CHICAGO, March 15 .- The market for wheat was under the bearish influence of the fine weather all day. Notwithstanding much encouragement from other sources, the close was isc lower than on the day before. Corn and data test $40 each, but provisions broke the monotonous decline of the speculative commedities and closed 10c higher for pork and 752c higher for lard and

There was a heavy business in wheat during the first half hour of the session. The market opened weak at about the price of puts for the day. Some little buying against those privileges started at once, but the pressure to sell was such that many held their privileges to take advantage of the lower price which the great apparent weakness at the time seemed to justify. The looked for farther decline was not long de layed. In the first half hour May declined from 58%c to 57%c, with one sale recorded at 57% c while the rush to sell was at its at array while the rush to self was at its height. The weather was perfect. North-western receipts were again fairly liberal and in excess of those of last year. There was some recovery from the depression suggested by the above when New York dis-patches reported the taking there at that early period of the session of from 20 to 25 bontloads of wheat. The market firmed up a little more on that and May sold at 58%c with last sales at 5814c to 5814c. Corn was weak and business rather slack

Receiving and shipping houses were sellers. Some long corn was sold out and the chief Some long corn was sold out and the chief buying was for the short account. The opening price for May-37% c-was the high-est of the day, and  $37\frac{1}{2}$ c the lowest, which came about 20 minutes before the cloze. The market closed with buyers at  $37\frac{1}{2}$ c to 375gc and sellers at 375gc. The business in oats was very limited Values were lower, influenced by the weakness in corn. The provision market was rather easy for a few minutes, but the shorts appeared satisfied with the break which had already occurred and were fairly liberal buyers. Business was light and principally confined to local speculators. After several fluctuations the market closed strong near the top. Com-pared with last night May pork is 10c higher, May lard 73gc higher and May ribs 714d higher.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 45 cars; corn, 285 cars; oats, 200 cars; hogs

STOCKS AND BONDS.

There Were Signs of Liquidation of Small Bull Pools NEW YORK, March 15 .- There were signs of liquidation of small bull pools in the stock market today, and it was evident that the short interests were imbued with the belief that the conditions were favorable for a downward movement. The speculation was less active than for some days past. The prospective passage of the seigniorage bill (the vote was not announced until about the close of the market) had a rather de-pressing influence on the speculation by reason of the fact that the bears prophesied dire results if it should become a law, suggesting that heavy gold exports would fol-low and that American securities would depreciate in value on the London exchange. The Union Pacific's statement for January, which showed a heavy decrease in net earn-ings, also tended to help the short side of the market. But with all these were periods of strength, and in late dealings there were evidences of a desire to buy back many of the stocks sold earlier in the day. Within the last quarter of an hour the temper of speculation underwent a radical change, and on very strong buying an advance of 3% to 1 per cent was made in the general list, and 2½ per cent in Cordage. But while the the market closed strong, a majority of the list was below the closing figures of yesterday 14 to 11/2 per cent. The railway and miscellaneous bond list was rather heavy for the active securities, but some of the usually inactive bonds made advances. The Post says: Several events in the in ternational market were noteworthy today One was the slight recession in our sterling exchange rates, due not alone to the continued duliness in that market, but also to the sales of bills against this week's foreign purchases of our securities. These pur-chases did not, however, continue today. Unfortunately, the same misgivings over the seigniorage bill as affected the local Wall street had their influence today in London. Not less remarkable than the turn in sterling was the sudden breaking of the Bombay money markets. The chief bank in that city has all this month maintained its discount at the panic rate of 10 per cent. Today the situation changed, and the official rate twice reduced, ending at 8 per cent. It i reasonably certain that the heavy Londor sales of Indian government exchange ar now having their due effect. Yesterday 5,000,000 rupees of such drafts were sold, In the preceding fortnight 13,500,000 rupees were disposed of, a total sum of more that $5,000,000. The presentation of these drafts in India, releasing the government's hoarded bon, while the rest was har gold. Other de-partic Barcassed (1972). The governor of the bank of England reports a reduction of 085,0% in the liabilities of the Baring estatic since the last haif year. The teal amount is now fitthe, 00, an apparent surplus of (166,0%, compared with (16,4%) six manual back. This statement is distinctly good. The stock markets were fulled, but not all depresend by the Bark of England's lowers, which were anticipated. South American stocks work the only active market, there were very firm. American railway shares of the persons here to hold gloomy clowers of the statement is due to the statif scheme caused most of the persons here to hold gloomy tweet of the statement is quoted at 25,4 and work, Germany aparently selling. Forty-sight thousand pounds of gold were receives (oday on import.
