

FOLLOWERS OF THE RACKET

Winners of the Singles and Doubles in the Recent Tennis Tournament.

SOCIETY ROUSES A BIT FROM ITS LETHARGY

Impromptu Musical at Hillside—Mrs. Leonard Entertains a Few Friends—Hop at the Garrison—Surprises that Surprised—Movements of People.

Two of the three men who hold the tennis championships of the state of Nebraska are Englishmen. The reason for this, if any there be beyond mere coincidence, is to be found rather in the nature of the game than in any greater fitness for it in John Bull than in the American.

Charles Sidney Cullingham has been for three summers head and shoulders ahead of any one else in the world of tennis.

His list of prizes acquired is as long as your arm. In 1884 and 1885 he won the Wimbledon prizes in his club tournament, and in June, 1886, and again in 1887 he was second in the open singles at the Wimbledon Park tournament.

This was the best thing Cullingham has yet achieved. He lost the title next year, and the same month while playing at Bournemouth against H. A. B. Chapman, of Cambridge university fame, he fell on the slippery grass and broke his arm.

Conrad Hubert Young was born in January, 1874, at Forest Hill, near London, and educated at a private school.

At the present time he is in the city of Lincoln, Nebraska, where he is engaged in the business of a real estate agent.

At the present time he is in the city of Lincoln, Nebraska, where he is engaged in the business of a real estate agent.

At the present time he is in the city of Lincoln, Nebraska, where he is engaged in the business of a real estate agent.

Millard, Miss Chandler, Mr. Randall Brown, Miss Mary Hibbard, Mrs. Helen Hibbard, Mrs. Van Lenn, Mrs. M. J. Hill, Mrs. H. H. Hill, Mrs. Samuel Brown, Mr. Samuel Caldwell, Mr. George Haverstick, Miss Flora Webster, Miss Dandy, Mr. Herbert Hoggan, Mr. Hoggan, Miss Coleman, Mrs. Woolworth, Miss Amy Barker, Mr. Austin, General Dandy, Mr. and Mrs. Garrison, General Brown, Miss Weston, Mrs. Arthur Smith, Mr. Walter Smith, Miss Dodge and Mr. Dodge of Council Bluffs.

Fashionable Marriage at Leyland, Conn. On August 13 there occurred in the picturesque little city of Leyland, Conn., an event in which a number of Omaha people were interested and a prominent young business man of this city more particularly.

The Norwich Evening Record tells the story of the marriage of Mr. Henry P. Hallcock of Omaha and Miss Anna Estella Billings.

The wedding ceremony was performed in a graceful and pleasing manner by Rev. A. E. Kimbrough, pastor of the Congregational church.

A brass and string band alternately discoursed the most beautiful music ever served. The Hibernal Rifles displayed their proficiency in the various movements of the sword drill.

The wedding ceremony was performed in a graceful and pleasing manner by Rev. A. E. Kimbrough, pastor of the Congregational church.

A quiet, restful spot where a "land breeze" is unknown, and the bird that sings melodiously at other shore resorts, is not to be found here.

Upon the registers of the hotels are to be found many names prominent in both public and private life, the western cities contributing their quota, with St. Louis and Cincinnati well in the lead.

The cosy, neat, comfortable cottage home of Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, 2737 Fort street, was the scene of intellectual delight and merriment Thursday evening.

At the present time he is in the city of Lincoln, Nebraska, where he is engaged in the business of a real estate agent.

Bates, Captain and Mrs. Humphrey, Lieutenant and Mrs. Abercrombie, Lieutenant and Mrs. Van Lenn, Mrs. M. J. Hill, Mrs. H. H. Hill, Mrs. Samuel Brown, Mr. Samuel Caldwell, Mr. George Haverstick, Miss Flora Webster, Miss Dandy, Mr. Herbert Hoggan, Mr. Hoggan, Miss Coleman, Mrs. Woolworth, Miss Amy Barker, Mr. Austin, General Dandy, Mr. and Mrs. Garrison, General Brown, Miss Weston, Mrs. Arthur Smith, Mr. Walter Smith, Miss Dodge and Mr. Dodge of Council Bluffs.

The Iowa social given by the congregation of St. Philomena's church, Wednesday evening, at the residence of Hon. Thomas Lowry on Parkview avenue, was a delightful success.

The Iowa social given by the congregation of St. Philomena's church, Wednesday evening, at the residence of Hon. Thomas Lowry on Parkview avenue, was a delightful success.

The Iowa social given by the congregation of St. Philomena's church, Wednesday evening, at the residence of Hon. Thomas Lowry on Parkview avenue, was a delightful success.

The Iowa social given by the congregation of St. Philomena's church, Wednesday evening, at the residence of Hon. Thomas Lowry on Parkview avenue, was a delightful success.

The Iowa social given by the congregation of St. Philomena's church, Wednesday evening, at the residence of Hon. Thomas Lowry on Parkview avenue, was a delightful success.

The Iowa social given by the congregation of St. Philomena's church, Wednesday evening, at the residence of Hon. Thomas Lowry on Parkview avenue, was a delightful success.

The Iowa social given by the congregation of St. Philomena's church, Wednesday evening, at the residence of Hon. Thomas Lowry on Parkview avenue, was a delightful success.

The Iowa social given by the congregation of St. Philomena's church, Wednesday evening, at the residence of Hon. Thomas Lowry on Parkview avenue, was a delightful success.

The Iowa social given by the congregation of St. Philomena's church, Wednesday evening, at the residence of Hon. Thomas Lowry on Parkview avenue, was a delightful success.

James H. Park, principal of Benson school, has returned from a four weeks trip to Chicago and the West.

James H. Park, principal of Benson school, has returned from a four weeks trip to Chicago and the West.

James H. Park, principal of Benson school, has returned from a four weeks trip to Chicago and the West.

James H. Park, principal of Benson school, has returned from a four weeks trip to Chicago and the West.

James H. Park, principal of Benson school, has returned from a four weeks trip to Chicago and the West.

James H. Park, principal of Benson school, has returned from a four weeks trip to Chicago and the West.

James H. Park, principal of Benson school, has returned from a four weeks trip to Chicago and the West.

James H. Park, principal of Benson school, has returned from a four weeks trip to Chicago and the West.

James H. Park, principal of Benson school, has returned from a four weeks trip to Chicago and the West.

James H. Park, principal of Benson school, has returned from a four weeks trip to Chicago and the West.

STRIPPING FOR THE RUSH

Land Seekers Massing on the Borders for the Cherokee Grab.

REPETITION OF THE OKLAHOMA RACE

Roomers and Soothers Training Their Horses for the Stampede—Quality and Price of Land—Precautions Taken to Insure All an Equal Chance in the Race.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Aug. 26.—[Special to The Bee.]—Thousands of "boomer" outfits awaiting the opening of the Cherokee outfit are camped on the banks of the Walnut and Arkansas rivers near here.

When in 1893-94 the United States purchased the country of the Osage Indians and made southern Kansas of it, they secured one of the grandest spots of America.

It is watered by hundreds of small streams and three large rivers. These conditions exist in that portion of the Cherokee strip just south of Arkansas City to the Oklahoma line, which is nearly all of the land now open to settlement.

All along the Kansas line west from here thousands of homeseekers are camped and the southern line in Oklahoma is crowded with thousands of "boomers."

The "boomers" are from almost every state in the union. Camping side by side are families from Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Iowa, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, and Newfoundland.

The class of "boomers" on the ground at this time is very good. A good many sons of the "boomers" are on the ground, and many of them had already died of starvation.

The "boomers" are from almost every state in the union. Camping side by side are families from Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Iowa, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, and Newfoundland.

The "boomers" are from almost every state in the union. Camping side by side are families from Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Iowa, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, and Newfoundland.

are kept in fine condition and are being trained to stand the run. In the cool of every evening the broad macadamized roads leading from the Walnut and Arkansas rivers to town are covered with young men training their horses.

It is not likely that they will take the "boomers" will go in with buckboards and light sleds, to which will be hitched running horses. There is a band of about twenty-five young men here who have formed an organization to go in together on "bicycles."

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

of the second act of the opera he is writing for Francis Wilson. He says the book which is in French is far superior to the "Olah" or "The Lullaby."

Agnes Huntington, now Mrs. Cravath, had her last dealings with the stage in Philadelphia last week. She sold all the costumes and properties of "Paul Jones" and "Captain Thersby."

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

John B. Wright, who died last week in Boston, was stage manager of Ford's theater in Washington at the time of the assassination of Lincoln and witnessed the tragedy as he was standing at the wings of the stage when Booth fired the shot.

KELLEY, STIGER & Co.

Our Importation of Autumn and Winter Dress Fabrics, Embracing all the novelties for seasons 1893 and 1894—a choice selection of the newest creations of American, German and French manufacture.

Has Arrived, and will be placed on exhibition Monday Morning, August 28th.

Inspection Solicited.

KELLEY, STIGER & Co.

Corner Farnam and 15th Sts.

MRS. GRAHAM'S HYGIENIC SKIN FOOD. IS GUARANTEED TO BANISH WRINKLES.

EDUCATIONAL. Academy of the Sacred Heart. This Academy is located on 36th and Burt streets. The site is elevated and beautiful.

Advertisement for Rinehart's Photographs, featuring a portrait of a woman and text: 'MAKES THE BEST Photograph FOR THE BEST PHOTOS GO TO Rinehart's'.