WILL HUNT EMPLOYMENT FOR MEMBERS

Will Urge Public Works to Enable the Idle Men to Earn Wages Committee Appointed to Take Charge of the Matter,

A meeting of the laboring men of the city was held last evening at Delong's mission rooms for the purpose of forming an organization to secure employment for the men who have been suffering from the effeets of the prevailing hard times for the past few months. Henry Delong was temporary chairman. The room was packed. The committee on permanent organization recommended the following for permanent officers: President, J. C. DeHaven; secretary, W. H. Knepher; treasurer, Henry Delong. There seemed to be but little knowledge among those present as to what was the right course to pursue, and most of the time which, it had been expected, would be used in devising plans for the organization was frittered away in listening to speeches, the prevailing feature of which was complaint at the present condition of things and denunciation of the political

As near as could be surmised from the As near as could be surmised from the speeches, however, the object seemed to be to induce the county and city authorities to make public improvements, such as grading and paving of streets and cutting down hills, in order that the workingmen might have a chance to earn wages. One of the speakers made some references to Kelly' army, and John Ahles, who had already had his say, tried to call him down. But Kelly's army seemed to have still some of its old-time popularity and Ahles had to subside, while the speaker went on with his speechifying.

It was suggested that a committee of five be appointed to devise ways and means of securing employment for the laboring men, but a man in the front part of the hall asked who was going to pay for all this work that it was proposed to have done. Chairman DeHaven admitted that it would probably be the taxpayers, whereupon the man mounted the platform and proceeded to argue against doing anything that would tend to increase taxes. His suggestion did not meet with favor, however, and he was soon compelled to sit down by the cat-calls that filled the hall. The motion was carried, and the following were appointed as the committee, some of them not being present:
Henry Delong, Finley Burke, J. G. Lemen,
W. H. Knepher and J. C. DeHaven,
It was then decided to adjourn until next

Monday evening, at which time it is ex-pected that the committee will have thought far enough ahead to have some definite plan in view. A committee will then be appointed to lay the needs of the workingmen before the city council, with the request that such steps may be taken as will secure work for the unemployed.

The case grew out of the publication of an item April 27, 1892, describing the suicide of Matt Goodwin, an insurance man, in Chicago, and stating that the domestic life of the suicide and his wife, who is the plaintiff in the present suits, had been a very stormy one, Mrs. Goodwin has engaged a firm of Omaha lawyers, and in her petition filed yesterday alleges that she has been greatly damaged by the false and malicious statements con-tained in the published articles, and claims the article, in addition to being published in The Bee, appeared in the Council Bluffs Nonparell, the Iowa State Register, St. Louis Republic and the Chicago Inter Ocean, Her-

CHICAGO, April 26.-The authorities at Washington have requested the chiefs of police in all of the large cities to detail their most experienced detectives to either follow the armies or go to Washington and assist the police department of the capital to manage the great crowds that are certain to assemble there. The authorities believe that criminal characters from all over the country will flock to that city. By mass-ing trained detectives, recruited from all parts of the United States, at the capital these characters can be spotted and locked up. The authorities at Washington will pay all the expenses of the officers supplied, and intend to keep them there a month or two until all the trouble is passed. WASHINGTON, April 26.—The district

The great of the day was the advent of Citizen George Francis Train, who pre-dicts that we are on the verge of the biggest revolution the world has even seen and that the Jefferson Davis matter won't be an item in comparison with it. The authorities in charge of the capitol buildings are now considering the advisability of formally surrendering their authority to the District of Columbia and asking that a sufficient protection be given by the police force of the city. Major Moore of the city police force has promised ample reinforcements if necessary.

An Odd Fellows' procession attempted to march through the capitol grounds today, but was turned back at the entrance by the capitol police. The Odd Fellows made some remonstrance, but when assured that the law permitted no exceptions, they quietly submitted. The incident will doubt-

WHAT TO DO WITH THE PRISONERS. War Department at Washington Exercised

Over a Pertinent Question. WASHINGTON, April 26 .- Advices from the seat of war in Montana were slow in coming to hand at the War department this morning. About noon a dispatch came to army headquarters from Colonel Swain, commanding the Department of Dakota, reporting the capture of Hogan's Commonwealers by the Twenty-second infantry under com-mand of Lieutenant Colonel Page at Forsythe, Mont.

The problem is now what to do with the captives. Colonel Swain had instructions to turn them over to the United States mar-shal, but it is feared that the latter at presen cannot take care of all the prisoners. The him, and will lend all assistance within his power. At the War department it is be-lieved that the marshal will simply hold on to the ring leaders in the movement and return with them to Butte for such action as the court may direct. The others, it is presumed, will break up their organization and disperse, warned by the fate of their leaders to refrain from further trespass on railroads or private property, and being kept under espionage by the troops mean-

The War department has taken no action toward interfering with the Frye party which captured a train on the Vandalia road in Indiana yesterday and probably will not do so unless application for assistance is made by the governor of Indiana. The Vandalia line is not operating under the direction of the United States courts, and therefore the federal government cannot take the initiative in moving against the train stealers. It is evident that the national authorities are, somewhat disappointed and chagrined at the failure of the governors and local authorities in western states to do their full duty in such cases is that happening at Terre Haute yester-lay. All along it is thought in official circles here that there has been shown a disposition to refrain from interfering with these organized bodies, even where they have lolated priperty rights and the laws states, each locality contenting itself with transferring the evil as rapidly as possible to the neighboring town or state, as the easiest way to get rid of the trouble. It cannot be set up in extenuation by the state authorities that they have not the power to deal with the lawbreakers, for the national government has shown its readiness to exert its forces and powers whenever called upon by the state or local authori-

CLEVELAND IS NOT SCARED.

Military Guards Have Not Been Placed

Around the White House. WASHINGTON, April 26.-Although reorts have been current that the White House guards had been reinforced, President and Mrz. Cleveland were seen driving through the principal streets of the city in an open carriage with only the colored driver on the box. A local afternoon paper printed a story that a special guard was on duty each night outside the president's door, but the report is not true. The white house grounds and house will be well guarded and a close watch will be kept for suspicious characters, out President Cleveland is decidedly avers to being kept under guard, as it were, and, moreover, the ordinary arrangements for guarding the white house when crowds are here are considered sufficient. A matter which gives the president more concern was the permission a local real estate dealer gave Coxey to encamp in Woodley park, which adjoins the president's country place. Senator Stewart was asked whether he would grant the request of Mr. Coxey to camp his army on the senator's property at Chevy Chase, in the northwestern suburbs of the city. He replied his permission had not been asked and added that so far as he could see at this time there would be no objection to the army's camping there in case they should desire to do so. STORY OF THE BATTLE OF BILLINGS Citizen of Tacoma Who Was on the Scene Tells What He Saw.

TACOMA, April 26 .- A special to the Leader from Allen Mason, a prominent citizen of Tacoma, who was at Billings at the time of the fight on the westbound train, says: "About 1 o'clock the Coxey contingent from Butte, 600 strong, wearing tricolor badges, rolled into Billings on fifteen freight cars, loaded on top and inside and with flags flying, followed closely by a train containing United States marshals. The westbound passenger train was laid out westbound passenger train was laid out thirteen hours, fearing to run up against them, and for safety went on a side track half a mile below town, the Coxey train and parties having their own way. At Columbus the railroad officers had ob-structed the track last night, but the train got by. Upon arrival at Billings Leader got by. Cool arrival at Binings Lader Cunningham, from the top of a car, was ad-dressing a large crowd when about fifteen deputy marshals rushed passed under arms to capture them. The crowd surged from all sides, while the Coxeyltes gave the marshals warning to commit no violence. The engineer was placed under cover of rifles and ordered to leave the cab, when bang, ten or a dozen times, went the rifles. The Coxeyites charged and the marshals retreated under fire. "Kill them?" "Hang them!" shouted the Coxeyltes, who saw one of their men on top of the train with blood treaming from a wound in his forehead screaming from a wound in his foreness.
Several deputies ran, followed by the crowd, hurling stones and hitting several of the deputies, who were driven back to the train, narrowly escaping with their lives. The Coxeyites smashed the captured rifles in pleces over the railroad tracks. The action of the marshal in shooting in the miscel laneous crowd is severely condemned. One citizen was shot through the lung, but will recover. There were no fatalities. The Billings people furnished an abundance of provisions, and, after speeches by Leaders Cunningham and Hogan denouncing the deputies as murderers, they violently captured a fresh engine and pulled out for the east, claiming the right of way. The deputy marshals remained in Billings.
