MINUR MENTION.

Boston Store ten-day sale now on. The funeral of Mrs. Mary Stendetopf will occur this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

There will be a free concert next Sunday evening at the Trinity Methodist church by the children of the Sunday school. August Johnson, aged 23 years, porter at he Ogden house died last evening after a five days' illness from preumonia. A marriage license has been issued to Harry Hirsch and Stella Wire, both of Omaha, Thoir ages were 25 and 20. Al G. Field's minstrels entertained a big growd at Dohany's last night. They never fail to draw a growd in Council Bluffs. All the evidence in the case of Hoffman against Altmansperger is at length in and case has been taken under auvisement by Judge Thornell.

A wood sawing bee will be held in the basement of Grace Episcopal church this evening, after which refreshments will be served by the ladies of Unity guild.

Next Friday evening the Dodge Light guards will give the first of a series of parties at their armory in the Hughes building. Invitations have been issued for the affair. Elder A. F. Ballenger, secretary of the Religious Liberty association, will deliver a lecture this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Seventh Day Adventists' church, corner of Bluff and Story streets.

People engaged in charitable work report less than 100 cases of destitution requiring their assistance at the present time. In of the distress prevailing everywhere this is a remarkably good showing for Next Thursday evening the Merchants and Manufacturers association will hold a meeting to elect officers for the coming year. It is likely that the meeting will be called upon to take some action to bring the prohibitory question before the legislature. At the masquerade given by the Treubund society Miss Mary Asmussen won the prize of a hand-painted lemonade set for the most beautiful costume. She was dressed as an Indian princess. Mr. Joe Marcus was awarded the prize of a pair of embroidered silk suspenders, he having the most unique

Margaret, wife of Thomas Page, died of pneumonia Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, aged 56 years, after a week's illness. She leaves eleven children, one of whom is Mrs. L. C. Brackett of this city. The funeral will take place Tuesday from the residence In Boomer township and the remains will be buried in Boomer cemetery. Harry Thompson, an 18-year-old boy living

North Tenth street, was caught by Officer Peterson last night in the act of nip ping a pair of shoes from a string hanging in front of Sargent's shoe store. He was booked with a charge of larceny against him and will have a hearing before Judge McGee in the morning. The boy's friends claim that necessity forced him to steal.

John Dohany, jr., and a member of Al G. Field's minstrel company became involved in a vigorous discussion vesterday noon, the burnt-cork man's fist and Dobany's cheek entering quite largely into the conversation. Dohany called loudly for the police, but further than tearing the atmosphere into several tatters and skinning the minstrel's knuckles a little the damage was very slight.

R. Brown, who travels for a bottling establishment in this city, was arrested and fined $200 in Woodbine for violating the state liquor laws. He gave a bond and will appeal the case to the district court. It is reported that the town of Woodbine is enjoying the threes of a prohibition war. One night last week a pile of boxes saturated with coal oil was placed against the rear of a hardware store kept by a man named Boles, who has had an important part in the anti-liquor movement. The boxes were set on fire and a good share of the town would undoubtedly have been burned had it not been for the timely

A. W. Cotman Dead. A. W. Coffman died last Sunday at his home in Avoca. He was once one of the most prominent and wealthy citizens of Pottawattamie county, but the latter years of his life saw a great deal of misfortune. Eight years ago he was working in an oatfletd on his place with Jack Mayne. They had a dispute about something or other and Coffman pulled out a revolver and shot and killed Mayne. He was arrested for murder and tried in the district court. After several years of trials and appeals he was finally found not guilty and released. But aithough his trouble was apparently at an end it had, in fact, just begun. To get out of the clutches of the law he had spent almost everything he had, one piece after another of his property being parted with to furnish funds to fight the case. He had originally been worth in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Depositions of the Cierk of the Rotel at Which She Stopped-Wickedness and Meanness of W. B. Proctor-A Strange Case.

A week or two ago mention was made in THE BEE of a suit that has been commenced in the district court of this city by Jennie Smith against the Citizens State bank of Council Bluffs and the Farmers and Merchants bank of Longmont, Col., in which the plaintiff wanted to collect $1,800 on a certificate of deposit which she claimed had cen fliched from her by W. B. Proctor, a Denver real estate man, who accomplished his design by administering some drug or opiate. The case was again brought to notice yesterday morning by the filing of the depositions of J. J. Chark, the cierk in th St. James' hotel of Denver, and W. Neil Den-nison, an attorney of the same place.

They tell how Mrs. Smith was brought to he hotel, in much the same way as it has already appeared in these columns. son also tells some things that tend to throw a remantic halo about the affair, although the halo has largely worn off, so far as Mrs Smith is concerned. He states that he was called to see Mrs. Smith after her certificate had disappeared and while she was recovering from the drug's effects. She told his that she had made Proctor's acquaintance through the medium of the newspapers having advertised for a traveling mar Proctor applied for the position, and, as he met her requirements, he was engaged. He told her he had another name, however, ing that time had occasion to get for her on several different occasions, and he iso showed his entire ability to act as hanger-on by asking her for money, and on to give him her lowelry to pawn. This request was also refused. In her conversation with Dennison, the deposition goes on to state, she denied that she went to Longmont for the purpose of buying real estate, but failed to tell what business it was that called her there. She further told him that that she remembered nothing more excepseeing her certificate of deposit lying by he while she lay on the bed in the under the influence of the drug. After Proctor disappeared the certificate was seen no more,

BOWMAN IS APPOINTED.

But His Confirmation Has Not Yet Been Made by the Senate. The news came by telegraph yesterday that the appointment of Thomas Bowman to the position of postmaster of Council Bluffs had been sent to the senate. This was no surprise to the people of the city, who have been looking for it so long that they had almost become tired of looking at all. The senate has not yet confirmed the appointment, but will undoubtedly do so, as the office is not considered of enough national importance to demand the services of David B. Hill, Mr. Bowman will take the place as soon as the appointment has been confirmed and his commission issued. This may not be for ten days yet.

The question of who will be assistant post master has been asked a number of times recently, but, so far as is known, no one has yet satisfactorily answered it. thought that the place would be given A W. Riekman, as a consolution for his inabil ity to get first place through the assistance of Mr. Bowman. He was asked about this yesterday and said that he had no thought of taking this place, nor had Bowman of of-fering it to him, but he would remain in the First National back. He also said that he had not parted with his interest in the Globe and did not intend to do so.

Sulug a Railway Company, The first of the cases on the law calendar was taken up for trial by Judge Thornell in the district court yesterday, a jury being sworn. The case was that of Michael Maloney against the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company. Maloney's grievance against the company dates back to 1800, when he was passing along a street in Arca-dia. In., on a sidewalk abutting on the property of the company. There was a loose board in the walk, and the friend he was walking with stepped on one end of it. The other end flew up and Maloney, who had his hands in his pockets and was unable to save himself, fell for six or eight feet in a horizontal direction, landing on his head and shoulders and sus-taining severe injuries to the spine. He wants $25,000 damages from the company. The company claims that the fall did not in-Jure him a particle. In order to determine this essential point the courtissued an order yesterday requiring him to submit to an ex-amination at the hands of competent physi-cians, who will decide whether he was injured or not.

Haish Manual Training School Near Lin-

coin Entirely Consumed, LINCOLN, Jan. 29.—The Haish manual training school building, one of the two structures comprising the plant of the Nebraska Weslevan university, situated at University Piace, five miles northeast of the Lincoln postoffice, was entirely destroyed by fire at midnight. University Place has neither fire department nor waterworks. Nothing whatever was saved. The location of the fire at its beginning, the center of the hall on the first floor, effectually cut off access to the principal rooms, and as the equipment of the building is principally in machinery, it would have been impossible to save much of that under any circumstances. The training school stood a few hundred feet northeast of the main university building, and at some distance from all other structures. The sparks set fire to the dry grass on the campus, but this was easily extinguished. No other buildings were menaced, burned building was erected two years ago at a cost of $50,000, without its equipment of machinery, which was worth $10,000 more. Each of the fifty students had tools and utensils worth about $20. In the drill room and armory on the top floor there were from 150 to 200 muskets. The total loss therefore 150 to 200 muskets. The total loss therefore is in excess of $60,000. There was no insurance on the building.

KANSAS CITY A. P. A'S.

They Made Demands on the Republican and Democratic City Committees, Kansas Crry, Jan. 29 .- A committee of the American Protective association's local lodges called on Frank Graham, chairman of the city democratic central committee, to day with a view of coming to an understanding with the committee concerning the course which it was to follow in the impending campaign. The American Protective association representatives said the asso ciation desired to serve notice on the democratic committee that no Catholic who was a candidate for office in the spring campaign would receive the support of the American Protective association, and that under existing conditions the winning ticket in the spring would be one composed entirely of Protestants. Then they entered upon a lengthy resume of the work of the American Protective association against the Catholics, who, they said, were trying to obtain con trol of the government.

Chairman Graham, in reply to the query as to whether the democratic city conven-tion would keep all Catholics off the ticket said that if he went to the convention as delegate he would not vote to keep any man from running for office merely because he was a Catholic; and that, on the other hand he would not vote to put a man on simply because he was a Protestant. This was give as the position the democratic city commit-tee would take on the issue presented by the American Protective association, and by the committee was received as its answer. The same committee called on the repub lican city central committee later in the day and made similar demands. Chairman Walters told the committee that Mr. Daven port, formerly mayor of the city, would head the republican ticket and would choose his issociates on the ticket; that, therefore, h was the gentleman to see in regard to the With this information the commit tee departed.

Attention is called to the populist prophecy that wheat would go "lower," and the fact that wheat has gone lower. The last half of the address is devoted to the present financial situation.

Did Not Like President Harper's Lecture CHICAGO, Jan. 29. - Dr. P. S. Henson, the noted Baptist divine, in an interview today, expressed emphatic disapproval of the logical theories presented in the lecture of President Harper of the Chicago university. President Harper is represented to have stated that the story of Cain and Abel is a myth, with no more truth in it, so far as known, than the story of the wooden horse that figured in the capture of Troy or the myth of the mud wails and the enterprise of us and Romulus as connected with the founding of Rome.

CHAIRMAN BLYTHE PLEADS FOR PEACE

Liberal Element of the Republicans Quite Ready to Compromise, but the Cold Water Crowd Continues to Remain Deliant.

Dgs Moings, Jan. 29 .- [Special Telegram to one Ber. |-The inability of the republicans to agree upon any plan for modifying the prohibitory liquor law has brought Chairman Blythe of the state central committee upon the scene. He tells both elements that they must agree: that the faith of the party is pledged to give relief to certain sections, and unless this is done it will surely result disastrously in the near future.

Mr. Blythe favors the Gatch or Brower county option bill, but is trying to narmonize the party on the Harsh mulct bill, which, as it contains a clause suspending the present law in municipalities where the mulet system is adopted, the liberal element is willing to accept. The prohibitionists, however, led by Chairman Funk are defant and spurn all suggestions of a compromise. Both sides are secretly caucusing tonight. The democratic members of the legislature

Grape Growers' Petition Presented. In the senate Gronewez presented a petition of the grape growers of Pottawattamie county, asking that the sale of wine and similar beverages be licensed, which was read in full. Bills were introduced by Funk to erect a monument on the site of dian massacre at Spirit Lake; by Downey, prohibiting officials of the Soldiers home from appropriating pensions of inmates; by Garst, to revise the road laws; by Turner, to regulate the cancellation of mortgages; Yeomans, authorizing the issuance ands to fund county indebtedness.

In the house many petitions referring to he proposed modification of the prohibitory law were presented. Minister Causes Trouble.

A lively discussion took place over the question of praying at the opening of the general assembly. One minister said he had gone over to the state house three different mornings on request by the sergeant-at-arms of the senate to officiate at the devotional services. Each time he found the committee had transferred the duty to an out of town minister and he had lost three or four hours of the busiest part of his day. Just how to remedy the matter none seemed to know, as the committee having the devotional exercises in charge voted to give preference to out of town ministers when one was on hand. No action was taken, but it will probably be heard from later.

It is now stated that Kidd, one of the supposed mur derers, can prove an alibi from the Friday preceding the murder until after Thursday when the body was found. The attorney for the defendants said yesterday that it would be proven that neither Kidd nor Balderson were within nine miles of the Goodale residence on Sunday when the crime was supposed to have been committed. Kidd made a statement today in which he tells where he was on Sunday. The case is becoming more complicated every day, and the public is about ready to believe that neither Balderson nor Kidd committed the murder. The grand jury will meet tomorrow and both men will be placed on trial at once.

STILL IN SESSION.

Colorado's Legislature Grinding Away with No Prospect of Adjournment, DENVER, Jan. 29 .- In the house today a petition from the miners' union of Cripple Creek was read, commending the governor for calling an extra session of the legislature and requesting the passage of mean ures creating the county of Cripple Creek amending trust deed and attachment laws and making eight hours a legal day's work The bill amending the justice court at tachment laws came up for a third reading This allows attachments to be issued on on the grounds of fraud, when the defend ant is a foreign corporation, and for labor performed. The bill passed without a dis senting vote.

The committee on fees and sainries rec ommended that the bill which provides for a reduction of the salaries of legislators from $7 per day to $5 be laid on the table, for the reason that it did not come under the governor's call. Governor Waite has prepared his message to the senate in answer to the petition of that body for executive interference in the adjournment deadlock. The decument ad-ministers some sharp rebuxes for what his excellency looks upon as a course more notable for the malice than the consistency dis played. The governor states that he does not feel justified in interfering unless requested to do so by the lower house, latimating that the latter body is the only one of the two that has shown any inclination to respect and observe the laws.

In reference to the assertion that the senate cannot, or will not, transact any bus iness, the governor calls attention to the eagerness with which the appointments he sent in Friday were acted upon, though, it his opinion, there is a grave doubt as to the authority of the senate to affirm or rejecany appointments at a special session not called for that particular purpose. He makes a few other points of minor interest, but the fact that the senate has shown its willingness to do business under some cir refusing to adjourn the legislature.

ANNEXATION BY ENGLAND TALKED OF

Sultan Censures the Khedive for His Sub mission-Young Abdul's Attitude Still Shows His Aversion to British Interference-A Grave Situation.

LONDON, Jan. 29 .- A dispatch to the Dally News from Vienna says Sultan Abdul Hamid commented sharply on the khedive's atti tude toward Great Britain, and said it Abbas had any complaint to make he should have forwarded it to his sovereign, who, if he saw fit, would have communicated with the British ambassador. A Cairo aispatch to the Times says the khediye's order terminates an alarming in eident. It was at one time a question whether any of the British officers would continue to serve in the Egyptian army The khediye's ministers and the representatives of foreign nations all felt the gravity of introducing political animus into th Mussulman army efficered by a handful of Britons. The khedive, finding nimself un supported, wisery accepted the urgent advice of Rlaz Pasha and compiled with the British demands.

The opinion is now freely expressed that England, in order to insure public tranquility in Egypt, should have required a satisfactory guaranty against the possible recurrence of such playing with the fire. I feeling has become still more unsettled

The khedive's order is addressed to Coloner Kitchener, adjutant general of the Egyptian army, and says he reiterates his solicitude and good will for the army, and is happy to record the services of its British officers.

Talk of Annexing Egypt.

The Cairo correspondent of the Telegraph says that in best informed circles the belief is general that the unpleasant incident is not closed. On the contrary, the situa-tion is regarded as very grave because the khedive's submission is considered to prove his unbending hostility toward England Indeed, adds the correspondent, many persons declare annexation of Egypt or the deposition of Abbas may ensue unless the khedive, in a further spontaneous apology consents to be guided in future by English advisers. From remarks of irresponsible English officials, says the Telegraph's dispatch, it is supposed Great Britain is meditating the otion of severe measures for the asser tion of its authority. From successive in-terviews had with his ministers the corre-spondent says he has every reason to believe the khedive is in an unvielding mood and that he is resolved to thwart England He hopes in this way to increase his per-sonal prestige. He fortifies himself with the thought that if things come to the worst he can but retire, like his grandfather did, upon his private fortune.

DETECTIVE RANSOM DEAD.

Injuries Received in a Fight With a Thief

Terminate Fatally. William E. Ransom, for many years a private detective in the service of the Union Pacific railway, died last evening at St.

Joseph's hospital. In December Ransom was sent to Wahoo to run down a gang of robbers who had been breaking into freight cars and stealing merchandise. On the night before Christmas, while he was watching in the yards, he saw a man coming out of a car and opened fire. In a hand-to-hand scalle that followed Ransom was hurled to the ground, his head striking the end of a tie. The fall injured his brain so that he lost his reason and his condition then became critical.

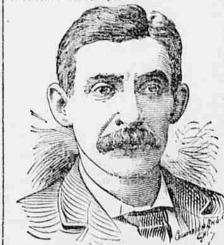

He was about 35 years of age and leaves a wife but no children. He was a member of the order of Knights of Pythas.

STOMACH AND BOWELS.

Treatment. Gust Swenson, a property owner, lives at 510 S. 350 street. He has lived fourteen years in Omaha and is a pattern-maker with Paxton & Vierling. For a long time he suffered from Catarrh of the stomach and bowels. Lately he has been trying the Copeland & Shepard system of treatment, and, in spraking of the excellent results, says:

MR. GUST SWANSON, With Baxton & Viorling.

"The trouble seemed to beg'n with catarrhal matter coming into the throid. In time the catarrh got down to my stomach and bowels. My food would sour. I beliebe I gas or a thin, sour fluid. I always felt billous; hal a nasty taste in my mouth and my tongue would be coated, as if plastered over with yellow poison. "I had much distress all through the bowels. There seeme I to be a chronic inflammation and soreness there. My bowels seemed to get hard and stiff and so sore that, at times, they prined me like a boil. Of course I had to eat, and I did eat, but it did me no good, I was rapidly falling when Dr. Shepard took me in charle. Under his care I soon saw that I was coming around again all right. The whole trouble is entirely gone. My disease has been mastered. My improvement began with my first treatment and continued without any backset, until I am now entirely well." The trouble seemed to beg'n with entarrhal
