What Two Tramps Have to Say About the Shooting of Brakeman Stuk sbury.

WERE FORCED TO JUMP FROM THE TRAIN

Claim that the Injured Man Approached Them with a Revolver and Club-Suspicious Circumstances Surrounding the Case.

The two tramps who were found walking along the track near Island park yesterday morning just after the body of the wounded brakeman, Stukesbury, was found, were taken by the police officers yesterday and given a thorough quizzing. They were at first inclined to have nothing to say, but later on admitted that they were on the car when the brakeman came among them. He was armed with a revolver and club. they claimed, and ordered them to climb to the top of the box car next to the flat car upon which they were standing. They chose to jump, and as the train was going at the rate of thirty miles per hour they were considerably skinned up when they reached terra firma. They claimed they did not hear the pistol shot, but a pistol was found lying about 150 feet south of the place where they jumped off, and it was undoubtedly the pistol that did the damage, for it had two empty chambers.

Stukesbury is lying at the Woman's Christian association hospital in Council Huffs but just how serious his wounds will prove cannot be told, say his physicians, for or two. Both wounds, that in the left ear, as well as that in the throat, now seem to have been made by the same bullet, according to the belief of the hospital surgeons. Stukesbury is very weak, although perfectly conscious and suffering no pain, but his physicians have prohibited him from being troubled with visitors and he has been allowed to talk but little. He has said, however, that he was standing on the ladder of a box car when the shot was fired at him by a man standing on an adjacent flat car. The ball is thought to have entered the upper part of the left ear, traveled along the side of the head and neck, finally coming out about the middle of the throat. Upon this theory it seems little less than a miracle that it should have avoided cutting the jugular vein.

Stukesbury has a brother in the telephone office in Omaha. Yesterday morning two tramps were arrested at Pacific Junction tramps were arrested at Pacific Junction by Detective Reinhart of the Chicago, Burlington & Quiney and brought to Council by Detective Reinhart of the Chicago, Bur-lington & Quincy and brought to Council Bluffs. They gave their names as Frank Walby and Lorimer, and were identified by Stnkesbury as having been with the gang when the shots were fired. Eleven men are now in the city jail and two more are under arrest at Neola. Detectives have been scouring the country in every direction, and the railway officials claim to be confident of running the guilty party to cover soon. The only fear is that the injured man will be unable to identify the man who fired the shot should be be found.

Last evening the injured man was resting comfortably, and his physicians stated that his chances for recovery were very

CROP PROSPECTS.

What the Council Bluffs Fruit Growers

Think of the Situation. A meeting of the Council Bluffs Fruit Growers Shipping association was held yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the association in the Hughes building. About thirty fruit growers were present, and one decidedly interesting feature was a sort of 'experience meeting," in which each one of them was called upon to tell what had been the amount of his damage suffered by reason of the recent visit of Jack Frost, and also to tell what the prospects were in view of the impending drouth. The following is the substance of the remarks of each one: President Alexander Wood-It might be worse. I lost two acres and a half grapes, or about 20 per cent of my whole crop. The potatoes that I thought killed by the frost are coming up again. The dry spell has not affected my place much. I have very few apples and about half a crop W. H. Kuhn—My grapes seem killed up to last year's wood, and I am more afraid for next year's crop than I am for this. The vines and trees I had on the high ground were hurt very little. Think my loss will amount to four-fifths on grapes, one-half on plumbs and one-third on apples. F. B. Hall-Raspberries all gone, grapes hurt very little. Lost a third of my blackberries, no strawberries, cherries nor plums. Will have a light crop of apples. The dry weather is hurting me more than Lewis Hammer-Lost all my grapes, plums, cherries and blackberries. E. B. Crandall—Grapes were not hurt by frost, but two-thirds of my Concords are slow on account of the drouth and I won't ave a full crop. Blackberries are all right. G. G. Rics—Sweet potatoes were not hurt by frost, but potatoes were well killed. Not more than 5 per cent of my grapes were hurt. Good crop of apples, cherries very poor. Strawberries haven't made growth, and the hot sun withers them. Peter Weise—Lost four acres of grapes and four of berries. Lost one-third of en-tire crop of plums, and if we don't get rain in a few days grapes and cherries will be damaged. J. J. Hamilton-Frost hasn't hurt any-

Contused His Cocon ut. Yesterday afternoon, as a game of ball was in progress at the corner of Twenty-first street and Fifth avenue between the juniors and seniors of the High school, a dirt hauler drove up and took his position at a spot which the players claimed belonged to them. They asked him to move on, and he stubbornly refused to do so. Several epithets with scarlet fringes around the edges passed back and forth, and finally Ed Hutchin-on, one of the juniors, seized a bat and made for the dirt hauler. He got in one blow on the top of the man's head, and then, drop-ping his bat, took to the woods at the rate of several thousand revolutions per minute. As soon as the dirt hauler regained his senses, which were momentarily knocked out of him by the blow, he put chase, dragging along with him about five school boys, who were bent on keeping him from annihilating their comrade. After he had dragged them five feet he succumbed, and was led off from the field. The game has not yet been

Bill to Fund the Railroad Debts De nounced as a Huge Job Backed by Corruption - Huntington and Other Directors Personally Liable.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26,-A big mass meeting was held here last night at which citizens demanded that the Southern Pacific road, which controls most of the street railways of the city, grant a 5-cent fare from the ferry to the ocean. Adolph Sutro, the millionaire philanthropist, who is said to own one-tenth of the entire area of San Francisco, has offered to give his famous Sutro Heights property, overlooking the ocean to the city, for a public park, provided the fare is reduced from 10 cents to 5 cents. Sutro values the property at $1,000,000.

The meeting adopted a long preamble and resolutions relative to the bill now pending in congress to fund the Pacific railroad debts. making those obligations payable in 100 years with interest at 2 per cent. The preamble declares that such legislation would rob the people of the United States and practically amount to a gift of $76,000. 000 to the Central Pacific railway; that un-der the laws of California the individual stockholders at the time the debt was in-curred are personally liable and that the fortunes of C. P. Huntington and C. F. Crocker, he Hopkins and Stanford estates can be nade liable for the indebtedness. The concluding resolutions denounce the bill before ongress as a huge job, backed by a corrup tion fund and designed to release the rail-road companies from their indebtedness, and also call upon congress to investigate the charges of bribery and punish those who may have been found guilty.

F.ndlay, general traffic manager of the Great Northern, was appointed to confer with the Panama railway and Pacific mail steamship officers to find out whether an early settlement of their difficulties was possible, and if not to report what terms the Panama Rallroad company, with its independent line of steamers out of both New York and San Francisco, was willing to make with the transcontinental lines. Mr. Finlay had a conference today with the Panama officials, and after he had obtained a full statement from them he had obtained a full statement from them he called upon C. P. Huntington, president of the Pacific Mail company. The Pacific Mail officials refuse to disclose the result of the conference, but it is understood they assured Mr. Finlay that Mr. Huntington has had their ultimatum for several weeks, and that if the Pacific Mail company complied the southern transcontinental situa-tion could be adjusted at any moment just as satisfactorily as when the subsidy ex-

It is said that if the Pacific Mail com pany does not come to an early agreement to the Panama railway the new association will make a deal with the Panama railway for the operation of its line between New York and San Francisco in harmony with the western association irrespective of the Pacific Mail, and possibly leave the Scuthern Pacific out also. It is reported that the Pacific Mail, after June 15, may continue to run its Atlantic vessels in opposition to the Columbine, which has chartered the steamers of the old Brazilian line, and that there will be the liveliest kind of develop-ments shortly. The successful specialist obtains by the nut of skillful and truthful advertising so large a practice, so great a number of patients, that he is enabled to make the charges in each individual case very low, giving all classes an apportunity to avail themselves of his skill.

Drs. Copeland and Shepard advertise because they can reach a greater number of patients by so doing and by securing this great number of patients they can afford to treat at a nominal rare, which could not otherwise be done. This is the seared of their advertising, and scarcely a town within a radius of 200 miles of this city but has its quota of gractical patients who daily affect to their februar and the public the beneficial results of their resument. "Nebraska has again taken another step in advance of her ster states. Her State Hoard of Health has officially declared that a physician who advertises himself is not guilty of unprofessional conduct. The medical world may not accept as final this approach but it would shown uself if it would submit gracefully to the inevitable. The code of medical ethics has contained nothing more dimey than the altogether senseless provision that a physician who advertised his business was a charlaton and not worthy of the respect of als professional brethren. The time has gone by when a physician's ability is measured entirely by his devotion to medical ethics. A good physician is a good physician whether he advertises himself or not, and all the medical codes in the catalogue cannot change this fact."
