

PART ONE NOW READY.

THE MOST SUPERB AND VALUABLE WORK
EVER OFFERED BY AN AMERICAN NEWSPAPER.

THE PEOPLES' EDITION OF THE CENTURY WAR BOOK

The Story of the Great Battles told by Leading Participants on both sides. All the Great Union and Confederate Generals are among its authors.

The Grandest Panorama of the War ever Published.

—
Nine Hundred Illustrations
Maps,
Plans,
etc.

—
Every Part will contain from 40 to 60
Pictures.

The Contributors to this Great Work include Generals
Grant,
McClellan,
Longstreet,
Rosecrans,
Pope, Ruel,
Johnston,
Slocum,
Hill, Hunt,
Howard,
Burnside,
Porter,
Imboden,
Lew Wallace
Beauregard,
etc., etc.

AT BULL RUN.

PART ONE CONTAINS:

WASHINGTON ON THE EVE OF THE WAR

The Beginnings of Secession—The close of Buchanan's Administration—Who will Sustain the Government?—Organization of Volunteers in the District of Columbia—General Scott—Trouble with the Volunteers—The Inauguration of Lincoln and the Plots to Prevent it.

By Brigadier-General Charles P. Stone, U. S. V.,
Inspector-General of the District of Columbia at the Outbreak of the War.

The Illustrations include

Three Portraits of Lincoln, Three Portraits of Grant, Portraits of Vice-President Hamlin, Seward, Chase, Stanton, Welles, Cameron and General Scott, View of Lincoln's Inauguration, the White House, etc.

THE BOMBARDMENT OF FORT SUMTER

Described by Union and Confederate Participants.

"FROM MOULTRIE TO SUMTER," BY MAJOR-GENERAL ABNER DOURLEDAV, U. S. A.
(A Captain and Executive Officer under Major Anderson at Fort Sumter.)

"INSIDE THE FORT," A GRAPHIC NARRATIVE BY CAPTAIN JAMES CHESTER
(A Sergeant of the Garrison at Fort Sumter.)

"THE CONFEDERATE SIDE AT SUMTER," BY LIEUT.-GENERAL STEPHEN D. LEE, C. S. A.
(A Captain and Aide-de-camp to the Confederate General Beauregard during the bombardment.)

The Illustrations include

Portraits of Major Anderson and his Officers, and of General Beauregard and Governor Pickens of South Carolina, with seventeen views of Forts Sumter and Moultrie, a map of Charleston Harbor, etc.

THE CONFEDERATE GOVERNMENT

An article by R. BARNWELL RHETT, formerly editor of the Charleston "Mercury," with portraits of Jefferson Davis and His Cabinet.

WAR PREPARATIONS IN THE NORTH

The Outburst of National Feeling—"Sumter is Bombarded!"—The North Aroused.

By Major-General Jacob D. Cox.

Ex-Governor of Ohio, and Secretary of the Interior under President Grant.

The Illustrations include

Secession Hall, a panorama of Washington, a view of Richmond in '61, Portrait of John A. Dix, and a facsimile of his famous despatch,

"If any man attempts to haul down the American Flag, shoot him on the spot!"

"GOING TO THE FRONT," by a Private

Excitement among the Boys—The Bulletins of the Recruiting Officers—Enlisting—Drill—The First Uniform a Bad Fit—"On to Washington!"

The Illustrations include

The Departure of the New Seventh Regiment, etc., etc.
(Continued in Part Two.)

ALL THIS IS IN PART ONE, with Sixty-two Illustrations by the leading American Artists and Engravers.

On page 2 of this paper will be found a War Book Coupon, 4 of these coupons of different dates will when accompanied with ten cents, entitle the holder to Part No. 1 of this book. The whole work will be complete in about 20 parts, bound in heavy paper covers; a new part will be issued each week, and coupons will be printed daily until the series is complete. Any 4 of these coupons, with 10 cents, entitles you to any issue or number of the book.

FOR CITY READERS Bring coupons, together with 10 cents, to the office of the Omaha Bee, where you can obtain Part No. 1. Part No. 2 will be ready next week, and thereafter parts will follow weekly.

FOR OUT-OF-TOWN READERS Mail to War Book Department, Omaha Bee, coupons and 10 cents in coin. Be particular to (1) state the number of the part desired; (2) your name and full address; (3) inclose the necessary coupons and 10 cents. The part you request will be sent, post-paid, to your address.