gathered at Dohany's last evening to vilness the performance of "A Trip to Chinatown," at the hands of an excellent company. The audience was an enthusiastic one, and the success of the entertainment was a suffi-cient refutation of the charge sometimes made that Council Bluffs people will not go to a good play when they have it on this side of the river.

Preston K. Dillenbeck appeared at the Royal Arcanum hall in the Brown building last evening in a dramatized version of Edward Eggleston's well known novel, "The Hoosier Schoolmaster." At the close the judge asked for more time, and a postponement was taken until December 1.

The plan is intended for the benefit most particularly of young men who are not acquainted in the city and who cor sequently have but few homes in the city thrown open to them. Dr. Montgomery and his wife deserve much credit for their thoughtfulness.

DAILY BEE NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS

Froposition to Require a Bond from the Terminal Company Grows in Favor.

ONLY AS AN EVIDENCE OF GOOD FAITH

Sentiment of Suspicion Sufficiently Strong to Prevent Any Extension of the Charter Without a Substantial Guarasty is Given.

The idea of requiring a bond from the Omaha Bridge and Terminal Railway company to secure the building of its proposed line between the two cities has met the approval of some of the aldermen and a large number of the citizens since it was first suggested through THE BEE columns, and it is likely that some such proposition will be made the company in the near future. The feeling seems to be almost universal that if the terminal company means business and will put in a new line of railway it should by all means be allowed to do so, and be given all the encouragement necessary to bring about so valuable an acquisition to the city's commercial interests.

There have been so many suspicious circumstances, however, leading to the belief that the company's professions and intentions do not tally. that the extension of the time without any conditions would meet with a storm of disapproval from the citizens. A number of the present city council expect to run for other offices in the near future, and are therefore rather chary of stirring up a public sentiment against them that might react at the polls. With a suitable bond it is thought that an extension of even two years might be safely granted, as this would do away with all the uncertainty that now exists as to the ultimate construction of the line. With the assurance that the charter is demanded in good faith and not merely to sell to the Omaha and Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company in case the handwriting on the wall proves to be inspired, there is little doubt that the citizens generally would approve of a suitable extension of Wheeler's Grove Postoffice Visited by the Oakland Burglars.

Sheriff Hazen received a letter yesterday from L. D. Woodmancey, postmaster of Wheeler's Grove, a small station in the southeast part of the county, informing him that the postoffice had been burglarized and robbed of over $1,000 in cash and securities. The burglary was committed last Friday night, but Woodmancey has carefully con-cealed the fact in the hope that he might capture the guilty persons. As a detective he did not prove to be a success, however, and the chances are that the burglars have had time to get so far that they will never

The money drawer contained $300 in cash and between $700 and $800 in notes. but when the postmaster awoke the next morning his wealth had taken wings. All the money excepting $20, which belonged to the government, was Woodmancey's, and the notes were also made payable to his order, so that they will have to be endorsed before anything can be realized on them.

The crime is supposed to be the work of the same men who broke into the postoffice at Oakland a week ago Tuesday night. Those men were seen, it will be remembered, short distance from Oakland and were going in an easterly direction. The next thing heard of is the burglary at Wheeler's, which is about fourteen miles southeast of Oakland, and it is thought quite probable that the two pieces of work were done by atable Sort of Stuff. Eighteen years ago William Rapp was brought up with a startling suddenness before Judge Reed, who then occupied the bench in this county, for transgressing the iquor law which was in force at that time. He was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $110. He entered a plea of poverty and told so heartrending a tale that the judge let him go. From that day to this the judgment has been on the books against him, but no effort has been made to collect it In the meantime things have gone a little better with William and he has been able to nmass a little property. Yesterday Deputy Marshals B. S. Harrington and N. Circulating Peritions.

The meeting that was held in the Sixth ward last Friday evening in the interests of a 5-cent fare is to be followed by another tomorrow evening, and the expectation is that a much larger crowd will be out in case the weather is good. A movement has been set on foot toward organizing similar clubs in every ward in the city, whose plan is set forth in the following copy of the papers now being circulated in a number of the wards:

The undersigned, residents of the ——ward of Council Bluffs, by their signatures hereto appended, associate theuselves together as a club to discuss and deliberate upon the rights of Council Bluffs in its street railway service, and particularly its rights against the now operating motor company, with a view to davise means to enforce the ciry's rights and Omaha. The officers of this ciub, to be elected by a majority vote at its first meeting for organization, shall be a president, secretary and treasurer, whose duties shall be those ordinarily performed by such officers, and who shall hold their offices for the period of six months next following their election. Every person signing this paper pledges himself to exert his influence for enforcement of all the city's rights, as against the motor company or any other streets of the city, to insist upon a 5-cent fare to Omaha and to support every measure tending to secure these ends.

One Corporation's Cheek. COUNCIL BLUFFS, Dec. 6, 1893 .- To the Editor of THE BEE: This city granted to the motor company the use of its streets for the operation of its motor line upon condition that the company would pay for such paying as might thereafter be laid between the rails and one foot outside thereof. Later, certain streets were ordered paved that were occupied by the motor line. The contractor of course had to get his money. The company refused to pay for the paying and the city has these thousands of dollars to pay. As the motor company uses the street, and is directly benefited by that paying: as the city would never have paved these streets, but for the obligation of the motor company to pay for that phving, as the motor company received a valuable charter in consideration of its promise 40 pay for such improvements, what a glaring outrage upon this city and its people is such conduct upon its part! And as the law explicitly declares that this company shall pay and provides the machinery by which payment may be speed-ily coerced, what possible excuse can the mayor and city attorney offer for their delay in enforcing the law while the treasury of the city is emptied to pay for this paying, built for another? AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA.

Grocery Clerk Fails a Victim to an Old Trick. The old swindle of "bring change for $10 with you" was successfully worked in South Omaha yesterday. The victim was F. L. Fry. a clerk in Hazleton's grocery store. About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a young man entered the store and purchased $1.50 worth of provisions. He told the clerk he a $10 bill at home and asked to bring $8.50 in change with him him to bring $8.50 in crange with him. Fry took the change with him and the stranger rode on the delivery wagon with Fry, directing him to an out of the way place in the Third ward. When they reached the place where the fellow said he lived he told Fry to give him the change and he would step into the house and get the bill. His wife, he said, was very sick or he would invite the clerk in. Fry gave up the $8.50 and the last he saw of his man was when he was going over the back fence at a 2:40 clip. The Omaha and Coun-clil Bluffs police were notified at once and say that a man answering the discription is known to the police of both cities.

Col., arrived in the city yesterday, Mr. Thurlow is a man who has had years of experience in the stock business and admits that he was taken in in great shape by Wison. He says that Wilson came to him well recommended, but that he did not take the pains to investigate the recommendations. The parties he was referred to were all strangers to him, but he took it for granted that the fellow was all right and closed the deal. Mr. Thurlow claims that Wilson gave his company a mortgage on the sheep and 300 head of cattle besides. Wilson says that the mortgage does not cover the sheep, but ad-mits that he gave the mortgage on the cattle. Thurlow admits that he assisted in loading the cattle, but says he did not know they were coming to South Omaha

He fer has only secured $50 on the sheep. He could have had $1,000 as well as the amount he asked for. Mrs. Ahlers and the children locked up the house and went to Omaha in the morning, leaving a small fire the heating stove. Three dogs and a cat were on the inside and it is pre-sumed that while playing in the room the dogs upset the stove. The dogs and cat burned to death. There was no insurance on the house or goods and it leaves the family utterly destitute and without even a change of clothing. Mr. Ahlers works at Swift's packing house, and by close shaving he managed to save enough to pay for his little home. Mrs. Ahlers is greatly affected over the loss and the family has the sym-

KILLED DATE AKERS.

A Well Known Frontierman Shot in Alberta by Tom Purcell. LETHEBRIDGE, Alberta, Dec. 6.-Last even ing Tom Purcell, an old time whisky trader, came to town and surrendered himself to the police, stating that he had shot and killed Dave Akers of Fort Whoop-Up. Akers has been his friend for forty years and was known and respected in the western country from Alberta to Arizona. This is the tragic ending of an old score between them regarding a cattle deal Tom claims that he acted in self-defense, Akers having attacked him with a riding

Capt. H. C. Luli Suffered With it for Years-He Starved at Andersonville-Paine's Celery Compound made Him Well,

Whatever else goes wrong digestion must go right, and for this to go right the perves must be in tune. Paine's celery compound regulates the nervous system, and the nerves regulate digestion. Paine's celery compound cures dyspepsia, for dyspepsia is chronic indigestion.

A poor appealto for breakfist, during the merning a faint, all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach, strange sensations in the head, all point to indigestion. Paine's celery compound soon dissipates the symptoms, even in chronic cases. Here is an example: Capt. H. C. Luli, who is prominently indentified with the G. A. R. in Ver mout, was taken prisoner at the battle of the Wilderness and sent to Andersonville, where he suffered starvation as "Having been a sufferer for a long time with dyspepsia, I found relief by the use of one bottle of Paines celery compound. Having a personal acquaintance with that eminent physician, Dr. Phelps, it gave me assurance that Paine's celery compound was what it purported to be. I put but little confidence in what I see advertised upon barns, bridges, and fences, but think f know whereof I affirm when I say Paine's celery compound cured me. I cheerfully and without solicitation recommend it to all."
