

THEY ARE OBJECTED

Democratic Senators Who Dislike to Be Classed as Obstructionists.

TORM RAISED BY A NEWSPAPER ARTICLE

Members Make Explanations and Tell "Where They Are At."

SENATOR HILL CREATES A MILD SURPRISE

His Resolution Looking to a Complete Revision of the Wilson Bill.

BREAKING OF THE SILVER STORM CLOUD

Mr. Harris Objects to the Consideration of the Seigniorage Bill—Position of the Republicans on the Tariff—In the House.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—A somewhat amusing episode in the senate proceedings today inaugurated by Senator Berry's personal explanation. A New York newspaper included him in a group of traitors of the democratic senators whom it charged with being "obstructionists" to the tariff bill. Mr. Berry denied that he had ever been anything but an earnest advocate of the bill, and on all occasions had advised its speedy report to the senate without modification. His explanation was followed by explanations from Messrs. Faulkner, Claiborne, McLaurin and Morgan, which led to much amusement in the senate chamber. The main interest of the day centered about the discussion as to the disposal of the Bland bill. Mr. Stewart gave notice that tomorrow at 2 o'clock he would move that the Bland bill be referred to the committee on finance, and make it the business before the senate until disposed of. Mr. Teller also spoke on the same subject. After a brief executive session the senate adjourned at 3:29.

There were but few democratic senators in the chamber when the vice president's gavel fell. Mr. Hill awaited the speaker's call and then moved to the floor and asked that the Bland bill be referred to the committee on finance. The secretary of the treasury had announced that he would not support the bill. Mr. Hill said that he was not a member of the committee on finance, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. Teller said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. Harris said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. McLaurin said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. Morgan said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. Faulkner said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. Hill said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. Teller said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. Harris said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. McLaurin said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

bill is the most important which has engaged the attention of the two houses of congress in many years. It not only affects the tariff revenue, but it affects every industry in the United States. The house of representatives had this bill under consideration for six months, and the senate committee has had it for three weeks. ("Five weeks," corrected a republican senator.) We have it to rush through the senate, and we have it to rush through the senate, and we have it to rush through the senate.

Senator Teller, in whose name and by whose courtesy these explanations were made, spoke on the question before the senate with reference to the Bland seigniorage bill. He urged that the bill be introduced at the earliest hour of the session until disposed of. Referring to the question of the tariff, he said Mr. Allison had called the tariff the great question, but it was not the great question. The tariff question, the monetary question was the great question.

The morning hour having expired, Senator Stewart had the right to the floor by virtue of his previous announcement that he would move to take up the Bland bill, but some of the democratic senators who had charged with being "obstructionists" to the tariff bill. Mr. Berry denied that he had ever been anything but an earnest advocate of the bill, and on all occasions had advised its speedy report to the senate without modification. His explanation was followed by explanations from Messrs. Faulkner, Claiborne, McLaurin and Morgan, which led to much amusement in the senate chamber.

IN THE HOUSE.

Pension Appropriations Agree to Take Up the Question of the Representatives. WASHINGTON, March 6.—Some routine business preceded the debate on the pension appropriation bill in the house today. Quite a heated discussion was precipitated at the beginning of the session over a resolution instructing the secretary of the navy to appoint a naval cadet from the Fifth South Carolina district. It seemed that Mr. Strait, the republican from South Carolina, failed to appoint a cadet and the secretary of the navy appointed and charged to that district a young man from Alabama. Mr. Strait, in several other cases the secretary of the navy had filled vacancies from districts with republican nominees, and there was a manifest disposition to appoint a republican to the vacant position which they considered an infringement of their rights.

Mr. Strait of South Carolina rose to a question of personal privilege. He read the headlines of an article in a newspaper which he characterized as "infamous, without foundation, and thoroughly unjust." It was headed, "Obstructionist Commercial," and contained a portrait of nine democratic senators, and asserted they had joined hands to defeat the Wilson bill. Among them was Senator Berry. Mr. Strait said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. Harris said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. McLaurin said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. Morgan said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. Faulkner said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. Hill said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. Teller said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. Harris said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

Mr. McLaurin said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff. He said that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff, and that he was not a member of the committee on the tariff.

COMMENTS OF LABOURERS

Truth's Editor Cannot Be Reconciled to Rosebery's Elevation.

CUTTING REMARKS FROM THE EDITOR

Everything Connected with the Transaction Disliked by the Versatile Henry—Kingland, He Says, is a Land of Snobs—A Great Roar.

LONDON, March 6.—Mr. Henry Labouchere, in an article which will appear in tomorrow's Truth, will say: "The responsibility of the acceptance of a peer as prime minister rests upon the radicals, unless a clear statement is made in the House of Commons that we are to have a different policy regarding the House of Lords than Lord Rosebery is supposed to entertain. Some of the radicals will make it clear that they will declare the tinkering of the pernicious assembly of peers, and that the right of that body to interfere with the nation must cease. Lord Rosebery's public utterances with regard to Ireland are not at all satisfactory. The secrecy with which Mr. Gladstone's resignation and Lord Rosebery's appointment were managed is a clever but most unfair trick. We are also disappointed that a bill allowing peers to renounce the privilege of peerage in order that they may sit in the House of Commons."

Mr. Labouchere then proceeds to argue that the House of Commons cannot remain the ruling assembly while the premier is in the House of Lords. He says that he will not have real control over him as we can only turn him up by a hostile vote at the cost of ruining the party. We are also disappointed that a bill allowing peers to renounce the privilege of peerage in order that they may sit in the House of Commons.

CREATED A PANIC

Attorney Clay of Minneapolis Frightens People with His Revolver.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 6.—A scene of the wildest excitement and terror was enacted this afternoon in the rooms of the Commercial and Commission company on the first floor of the Guaranty Loan building when Attorney B. H. Clay, who has been operating somewhat extensively, became greatly excited and pulled a revolver upon Manager Clark of the company and threatened to shoot him. It was just as the market was closing and the last reports were being received.

Manager Clark was seated at his desk and his assistant, Mr. Littlefield, seated by his side. Mr. Clay had been buying and selling in one department and then in another. Things did not go to suit him. He believed that he was losing. Just before the market closed, Mr. Clay pulled a revolver and threatened to shoot Mr. Clark. Mr. Clark turned to go into the vault for the check book, but following closely behind him, Mr. Clay followed closely.

Mr. Clay then turned and shot Mr. Littlefield in the back of the head. Mr. Littlefield fell to the floor and was taken to the hospital. Mr. Clay was arrested and is being held in custody.

Five People Hurt by a Week on the Pennsylvania Near Columbus, O. COLUMBUS, O., March 6.—The Pennsylvania special, No. 29, which arrived at Columbus, Ohio, on Saturday night, was derailed by a landslide near Columbus, Ohio. The train had just passed a trestle at a rate estimated to be about twenty miles an hour, when the trestle collapsed and the train was thrown against a target, being practically smashed into kindling wood. The force and weight of the sleeper leaving the trestle, and the weight of the train, were such that the trestle was completely destroyed. Five people were hurt and several were killed.

Germany's Silver Output. LONDON, March 6.—A dispatch to the Times from Berlin says: The imperial treasury has distributed various documents to the press, which show that the silver production of Germany, which amounted to 250,000 kilograms in 1892, has increased to 300,000 kilograms in 1893. This is a significant increase in the production of silver in Germany.

Arrival of the Presidential Hunting Party. WASHINGTON, March 6.—The presidential hunting party, which left the White House on Saturday night, has returned to the city. The party was successful in its hunt and has secured several specimens of game.

Deaths in the Daltons. SEDALIA, Mo., March 6.—The American Express and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas road officials are much disturbed over news from the territory of the movements of the Dalton gang of outlaws. For several months these criminals have been quietly fortified in the Smokey mountains forty miles from Sedalia, Mo. It is believed that the gang is planning to make a large raid on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas road, and officials are taking every precaution to prevent this.

Movements of Ocean Steamers. LONDON, March 6.—The Liverpool, London & Globe Steamship Co. has announced that the steamer "Albatross" will sail for Liverpool on Saturday night. The steamer "Albatross" is a large and fast vessel, and is expected to arrive in Liverpool on Sunday morning.

Large Tannery Burned Down. WOODBURN, Mass., March 6.—G. & E. G. Paine's tannery, the largest in this section, burned early this morning. Loss, $50,000. The fire started in the boiler room and spread rapidly, destroying the entire building and its contents.

Rejected the Amendment. BERLIN, March 6.—The committee of the Reichstag which is considering the Russo-German commercial treaty rejected today by a vote of 15 to 10 an amendment fixing the date of the treaty at the original fixed term of ten years.

MINERS ARE AGGRESSIVE

Deadwood May Lose the County Seat on Account of Recent Trouble.

LEAD CITY WORKING FOR THE PRIZE

Late Developments in the Case Indicate that the Affair May Yet Seriously Disturb the Black Hills District.

DEADWOOD, S. D., March 6.—(Special to the Bee.)—Individual mercantile establishments and factories have many times been boycotted, but Deadwood is probably the first town in the Black Hills to be boycotted. A number of miners declared a strike against the company in question. The strike was endorsed by the labor organizations of the county, six hundred men were brought in to take the strikers' places. The miners unions assembled in force and drove the newly hired employees from their work. The Deadwood business men then held an indignation meeting and pledged their efforts to the company's support. The miners, through their organizations, declared a boycott on the merchants who attended the meeting and started a movement for the removal of the county seat from Deadwood.

There have been no new scenes of violence, but the situation has been full of interest all the time. A meeting of delegates from the various unions was called to nominate a candidate for county seat honors against Deadwood. It was a foregone conclusion that Lead City, a mining town four miles from Deadwood, would be chosen. When the meeting convened it was found that Spearfish, a valley town fifteen miles from Deadwood, had also been nominated. There have been no new scenes of violence, but the situation has been full of interest all the time.

Lead City people were not discouraged by this, however. They admitted that a two-thirds vote was a practical impossibility, but they began an inquiry into the legal position of the county seat. Lead City attorneys rendered opinions holding that the county seat had never been properly located, and that a majority would locate it now. A meeting of Lead City citizens was called, and a majority voted to support Lead City. The county seat is now being moved to Lead City.

Not Enough Money in It. TORONTO, March 6.—Edward Hanlon, the candidate for the Ontario seat in the House of Commons, has been defeated. He received only 2,500 votes, while the incumbent, Mr. G. H. Ross, received 10,000 votes. Mr. Hanlon's defeat is a significant loss for the opposition in Ontario.

After Major Schnell. WILLIAM SNELL has been charged with violating the amateur rules and has been suspended from the amateur ranks. He was a prominent figure in the amateur world, and his suspension is a significant event in the world of amateur sports.

Leach is the Kicker. KELLOGG, March 6.—(Special to the Bee.)—E. F. Leach won the $1000 purse and championship of Iowa in the high kicking contest at this place Saturday night. He kicked a record of 100 yards in a single kick, which is a remarkable feat.

TO PREVENT TICKET SCALPING. Senator Wilson of Iowa Introduces a Bill to That Effect. WASHINGTON, March 6.—Senator Allison of Iowa has introduced a bill to put an end to ticket scalping. It provides for an amendment to the act relating to the sale of tickets, and is intended to prevent the sale of tickets at inflated prices.

GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER. Mary Yusta Escapes Lightly for the Crime of Killing Maggie McDermott. DEADWOOD, S. D., March 6.—(Special to the Bee.)—Mary Yusta was sentenced to a term of imprisonment for the crime of manslaughter. She was charged with the death of Maggie McDermott, and was found guilty of manslaughter.

Failed of a Quorum. WASHINGTON, March 6.—The democratic house caucus, called for 8 o'clock today, failed to obtain a quorum. The caucus was held to discuss the proposed amendments to the tariff bill, but only a few members were present.

Expired by Limitation. Further Batch of Valuable Patents that Have Ceased to Be Effective. WASHINGTON, March 6.—Several hundred patents expired by limitation today. Among the more important were the following: Grain binders, G. H. Houston, Beloit, Wis.; photographic camera, J. O. H. Jewett and P. F. Leonard, Mason City, Mo.; spring air guns, H. M. Quackenbush; grain binders, L. A. Scott, Cincinnati, O.; assignment of rights, E. F. Seville; railroad switches, R. W. Barrett, Ely, Vt.; breechloading primers, J. S. Edge, Jr., Yardley, England; printing press, W. Ketch and Arthur Greenwood, Leeds, England; grain binders, D. McPherson, Caledonia, N. Y.; fire alarm telegraph repeaters, bell strikers and signals, C. H. Post, Jackson, Mich.; water meters, Parker Wells, Lynn, Mass.; hydrolic engines, A. J. Stott, Philadelphia; revolving fire arms, Daniel Moore, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Cruelty of a Barbarous Monarch. LONDON, March 6.—A dispatch to the Times from Paris says: An officer who has just returned from Dahomey reports that when King Behanzin found that escape was impossible he summoned his aged mother to France. My father must know it, or there shall see him and smother him. The king then had his mother beheaded, which is a cruel and barbarous act.

Freight Train Car First. HOUSTON, Tex., March 6.—A second attempt was made to wreck the Southern Pacific passenger train last night near Stafford, Texas, but the train was not derailed. The freight train ran into the pile but no one was hurt.

House of Ill-Fame Blown Up. CHICAGO, March 6.—Kitty Day's house of ill fame at 152 Nineteenth street was wrecked this morning by a bomb which was thrown into the hallway. The inmates of the house were all asleep at the time of the explosion.

KILLED AT THE POLLS

City Election at Troy, New York, Ends in an Awful Tragedy.

REPUBLICAN WORKERS ARE SHOT DOWN

Their Attempt to Prevent Illegal Voting Results Fatally to Them.

FOUR VICTIMS OF POLITICAL PASSION Bitter Struggle Over the Selection of a Mayor for the City. TROY, N. Y., March 6.—A mayor was elected in this city today, but the record of the election is spotted with blood and scenes such as the old resident in Troy has never witnessed before. In a darkened room in a family residence, the body of Robert Ross, who left his home this morning to aid in the election of the candidate that the republican party had endorsed, in a room in the same house lies his brother William, perhaps mortally wounded. In another part of the city lies wounded a notorious rough and ward heeler, Bat Shea, and in still another part of the city is John McFouch, who received a bullet and is seriously injured.

Among the watchers at the Twelfth ward, First precinct, polling place, were Robert Ross and his brother William, both being there in the interest of the republican party. There was also a well known character named Bat Shea. About 1:30 o'clock a gang of at least fifteen strangers stood waiting for a crowd of republican voters. When the poll list, both democrats and republicans, were crowded away, Robert Ross objected to this and had words with Shea. The story told by the surviving Ross is that Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting.

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

HELD UP IN ILLINOIS

Three Robbers Go Through a Train Near East St. Louis.

ATTEMPT TO PREVENT ILLEGAL VOTING

Results Fatally to Them.

FOUR VICTIMS OF POLITICAL PASSION Bitter Struggle Over the Selection of a Mayor for the City. TROY, N. Y., March 6.—A mayor was elected in this city today, but the record of the election is spotted with blood and scenes such as the old resident in Troy has never witnessed before. In a darkened room in a family residence, the body of Robert Ross, who left his home this morning to aid in the election of the candidate that the republican party had endorsed, in a room in the same house lies his brother William, perhaps mortally wounded. In another part of the city lies wounded a notorious rough and ward heeler, Bat Shea, and in still another part of the city is John McFouch, who received a bullet and is seriously injured.

Among the watchers at the Twelfth ward, First precinct, polling place, were Robert Ross and his brother William, both being there in the interest of the republican party. There was also a well known character named Bat Shea. About 1:30 o'clock a gang of at least fifteen strangers stood waiting for a crowd of republican voters. When the poll list, both democrats and republicans, were crowded away, Robert Ross objected to this and had words with Shea. The story told by the surviving Ross is that Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting.

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

HELD UP IN ILLINOIS

Three Robbers Go Through a Train Near East St. Louis.

ATTEMPT TO PREVENT ILLEGAL VOTING

Results Fatally to Them.

FOUR VICTIMS OF POLITICAL PASSION Bitter Struggle Over the Selection of a Mayor for the City. TROY, N. Y., March 6.—A mayor was elected in this city today, but the record of the election is spotted with blood and scenes such as the old resident in Troy has never witnessed before. In a darkened room in a family residence, the body of Robert Ross, who left his home this morning to aid in the election of the candidate that the republican party had endorsed, in a room in the same house lies his brother William, perhaps mortally wounded. In another part of the city lies wounded a notorious rough and ward heeler, Bat Shea, and in still another part of the city is John McFouch, who received a bullet and is seriously injured.

Among the watchers at the Twelfth ward, First precinct, polling place, were Robert Ross and his brother William, both being there in the interest of the republican party. There was also a well known character named Bat Shea. About 1:30 o'clock a gang of at least fifteen strangers stood waiting for a crowd of republican voters. When the poll list, both democrats and republicans, were crowded away, Robert Ross objected to this and had words with Shea. The story told by the surviving Ross is that Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting.

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross said: "I did not fire a pistol. It was murder, deliberate murder, and it was planned by Shea. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting. Shea was the man who killed Robert Ross. He said the trouble began in the polling booth where a crowd of republican voters were waiting."

John Ross