

ARE BEGINNING TO ARRIVE

Some of the Delegates to the Home Missionary Convention Are Here.

LARGE NUMBER COMING TOMORROW

Arrangements for Their Entertainment by the Congregationalists of the City Are About Completed—Prospect of the Meeting.

A number of delegates to the national convention of the Congregational Home Missionary society, which meets in Omaha on Wednesday, have already arrived and are registered at the Millard and several more are expected today.

The local committee has been hard at work and all preliminaries for the entertainment of the convention are about complete. There is no way of estimating the number of those who will be present, but 2,500 are expected.

These for the most part will be New Englanders and residents of the Atlantic states, few of whom may have any while in the city. The only ones for whom the local committee has provided any entertainment are the home missionaries in western Nebraska and the adjoining states.

For these, the first meeting of the society west of New York, is an event of considerable importance. The Home Missionary society has rendered possible the churches and parsonages which have been struggling to build and a special effort will be made by them to meet the generous easterners who have given their encouragement and assistance.

Special invitations have been extended to the delegates and will be welcomed with as much cordiality as the richest banker from New England and entertained at the homes of the Omaha Congregationalists.

Raymond & Whitcomb, the excursion managers, have notified Chairman Payne of the local committee that an excursion of delegates wishing to attend the convention left Boston yesterday and will arrive in Omaha at 1 o'clock tomorrow.

What money necessary for the entertainment of the convention as planned by the general committee has already been raised and all further arrangements will be completed at a meeting of the committee to be held at the rooms of the Commercial club today.

The drive about the city will take place at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the route being from the Millard. The route chosen will take the visitors over the leading streets and through the most interesting portions of the city, north and south, but the committee has been thoughtful enough to so arrange it that none will be tired to attend the meeting to be held at the evening. On the trip a stop will be made at St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church, where the ladies of the congregation will serve suitable refreshments and a social time will be had.

To greet the guests at the depot twenty parties, with appropriate badges, have been selected, who will serve as a welcoming committee and an escort to the church. The parties will be some of the leading Congregationalists of the city and the most interesting there will be twenty of the brightest boys which the committee has been able to select to will guide the visitors to the city and to the hotels which have been selected for them.

Yesterday afternoon the ladies of the churches were engaged in decorating the First Congregational and the First Methodist churches, where the sessions will be held. These same ladies have also agreed to provide in convenient places bowls of lemonade for the refreshment of both speakers and listeners at the various sessions to be held in the church and elsewhere. The work will close, according to program, with an informal reception given by the business men of the city at the Commercial club, and delegates who have been corresponding from New York express themselves as highly pleased with this feature, which is one they have not been accustomed to.

Replies received by the general committee to invitations to those having vehicles to attend the drive indicate that there will be a lengthy procession in line. The list taken by the public generally promises well for the welcome which the visitors will receive.

Excursions to various points have been talked of, but only one so far has been definitely settled. That will be to Tabor, Ia., the seat of Tabor college, and the citizens will provide the train and agree to see that those who go on Saturday afternoon will be back in time for the reception at the Commercial club in the evening.

The drive and the reception in the evening, with a trip to Tabor for some of the delegates and a following of their own sweet will by others, will take up the home, and the previous days the program is as follows: Wednesday—3:30 p. m., annual meeting of the society at the Congregational church, corner Nineteenth and Davenport streets; 8 p. m., annual sermon by Rev. S. E. Herrick, Boston, Mass., at the First Methodist Episcopal church, corner Twentieth and Davenport streets.

Thursday—Forenoon—First Congregational church, 9 to 9:45, devotional meeting; 9:45, address of welcome, by Mr. W. H. Alexander, response by the president, church, C. O. Howard; 10:30, annual survey of the work of the society, by Rev. H. B. Clark, D.D., senior secretary, followed by addresses by Rev. W. H. Moore, secretary of Connecticut Home Aids society, and Rev. Alexander McGregor of Rhode Island Home Mission society.

Opened Registered Mail. Postal Clerk Flynn Arrested on Clews Worked by Three Inspectors.

Walter H. Flynn, a railway postal clerk, was arrested by government officials in Lincoln Saturday night on the charge of opening registered letters and stealing their contents. For some time the postoffice authorities had been on the trail of the thief, but were unable to secure any clew. Inspectors from the Denver, Montana and St. Louis divisions went to work, and all their clews led them to Lincoln, where Flynn was arrested.

Indictments were returned yesterday in the federal court against Carrie Hart of this city, charging her with passing and having in her possession counterfeit money. Carrie was arraigned before Judge Dundy and pleaded not guilty.

The grand jury returned a true bill against N. T. Gadd, a former employe of the land office at Broken Bow, who is charged with embezzling about $2,500 of the government funds. His friends made good the shortage, but the government officials thought that as Gadd should not be acquitted and they gave the facts in the case to the grand jury with the above result. Gadd entered a plea of not guilty and his case was placed on the docket for trial.

The jury in the case of George Sterling, who is charged with burglarizing the North Platte postoffice, received its instructions from Judge Dundy in the federal court yesterday afternoon, and after being out about fifteen minutes returned a verdict of guilty. The longest sentence given was for a year, but there was such a strong case made out against him that he will probably receive a lighter sentence. It is alleged by the officers who worked up the evidence against the accused that this is not the first job Sterling has done of this character.

It is in the private office of the chief of detectives of a western city. A mysterious murder has been committed and Officers Sleuth, Sneak and Tracem have been detailed to "work on the case," says the Clevelandian. It is alleged by the officers who worked up the evidence against the accused that this is not the first job Sterling has done of this character.

Chief-Officer Sleuth, what success have you to report? "But partial success, captain."

"Yes, sir. The body was found with two bullet holes through the back. There was no weapon about the body and the house was ransacked."

"There can be no mistake about this, Officer Sleuth?" "None whatever, captain. It is quite plain a murder has been committed."

Chief-Officer Sneak, what success have you to report? "The Sleuth-Officer Tracem and I worked together, while Lieutenant Sleuth went in-side."

"How long was this after the body was found?" "Supposed to be about seven hours, sir. As the lieutenant went inside we walked these stairs carefully around the house; we took accurate measurements of the woodshed door and noted the color of the paint on the gate post and gathered such other clues as we thought might be useful at the trial."

"And did you see no suspicious persons?" "Made one arrest, sir—a boy fully 11 years old having bloody hands."

"Was he run in?" "No; I held the nippers on him till Sleuth and Tracem got him handcuffed, when—"

"When he convinced us that he had been carrying a 5-cent soap bone home to his grandmother, and that's how the blood got on his hands."

"Any more arrests?" "Yes, sir—just as we were measuring the chimney to determine if the murderer could have escaped that way we noticed a boy who wore a white muslin shirt."

DECIDES ON INVESTIGATION

Police Commissioners Will Shift Charges Against City Detective Force.

INQUIRY TO COMMENCE THIS EVENING

Conduct of Officers at Coliseum Will Also Come Under Scrutiny—Seavey Recommends Abolition of Position of Chief Detective—Coburn's Complaint.

An investigation of the charges made by The Bee against the police detective department and of the conduct of the officers left at the Coliseum after the Thurston Rifles' flag presentation on Monday night of last week was resolved on by the fire and police commissioners at the meeting of the board last night. Commissioner Smith introduced the resolution, and the investigation will begin tonight.

The first feature of the session was a reading of charges against Sergeant Shoop, made by Chief Seavey, who stated that the sergeant disobeyed and neglected his duties on the night of May 28, when Shoop was in charge of a detail of eight policemen which had been assigned to duty at the Coliseum on that night. The chief ordered Shoop to take a sufficient number of men to the Coliseum to maintain order there while the program arranged for the presentation of the flag to the Rifles took place. Shoop did this, but he also detailed four of the men to investigate the charges made in The Bee against the detective department at their special meeting last evening, and ask him to cooperate in the investigation of evidence against certain members of the department against whom charges have been made.

Commissioner Coburn, Strickler and Hartman were appointed as a committee to wait upon the editor of The Bee and inform him that the charges against the detective department made in The Bee against the detective department at their special meeting last evening, and ask him to cooperate in the investigation of evidence against certain members of the department against whom charges have been made.

The chief called attention to the scandal created by the conduct of both guards and officers. These officers made a written statement of the charges against Officers Arnold, Clark, Brady and Dwyer. Each of them denied that he drank anything while on duty at the Coliseum, but acknowledged that he was on duty there a considerable quantity of beer in the dressing rooms of the building. All heard the guards shooting blank cartridges, but said that they did not place the rifles in the hands of the police. The policemen said that if liquor was drunk it was by the members of the militia company and not by them.

Commissioner Strickler demanded to know what the special committee, composed of Mr. Coburn and Chief Seavey, appointed to investigate the charges against the detective department by The Bee had done or if it had any report to make. Commissioner Coburn said that he declined to act any further on this committee and he did not propose to make any individual investigation into these charges as he considered it a matter which concerned the whole board and thought that the board should investigate at once.

Then Chief Seavey recommended that the officers of the detective department be investigated and that Chief Haze be made a sergeant on the police force. The chief also recommended that several officers whom he did not publicly name be removed from the force on the ground of general incompetency, as they were not good officers and never would amount to anything as policemen. He suggested that the commissioners take up the matter and inquire into the qualifications of these men. All these matters were deferred for consideration until the board went into executive session on Monday morning, when the matter will be taken up.

Mounted Officer Haze and Fireman McGuire and Gacalman were granted ten days leave of absence. The council requested the board to request the police department to act in co-operation with the board in having pressing nuisances and enforcing the health ordinances.

George E. Ford, a special policeman at Hayden Bros. store, resigned. Police Judge Berka called the attention of the commissioners to section 147 of the city charter, relating to the duty of the chief of police or his deputies, where prisoners are charged with bailable offenses, and to the order of the chief requiring the payment of the special detainer ball from any prisoner. This causes the friends of prisoners to get the judge up at all hours of the night to get him to release these persons.

Officer Mitchell submitted a communication complaining to the board that the city prosecutor would not cooperate with him in enforcing the city ordinance against the Kelly for building a wooden sidewalk at the corner of Thirteenth and Chicago streets. The matter was referred to the mayor.

Commissioner Coburn declined to approve a livery bill for $5 incurred by Chief Haze in trying to remove a man named Noland, who escaped from the detective while he was asleep at South Omaha on his way to this city. Haze said in his communication that Chief Haze had incurred through his own carelessness. Commissioner Smith said he was not in favor of allowing any more detainers to be incurred through his own carelessness.

Strickler and Smith of the finance committee recommended that Chief Seavey be allowed $50 per month for special detective work, such as securing evidence against gamblers and lottery dealers.

Commissioner Coburn, who is also a member of this committee, made an unfavorable report in the matter and said that he would vote against any such appropriation, not only because he was of the opinion that they had no authority for such an act, but he thought that the money could be better expended. He was quite certain that the chief wanted no more detainers such as occurred yesterday, when an officer, whose name he would not give, committed a most outrageous and entirely uncalled for act. His officer said a case of beer delivered at the house of one of the most respectable and worthy families in Omaha yesterday afternoon. The commissioner said he was not certain whether the officer saw the case of beer delivered or just heard of it, but at any rate this fellow went up to the house of the lady of the house and demanded that she show him her marriage license. The woman was overcome with mortification, and the commissioner said that he would not have been surprised, after learning of the matter, if the officer had arrested the woman when she refused to show the license.

On the request of Strickler the committee awarded the highest honors worth $100 to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

JUST WHY HE DOES IT.

The Latest Utterance of Modern Science on the Twin Question of Digestion and Disease.

Why does the doctor look at your tongue? Because the condition and color of the tongue is one of the indications of the state of the stomach. Because ninety-nine out of one hundred complaints are simply results (and you are symptoms) of a disordered digestion. Before treating you the doctor must know what the stomach has to say.

Being a pre-digested food (exactly what was needed) it solves the problem and leaves nature to repair her own machinery. Just see what Paskola has done for others: WESTON, N. J., March 4, 1894.—The Pre-Digested Food Co., 30 Reade St., New York: Gentlemen: I have commenced upon my third bottle of Paskola today. Permit me to say that it is simply wonderful; not only are its effects at once realized when suffering from dyspepsia, indigestion, faint stomach and similar affections, but upon the general system it produces a new life immediately without having to wait a week or two to realize a slight improvement in oneself.

Physicians and general practitioners, and have never experienced in their costly treatment what I am now undergoing. Accept this as my heartfelt acknowledgment and truthful estimation of the greatest discovery of this enlightened age. Sincerely and respectfully, MRS. R. P. CASH.

WEVERTOWN, N. Y., May 7, 1894.—The Pre-Digested Food Co., 30 Reade St., New York: Gentlemen: I feel it my duty to write and tell the public what Paskola has done for me. Three years ago I was taken sick. I tried all kinds of medicine, but it did me no good, when at last I called a physician, who told me that I had dyspepsia in its worst form and there was no hope for me.

At last I thought I would try Paskola, and have taken two 50-cent bottles. My stomach will now hold food now. When I commenced taking Paskola, I could eat only one tablespoonful of meat made in a gruel, now I can eat almost anything I want, and I thank God I have found a cure at last. Yours truly, MRS. EMILINE MORAN.

Paskola may be obtained of any reputable druggist. A pamphlet on food and digestion will be mailed free on application to The Pre-Digested Food Co., 30 Reade St., New York.
