Clarinda Counterfeiters Given Penitentiary Sentences and Heavy Fines.

THEY DID BUSINESS IN A SMALL WAY

With Crude Molds They Turned Out Lead Nickels and Their Children Placed Them in Circulation Iowa Justices Not Affected.

The grand jury in the United States court returned quite a number of indictments yesterday, and in default of any work to be donon the civil side of the docket Judge Woolson took up the cases of the parties so indicted. Among the number were Emanuel Wellever and Daniel Colburn, both of Clarinda. They had been engaged in the manufacture of nickels out of lead. Colburn, who is Wellever's son-in-law, has two little girls, Rosa and Etta, one 9 years of age and the other thirteen, and after the spurious coins were turned out from the private mint the little girls were sent out to spend them.

They managed to pass at least fifteen or twenty of them before they were detected. After a trial yesterday Wellover was sentenced to pay a fine of $750 and spend two years at hard labor in the penitentiary at Fort Madison, white Colburn was fined $500 and sentenced to a term of twenty months. Inspector Matt Stedman, who worked up the case, had in his possession the mould with which the counterfelt coins had been made. The apparatus was of the crudest conceivable form, and went well with the brand of coins turned out by the firm. It consisted of a hard brick, in each side of which a round hole had been dug to the depth of about a quarter of an inch. A hickel had been laid in one of these holes and melted lead poured around it, thus form-ing one side of a mould in which the coins could be cast. In the hole on the other side of the brick the nickel was laid with the other side up, and so the two halves of the mould were made without much trouble.

The following bootlegging cases were disposed of: Ham Thompson, pleaded guilty $250 fine and ninety days in the Pottawattamie county jail; A. D. Petty, pleaded guilty $350 and 150 days; G. B. Nation, $250 and eighty days; Lis Dancwood, pleaded guilty, $275 and 120 days; Leroy Dunbar, $250 and seventy-five days; C. H. Perty, $250 and saventy-five days; Loren Shepard, $250, fine suspended pending good behavior; William Vettrick, $100 and thirty days, sentence suspended upon payment of costs; John Bright, $250 and 100 days—on the payment of $50, sentence to be suspended until

W. Kelly of this county was charged with opening a registered letter and taking therefrom $5, but yesterday when his name was called he failed to respond, having been released on bonds. Judge Woolson ordered a bench warrant issued for him and he will be brought in in disgrace.

The court has rendered a judgment of some importance in the case of A. C. Brown, a New York capitalist, against the First Na-tional bank of Corning. Brown loaned quite a sum of money through the bank, but the securities the bank took proved to be poor and he tendered them back and asked for his money. The bank refused to refund the money and Brown commenced suit for $5,000. The court held that he was entitled to $2,000, but refused other redress on the ground that he had held his securities too long before making the tender.

AN OPEN LETTER.

To the Ladles of Council Bluffs and Vicinity. We have been fortunate enough to make arrangements with the largest and most reliable importers and retailers of New York City to have their representative display to our patrons their immense assortment of high grade novelties, imported for their fine retail trade. This line consists of an endless variety of fine novelties in dress patterns, (exclusive styles), all wool challies, silks of all kinds and a fine grade of wash fabrics.

This opportunity has never before been offered to the retail trade by such a responsible house, and can also say it is a chance to control your own pattern in whatever you may select, there positively being no dupli-Thursday and Friday are the days the dis-play will be with us. Don't fail to see this line, certainly the finest in New York City.

Won't Affect the Justices. Some of the justices of the peace of this city are considerably exercised in mind ever the passage of the Waterman law by the legislature, fixing the maximum compensation of justices at $1,200 and of con-stables at $1,000 per annum. They claim that they make more than that sum each year, and it is not right for the county to receive part of their fees so long as they have to pay their office rent and the other expenses connected with the offices. W. H. ware, who has seen a copy of the bill and examined it carefully, states that the law does not mean that justices must return all they make over $1,200 per annum, but merely all in excess of that amount in state cases, where the costs are paid by the county. As there is probably not a justice in the city who realizes $1,200 a year from his criminal business, it is evident that the justices who are so worried over the pas sage of the law are losing sleep in valu. The only thing that the law will do is to prevent justices from bleeding the county by starting buncombe suits, as was the custom among some of them a few years ago will not affect them so long as they stick to legitimate lines.

lowman's Denial. A report has been circulated through the press of this state quoting Hon. Thomas Howman of this city as authority for the statement that ex-Governor Boics would be appointed by President Cleveland to the office of interstate commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge McDill. Ac-cording to the published report, Mr. Bowman had an interview with the president, in which the latter's decision had been made known to him. Mr. Bowman was seen by a Bee reperier yesterday, to whom he stated that the report was entirely erroneous. He has not been to Washington since the death of Judge McDill and has never had any conversation with the president relative to the appointment of a successor.

Fruit Will Be All Right. The fruit growers of Council Bluffs and the vicinity are not looking daggers at the eituation. One of the best known of them stated yesterday that in his opinion the cold weather had done no harm whatever to the sees in this vicinity, with the possible exception of the cherry trees, the weather preceding this cold snap not having been warm enough to start the buds to any extent. The aunouncement that the southern fruit crop had been so badly damaged has made them look for good prices in case the Project of Giving the Gas Com any More Rope Meets with Opposition. The committee appointed at the last meet ing of the city council to consider the advisability of renewing the contract with the Council Bluffs Gas and Electric Light company for another five years held a meeting last evening at the office of Alderman Nich-olson for the purpose of hearing arguments of interested citizens in opposition to the plan. Mayor Cleaver and Aldermen Nicholson, Spetman and Brewick represented the council and James McCabe and Colonel W.

Baker were there from the opposition Mr. McCabe made the principal argument against the extension. He called attention to the fact that of the $53,000 raised by the city each year in taxes $43,000 was paid out to two corporations, the water company receiving $30,000 and the gas company $13,000. He quoted extracts from a prominent per-lodical to the effect that within ten years gas would be manufactured at one-half its present cost, and said it would be madness for the city to the itself up for another five years in view of such prospects.

He also quoted figures to show that the present charges for electric lights were ex-orbitant, as shown by comparison with charges made in Chicago, Bloomington, Ill., and other cities. Inasmuch as the company now had no charter and consequently no rights on the streets of Council Bluffs, he thought it was the best chance the city could ever expect to secure possession of the lighting plant, and presented the plan, as it appeared in the columns of The Bee several days ago, by which a company should be or-ganized to put in a new plant and sell it out to the city as soon as the city should be in shape to purchase it, for the amount put into the plant with interest.

After Mr. McCabe had finished his talk the subject was discussed at principal length, the aldermen and mayor asking questions which were fully answered by him. Mayor Cleaver agreed with McCabe and Baker that the city was paying double what it ought to for lights. Alderman Nicholson asked McCabe what steps he thought should be taken with reference to the extension of the contract. McCabe said he would not do anything. 'Let it stand as it is, and if you have to make a contract. would not do anything. "Let it stand as it is, and if you have to make a contract don't make one for more than a year."
"Would the city have the right to stop he company's manufacturing gas and elec-

the company's manufacturing gas and elec-tric light when the contract expires next October?" asked the mayor. "Yes," replied McCabe, "I could stop it tomorrow and the city could not help itself." "Couldn't the company cause us considerable trouble by stopping running its plant after the expiration of the contract?"

queried Nicholson "No." was McCabe's reply; "the plant was built for the benefit of the public, and when the company refuses to operate the court will step in and operate it until it can be closed out and other arrangements can be made by the public for carrying on the work." In reply to the question whether the company could not make trouble by imposing any charges it saw fit, he said that it could only charge what the light was reasonably worth, and he knew the company could not get any more than it was getting now, and probably not so much. When the meeting adjourned the members of the committee seemed to be rather taken with the idea of the city owning its own lighting plant, and the probability is that they will report adversely to the proposition to tie the city up for another term of five years.

Unknown Corpse Found.

The body of an unknown tramp was found yesterday afternoon lying by the side of the rallway track a short distance south of Honey Creek station. It was put on board the train and brought to this city. Coroner Jennings viewed the remains and decided an inquest was unnecessary. One of the men employed at the Northwestern roundhouse said he saw the tramp pass him Tuesday afternoon and when asked where he was going said he was bound for Chicago. There was nothing about his person to tell who he was, but a piece of copper wire bent in such a way that it might be easily used for un-locking doors gave some idea as to his profession. A brass check similar to those used in saloons, "good for 5 cents in trade," was hung about his neck by a strong buckskin cord, evidently as a charm of some kind. There were no bones broken and nothing t indicate how he met his death, excepting a slight bruise on the top of his head. The remains will be donated to the Council Bluffs Medical college.

Iowa Law Makers Find it Difficult to Do Business Owing to the Lobby.

MOTION FOR THEIR SUPPRESSION FAILS

Clatter of the Boosters Hinders Work in the House-Wheels of the Lawmaking Mill Going Round Rapidly on a Big Grist.

DES MOINES, March 28 .- (Special Telegram to The Bee.)-The legislature is literally overrun by the lobby, and the noise and confusion render it almost impossible to transact business. Representative Gurley introduced a resolution in the house today which declared that the annoyance from parties soliciting votes had become unbearable and directing the sergeant-at-arms to summarily eject any person who trasgresses the rules during the session of the house. This action cleared the floor for a moment, but the resolution being tabled, the workers returned in greater numbers in the after

The senate passed a resolution submitting prohibition to a vote of the people, but omitting the self-enforcing features of the Cornwall amendment adopted by the house. The prohibitionists claim this is an act of had faith, and will insist upon the senate's receding from this action. All the republi-cans voted for the proposition except

Senator Harsh, chairman of the committee on ways and means, made a final effort today to secure consideration of the revenue bill. Senators Ellis, Harper and Fina opposed the bill on the alleged ground that it would compel the listing of all farm property at its actual value and be likely to increase the farmers' taxes. The motion to fix a time to consider the bill was lost, 17

The senate passed the Riggen bill codifying mining laws.

The anti-insurance combine bill passed the senate. It makes it unlawful for insurance companies to combine to keep up rates, and provides penalties in fines from $10 to $500. The state geological survey appropriation of $20,000 for the coming biennial period met with vigorous opposition in the house An amendment reducing the amount to $10,000 was adopted. A motion by Morrison to strike out the enacting clause was lost. Ex-Speaker Mitchell said it was his understanding two years ago that $20,000 would cover the entire expense of the survey and he found that not only had that amount been consumed in superficial survey partially made, but that thousands of dollars extra had been paid in printing and expenses not contemplated by the legislature which passed the original bill. He was unalterably opposed to these blanket permits authorizing irresponsible parties to put their hand into the pocket of the taxpayers at pleasure, and moved an amendment limiting the total expenses to the amount named. Trewin, Robinson, Ranck and Allen favored the bill. Mr. Carter said it was time this scandal was fully aired. He found on investigation that the chemist at the Agricultural college, who was already a salaried officer of the state, had claimed $165 for the single month of February, and that Prof. Samuel Calvin of the State university, who was now re-ceiving $2,200 per year, had actually been paid about $1,800 for work during his summer vacation. Taxpayers will not approve such reckless extravagance by the geological board and felt it was time to call a halt. The amendment was lost, 31 to 50 and the bill passed, 64 to 15. Those voting "no" were Carter, Chapman, Funk, Har-mon, Horton, Martin, Moore, Morrison, Schultz, Sessions, Sawyer, Spaulding, Still-munkes, Klemme and Williams of Fremont. The house passed the McCann bill, requiring the return of the entire number of electors in each county for jurors to be se-lected by lot. This measure is intended to do away with the professional jurors in Released an Aged Convict.

ANAMOSA, Ia., March 28.-(Special Telegram to The Bee.)-One of the oldest convicts in the Anamosa prison was dis-charged yesterday on the expiration of a twenty-year sentence. September 23, 1879, John Simons shot and killed a man by the John Simons shot and killed a man by the name of Schultz. They were both immates of the Clayton county poor farm, where Simons had been for years. One day he took his gun and went out fishing. Schultz came up and began throwing stones in the water where he was fishing. Simons told him to step or he would shoot him, and as he did not stop he did shoot, killing him instantly. In 1881, when the war broke out, Simons was drafted into the rebel army, where he served a year, when he made his escape and joined the union army at New Orleans and served all through the war. He has served about fifteen years actual time in the penitentiary, getting in good time five years, five months and twentynine days, and during his long sentence he has never once been punished and never had but one prison coat and vest. He is over 70 years of age and draws $14 a month pension, and at the time of his discharge had over $300 to his credit. There are but two convicts in the prison who were there when he arrived. The old man has not a relative on earth and no place to go. Steps are being taken to get him admitted to the soldlers home. He has been so many years in confinement that he walks very awkwardly on the streets.

It was learned later that they had captured the wrong man. Other reports received in this city say that a posse has surrounded Ashworth in the dense woods around New Virginia, in Warren county. Delegations of county sheriffs with deputies have been arriving in the city today on their way to Warren county. Help is necessary in tracing the murderer, and other counties are sending their officers of the law to Warren county to aid the people in capturing the outlaw. Word was also received that Mrs. Mason was still living at 1 p. m., but was worse, and as she was soon to become a mother there is no hope of her recovery from the wound and shock. Ashworth was seen about dark last night walking south on the Des Moines & Kansas City narrow gauge road, between Prole and Wick, but nothing further has been heard of him, and the searching parties are still in pursuit.

A request will be made to the court by the sheriff and county attorney to have a commission of physicians examine them in regard to their physical combition. The grand jury of Cass county has brought in several neith then the against the Rock Island Railroad empany, charging the officials with conducting and condoning a nuisance in allowing parties to sell liquor from cars while smanding on the side tracks in the yards. Petitions to enjoin them are now on file.

SALOON MEN DISSATISFIED.

Will Not Regulate Their Conduct by the Martin Law. SIOUX CITY, March 28 -(Special Telegram to The Bee.)-Mayor Fletcher has said that the city mininistration here will not undertake to enforce the new liquor law known as the Martin act. The eighty saloons of the city will continue to run as saloons of the city will continue to run as of old and the keepers will be fined $50 each month in police court for disturbing the peace. In this decision he is sustained by practically the entire souncil and nearly all citizens, who declare the new law impracticable and distasteful. Dispatches received from Estherville, Fort Dorige, Lemars, Creston, Council Bluffs and several other towns in Western Iowa where the old law has not been enforced are ty the effect that the new law does not answer the purpose and that the old fine system of regulating saloons will be constitued.

MECCA COMPOUND

TheSovereign Remedy for Burns.

Instantly relieves all pain and heals without scarring. Endorsed by the medical faculty and multitudes of people whose sufferings it has relieved. COUNCIL BLUFF'S, Ia., Aug. 26, 1891.—The coster Mrg. Co.: Gentlemen—I am happy to testify to the wonderful magic effect of your Mecca compound in burns. I was burned, as you know, by an explosion of a plumber's gasoline furnace on the morning of July 2, 1891. The entire surface of my back, arms and back of lower limbs was so badly burned that large portions of blistered skin came off with the removal of my ciothing. The pain that followed is indescrib-able. I could not have endured it twenty-four hours and lived. The shock was so great that I went almost into spasms, but in two hours after the application of your Mecca Compound I was almost entirely relieved from pain and in nine-teen days after the accident was back at my work.

I can also further state that there will not be a scar left from that terrible burn, and all is due to your Mecca Compound. It should be kept in every home, workshop or place of business for immediate use in case of an accident. I feel that I cannot say too much for your wonderful remesly. Yours very respectfully.
