Frank Hetzel Wins His Grocery Case in Court-Bailiff Norberg Goes to Jail-A Journalist in Hard Luck-Other Court Cases.

The record has now been broken and suit has been commenced in the county court, wherein all of the parties to the action are women, there being one plaintiff arrayed against two, and the promise is that -t will be a legal fight to the finish.

As plaintiff Maria Hansen charges that Carrie T. Vannice and Fannie Ryan, partners in the real estate business, have conspired together, and that by reason of such conspiracy they have damaged her business reputation to the extent of a cool $1,000, for which amount she wants a judgment. She avers that during the winter of 1892 she became possessed of $1,000, coin of the realm, which fact was known to Fannie Ryan, who called and introduced herself, saying that she was the agent for a cer-tain city lot that was a snap at the price of $450. Not wanting to invest in Omaha dirt. the plaintiff refused to make the deal, but that did not end the matter. for a few days that did not end the matter. for a few days latter Carrie T. Vannice called and introduced herself, saying that she was a friend of the Ryan woman, and wanted to borrow $50. This loan was refused, but before leaving the premises the plaintiff alleges that Car-rie told her that Fannie was the agent for a lot out in the town of Humphrey which could be secured for $450, and that it was worth double that amount. In fact she said that there was an Omaha man who would jump at the chance to buy the lot for $650, but she did not want to let him in on the deal.

This was what caught the plaintiff, Maria Hansen, who at once paid the $450 and after taking the deed went out to hunt the man who inted to blow $650 of his money against the Humphrey town lot. For months and months she walked the streets, trying to find such an individual, but she found him not. Giving up all hopes and still having the lot upon her hands, she has concluded to try and recover some damages as well as the return of the money which represents the original investment.

Settled a Criminal Case.

A criminal case has been settled outside the courts and in a manner which has proven satisfactory to all of the parties concerned

As the story goes, Szha Greenbaum, a man 77 years of age, came to Omaha a few weeks ago, removing from Germany, where he had resided during the whole of his life. He was the friend of Hannah Newman and her husband, and after coming here he made his home under the Newman roof. It was has none that he had a barrel of money and that there were no heirs to the vast amount of wealth. As time moved along Newman got hold of the money, $480, and taking it to the bank, made a deposit in the name of Hannah Nowman. Soon after that the old man wanted a few dollars and was told that there was none he could have, the Newmans claiming that it had been given to a brother-Green in-law, who had skipped the town. baum did not take much stock in the story and at once he consulted an attorney, who advised an arrest. This followed and yes-terday the money was returned.

Hetzel's Grocery Trouble.

Some of the Hetzel cases which have been agitating the minds of the courts for several months have been disposed of by the returning of a verdict. Nearly a year ago Levi Hetzel was running a grocery store at Cuming and Twentyfourth streets in this city, while his brother, Frank J. Hetzel, had a store on North Six-teenth street. Creditors came along and

THAT MOSHER SCANDAL.

Federal Grand Jury Busy Investigating Stories of the Wrecker's Revelries. The federal grand jury met yesterday and received instructions from Judge Dundy who directed that the grand jury first take up the investigation of the Mosher scandal. He said that certain rumors had been floating around and a number of charges had been made reflecting on the court and its officers that called for the strictest investition. Particular stress was laid upon gation. they the statement that the marshal seemed to suffer most from the charges made, and it was due to that official to see that the was due to that onicially refuted in case they were not true. It was stated that if Mosher had simply gone out of jail to his meals in charge of an officer, and had paid for his meals with his own money, there was nothing out of the way in the transac-tion, as he had been in custody outside the jail just as much as if he had remained inside, but if he had been allowed to go out without a guard it was different, as that would constitute an escape, and could not be otherwise construed.

The jury was directed to complete its in-vestigation of this matter before taking up any of the other cases that demanded attention. The body at once proceeded to the grand jury room in charge of Deputy Marshal Allen, and began the examination of wit-nesses, E. Rosewater being the first one called. It is stated that the investigation will occupy several days. Colonel Frank P. moval of Superintendent Macleod than they were Monday. It appears that the hasty adjournment of the board Monday night was not owing alone to the weariness of the members after the canvass of the election returns. but that Macleod's friends got wind the resolutions directed against him and brought about an adjournment before other members were really aware of what was going on. The feeling against Macleod, it appears, was brought to a head by the peculiar circumstances attending the removal of a stove from the supply house on Jackson street. On Saturday, November 6, Robert Macleod, the superintendent's brother, called at the supply house and re-quested the ansistant there to leave the door to the rear warehouse unlocked when he went away in the evening as he wished to get a stove from there. He told the assistant that he might take the keys to the custodian and say nothing about it. But when evening came he told the custodian what Macleod had said to him and that he had left the door unlocked. The custodian went to the warehouse, where he saw that when to the warehouse, where he saw that the stove — had been drawn out into the middle of the room and some pipe placed by it. He locked the door him-self. Monday morning he found that the lock had been removed, and the stove was gone. A little later Robert Macleod tele phoned to the supply house asking if there was a package there for him. The cus-todian, who answered, asked Macleod if he had not better send him an order for that stove, He said that he guessed he would, but up to date he has not done so. A day or two ago Superintendent Macleod announced that he had sold the stove to his brother for the use of a sister. It was a Round Oak coal stove rated as being worth $10 or $15 and the superintendent received $5 for it.

Violation of the Rules. The members of the board look upon this mstance with much indigna-Some of them say that believe that the superintendent did not intend that the stove should be paid for. This case is cited by them as only flagrant instance of the disposal of propert by Macleod without authority of the board The law expressly provides that no school property of any description can be sold ex cept by a recorded affirmative vote of two thirds of the members. This law, the men bers say, Macleod has baid no heed to, but has in many cases sold property at his own will, and his accounts are in such shape that the exact quantity cannot be learned. When he makes reports of sales he often fails to specify the quantity of property disposed of. This will be one o, the chief charges made against him. Complaints of Extravagance.

Complaints against unnecessary and exorbitant expense for repairs have become notorious. It is openly charged that he habitually causes repairs to be made where they are not needed for the sake of giving employment and profit to his friends. It is also charged that in numerous instances he has shown gross incompetence. As an example of this some work at the Cass street school is referred to. Here Macleod caused a boiler pit to be dug five feet below, and at the side of

Claims the Elevator Was Defective.

The case of Walter Knapp, a boy 15 years of age, against E. O. Brown and F. P. Kirkendahl, the owners of the Douglas block, at the corner of Sixteenth and Douglas streets, received the attention of the court and jury in Judge Scott's room yesterday. The plaintiff is seeking to recover the sum of $15,000 for personal injuries sustained. In making the series of the summer is a beginning to be a series of the second second making his case he represents a horrible spectacle of a youth who had an encounter with an elevator. Last January the lad was caught by the car of the elevator and sus-tained sundry cuts, wounds and bruises and now he alleges that the accident was due to the defective condition of the machinery which operated the elevator car.

COMMISSIONER BLALOCK TALKS.

Interview with a Prominent Citizen of the State of Washington.

Dr. N. G. Blalock, president of the World's fair commission of the state of Washington, is at the Paxton. Dr. Blatock is a resident of Walla Walla and is now enroute home after several months sojourn at the Columbian exposition.

"I believe that the World's fair will particularly benefit the western states," he said last evening, "the various displays of resources and fruit culture, especially in the state of Washington, attracted the general attention of the visitors at the exposition, and will result in a number of in-vestments in that state. The fruit exhibit of Washington compared favorably with any state of the union, and being a new state, drew universal attention of investors. California is not excepted in this statement with the exception of semi-tropical fruits. The fine samples of cereals raised in Wash-ington also attracted attention and caused many favorable comments. The state has a many favorable comments. The state has a great deal of vacant fruit land that can be made to yield, in five years, from $200 to $1,000 per acre annually. This certainly will induce people to avail themselves of such a golden opportunity for investment. "I am a fruit grower and have been ship-ping fruit to Chicago heretofore, but today I stopped, a car of my fruit, in transit from Walla Walla to Chicago, at Omaha, and I in-tend to make this city a distributing point in the future, instead of Chicago. Tam sat-isfied that Omaha possesses many advanisfied that Omaha possesses many advan-tages in this respect. I realized this year, tages in this respect. I realized this year, off of several acres of 6-year-old fruit trees, $1,000 per acre. This is not an unusual amount to realize on an acreage of pears, princes and cherries. Apples do well, but we do not realize so much from them. Washington is a great fruit coun-try and a trip there will convince the most skentical. The great Columbia river valley is the most favored portion of the state for fruit culture. Clark, Kittitas, Walla Walla and Yakama counties are all good fruit producing localities.

Walls Walls and Yakama counties are all good fruit producing localities. "The destruction of the beautiful White City at Chicago has a depressing effect upon me. It reminds me of the mangled remains of a fine specimen of humanity. The World's fair grounds at present lock like the path-way of a cyclone, strewn with all that is left of one of the greatest enterprises in the history of the world."

Fined for Making a Gub Play. In the police court yesterday forenoon C. F. Dawler was fined $5 and costs for carrying concealed weapons. According to the story conceated weapons. According to the story of the police Dawier went down on the low side Monday night and blew in twenty hard earned dollars. He wanted his money back and enforced his demand with a revolver. A policeman blew in about the time Mr. Dawier was making his flash with the re-volver and took the gentleman to the lock up. 24 19 55 89

the footings of a heavy supporting wall in the interior of the building, leaving nothing to support the wall foundation. The result was that a por-tion of the wall sank and fell out. Mr. Morrison says that he thoroughly inspected the job. The wall had to be repaired, and a job, he says, that ought not to have cost more than $500, did cost about $1,500. It is well known that Macleod is an enemy to the dry closet system, and some members of the board say that in some of the school buildings where the system is used Macleod has instructed junitors to keep the fire down in the stackers and to open the basement windows in order to make conditions unfavorable and give the system "a black eye."

Discharge of Competent Men. But, as four of the members of the board

seen yesterday expressed it, the crowning outrages of Macleod's administration were the discharge of Janitor Mat Gahlen at the Wainut Hill school, and the recent discharge of Mat Hoover, foreman of repairs. This is the culmination, they say, of the dirty, vin-dictive work that Macleod has been doing in small politics ever since he went into office, and even before. The majority of the mem-bers seem now to be convinced that the discharge of Gahlen was the result of a conspiracy in favor of one of Macleod's friends, but the circumstance of Macleod's friends, but the circumstance caused so much talk at the time that instead of working to get the position for that friend he favored giving it to T. H. McBride, a neighbor of one of the members unfriendly to Macleod. This member says he supposes # this was done to placate him, but it will not placate.

placate. The majority of the members are in-clined to believe that the reason assigned by Matt Hoover for his own discharge is the correct one. This is that contrary to the importunities of Macleod he voted in the primaries in the Seventh ward for the Schwanck for the city council Mac for Dr. Schwenck for the city council. Mac-leod disliked Hoover for other reasons, but this was the unpardonable sin that he committed. In Hoo-ver's place Macleod put Mr. Cohen who, it is charged, is not employed half the time, except in doing political work for his his chief. Members of the board, who claim to know Members of the board, who chain to know the sentiment of the majority, say that there is no doubt that both Hoover and Gahten will be reinstated. Hoover had been employed by the board for twelve years and had always been considered a faithful and
