OCTOBER'S CLOSING GAYETIES

Mrs. Colpetzer's Afternoon Reception Inaugurates the Eeason's Round of Pleasure.

FUNCTIONS ANNOUNCED FOR THE WEE

Trinity Parish Has the Honor of Opening Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson's New House on Harney Street Social Coat of the Past Seven Days,

Society emerged from its lethargy last week, and the bang of carriage doors, the shouts of the drivers and the calling out of carriage numbers was a welcome sound to the votaries of Dame Fashion. Mrs. Frank Colpetzer had the honor of giving the first afternoon reception of the season, and the crush sometimes was something prodigious.

Mrs. Frank Johnson threw open her new house to the public on Wednesday evening, and the compliments the hostess received must have more than compensated for the trouble, which even the smallest function entails. Then there were several card parties, a Kensington or two and several teas, so that the debutantes had a foretaste of what the season has in store for them. One of the most stylish and popular gloves is the "mocha" or caster glove, which is a comparatively new candidate for general favor. It is only a few years since it was first introduced, and during the past two years it has become known and liked as one of the most stylish forms of hand covering. The reason is that the mocha glove is far more durable than the undressed kid, one pair of the former outwearing at least two pairs of the latter, while it cannot be distinguished from undressed kid without the most careful inspection. The mocha glove is made from the skin of the mocha sheep, which abound in Arabia, Abyssinia and around the head waters of the Nile. The hides are shipped from Port Said, on the Sucz canal, and are a favorite material of fine glove manufacturers. They are all imported in the hair and are dressed in this country. The supply is limited, especially of the lamb. is a comparatively new candidate for general the hair and are dressed in this country.

The supply is limited, especially of the lambskins, and hence the glove will probably never be as generally sold as is the kid, which it now rivals or surpasses. It is susceptible of the most beautiful coloring, suitable for street wear without injury, and it is no wonder that it has become a favorite of the feminine as well as the masculine divisions of saviety. divisions of society.

Musically, the season promises great things, it being the intention of Mr. Hans Albert and Mr. Gahm to give a series of three subscription concerts of chamber music, with the assistance of the new 'cello-ist, Gustav Foehringer, who comes to Omaha highly recommended. In addition Mr. Albert will organize a string quartet for concerts, interspersing the program with concerts, interspersing the program with violin, piano and 'cello solos. Chamber music is the most delightful form of entertainment, the world's greatest composers having given much attention to compositions of this kind. During the lifetime of the great German classic composers the nobility took the greatest possible interest in bility took the greatest possible interest in fostering music and engaged men like Haydn, Mozart and Beethoven as their composers. These musicians who wrote for the private apartments of a prince, Haydn alone writing over thirty symphonics in the service of the music-loving Prince Esterhazy of Austria, were called "Kammermusikers" (chamber composers) and their creations for orchestratrios and quartets were classed as "kamtrios and quartets were classed as "kammermusik" i. e., chamber music. To Haydn belongs the honor of having invented the string quartet, his compositions for first and second violins, viola and violincello being among the strongest works now played. But the perfection of chamber now played. But the perfection of chamber music was seached under Beethoven, whose creations have not been surpassed, if equaled, by composers of the ultra modern school as Brahms. Tschalkowsky or Dvorak. The effort of Messys. Albert and Gahm to introduce this feature of musical thought into the artistic life of Omaha is deserving success. The first concert, it thought, will be given before the holidays.

The reign of the chrysanthemum is over. New York's fashionable Four Hundred has given the flower of the Orient a death blow. The Sun, speaking of the passing of the flower of the Mikado, says: "Certainly the position of Mmc. Chrysantheme remains em-barrassing. After four years of such vogue that no coat in October was complete with-out her shaggy petals somewhere on its lapel, and no tea table properly dressed until she was enthroned somewhere on it in s blue and white china jar to be forgotten by the world! Not only forgotten, but ignored for two years and put up in a florist's window to be slighted until she wilted! But that has been the fate of the chrysanthemum, and in whatever form she appears to the public it will have none of her. She may be white, with long petals that stick out like a percupine's quills, or be crisp and curly in white, yellow or pink. The public won't even look at her, but buys violets or roses without asking at how much the florist values her. And he doesn't think much of her now, or ask much for her.

"In the crowd that promenaded Broadway yesterday afternoon the chrysanthemum was very little in evidence. There were a few in buttonholes that didn't signify much as to whether or not fashion had abandoned Mmc. Chrysantheme. Formerly they were in every smart woman's corsage and distin-guished every genuine or would-be swell as invariably as a gardenia does in London. Now there are only a few scattered about, and anybody that doubts if chrysanthemums are still the proper thing need only notice the people who wear them on Upper Broadway in the afternoon."

Society donned its best gowns on Wednes nay and crowded Mrs. Frank Colpetzer's handsome residence throughout the hours of the reception which was given as the formal entree of her daughter, Miss Susie Colpetzer, into the arena of the swells.

It was the first reception of the season and per consequence the wives, mothers and sweethearts of Omaha's men availed themselves of the opportunity to begin anew friendships formed last season and coment those of longer duration.

Mrs. Colpetzer was assisted in receiving her guests by Mrs. DuBois, Miss Susie Colpetzer and Miss Cady, together with Miss Palmer, Miss Helen Millard, Miss Jentie Yates, Miss Webster, Miss Burns, Bell of Cincinnati, Miss Wakeley, Miss Emily Wakeley, Miss Hughes and Miss Mary Dandy, who aided in the good cheer that prevailed throughout the flower-deco-

In the dining room Miss Wadleigh and Miss Maud Wadleigh presided with grace over the ten and chocolate, the table being exquisite in its white damask cloth with a beautiful rose bowl filled with laFrance roses in the center.

The reception was brilliant, the crowd showy and everybody seemed to be glad to be back again in the social harness after a summer on the Midway, the mountains or at the seasons.

Mrs. Colpetzer wore a pretty costume of blue corded silk, entraine and, trimmed with blue veivet, duchesse lace and a jeweled passementerie.

Mrs. Du Bois was in a very sweet gown of black silk, ornamented by a crepe bertha crossed in front.

Miss Colpetzer, the attractive debutante

Miss Colpetzer, the attractive debutante of the occasion, were a dainty dress of white mulle, trimmed with Valenciennes lace, a kerchief about the neck, from the ends of which depended ribbons tied about the waist, and she carried laFrance roses.

Miss Cady, another of the season's "buds," were an effective costume of white silk ornamented with white lace.

The pretty pucture the debutantes of the

The pretty picture the debutantes of the season presented brought many a sight to the older people who in the presence of these young girls, lived over their first seasons in society with considerable heart-aches.

Miss Clara Palmer looked levely in a gown of pink and white with white satin sleeves.

Miss Flora Webster carried herself like a young queen, gowned stylishly in white mulle over yellow astin, with yellow satin ribbons about the waist, a ruff at the neck, and RANGES RADIANT HOME STOVES,

OAK STOVES, Monitor and Majestic Steel Ranges.

ARGE

VARIET

STAR OIL HEATERS

WE MAKE THE LOWEST PRICES. EVERY STOVE AND RANGE WARRANTED.

MILTON ROGERS & SONS, 14TH AND FARNAM.

Miss Jentie Yates, pretty and piquante raced a pink and black silk, trimmed with black silk net and pink ribbons. Miss Burns were a gown of pearl brocade with green velvet sleeves and trimmings. Miss Bell was in a French costume of pink slored silk and red velvet, duchesse lace falling over the sleeves. Miss Wakeley wore a gown of old rose, overed with black lace and red roses. Miss Emily Wakeley also wore a costume of green and pink, with deep pink satin yoke and sleeves, a fetching bag depending from the waist from which violets swung. Miss Hughes, a fine looking girl, wore white silk, the waist of white brocade carying American beauties. Miss Dandy was petite and fascinating in gown of white illusion very sweetly made, he yoke being edged with forget-me-nots. Miss Wadleigh was in mauve brocade, while her sister wore an old rose henrietta,

Among the ladies present are recalled:

Mesdames Yost, Morsman, Pritchett, Pax-ton, Coutant, George Squires, Charles Squires, C. N. Deitz, Kirkendall, Swobe, Eddy, J. T. Duryea, General Daudy, G. W. Doane, Mercer, Charles Keller, Hultz, McIntosh, Sharp, Gilbert, Green, Chase, Meikle, Johnson, Whitmore, S. S. Curtis, Sheridan, Cudahy, George Palmer, Cornish, F. M. Metcalf, McKenna, Drake, Misses McKenna, Rodman, Fiorence and Bessie Yates, Daisy Rodman, Florence and Bessie Yates, Daisy Doane, Lynn Curtis, Kountze, Brown, Miss McKell, Miss Himebaugh, Miss Abbie Tatt of Colorado, Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Burns, Mrs. McKell, Misses Millard, Helen Smith, Mary Barker, Amy Barker, Vaill, Mollona, But-terfield, Sharp, Ida Sharp, Sargent, Pratt. Himebaugh, Balch, Thede Balch, Hawley, Landes, Moore, Baum, and Comeland Landes, Moore, Baum and Copeland, Mrs. W. H. Alexander, Miss Lita Alexander, Mrs. A. P. Tukey, Mrs. Sargeant, Miss Tukey, Mrs. Warren Rogers, Mrs. Tom Rogers, Mrs. H. B. Smith, Miss Deering, Mrs. Deering, Mrs. J. B. Hawley, Miss Hawley, Miss Clara Hawley, Mrs. Nason. After the reception a tea was given at After the reception a tea was given at 6:30 for the ladies assisting, as many gentlemen being invited in as there were ladies to round the evening with dancing. There was a little music too, participated in by Miss Maud Wadleigh, Miss Palmer, Miss Jentic Yates. The men were: Mr. Charles Wilson, Mr. Dean, Mr. J. Baidrige, Mr. Joe Morsman, Mr. Charles Kountze, Mr. George Palmer, Mr. Jack Battin, Mr. Pierra Palmer, Mr. Jack Battin, Mr. Pierre Garneau, Mr. George Mercer, Mr. Randall Brown, Mr. Will Hoagland, Dr. Summers,

Mr. Will Doine and Mr. Art Guiou. For the Benefit of the Music Fund. The reception given Wednesday evening by the ladies of Trinity Parish Aid society for the benefit of the music fund of the cathedral, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson, Thirty-sixth and Harney streets, could not have been a more charming function try as the hostess and her associates might on devising a pleasing en-tertainment. There was a delightful ab-sence of estentation. It was a gathering largely of friends socially as well as in a church sense, and the short musical program was in keeping with the charm of the enter

Omaha is gradually growing rich in beautiful homes, the new residence of Mr. Johnson being among the hardsomest houses of the city. It is essentially a home of culture and refinement, the good taste of Mrs. Johnson being everywhere seen, not alone in the fur-nishings but in the mural accorations and wood carvings, its pictures and brie-a-brac. The parlor is a beautiful study in the Louis XVI style of ornamentation, the fresco work having been done by a weil known New York artist, working under the very competent direction of Paolo Pavesich, who decorated Boyd's theater. The ceiling is a gem in mural effect, the frieze of flowers being as mural effect, the frieze of flowers being as dainty in its way as the water colors of Duran. The carpet is solid in color, toning in with the furniture and the wall painting, giving one the impression of refined luxury that is captivating to a degree. The library is Moorish in design, and a cosier library there is not one in Omaha. The big bay window to the north has a deep window scat, beautifully uphoistered, while the fireplace to the left of the bay is rich in Moorish tiling, the upper portion of the mantel suggesting a bit from the Alhambra in its artistic tracery. But the room that attracted most attention was the Japanese coay off the parior. Finished in bird's eye maple made being beaded with small rounds of the cane The fretwork over the mantel is thoroughly in keeping with the rest of the apartment, the wails being hung with a weave some what suggestive of burlap. There are por tiers of rich Japanese stuff, and Japanese pictures on the walls. The dining room is ung in embossed leather, the ceiling divided into squares by a dark wood and in keeping with the pretty room. Above stairs the architect has been just as happy as be low, the rooms being large and finely lighted. But this is a feature of the whole house, as there are windows after windows, giving one the impression that the interior must be proken up and not admitting of any strong ornamentation, but a glimpse into the mansion will show a very different condition, and to add to the very charming effect there were stands of chrysanthemums about the rooms that assisted in bringing out all the beauties of the place.

Incidental to the reception there was a short musical program. Mrs. Hess-Fuchs playing several plane numbers very creditably. Mrs. Cotton sang, as she usually does, brilliantly, her voice snowing stronger than usual, because of her restful summer. Mrs. Will Wood sang Nevins' beautiful ballad. "Little Boy Blue," in a manner that showed her the possessor of a sweet, sympathetic contralto, and for an encore she gave a eatchy French composition, "Celeste," play ing her own accompaniment in this instance Mrs. Wood is not heard of often enough in public, and it is to be hoped that there be other occasions this season when Mrs Wood will be heard in concert. Mrs. J. J Dickey, who has a beautiful voice for recita tion, gave most appropriately "The Organ Builder," and for an encore a story of a boy mpire that brought tears to those in front Mrs. Johnson, who is president of the so-ciety, deserves a world of compliments for the success of the affair. After the musicale refreshments were served.

Among the guests were: Dean Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Barkalow, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. McWhorter, Mr. and Mrs. Kirkendall, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Wheeler, Jr., Mrs. F. M. Richardson, Mrs. Will Wood, Mrs. Metcalf, Mrs. Cornish, Mrs. Will Wood, Mrs. Metcalf, Mrs. Cornish, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Remington, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dickey, Mr. and Mrs. Wavren Rogers, Mrs. Deering and Miss Deering of Portland, Me., Mrs. John Barker, Mrs. Churchill Parker, Mr. and Mrs. George Barker, Mrs. Cook, Mr. Thomas Kinsman, Mrs. O. M. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis, Mrs. A. B. Hudson, Mrs. Harry Reed, Mr.

Mrs. O. M. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis, Mrs. A. B. Hudson, Mrs. Harry Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan, Mrs. Martha Heth. Mrj.
and Mrs. C. S. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs.
Paterson, Mr. and Mrs. George Squires, Mr.
and Mrs. Frank Kemp, Miss Amy Barker, Miss Katheryn Barker, Miss Balch, Miss
Thede Balch, Miss Himebaugh, Miss Chambers, Miss Toft, Mrs. Lewis Reed, Mrs. F.
A. Rinehart, Miss Vail, Miss Doane, Miss
Mabel Balcombe, Miss Moore, Miss Cook,
Miss Crandall, Miss Bessie Peck, Miss Carter, Mr. W. G. Chambers, Mr. Coles, Mr. ter, Mr. W. G. Chambers, Mr. Coles, Mr. Heth, Mr. Snyder, Mr. Jorden. Mrs. John-son was assisted by Miss Gertrude Chambers. Miss Himebaugh and the Misses Balch

The inaugural ball of the Metropolitan club's season of '93-4 was one of the features of last Saturday night, the guests enjoying the opportunity to "trip the light fautastic," after a summer of idleness. Some of the gowns worn by the ladies were new and very beautiful. gowns worn by the ladies were new and very beautiful.

Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Moritz Meyer, Mr and Mrs. I. Wise, Dr. and Mrs. O. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. I. Oberfelder, Mr. and Mrs. B. Newman, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Rosewater, Mr. and Mrs. S. Katz, Mr. and Mrs. E. Selgsohn, Mr. and Mrs. Albers Cahn, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Silberstein, Mr. and Mrs. H. Cohn, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lobman, Mr. and Mrs. Kirschbraum, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heller, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cahn, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heller, Mr. and Mrs. Anon Cahn, Mr. and Mrs. I. New, Mr. and Mrs. A Mandelberg, Mr. and Mrs. L. Rothschild, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rehfeld, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Goldsmith, Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Loevey, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. R. Grotte, Mr. and Mrs. A. Haas, Mr. and Mrs. G. Becker, Mrs. M. Heliman; Misses Mattle and Dollle Polace, Oryluss Lobman, Newman, Rothschild, Mitchel, Haas, Goldman, Becker, Schlessinger, Adler;

Strauss, H. Langstader, Dr. Franklin, Charles Goldsmith, Sig Meyer, Max Meyer, P. M. Rose, F. Seligsohn, H. Bamberger, Dryfuss, B. Rosenthal.

A delightfully original party was that given by Miss Marie Price Thursday afternoon. About fifty young people, chaperoned by Mrs. Price, took the one o'clock train for Mr. J. E. Markel's summer home near De-Sota, known as Woodstock farm. At the station large hayracks were waiting to con-vey the nerry crowd to the woods where many bushes of butternuts and chestnuts were gathered. At 6 o'clock a dainty luncheon was served on the porches of Mr. Markel's residence, after which came danc-ing in the parlors. The hayracks were then again called into requisition to take the party to the train, which landed them in the city at haif past, 9 after a most en-

The invited guests were: Misses Grac Christian, Bessie Peck, Mabel Brown, Heler Peck, Lou Burnette, Anna Pickare, Blanche Josslyn, Mattie Stone, Mabel Kelly, May Mount, Nellie Day, Grace Derby, Stelle Brown, Emma Crandall, May Bartlett, Edith Orcutt, Harriet Marsh, Ella Gibbon, Beula Sharp, Maude Staley, Lucilla Parmer, Fannie Coburn, Hollie Burgess, Fannie Cogschell, Mapel Boyd, Jennie Gregg, Marie Price; Messrs. George Purvis, Frank Par-mer, Wilbur Christian, Frank Coad, Evan Floyd, Ralph Connell, Herbert Morse, Karl Hoffman, Percy Jeasen, Frank Buffet, Joss lyn, Benedict, Knouse, Charlie Pratt, Henry Allen, Will Gardner, Irving Gardner, Ber Butler, Sam Burns, Jack Coburn, Boyd, Howard Tilden, John Burgess, Lindsey, John Larimer, McClure, Kelly Frank Van Horn, Will Walker, John Brown Otto Bauman.

There is an indignant school teacher in Omaha who threatens to ask for a raise of salary, and it looks as if the extra demand that has been made upon her services would amply justify such a claim.

Opening the door last Thursday in answer to a knock what was her astonishment on being abruptly greeted with the request:

"I want to get a bath."
Now, the only bath to be obtained in that chool room was in the sunshine of the same chool teacher's sweet smile, and after her first surprise, no doubt, the caller was served with one of this kind. It happened to be a middle-aged woman of espectable appearance, who had been attracted to the place by a sign on the build-ing, reading: "Baths 25 cents, worth $1." The building in which the school is kept is located on Thirteenth street, being temporarily occupied until the completion of the Center street school, now in course of erection.

One of the pleasantest Kensingtons of the season was that given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. C. H. Howes, 1142 South Twentyninth street, in honor of Mrs. M. J. Greevy of Spokane, Wash., formerly a resident of Omaha. The rooms were prettily decorated with flowers, and the afternoon was one to be remembered by the guests. Delicious re-freshments were served, and the tadies beween gossip and needle work, passed a charming afternoon.

The guests were: Mesdames M. J. Greevy, Sheraden, F. L. Fuller, Campbell, Moe,
Garnes, W. M. Fuller, Chilbers, Hardy, Haller, Cartwright, Tym, Briggs, Lee, Perrigo, Piper, Dinning, Boyd, Tilley, Baker, Fahs, Points, Grover, Williams, Roberts, Forsyth, Burns; Misses Tilley, Kingsbury, Boyd, Surprised on Her Birthday. Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Kervan entertained a party of friends at their home, 1820 Burt street. The function was in the nature of a birthday surprise in honor of the hostess' sister, Miss McGuire, who is visiting in the city. Cards, dancing and refreshments enlivened the evening and and refreshments enlivened the evening and sent the merry makers home wishing the young lady many such joyous anniversaries. Those is attendance were: Misses Baumer. Bertha Baumer, Beck, Margie Beck, Hannah, Kelly, Nellie Kelly, Fitzpatrick, Rosa Fitzpatrick, Bessie Fitzpatrick, Flan-nigan, Carrol, McGuire, Mrs. P. Carrol;

Furay, Mullen, D. Carrol, P. Carrol, Fitz-Kelly, Clark, Butler, Berry, Johnpatrick son, McKillip.

Pretty Dinner for Her Friends

Thursday evening a very pleasant dinner was given at the home of Miss Agnes Leech, 2119 Farnam, to her young lady friends. The table was beautifully decorated with Marechal Niel roses and handsome napery Those present were: Misses Mary Meyer Jennie Farr, Eva Schiller, Bessie Harding Grace Stem, Emma Johnson, Mollie Haverly Stella McChesney; Mrs. C. White, Mrs. Dennison and Miss Dennison of Blooming ton, Mrs. Leech and Miss Agnes Leech. Mr. Nate Horton was the only gentleman Progressive High Five.

A pleasant progressive high five party was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. Bouk, 118 South Fifteenth street, Thursday evening. Mrs. Smith won the first prize, Mrs. James W. Bouk second, while Miss Emma Nelson having the largest num ber of green stars on her score card, was awarded the "booby prize." Among those present were noticed the following: Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Searles, Mr. and Mrs. David Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Bel-nap, Mr. Arthur Chaney, Mrs. M. A Cooper, Miss Emma Nelson, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Wy-

A prominent member of the Young Men's Institute has surrounded himself with a group of amateur stars and has undertaken to produce a combination musical and minstrel entertainment. Several well known vocalists will participate in the musical part, and in the latter will be seen a number of mirth-provoking young men in full burnt cork regalia. The entertainment will be given in St. Philomena's hall, November 15.

S. R. Rush has returned from the fair. Mrs. Guy Barton has returned from Chicago.

J. A. Bell, wife and son left last night for Chicago. Attorney W. R. Kelly of the Union Pacific Attorney McCoy visited the World's fair

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pundt are assisting n closing the World's fair. Miss Abboy Taft, formerly of Omaha, is the guest of Miss Himebaugh. Mrs. G. W. Megeath and Mrs. Cox of Denver have returned from Chicago.

Mrs. Wentworth of Jamestown is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. E. W. Lee. Mrs. Cass Richardson of Hornélisville, N Y. is visiting ner sister, Mrs. S. W. Niles. Miss Nettle Himoe of Kansas City is visit-ing in Omaha with her brother, J. E. Himoe. Miss Dundy and her sister, Mrs. Newman returned from the World's fair Wednesday.
Friday evening Miss Alice McCormick entertained delightfully at cards for Miss Sar a tea next Wednesday in honor of Miss Toft. Miss Brownie Baum was the guest of Mr.

and Mrs. D. E. Thompson at Lincoln last Miss Agnes White is visiting at Chicago, the fair.

visit to Canada and is accompanied by her Mrs. McKnew is again the guest of Mrs. Doherty. She will return to the east on Mrs. S. S. Curtis, Miss Curtis and Miss Caruta sCurtis returned from Chicago on

Mrs. W. H. Hunter has returned from a

Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart of Counci Bluffs are to be congratulated on the birth

H. Conrad, has returned to her home in Hastings, Neb. Mrs. Churchill Parker, Mrs. John Barker and Miss Barker have issued cards for next Tuesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Van Avery have re turned from a week's visit to Chicago and the World's fair. Mrs. L. Conrad, mother of J. H. Conrad, has gone to Kansas City to visit her daugh ter, Mrs. L. H. Fuller. Mrs. H. A. Ober and Miss Ober of Beverly, Mass., are visiting at the residence of Mr. F. W. Ober, son and brother.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bennett, child and nurse, have returned from a two weeks visit to the World's fair. The Bon Ami club had its first meeting of

of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Drake. H. C. Betterman, wife and daughter re turned Friday from a month's visit in Illi-nois and the World's fair. Miss Libbie Anderson of Princeton, Ill. s spending a few weeks with Mrs. J. C.

Patton, 2117 Farnam street. Mrs. Bird, mother of S. S. Curtis, and Miss Wood arrived yesterday and are the guests of Mrs. Curtis at the Madison. Miss Wootworth returned from Chicago, eccompanied by Mrs. Guy Howard, who will be a guest at Courtiana Place. Mrs. Thomas Schumacher, who has been quite ill at the Presbyterian hospital with yphoid fever, is convalescing. Mrs. C. Vogie of Allegheny City, Pa., is visiting her sister, Mrs. Nathan Rothchild of South Twenty-fourth street.

The Union Pacific council of the Royal Arcanum will give a high five party in the hall Friday evening, November 10. Miss Himebaugh has asked a few young ladies to spend Tuesday afternoon very in-formally with her to meet Miss Taft.

Mrs. Nancy Hulse, Mrs. Chase and Miss Alice Chase are expected in Omaha about November 15, arter an extended trip abroad. Mrs. Dr. Ludington, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Charles Hill, has gone to Chicago to enjoy the last days of the World's fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirshbraun returned from Chicago Tuesday. Mi. Kirshbraun's mother, from California, is paying them a Miss Susie Woolworth of Albany, N. Y. will arrive in Omaha about November 9, to be the guest at Courtland Place for some

Mrs. Leavitt Burnham left Omaha on the 21st for an absence of several weeks in southern California, on account of illness of arelative.

Miss Bell, who was the guest of Miss Burns for a week, left for New York on Friday. Miss Burns accompanied her as far as Chicago.

Mrs. John L. Webster and Miss Webster

Highest of all in Leavening Power.-Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

The season's debutantes will assist in receiving.

Mrs. J. W. Swallenburg returned home vesterday from Chicago where she has visiting her sister and seeing the fair for the last three weeks

Mrs. E. Wakeley gave a delightful card party Tuesday afternoon to about thirty-five ladies for Mrs. McKnew, who was the guest of Mrs. Arthur Wakeley.

Major and Mrs. Wilson arrived in Omaha Tuesday and are at the Paxton. Miss Ger-trude Wilson arrived Thursday and is the guest of Miss Gertrude Chambers. Mr. Will Crary and Mr. Guy and Will Doane, Master George Doane, Will Paxton, Messrs. Gould and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lenmer returned Wednesday from Chicago Mr. and Mrs. Harry Windsor entertained most pleasantly at dinner Monday Mrs. McKnew, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wakeley and Mr. Boughton, in honor of Mrs. Mc

Mrs. O. Goldsmith, formerly of this city but now of Deadwood, left Friday morning for her home, having spent several days in Omaba on her return from a twenty-day visit at the World's fair.

Mr. Albert M. Hopkins and Miss Pearl E. Typer were married October 28 at the residence of Mr. W. Goldsmith, 2207 Farnam, Rev. Charles W. Savidge officiating.

W. C. Bartlett was happily surprised by a number of his friends Wednesday evening, it being his birthday. The evening was spent in playing cards, after which delteious

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hughes, who reside at 3078 Mason street, returned on Wednesday last from their eastern trip. They have

ALL SIZES IN STOCK.

But only one quality-THE BEST Latest shapes, Perfect fitting.

FUR CAPES.

Largest variety of ALL NEW STYLES in Omaha, representing all fashionable furs, capes of one specific fur or combination of furs, See our $5, $8, $10, $12 and $15 fur NEW CLOAKS MONDAY for

N.K.SCOFIELD

COR. 16 TH AND FARNAM STS.OMAHA Max Meyer & Bro. Co.'s Old Stand "New Entrance on 16th Street.

