MONEY FOR MOSHER'S VICTIMS

Examiner Thorne Finds the Wrecked Concern Retten to the Core.

Action Commenced by the Receiver in Cir cuit Court Against Stockholders to Recover a Quarter of a Million of Uncarned Dividends.

SUIT TO ADD TO THE ASSETS OF THE BANK

Receiver K. K. Hayden of the wrecked Capital National bank of Lincoln has filed with the clark of the United States district court of this city one of the biggest suits in the history of national banks in Ne brasks, and if he is successful the sum of $253,000 will be added to the assets of the wrecked bank to be used in paying depositors and creditors.

The suit is an action against resident stockholders of the defunct bank to recover $213,708 of unearned dividends paid during the existence of the institution. Similar suits will be commenced against non-resident stockholders living in the states of Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Vermont, New York, New Hampshire and Texas, the aggregate amount sought to be recovered being $253,009.

This action is the result of work accom-plished by Gilbert G. Thorne of St. Paul. the national bank examiner who went to Lincoln a month or two since to institute an examination of the bank's affairs at the direct tion of Comptroller Eckels. Mr. Thorne has worked unceasingly since his arrival, being assisted by J. H. Linges, and as a result of the research suit was commenced terday in the circuit court at Omaha. This is the first step taken since the investigation began, but as the examination is not finished the final result cannot be predicted. Comptroller Eckels issued orders for a most searching investigation and those who are familiar with the case say his instructions are being carried out to the letter. In substance the petition of the received charges that dividends have been declared regularly every six months since the orzation of the bank as a national bank in 1884, when in fact there were no net earnings. These dividends, as they were paid from time to time ranging from 4 to 3 per cent, impaired the capital stock, but the practice was continued up to the end of the half year ending June 30, 1892. The sxaminer's investigation shows that losses were heavy from the organization of the bank and that it has been insolvent since

The dividends which are declared illegal were made by the directors, C. W. Mosher, R. C. Outcalt, D. E. Thompson, A. P. S. Stuart, C. E. Yates, E. P. Hamer, R. O. Phillips and W. W. Holmes, the latter deceased. The officers of the bank, whose ceased. The officers of the bank, whose duty it was to cast up and state the amount payable to shareholders, are also implicated in the charges.

The law does not permit a dividend until all losses are charged off and a certain percentage of earnings placed to the credit of the surplus account, and until the sur-plus shall have amounted to 20 per cent of the capital stock. The report has been current that one of the officers of the bank frequently asserted that the Capital Na-tional bank never sustained any losses. The examination shows the contrary.

Kent K. Hayden, receiver of the Capital National bank of Lincoln, brings the suit against the following resident stockholders of the bank: David E. Thompson, Henry E. Lewis, Mrs. J. E. Baum, V. O. English, Miss Furst, Henry Gerner, Ellis P. Emma K. Holmes, administratrix estate of William W. Holmes, of the estate of William W. Holmes, deceased; Charles L. Hall, Charles H. Hammond, John W. Latham, Elizabeth J. McConniff, executrix of the estate of John McConniff, deceased; Charles W. Mosher, Robert E. Moore, Richard C. Outcalt, Mrs. Eliza A. Polk, Rolla O. Phillips, Mrs. Mary J. Phillips, Ambrose P. S. Stuart, Callen Thompson, Homan J. Walsh, Clara Wheeler, Mrs. Charles E. Yates. Mrs. Sarah C. Weeks, Charles E. Yates, Jehial K. Honeywell, Charles W. Mosher and Richard C. Outcalt, copartners in the firm name and style of Mosher & Outcalt; Wil-liam H. McCreary and Hudson I. Winnelt, who are made respondents in the suit.

The petition of Receiver Hayden takes up the first dividend paid for the half year ending December 31, 1884, and every suc-cessive dividend for each aix months up to and inculding the dividend declared for the half year ending June 30, 1892, charging that the board of directors declared the dividends unlawfully, fraudulently and with intent to further impair the capital and defraud the bank and its creditors.

RECEIVER FOR MR. MARTIN.

Holders of Judgments Anxious to Get Hold of Their Money.

The skillful property manipulations by virtue of which numerous judgments agains M. F. Martin bave remained unsatisfied form the text of a voluminous petition which was filed in district court yesterday. The plaintiffs are Louis Bradford, T. J. Beard & Bro., Robert H. Henry, as executor for the estate of Andrew Henry, deceased, and Mrs. Annette C. Carter, each of whom, according to the petition, have obtained judg-ments in court against the defendant. The combined judgments aggregate nearly $20,000, and the petitioners have gone into court to obtain the appointment of a receiver to take charge of the property of the defendant and dispose of it to satisfy their claims. They also ask for an injunction prohibiting Martin from conveying or in any way interfering with the property menioned until these claims are satisfied.

Mattie Martin and the Riverside Investment company are included as parties to the suit, and the plaintiffs represent that Martin has conveyed all his property to various third persons, who have in turn conveyed it back to Mattie Martin. This, it is claimed was done without consideration, and for the purpose of preventing the plaintiffs from objudgments. The various property held and the defendant is length and the court is asked to rule all the leases and conveyances by which this property was conveyed to other persons and then back to Mrs. Martin be set aside as vold, and the title of the property declared to remain in M. F. Martin.

The arguments were chiefly confined to the legal aspect of the proposition and after the attorneys had concluded the court took the case under advisement until Monday. The counsel for Pardee maintained that they had a right to compel the council to act on the bond which they submitted on March 2 in accordance with the demand of the council, and cited numerous decisions bearing on the rights of private parties to have their bonds acted on promptly by municipal corpor

City Attorney Connell represented the city, and Hascall, Wheeler and Sanders of the council were on hand to advise him. Con-nell took the ground that the court had no right to interfere in the functions of the city government, that the bond offered by Pardee & Co. was not substantial, and that said Pardee & Co. had no legal standing, and that the council had simply acted in the interests of the city by refusing to enter into contracts with Pardee & Co. and readvertising for bids.

FIGHTING JUDGE LANSING

Lancaster County Populists Opposed to the Lircoln Jurist.

SECRET OF THEIR PRESENT HOSTILITY

Not Satisfied with the Conduct of the Gentleman While Serving the People in the Capacity of a County Officer.

LINCOLN, July 7 .- (Special to The Bee.)-A sensational feature of the call for the populiat county convention is the provision for a fight against Judge Lansing. The convention will meet at Bohanon's hall August 1. Among the objects enumerated in the call is the nomination of a candidate for county judge. Judge Lansing, the present county judge, was elected last fall to serve a term of two years. The intention of the populists to nominate a candidate for that office this fall is based upon a fight the committee has decided to make, on the ground that he did not file his bond within the time allowed by law, and that there is therefore a vacancy existing in the office. They also accuse him of a failure to account for

The matter was thoroughly threshed over during the consideration of Judge Lansing's bond by the county commissioners. The Capital National bank was at the time of its failure designated the depository of the county funds. One of the most interesting features of Friday's program was Dr. Duryea's lecture on Roman history, the text yesterday being "The Empire, Time of Its Advent." The learned doctor, amongst other good points, made the best one when he said: "Government is as good as its people and its rep-resentatives and can be no better. It is as bad as its people and its representatives and no worse." He also said that toward the latter part of the history of Rome all the land belonged to less than 2,000 people. The

Dr. Holmes gave his second lecture, "Criminals, Defective and Delinquent," yesterday afternoon.
