WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., May 20 .- With the Aerrors of the disastrous flood of 1859, which spread death and destruction throughout this valley, brought back to memory by the threstened danger of a sweep of water that promises to be as great as that of five years ago, the people of this city and all through the West Branch valley are in a state of panic that has turned the usually quiet Sunday into one of remarkable excitement. Since Friday night a stendy and almost continuous downtour of rain has been swelling all the streams, and late last night numerous cloudbursts along the Pine Creek and other tributaries of the West Branch of the Susquehanna have made it impossible to confine the water within the banks of the streams. It has therefore spread out over the country and at every point is pouring into the main Fiver. Throughout the may the rain has fallen here and continues to fall. Advices from all points up the river say the same conditions exist. A cloudburst at Keating, twenty miles above Renovo, early this morning, raised the river there twenty feet, and the river at Renovo is reported higher than in the flood of 1889, when half of the town was under water. Above there, and extend ing to the head waters at Clearfield, every town and hamlet has been reduced by water to the conditions that prevailed in 1889. Along the Philadelphia & Eric railroad, between here and Emporium, the traffic has been practically suspended since last night. The trains are running between Williamsport and Lock Haven, but above the latter point landstides and track washouts have practically swept the tracks away, and the loss will be very heavy. The Susquehanna flows south of the city, and while it has not yet reached the point of danger, it is erawling up at the rate of a foot an hour Graffus Run, a tributary which emption into the river below the city, overflowed its banks and sprend over a considerable por-tion of the city at about moon today, flooding many houses and driving the occupants

All of the houses were occupied by poopeople, and the rise was so sudden that the sufferers lost much of their personal property. The full strength of the flood is experted here about 12 o'clock tomight, when the great body of water from up the rive is due. The fact that the water will rush down upon the city in the dark hours of the night nade an additional element of horror

WAITING FOR THE FLOOD.

In anticipation, however, of what is ex-pected, the fire and church bells of the city were rung at 10 clock this morning to notify the people of the impending danger, and since that hour the work of preparing for bundreds of homes that were submerged fix years ago the people are moving out and storing their goods in the houses of those living on the highlands. The business par of the city was a complete wreck five years ago, and hundreds of merchants are moving their stock to places of safety. Conveyances of every description are hurrying through the streets of the city loaded with household- goods and merchandise, and the scenes beggar description.

The regular church services were all suspended today, and in all of the houses of worship those who attended confined their devotion to the offering up of prayers for the help of Providence in the present grave

Darkness has settled over the city and the rain, which has been falling all day, is still coming down in torrents. The river is coming up rapidly and is now twenty-one feet above the low water mark. It will over-flow its banks within an hour, and as the certainty of great destruction of property grows more apparent the general interest in-The banks of the river and the bridges are lined with thousands of people watching the rise of the water, and those who did not move during the day are now hurrying their belongings and families hurrying their belongings and market places of safety. Four miles of track of the Glen Allen Lumber company road have been swept away. The 'boom' at Lock Haven has broken and 15,000,000 feet of logs have been lost. The upper Linden boom also broke at 5:30 this evening. It contained 10,000,000 feet of logs and they have gone down. There are 150,000,000 feet of logs in the main boom and half as many more in the city mill pend that may go on a twenty-five foot flood. President Payne and Boom Boss Rinehard have made the boom here as secure as posalble. President Payre states that all in-dications point to a twenty-five foot flood here, which will reach its height about IJ

TORRENTS STILL DESCEND. At midnight, with the rain still falling, the river has overflowed its banks in the central part of the city and the water is rushing up Market street and out to Third and Fourth streets. In the business parts of the city, where the cellars are new full of water, the present height of the full of water, the present height of the flood is twenty-four feet and it is estimated it will reach twenty-seven feet from the present rainfall. But as the rain shows no signs of abating it is feared tomorrow may bring more signs of danger. Lyacoming creek has been in good condition all day, but at this time it is bank-full and coming up rapidly. It comes in at the upper and of the city and was the principal source of danger in 1889. The height of the of danger in 1885. The height of the river then turned it out of its course and

PHILADELPHIA, May 20.-News comes from Williamsport that at 11 o'clock this morning the big lumber boom broke and the logs are going down the river. HUNTINGDON, Pa., May 20 - Within the hast twenty-four hours the Juniata river and the Raystown branch have risen twenty-two feet, flooding the low lying farms and im-prisoning entire families in their homes who cannot be reached. Portstown, a suburn of this town, was flooded to the accord floors of the houses, and Allegheny street in the city was submerged. The gas abundaned to the rising waters, and many re-idences and business houses are flooded to the second floors. The new iron county bridge at Mapleton, over Mill creek, and the trestles have been swept away. A fund-slide near Ryde station on the Pennsylvania railroad covered the south tracks for three quarters of a mile, and the tracks below this city are washed away. The country approaches to Huntingdon have been closed to travel by the destruction of bridges and

At Sloyestewn, Bedford county, Mrs. Jacob Miller, while trying to save her personal be-longings, was drowned. Whole farms on the Haystown branch have been practically ruined, buildings and fenering washed away

Below Foreman street, at the confluence of the two streams, the flood is a quarter of a mrie wide, and is high enough to ruin all the carpets in the houses on Filton and other streets in the lower part of the Sixth tion of pressing the bill forward as rapidly ward. The Denglas dam is partly form as it may be possible to do so, but he said newly. Weaver's be home is in ruins. The North street bridge is gone and several road and street bridges are in danger. The daily sessions beyond 6 o'clock so long as realized people are holding down their bridges with beavily loaded cars. In the Sixth ward twenty families were taken out of their houses to beat during the hight, and on Clarence, River and Hillin streets a rescue corps with skiffs rescued as many more. Luckily there were to familities. An 18-months-old beby fell into the East branch this evening, and was being swept away in the current. Thomas Potter leaped into the creek, and after a de preate struggle saved the child. The flood from East branch covers the territory over which run the Erie Railway company's transs, the Western New York & Pennsylvania tracks, and those of the Bradford, Berdwell & Kinua railway. Webster street is mavigable by boat. Across Corydon and Newell avenue to Main, and then down Davis street, there is a ruching body of deep water, and skiffs ply from the Riddel house up and down the streets.

At the Henderson house on the ground floor, there is six inches of water. Twenty business houses on Main street between Webster and the Erie rallway tracks are in a still were. a still worse condition. Sixty feet of the B. R. & R. track, just below the city's eastern line, have been washed out and the trains of that road come in over the Erie track from Limestone. The fire alarm bell was sounded this morning at 2 o clock and the firemen were called out to help people from their houses. They did excellent work. A carbaid of lime in a storehouse near the track about Elm street became water-soaked slackening process, and, in the flood to their waists, the firemen had further work to do.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., May 20.—All the trains on the D. & A. rond have been abandoned, owing to the damage done to its tracks by the storm. A portion of the large bridge at Loans is washed away. There is a heavy landslide covering the tracks for quite a distance between Falcone and Reggy and the railroad bridge at Fromsburg is washed out. The waters of the Canada creek have overflowed until the stream is nearly half a mile wide between Toann and Fre-donia. In Dunkirh the lower portions of the place are flooded. Chautauqua lake has risen several inches within the past few hours, the outlet being over its banks. No special damage has yet been reported in the city. GENESEO, N. Pennsylvania Railway Officials Preparing for a Thirty-Foot Rise. PHILADELPHIA. May 20.—Dispatches o Pennsylvania railroad officials report it has been raining several days; that the water of the Susquehanna is still rising and that conservative estimate places the probable total rise at from twenty-five to thirty feet, At Renovo the water has risen this even ing to thenty-three feet above low water, and at Keating sixteen feet. At the latter point the river is rising a foot an hour. At Driftwood the stream is within two fee of the lower chord of the railroad bridge At Westport the sides have been removed from the western end of the railroad bridge and the water is following freely through it. Communication with Karthous has been off since 11:30 this morning. Fart of Lock Haven is under water, and the floot there is very high, and between Belifont and Rising Springs two spans of a railroad bridge have been carried away. In this district it has been raining since vesterday. There is a seven-foot flood in Lycoming creek and at Rising Springs the water is eighteen inches higher than it was in 1889. At Bixter's and Vineyard a number of county bridges have been carried away. At Tipton the radiroad bridge has shifted somewhat and the tracks are under water. On the Cambria & Clearfield rail-road the approaches of the bridges have been undermined and the road obstructed by a number of small washouts. Seventy five cars have been loaded with stone. A the quarries are being worked to their full capacity, and large forces of men are loading cars with cinders to run on the bridges and embankments should the flood threaten them. Railroad officials say stone and trestic timber is ready for use at Lock Haven should the flood carry away railroad bridges or roadbed there. LEWISBURG, Pa. May 20 - The superin-tendent of the Lewisburg & Tyrone branch of the Fennsylvania railroad, running from here to Bellefonte reports heavy washouts at Milimont and went of there to Rising Springs. A number of bridges are gone and the extensive and expensive trainway construction at Paddy mountain is all washed out. The water is two feet higher at Coburn than it was in 1889 and the people of the calley are fleeing to the hills and mountains for safety ALTOONA, Pa. May 20.—Between this city and Mill Creek the loss from floods suf-fered by farmers is very great. Their crops are destroyed and fences and small buildings have been carried away. The washing away of the tracks of the Williamsburg and along the Springfield branch and the destruction of railroad bridges between Frankown and Flowing Springs has caused a dis continuance of train service on the Williams-burg and Springfield branches. SUNBURY Pa., May 20.—The flood is expected here tonight. Washouts on the Read-ing and Pennsylvania railroads have laid out passenger and freight trains.

PHILADELPHIA, May 20.—At 5 o'clock this afternoon the Western Union force at Lock Haven was driven from the office by the flood, and since that hour nothing has been heard from that point. The office is located in the center of the town, some dis-tance from the river, and the destruction of property must, therefore, be very great. ALL FOUR WERE DEOWNED.

The | business than that which can be done in cast and west branches of the Tena are the first half hour of the daily sensions. and possibly an occasional brief executive session after 6 o'clock for the disposition of uncontested nominations. Senator Harris today reaffirmed his intention of pressing the bill forward as rapidly the work should go on as satisfactory as it is going on at present. He expressed the opinion that the republican senators who have been opposing the bill and apparently seeking to delay its passage had decided to ous items of differences the attention de-manded by their merits, and instanced the fact noticeable on Friday and Saturday that there had been a decided consulton of long speeches and of roll calls as well. This change in these opponents of the bill who have wought to put obstacles in its progress the democrats attribute to the two facts that their opponents have discovered that they mean to pass the bill and that the republican conferences of the past week have, developed a decided sentiment in the repub-lican party on the question of delay with, as hey think, a majority opposed to all dila-

Senator Aldrich expresses the opinion the week will be spent on the metal and woolen schedules and he says the discussion will go on much as it has during the past week —that the republicans will allow some items to go unchallenged and they will ask ex-planations and give their opinions of others. Many paragraphs of the metal schedule are acceptable to the republicans and that, taking the times and conditions which now prevail into consideration, the rates in some instances are even more liberal than those of the McKinley law. He says, however, there is dissatisfaction with the miscellaneous items of the schedule and that these will cause considerable debate. He also says will cause considerable dehate. He also says the lumber question will be discussed when the wood schedule is reached. Senator Aldrich thinks it improbable that the sugar schedule will be reached during the week, while Senator Harris thinks possible it may be. They agree that this schedule will, when reached, develop a sharp debate.

"The Nicaraguan canal bill introduced by me chosely follows the bill reported to tresenate by Senator Morgan from the committee on foreign relations, honder as it relates to the settlement to be made with the present Maritime Canal company. It differs from the senate bill in several important particulars. It requires that the government directors shall be fairly discributed throughout the United States, no that all parts of the country may have an equal voice in the management of the canal, it also probability novernment directors from owning any stock or becuniary interest in the company, so that they an act entirely in the interest of the United States. It problishs any stockholder, director or officer from being interested to any contract made by the company. This is to prevent the formation of any inside ring to plunder the company is the provides that all labor shall be left for labor, but that all labor shall be left for labor, but that all labor shall be left for labor, but that all labor shall be employed directly by the company shall maintain hospitals and furnish medical attendance for the stek, and also requires the board to receive the money of the United States. "The Important respect, however, in which may be a subject to the amount of Tourishing cove ne closely follows the bill reported to the senate by Senator Morgan from the com-

money for the canal can become a law during this congress. My bill, on the other hand, provides that the government shall subscribe for stock to the amount of $70,000,000 or so much thereof as is necessary to construct the canal, the stock to be paid for by United States notes dientical in character, legal tender qualities and redeemption rights to the United States notes issued as the work progresses under the direction of the secretary of the transary to called greenbacks. The money is to be issued as the work progresses under the direction of the secretary of the transary. This plan has the advantage, First, That it does not require a loan for the issue of bonds or the payment of interest, for the moties will become use formain a part of the currency like the greenbacks. See ond, As it is a subscription to the stock instead of a loan it does not have to be paid thack and, therefore, does not tax the commerce which will pass through the canal. Third, it will bring to the support of the measure two signests of our permethods of the cast who are impressed with the commercial importance of the canal and those of the west and south who believe that we need more money. It will be remembered that since the repeal of the Sharman law he provision has been made for increasing the currency of the United States to keep paice with our population. The amount situate under this bill cannot exceed $10,000,000 or $12,000,000 a year, has aucceed in shout $20,000,000 or $12,000,000 a year, has aucceeded in shout $20,000,000 provided by the Sherman law, and has also precented thus far even the coinage of the segmiorage. These been considering this plan for the past year, and am satisfied that it is more feasible than any plan havelving a loan of money or a loan of the gravernment's credit. Everyhold recognizes the commercial and military importance of a canal, and both democrate and republican parties expressed themselves in favor of it in the past forms of the connection to the country of our people would seede without hestina

SIOUN FALLS CRIMINAL CASES.

Docket Will Be Called This Morning and

Some Interesting Proceedings Begun. SIOUX FALLS, S. D., May 20,-(Special o The Bee)-Monday morning the crimin calendar for the present term of court will be moved. The first matter to be argued is the demurrer to the indictment against Clerk of the County and Clronit Courts Albion Thorne for refusing to make a report to the public examiner. The trial of Mr. Thorne on the other indictment against him for misappropriation of $1.07 of the county funds will come up later. The first regular case for trial is the Dr. A. M. Fisher matter. Dr. Fisher has been in just here since the 4th of last June, charged with the murder of Minnie Olsen of Canton by performing a criminal operation. He has had one trial but the jury, after being out forty-eight hours, failed to agree. The next case will probably be the state against C. C. Crandall for forging a promissory note for $2.00. Crandall was formerly the president of the Merchants bank and one of the most highly respected men in the city. The grand jury was discharged on Saturday, having returned twenty-one indictments in all. It is understood that two indictments have been found against bell Rapids persons for making fraudulent returns in the recent municipal election there. Mayor Smith was elected be moved. The first matter to be argued found against Dell Rapids persons for making fraudulent returns in the recent municipal election there. Mayor Smith was elected by ten votes over J. A. Cooley. The defeated party had an investigation made, and, although no public notice has been made of the indictments, it is quite certain that indictments have been found. The criminal calendar is a long one.

the Pursoing Officers. LINNAEUS, Mo., May 20.—The latest news received here concerning the hunt for the Taylor brothers, the murderers of the Meeks family, is to the effect that they are cornered in the woods north of Novinger in Adair county. Sheriff Barton of Linn county is still in the hunt, and as no word has been received from him today it is thought be has struck a good trail which here believe that the Taylors have certainly been rounded up. The latter have a great number of friends, and the searchers say that obstacles innumerable have been thrown in their way by the Taylor sympathizers There were two factions in the community where the murderers lived, and there is much bitterness existing between them Some of the Taylor faction condens the crime on the ground that Meeks betrayed the Taylors. Sheriff White of Macon county passed through here today with a deputy TOPEKA, May 20.-United States District Attorney Perry has telegraphed from Wichits to Judge Waters, attorney for General Sanders and his Commonweal army, that owing to other judicial engagements it would be impossible for Judge Williams to try the cases. When Waters was at Leavenworth he gave notice to B. P. Waggener, general attorney for the Missouri Pacific, that he would file 351 suits for $10,000 damages each against the railroad company. This he is said to have reported to Waggener in Topeka ye terday. Today Waggener, so it is reported, telegraphed Waters, asking him to visit him at Atchison. To this Waters replied that his only terms of settlement were the char-tering and provisioning of a boat by the Missouri Pacific for the transportation of the army to Pittsburg, Pa. This story is vouched for by a reputable man, who says he saw the telegram, but it is a fact that Waters took a train for Atch son this afternoon, where it is not improbable some sort of settlement will be agreed upon, although nobody believes that Waggener will comply with Waters' wild demands.

Joy is said to have been an ingrate, as well as a forcer. He has spent a good many years in prison, although he is not more than II years old. During one of the intervals when he was at large—a little after he had emerged from the Missouri penitentiary. In fact—he applied to better the bad emerged from the Missouri penitentiary, in fact—he applied to better the bad one detective work before, but said nothing of his penitentiary experience. He was put at work and remained with Bruce for six or seven months. While Joy was employed there I. W. Phelan sent a postoffice money order for fab to Detective Bruce in March, 182. Brues falled to receive it. He found the letter containing the order had been stolen and that his name had been forged on the receipt. It was not until January, 182, that he obtained evidence which satisfied him that Joy was the forger. He also discovered that Joy had stolen the letter of inquiry sent by the postoffice department regarding the money order and had sent it back with the endorsement: "O. K. Robert Bruce."

Fostoffice Inspectors Stuart and Herming were put to work on the case. They found Joy in Lenver. He was running a commercial college, at which telegraphing was one of the specialties. Joy had four instructors and labouring house and boarded most of the pupils. Joy was arrested January 21, 1823. It is said he offered the inspectors £1,200 to allow him to escape. After a hearing before the Chited States commissioner, he was remarcial college, at which telegraphing was one of the pupils. The return has just expired.

BUENED INDICTMENTS BY WHOLES ILE Five Thousand Thrown in the Fire and Consumed at One Time.

NEW YORK, May 20.-The story of the burning of 5.000 indictments, with the evidence on which they were obtained, has been narrated to a World reporter by Ambrose Pardee, formerly an attache the district attorney's office. It occurred fifteen years ago, but until now the story never got out. It was in the heyday of the lottery king Eph Simmons reign, and lottery dens were raided and hundreds of indictments found, but strange to say few came to trial. The reason is that Moses Clark, the district attorney's chief clerk, was receiving $500 a week for taking care of the indictments against the lottery and incidentally for similar services in behalf of the other offenders. Clark grew rich, had a palatial residence, kept horses by the dozen and generally maintained a princely style. When he was taken ill one day, and it became known he was about to die, panic selzed his clients, who knew that the oriminating papers were locked in a safe in his home. Three of them went there, but Clark was too far gone to give them the combination. After he died they sent for an expert breaker and he opened the iron case. It was their intention to destroy only proofs against themselves and associates, but as the papers were found in great confusion they were all thrown into a blazing grate in the room. Parde says Eph Simmons was one of the three men who did the work. Another of the trio is dead. The name of the other he may disclose later Anthony Comstock gives full credit to the story and says the disappearance of the indictments and the records pertaining to them did not cease with the death of Clark. Such things take place even now. the district attorney's office. It occurre fifteen years ago, but until now the story

FATHER HUGH MURPHY EJECTED.

Bishop Wigger's Order of Suspension Enforced by Detectives. NEW YORK, May 20.—There was a sen sational scene in the St. Michael's Roman Catholic church in Helieville avenue, Newark, during the celebration of the half past 10 o'clock mass this morning, and when Father Hugh Murphy, who for ten months has been a curate of the St. Michael's, was led from the alter rall apparently against his earness protestation by two well built men and thence along the center also and into the parish house adjoining, there was surprise parish house adjoining, there was surprise on every face in the large congregation. This happened at the point in the services just before the sermon and just after Father Murphy who was not conducting the mass, had begun to talk from a position in front of the altar rail. Father Murphy had been dismissed from the parish by Bishop Wigger last Monday and today, while processing to the congregation against the injustice of this procedure, he was stopped by the detectives and removed from the church. detectives and removed from the church. Nobody will talk of the occurrence, but it is understood to be the outcome of his refusal to obey the bashop's decree of re-

Shouting Vive I Anarchie He Walks to the Guillotine.

ADJURES COMRADES TO HAVE COURAGE

Remains Interred in the "Turnip Field." the Burial Place of Condemned Criminals-Laughing and seking Crowd Witnesses the Execution.

PARIS, May 20 .- Just as dawn was breaking this morning Emil Henry was brought from the prison of La Roquette to the instrument of death. As he passed between the portals of the prison he wore the same air of bravado that marked his conduct during the trial, and as he stepped outside the gate be cried "Vive l'anarchie. At 4 II o'clock the little gate in the large gate of the prison swang open and Deibler, the public executioner, pursed through. Although Henry had refused to accept his ministrations, he was followed by a priest, Then came Henry in his shirt sleeves, and with his arms pintoned. His face was deathly pale and his eyes glittered like those of a maniac. As he emerged he muttered, more to himself than any one else. I um not allowed to walk properly," referring to the manner in which he was pinioned, then raising his eyes he saw his comrades and he cried, "Courage, comrades, vive l'an-archie." The walk to the guillotine was archie." The walk to the guillotine was exceedingly short. Here he was seized by the assistants of Deibler and bound to the bascule. Then there was a flash as the kaffe dropped. At the same moment Henry cried out again. "Vive l'anarchie." and there was silence. The head of the anarchist dropped into the basket in front of the guillotine. The headless trunk was unbound from the plank on which it was bound and placed together with the head in a black van and carried to the "turnip field," the burist place of executed criminals, where it was place of executed criminals, where it was interred. As the van was driven away, the crowd, laughing and joking, dispersed

DEATH OF EDMUND VATES.

Well Known London Author, Editor and Critique Passes Away.

LONDON May 20.-Edinuad Hodgeson Yates, editor and proprietor of the World, died today. Mr. Yates was the son of the well known actor and was for some years chief of the missing letter department in the postoffice. He was a theatrical critic on the Daily News for hix years and was himself the author of several dramas. In May, 1872, Mr. Vates retired from the postoffice in order to devote his time exclusively to literature. In the course of that year he went on a lecturing four in the United States and in May 1873, he was appointed London representative of the New York Herald, which post he resigned in July, 1874, when he es-tablished the World. Mr. Yntes was in 1884 indicted for having published in his paper a libel on the earl of Lonadale, for which, as editor he was reaponable. He was sen-tenced to four months imprisonment, but was released before two months had expired.

He was the author of many novels.

Mr. Yales death was quite sudden. He attended the Garrick theater last evening, that being his first appearance at a pince of public amus ment since his prolonged filmess. While in the theater he had a fit and was removed as quickly as possible to his resi-dence. The physicians who were summoned to attend him held out little hope of recovery, and at 4 o'clock this morning the end

Speculation Waiting for Improvement in American and Argentine Affair .

LONDON, May 20.-The rates for money fell away at the end of the week. Discount rates were easy at I per cent on three months' bills, and there were occasional transactions below that. The hopes of an increase of business at the Stock exchange after the Whitsuntide holidays were not realized. All speculating appears to await an improvement in American and Argen-tine affairs. The market closed generally depressed. The consols, however, were unchanged. Foreign securities were firm, except South Americans. Home railway securities were steady. American securities were very weak, in sympathy with Wall street. Atchison fell 3, Northern Pacific
