Marvelously Rich Gold Strikes Reported

IDAHO LEADS OFF WITH A QUARTZ LEDGE

Colorado Follows with all Duplicate of the Famous Bassick Mine and Arizona Claims the Pot with $50,000 Per Ton Rock.

A strike of very rich gold ore is reported to have been made in the Hope mine at Basin, Idaho, a short time ago, but for reasons known only to the owners the extent of the strike has been kept as quiet as possible. says the Butte Miner. From three carloads of the ore shipped a short time ago $50,000 was netted and the end is not yet. On the Katie, which adjoins the Hope, sinking for the ledge is in progress. All of the ground in the neighborhood has been located. Basin is a little town about thirty-two miles from Butte on the Montana Central railroad. It is said that there are a few people going there under the impression that they can get hold of something, but they are meeting with disappointment The Hope is said to be clearing $100,000 per conth. terest in the property.

Natural Calmany of Gold. H. A. Owen, a partner of Jackson Mc-Cracken in the McCracken mine, which sold some years ago for $250,000, has struck it rich again, says the Arizona Republican, having recently discovered a natural chimney of gold in the Santa Maria mountains, on a tributary of the Bill Williams fork of the Colorado. The most noted mine of this character is the famous Bassick mine, at Rosita, Colo and that has yielded its finder over $3,000,000 and is still a good producer.

The one found by Owens is not so rich, but they have followed back on the ledge for 400 feet, where the ore runs more than $100 to the ton, while for a long distance from this golden aperture the lead, thirteen feet in width, with ore worth $20 a ton, can be traced.

The character of the rich deposit, from a geological standpoint, is that of matter of great depth, and the rare richness and great extent of the massive body of golden rock shows that it has been forced up by volcanic action from a depth below that is impossible to be reached by man on account of internal heat. It also verified the opinion of good miners, that the bottom end of a mine is always the richer and that it is a matter of impossibility to secure any great portion of the hidden wealth of the mineral deposits.

Ore Worth $50,000 Per Ton. Since the closing down of the silver properties on account of the decline in the white metal gold mining has received a great impetus in the vicinity of Prescott, Ariz., says the San Francisco Caronicle. Many new discoveries of good properties have been made and four or five mills have been crected within a month. Considerable excitement exists over a rich strike of gold ore in the Big Bag mine. The mine has been worked for several years, and in starting a new shaft rich ore was dis-covered. From forty pounds of rock, pulverized in a common mortar, $1,035 in gold was obtained.

Dakota Mines Inexhaustible.

There are now no less than five experts rom the east and west in the Hills examining gold properties for prospective invest-ors, says the Deadwood Pioneer. One, who refused to let his identity be known, in a conversation with a reporter, stated that he had visited Bald Mountain, Two Bit, Galena and Garden City districts and was surprised at the magnitude of the ore bodies of all the districts, which, he says, are prac-tically inexhaustible. He said that the country exceeded his expectations and said the half had never been told of it. "The proposition we offer," he said, "is a low grade one, which the introduction of cheap and economical processes for its reduction would make high grade and the best possi-

Wonderful Saving. W. M. Nesbit, manager of the Gold Hill first results of the test of the cyanide process of treating the suppurets, says the greatly handicapped in his work. Nevertheless, since the cyanine plant has been in operation—a period of about thirty days—he has worked 220 tons of sulphurets and tailings, which have yielded $9 a ton at an expense of about $1.50 a ton. Mr. Nesbit only made a partial cleanup of the 220 tons run, there being yet about $700 to be taken out During the twenty-five years that the Gold Hill has been operated the free gold caught on the plates was the sole remuneration of the owners. This averaged throughout about $5 a ton. Down the gulch went the tailings containing more wealth than had been originally taken from the ore—a terrible waste.

The cyanide process has developed a fact that had never been appreciated before— that the Gold Hill ore contained considerable

All Jingle but No Gold. T. M. Carr. P. B. Handin and T. C. Porter got back finally from the Clark's Fork "gold diggings," and are glad of it. To a Butte Miner reporter the gentlemen stated that the whole thing was a fake of the rankest kind and was originated by a few designing persons who had staked off ground in the vicinity of the alleged discovery with the expectation that a stampede they intended to get up thereto would be beneficial to them in a financial way. A portion of the people of Red Lodge have been booming the fake, about it. People enroute to the scene of the fake are compelled to pass through Red Lodge and the hotels, merchants and bars of the town therefore do a good business; but notwithstanding the fact that the town is benefited by the travel, there are few people there who tell the truth in regard to he alieged gold fields.

Red Lodge is about sixty miles from Billings and fifteen miles from Clark's Fork.

To reach the latter place from Red Lodge a divide on which there is much snow has to be crossed. Messrs, Harr, Handlin and Porterreached the river all right, prospected it a distance of nearly twenty-five miles and in only one place did they find colors. This was at a point where Bush and Reeves, two old prospectors, were at work. They are the only persons who have done anything. They have been stuicing since August 6 and have taken out four and one-half ounces of flour gold. As a bait with which to catch suckers two and one-half ounces of this quantity has been purchased by Red Lodgers and placed on exhibition in one of the stores there. Mr. Carr purchased another half ounce of the metal and brought it to Butte. It is valued at about $18 an onnce and is in lump form, having been retorted.

The gentlemen describe the place as desolate looking—a veritable bad lands. There are plenty of sage hers in the vicinity, but they are hard to kill, each of the party having emptied two guns at a flock at a distance of twelve feet without raising a feather on the birds.

Great Falls Flour Mills.

For the benefit of those who have been disposed to treat as a "Quixotic" scheme the establishment of a large flour milling enter-prise in Montana, there are some startling figures in the records of the Great Northern freight office in this city. The Washburn Crosby mill began operations early in Octo-ber, with power taken from the electric cable at Bald Eagle Falls, says the Anaconda Standard, and, incredible as the fact may seem, have made shipments of their flour to Philadelphia, New York and Liverpool during the past two weeks to supp ders received from those markets. T more forcible than arguments to convince skeptics as to the much desired agricultural possibilities of the state. The figures are in black and white on the freight books of the railroad office here, and are accessible to any one who may seek to verify them.

The wheat used is from the dry ben-lands along the plateaux beneath the Be and Highwood ranges, where no artificial ir-rigation has been employed. Long ago samples of this grain were analyzed in the chemical laboratories of Minneapolis at the instance of the millers of that city and were found richer in the nitrogeneous elements than any other wheat ever brought under the inspection of the experts. This mill is putting out between 250 and S00 barrels per day of flour of an excellent grade. It is the beginning of a new regime in Montana industries and it is no less sig-cussing the probable fate of the prohibitory law in that state yesterday morning, said : "It s not true, as many Hawkeye prohibitionists claim, that a majority of the representatives selected to the legislature are in favor of standing by the prohibitory law as it now is. On the contrary, a majority of them are pledged to a modification of the law so as to make possible some kind of liquor legislation in the river counties. Just what this modification will be it is impossible now to say, but it is probable that it will be something like local option. There is no doubt that the people of Iowa are thoroughly tired of the operation of the present law, and are determined that it shall be changed."
