TRIUMPH OF AN OMAHA GIRL AS ROSALIND

Pleasing Musicale at Miss Barker's Some Well Known Musicians Give Mr. Max Meyer a Delightful Evening-Surprises During the Week.

There is considerable pleasure in being able to chronicle Miss Mabel Eaton's success as Rosalind last week at Sylvan Dell, Chicago, notwithstanding that she followed Rose Coghlan, who is an ideal Ganymede, Miss Eaton is an Omaha giri, born and bred here, and naturally Omaha's interest is pardenable. One of the Chicago papers, speaking of this versatile young woman, said after the performance: "Miss Eaton is by nature well adapted to the role of Shakespeare's most charming comedy hero ine, and in the doublet and hose of Gany mede looks even more attractive than at tired in the garb of her own sex. Moreover she read the lines of the bogus youth of the forest better than those of Rosalind, though throughout she showed that she was not en tirely letter perfect. She costumes the part auntily, has a musical voice and a merry augh, excellent facial expression, and enacts the character with intelligence.

The reception given to Mr. Max Maretzek The reception given to Mr. Max Maretzek Tuesday evening in the rooms of Omaha's new Conservatory of Music, the fifth floor of the city hail, was flattering to the veteran maestro and no doubt that individual feit that he had fallen among friends. Many of the leading people of the metropolis were present to add to the occasion and Miss Clary quite deserved all the kind things said about the happy inaugural.

Hurst and Nelson. Wednesday evening a pretty wedding was solemnized at 1520 North Twenty-fifth street, the contracting parties being Miss Nelson and Mr. George Hurst, Rev. G. J. Powell of Hillside Congregational church officiating. Hillside Congregational church officiating. The house was neatly decorated, the marriage being performed in the east parlor. The bride was attended by Miss Susic Hanson, while Mr. C. H. Creighton occupied the position of best man. A pleasing feature of the evening was the playing of the Letter Carriers' band, the strings rendering the "Lohengrin" march as the wedding party entered the room. Mr. Hurst is one of Uncle Sam's letter carriers and the largely represented at the wed ding. After the ceremony delicious refresh-ments were served by Balduff. Mr. and Mrs. Hurst will reside at 2608 Charles street. Mrs. Hurst will reside at 2608 Charles street.

Well Known Musicians Meet Socially.

Thoroughly informal the musicale given at Mr. Max Meyer's residence, Twenty-fourth and Harney streets. Thursday night, was one of the pleasant events of a rather dull week socially. Mr. Moyer is a congenial host, and as his house is particularly suited for just such functions, naturally the guests who "happened in" were charmed with everything. Omaha's leading musicians were present, and as the program was naturally impromptu the evening was all the more enjoyable on that account Mrs. Hess Fuchs played brilliantly, while Mr. enjoyable on that account. Mrs. Hess Fuchs played brilliantly, while Mr. Max Maretzek, Sig. Fusco, Herr Gahm, Dr. Kohnstamm and Dr. Hoffman also touched the keys of the beautiful piano. Miss Scott, a pretty young woman and a guitarist of ability, quite caught the guests by her fine technique. Prof. Brett gave a violin selection or two, Mrs. Moeller was in magnificent voice and sang well. Mr. Adolph Meyer also contributed to the pleasure by a song Dr. Hoffman whistled a bar or two, while Mr. I. Hoffman, who has a fine baritone voice, was heard to advantage. Then the phonograph was pressed into service and the songs sung into the funcei by John Henshaw and other clever people who have been guests of Mr. clever people who have been guests of Mr. Meyer were reproduced.

The program, though short, was a very enjoyable one. Miss Webster played exquisitely one of Grieg's most beautiful compositions. Miss Palmer then sang, after which followed a violin solo by Miss Darlene Coe, who was accompanied by Miss Amy Barker. ceived with a round of applause. Miss Jentie Yates sang "You" very sweetly. Miss Coe, for a second number, played one of Chopin's nocturnes, and was accompanied effectively by Miss Morley. Miss Amy Barker then sang Shelley's beautiful bal-lad called "Love's Sorrow."

The feature of the evening, however, was the playing of the college boys, who brought their instruments and charmed their listeners with a number of well known melo-dies, the favorites of which were "The High School Cadet" and "Washington Post Marches." The program was concluded by a quartet of male voices, consisting of Messrs. Lyman and Rogers. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

A PLAY PRESENTED BY HOME TALENT

Entertainment at Washington Hall-Words of Praise for The Bee Among Scandinavians-Items of General Interest-Personals and Gossip.

Last Saturday evening the Danish Dramatic club, Dagmar, opened the season at Washington hall with Erick Beyles' gay farce comedy, "A Foolish Gtrl." The audience seemed to be much pleased with the performance. The acting and especially the singing, was good, and the stage setting very tastefully done with the somewhat limited means. After the play was over the Omana Glee club entortained the audience with some very fine guitar music and and then the hall was cleared of the chairs, refreshments served and soon after the ball commenced. The next Danish play to be given at Washington ball will be the "Count of Monte Christo," with the noted actor, Mr. Schell, as the count.

It Pays to Write Good Plays. It is announced that Bronson Howard realized nearly $100,000 from his royalties on Shenandoah," and that his profits on "Aristocracy" will reach a very large figure. "The Henrietta" was not so profitable to him as to Robson and Crane, as Mr. Howard sold that play outright. It takes Bronson Howard two years to write a drama, but he certainly cannot complain that he is poorly paid. One of the great secrets of Howard's success is of the great secrets of Howard's success is that his plays are all distinctively American —dealing with live American topics. In "Aristocracy" he handles the so-called best society of this country and Europe without gloves, although if his types of the foreign aristocracy are true, it would be better if one handled them with gloves. "Aristocracy" will be presented at Europe with one handled them with gloves. "Aristocracy" will be presented at Boyd's Monday night, September 18, with the original scenery, etc., as used at Palmer's theater, New York, and a cast including Maurice Barrymore, Frederic Bond, William Faversham, S. Miller Kent, Neil Warner, John H. Browne, J. C. Buckstone, Bruce McRea, Blanche Walsh, Mary Hampton, Helen Tracy and Maud White.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

across the country has been a sort of triumphal march. In company with 150 other excursionists and the three first presidents of the Mormon church, the choir left idents of the Mormon church, the choir left Salt Lake on Tuesday last, sang in Denver Wednesday to an overflowing audience, appeared twice in Kansas City, Friday afternoon and evening, held forth in the great Music hall in St. Louis Saturday night to an overflowing house and then went to Chicaso, where it took second prize at the World's fair. The Mormon narty, 418 strong, arrived today in a special train of eleven Pullman cars. The organization was founded about forty years ago in Salt Lake founded about forty years ago in Salt Lake City by Brigham Young. There are twenty-two bisbops' wards in Salt Lake City and two bisbops' wards in Salt Lake City and each one furnishes a quota of its best singers to make up the great choir of 500 voices which furnishes music for the big tabernacle. The 250 voices selected for the contest comprise the best of the whole force. The leading members are: Mr. Robert Easton, a tenor with an exceptionally high, clear and true voice; Mr. Weihe, a violinist who is billed as the foremost violinist of the west; Mrs. Pugsley, a soprano with a remarkable range and compass; Mrs. Alison, a contralto who has graduated from an eastern conservatory, and Mr. Pyper, a ballad tenor, who is a decided favorite in the west. Mr. Evan Stephens, the director of the choir, is a young Welshman who came to choir, is a young Welshman who came to Utah when he was only 12 years old. He is a self-taught musician and has won his way o the foremost ranks of western leaders his native genius and unparalleled supply of energy. He has composed more than 600 pieces of music. This organization will give a sacred and bailed concert at Boyd's theater

Ole Olson comes to the Farnam Street theater for four nights and two matinees, commencing with the usual matinee today. once here last it has had a thorough revis-ing by Mr. James A. Hearne, so well known in the dramatic world as the author of such highly successful dramas as "Hearts of Oak," "Margaret Flaming". Oak," "Margaret Fleming," 'Drifting Apart," "Shores Acres," etc. The changes Apart. Shores Acres. etc. The changes in Ole Olson nake the play as strong in its sensational fertures as it has been hereto-fore in comedy. The greatest alteration, however, occurs in the third act, which has peen entirely rewritten and is now one of the best dramatic scenes ever presented. Comedy is entirely obliterated from the act, it being the opinion of Mr. Hearne that with so much high class comedy in the other acts the play would be better balanced in its new form, and he is undoubtedly correct. In the cast will be seen the well known character actress, Miss St. George Hussey, pretty little Dolly Foster McAlpine, Miss Georgie Lester, and Mr. James T. McAlpine, who essays the role of ole, which is the principal male character o the piece, and is pronounced by all who have seen him as the best Swedish dialect actor who has ever appeared in this difficult role.

Commencing tomorrow at the New Peo-ple's theater, formerly Wonderland, an en-tirely new program will be presented. It will be another of those combination pro-grams that have made this theater so popular. The members of the new stock company are already great favorites and will present a laughable comedy, entitled, "Blunders," a play brimful of merriment and comical situations. It will be cast to the full strength of the new company, which means it will be an excellent production. After the drama a specialty program of rare merit will be speciately program of rare merit will be in-troduced. It is a whole show by itself and will commence at about 3:10 afternoons and 9:10 evening, thus giving those who do not care for the drama a chance to drop in late in the evenings. Among the specialty people who appear will be the celebrated Miranda sisters, unquestionably the most daring and finished female trapeze performers in the world. George Edwards, the well known minstrel comedian; little Lottle Sanford, the black picaninny; Barretta, a phenomenal contortionist: The Romalos, a team of wonderful acrobats; Nellie Shook, in Lancashire clog dances and vocalsmook, in Lancashire clog dances and vocal-isms; La Petit Emma, a peerless song and dance artiste, and Le Roy & Clayton, a versa-tile sketch team, will make up a program of extraordinary strength. Tonight the last performance of "Queen's Evidence" and the big specialties of this week will be given.

The concert to be given by the Harmony club on Thursday, September 21, will doubt less be a great musical treat. The chorus of seventy-five voices has been at work two nights a week since Easter in order to make The Mormon Tabernacia choir's trip the cantata of "Ruth" a pronounced suc-cess. With the aid of Mrs. Martin Cahn, Miss Carrie Crane, Mrs. W.W. Turner, Miss Julia Talliaferro, Miss Mamie Allen (violin), Captain Kinzie, Mr. Jules Lumbard, Mrs. W. T. Taber and Mr. Thomas J. Kelly as director, the concert ought to be a distinct T. Taber and Mr. Thomas J. Kelly as director, the concert ought to be a distinct success. The magnificent organ of the First Metho-dist Episcopal church will be utilized and the full orchestra of Boyd's theater augmented.

The fast evening of the week at the Farnam Street theater will be followed by the Ideal Opera company, composed of ex-cellent principal singers and a large chorus. The program will include "The Chimes of Normandy," Thursday evening; "The Pirates of Pencance," Friday evening, and "Said Pasha," Saturday matinee and evening. The company, according to exchanges, gives entire satisfaction and is fast gaining a well carned popularity.
