The Latest Millinery.

The popular snapes in hats may be classified into three varieties— the large picture hats which recall the shapes immortalized by Sir Joshua Reynolds, the fantastic undulat-ing brim shape, which is very charming when arranged in good taste, and the small toque, which may be easily turned into a bonnet by the addition of strings.

The inevitable sailor has its usual place on the list, yet it is in many instances more elaborately trimmed than the regulation sailor ought to be. Transparent crowns, transparent brims, and tuffe rosettes are the newest features in millinery. Colored coarse straws are very much worn, and pale pink, green and black are the popular colors. A large rush green straw hat is trimmed with a soft crumpled green bow and field flowers. gher than the ordinary organ.
