

SENATOR QUAY IS EMPHATIC

He Gets Pretty Warm Over a Newspaper Story Concerning Him.

CALLS IT A PURE FABRICATION

Editor Progress Made on the Tariff Bill Yesterday for Several Weeks—Three Entire Schedules Disposed of and the Wool Schedule Comes Next.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The senate today commenced the eleventh week of the tariff debate. At the opening of the session Mr. Morrill was granted the privilege of addressing the senate for a few minutes in support of his amendment to the naval appropriation bill...

Mr. Quay then created a slight diversion by rising to a question of privilege and sending to the clerk's desk what he characterized as "A lying statement for which Senator Chandler is given as authority."

Mr. Quay made a personal explanation after the clerk had read the article. The statements contained in it, he said, are those of certain citizens of Philadelphia, of whom Thomas Dolan was one...

Mr. Chandler made a statement when Mr. Quay took his seat to the effect that he had made about this matter in his newspaper because the article was a fabrication...

Mr. Chandler made a statement when Mr. Quay took his seat to the effect that he had made about this matter in his newspaper because the article was a fabrication...

Mr. Quay suggested with a broad smile that this newspaper fabrication be referred to a "special committee" of which Mr. Gray was chairman...

The tariff bill was then taken up. The agricultural schedule was completed on Saturday, and a wool schedule, including wine and other beverages, was under consideration...

Under an agreement reached just before adjournment, the wool schedule was considered under the five-minute rule.

Mr. Allison's amendment to increase the rate on brandy and other spirits distilled with water from $1.50 per gallon to the $2.50, the present rate, was first taken up.

Mr. Sherman and Mr. Allison supported the amendment and Mr. Jones opposed it. The wool and wine schedules were adopted, practically without change from the compromise plan...

The cotton schedule was completed at 2 o'clock and Senator Dolph protested against the unseemly haste. Flax, jute and hemlock were taken up and the wool schedule was adopted...

Senator Dolph gave notice of an amendment providing for a duty of 40 per cent ad valorem on wool, including wool on the skin, wools, wools in rags, combed wool, and also including the hair of the camel, goat or alpaca...

Tomorrow the woolen schedule will be taken up. Mr. Quay gave notice just before adjournment at 5:50 that he would, when his schedule was reached tomorrow, resume the speech he was delivering four months ago.

No Quorum in the House.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—There was an air of languid listlessness apparent in the house today and it was evident that the members were not in working humor.

Mr. Heard, chairman of the committee on the District of Columbia, but while several bills were considered, no action was reached on any on account of a lack of a quorum.

GEARY'S OPINION OF STANFORD.

California Representative Expresses a Very Unfavorable One to a Committee.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Before the house committee on Pacific railroads today Representative Geary argued strongly that the act creating the Central Pacific road contemplated that the government should take possession if there was default in payments.

Proceedings against individual stockholders' estates he considered useless and doubtful of success.

Heretofore the company never had been in a position to proceed against dishonest directors, but if the government took possession it might reach back to the time when all money diverted through construction companies or otherwise, returning it to the public treasury.

"I don't know," said Mr. Geary, "why we should put poor old Coxe, who trod on three or four blades of grass, in jail, and let go another criminal, because he committed a crime of his offense, who fleeces hundreds of millions, and defrauds him because in his last moments he created with his money and the people's money a university."

"We of California," Mr. Geary continued, "are proud of that university, but ashamed of the motives that built it. We know that it was erected from meanness and revenge, to destroy another university because of the hatred that refused to make the founder a trustee. Would you wink at a crime through which that institution was erected? No respect for any man, dead or alive, should blind us into leaving monuments to criminals that should be monuments to the people."

"Would you have the government control this railroad or all railroads?" inquired a member.

"This railroad first, all railroads afterwards," replied Mr. Geary.

Representative McGuire stated he was opposed to any funding measure providing for an extension of the period for the payment of the Pacific debts.

Education Made a Bad Man.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Delegate Mark Smith of Arizona will make an effort to have the appropriation for the Carlisle Indian school struck from the Indian bill. Mr. Smith says the education of Indians at Carlisle, Hampton and other eastern institutions has done more harm than good. His observation in the western country has shown him that the modern graduates of these schools consider themselves superior to their Indian associates and turn their attention to miners and disolute men of the Indian country, to the destruction of the morals and decency of the Indian girls. The male graduates are also said to have had their vicious traits sharpened, so that they are a more dangerous class than their unlettered brothers. Mr. Smith's criticisms are confined to the eastern schools, where the pupils are removed from their families and friends.
