Chief Scanlan Succeeds in Precipitating a Drouth in a New Direction.

DRYEST DAY HAD FOR MANY YEARS

Saloons Closed Tight All Day and Only Missouri Water Furnished to the Thirsty Ones-Some Novel Screen Schemes Sprung.

Chief Scanlan, who has been taking turns with Marshal Canning for the past couple of weeks in making life miserable for the unloon keepers, played out of his turn yesterday, and as a result there were some people who suffered from the drouth as they had not since the war. Every saloon keeper was notified that he would be allowed to keep open just one hour in the morning in order to clean up his place, but after 8 o'clock every door must be kept bermetically sealed. And the rule was observed as well as could be expected. A few drinks were soid on the mly, but for the most part the proprietors of the places seemed inclined to do as they were bidden, at least unless they were sure of not being found out. The order before the last one, however, is being openly disregarded by the saloonists, and the belief prevails that it will be allowed to drop into disuse as soon as the mayor thinks it can be done gracefully. That is the order requiring all screens to be taken down. Some of the saloons have put back their screens in the same position as they of them are still compelled to have their cusomers exposed to the public gaze while in

An amusing story is told of one saloon keeper and his landlord, and the "quarrel" between them which led to the acreens being put back in place. Fearing that the enforce nt of the law would result in the place having to close for want of patronage, the ceedings to enjoin his tenant from removing the screens, elleging that the screens wern part of the building, and if torn down the building would be irretrievably injured. The saloon keeper, it is said, not only obeyed the order requiring him to abstain from tearing down any more of the screens than he had already done, but he even went so far as to put back what had already been

Some of the saloon men claim to have been told by persons in whom they have the greatest confidence to go on and put back their screens and they will stand the consequences. There is a great feeling throughof the law, and it is believed that the warfare between the city authorities and the saloon men, backed by the business men, may yet present some interesting features

OBJECT TO HAZEN'S METHODS.

Citizens Somewhat Surprised at the Liberty

Given the Sheriff's "Trusties." A rather unique state of affairs prevails a the county jail just now. Bob Scott, who is serving out a sentence for stealing a lot of household art cles from a disreputable house on Pierce street, has been given charge of the keys, and during the greater part of the day he practically has full control of the movements of the prisoners. Sheriff Hazen is either at his office or about some business that takes him away from the jail much of the time, and be has no deputy to look after the prisoners. When any prisoner is to be turned in or out Scott acts as deputy.

Just who is responsible for this state of affairs it is hard to find out. The Board of Supervisors allows the sheriff enough depu-If it has been stingy in its minner of deal-ing out county funds in the sheriff's depart-ment there is a feeling that it should meet with a change of heart at once and do works meet for repentance, in order that the citi-zens of Council Bluffs need not fear the rather unpleasant experience of having twenty-nine prisoners, some of them desperate characters, turned out among them.

Sheriff Hazen, when questioned about the matter yesterday, stated that Scott was a trusty, which, in the disject of the county jeil, means that the sheriff has shough confidence in him to believe that he will not run away if he gets a chance. There are a number of thieves and blacklegs now confined in the county jail at night, but during the day are allowed to wander at will about the jall yard and almost any place else in the vicinity, for they come under the head of "trusties." Some of them are now under indictment by the grand jury and others are waiting a trial for various crimes. Within the past few months complaints have been made to The Bee by people living near the court house, or whose business takes them there sometimes, on account of the free and easy way in which Sheriff Hazen's prisoners loaf about their premises, entertain their hired girls, and do other pleasant little things. The matter will probably be brought up at the bext meeting of the supervisors, who will be asked to make some rules for the conduct of the jail.

Against Law-Defying.

Prof. Augir of Des Moines was in the city yesterday, and in the evening met with the nembers of the various young people's societies of the churches, in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church, for the purpose of making a talk upon the subject of the duty of the members of such societies to government. His talk was a remarkably strong one, dealing with the abuses that are so prevalent in local governments. He de-nounced the disregard of law by the people, and gave it as his opinion that the responsibility for this disregard lay with the city governments in large part by reason of their neglect to enforce the law. He spoke of the action of the mayors of many large cities in nullifying the laws against Sabbath breaking and drunkenness in particular when large political or other conventions were in session and the young people were exhorted put themselves on the side of the law

Word was sent to the police headquarters resterday morning from a man named Jones, who lives on North Eighth street in the vicinity of the brick yards, to have the patrol wagon sent to his house after a child that had been left there. Early in the morning a back drove up to the door and a woman alighted with a babe in her arms. She left the babe with the man of the house, much against his will, and immediately re-entered the hack and drove back to town. The woman, it was afterwards learned, was one Mary Christenson, who will be remembered by readers of The Bee as having been plaintiff in a damage suit against Oswald Peterson in which she demanded judgment by reason of Peterson being responsible for her being a mother. She was working for Jones as housekeeper about a year ago. She was summoned to the police station and put through a course of questioning, as the statutes make it a penitentiary offense for a parent to abandon a child. She took the wind out of the sails of the authorities lowever, by protesting that Jones was the father of the child and as such would have to take care of it. Jones violently protested against this and the child was taken to the Christian home. The child was just a week old, having been born at St. Bernard's

POSTOFFICE NOMENCLATURE.

Some Odd Names and How Some of Them Were Adopted. Postmaster General Bizzell has undertaken a reform. He wants short names for new postedices. Some of Mr. Bissell's prede-cessors attempted reforms in the direction of postoffice nomediature with rather curious results. When the residents of a new town in Missouri sent in their application for postoffice several years ago, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, the name they suggested was not satisfactory to the depart-ment for some reason.

"Select another name," wrote the poststanding within earshot when I was dealing master general; "something not so common, out my roast to the operator. He walked up, and, tapping me gently on the shoulder, "All right," the applicants replied, "call it "Peculiar." And the mail has has gone remarked. What will you take to sell your engine to the company? I hever made a to Peculiar, Cass county, Mo., ever since.

If Mr. Bissell doesn't have a run on "Short" offices during the coming months it will be because the American town from which I started I ditched the engine and ien but cars. I don't know whether or not Mr. Depew thought that the sense of humor is temporarily short. There are already three Shorts in the United States. There are a Short Beach and a Shortburgh, four Short Creeks, one Shorter and a Shortville. Then we have Short Falls. and a Shortville. Then we have Short Palls, Short Hills, Shortly, Short Mountain and could make as much money without my name being on the pay roll. Mr. Depew is still with the New York Central." Short Off. North Carolina contributes the last mentioned. But variety in short combinations is not exhausted. Claims have been allowed on a Short's Creek, two Shorts villes, a Short Tract and a Shortville.

Mr. Bissell says one-syllable names will be preferred hereafter. The Postoffice department has accumulated quite a collection of monosyllabic offices. It has two Arks, eighteen Baths, five plain Bays, with numerous combinations like Bay City, Bay Center and the like, seven Bells, two Balls and two Ball Plays. Indiana has a town named B; it is in Tippecance county, hessee has named a postoffice A B C. hundred and twenty combinations have been made with big, ranging from Big Bar to Big Woods, with such originality shown as Big Bug in Arizona and Big Patch in Wisconsin. Eleven Bissells leave no room for further honors to the postmaster general. Ten Bellefontaines are spelled in almost as many different ways. The Tonnessoeans seem to be fertile in the selection of unique names. They have got a Y Z postoffice, a Yum Yum, an lpe, only one Jackson, strange to tell, a Let, an Al. an Andy, a Ben, a Bob, a Boy, a Bud, a Cute, an Ego, a Gabe, a Gath, a Ho, a Ken a Loo, a Nancy, a Notime, a Number One, a Seg. a Sill, a Tang, a Tut, two Whige, a Zach Missouri runs somewhat to synonyms. She has a Peculiar and the next thing to it, an She has a Freedom and a Libertyville. Missouri has her share of homely names of postoffices, such as Pulltight, Dutchtown, Dudenville, Jimtown, Drynch, Ebenezer, Combinations with Lone seem to be popular in that state.
