lines decide not to accept the basing rates of the Union Pacific, they explicitly stated that they had no objection to any line using them that so desired. Its Fight Against the Atchison. Curcago, Aug. 24.—The row between the Union Pacific and the Western Passenger association regarding the former's rates to Montana and Puget Sound being used for basing purposes bids fair to assume serious proportions. The fact that the Alton today informed Chairman Caldwell of the association that it would support the Union Pacific in its demands on the Atchison is also strongly in favor of the Union Pacific. Chairman Caldwell remains firm and says Union Pacific is entitled to no other satisfaction than that obtainable under the association agreement.

General Passenger Agent Lomax of the Union Pacific will be in the city tomorrow and he and Chairman Caldwell will endeavor to settle the question without allowing the Union Pacific to withdraw from the associaion, as there is now a possibility of its doing.

It would hardly be fair under these considerations to reduce the salaries of the men by a suspension of an agreement. We run the same risk as the company. When the company has little business we have little to do Herein is the foundation stone of our structure. Of course the company has the

It is denied at Union Pacific headquarters that the Union Pacific is in any wise connected with the San Pete Valley line alluded to in yesterday's dispatches to The Bee. Notwithstanding that the contractors on the main sewers have several thousand dolthey are proceeding with their work, with one exception. The failure of the city to put up cash for the estimates, which have been approved and allowed by the proper officials, is due to the fact that there is no money in the fund. The failure to dispose of the $100,000 in main sewer bonds has left the fund in a depleted condition, while the city has under contract about $75,000 of this work, with probably $15,000 in unallowed and un-

He has several thousand dollars in unpaid estimates, which the council intended paying out of the sink-ing fund, but Mayor Bemis' veto of illegally diverting one fund to another put a stop to such a procedure. Mr. Black is going right ahead and will not cease if there is the least possible show that the city in a reasonable time will meet his estimates. Reeves & Co. are not working on the Dorcas street exten-sion, although ordered to work in May.

The officials will endeavor to make some provisions to meet the obligations of the city to the main sewer men in case the bonds are not floated. Just what steps will be taken are not decided upon, but something
