Condition of Cedar El ck Paving is Attracting Much Public Attention.

SOMETHING MUST BE DONE TO SAVE IT

Repairs Made So Far Have Availed but Little - Suggested that the City's Sandbank Be Used in Filling the Unsightly Holes.

Much dissatisfaction is raised over the condition of the streets paved with cedar blocks. Many, such as Bryant, North Second and Pearl and some of the alleys, like the one running past the city building from Bryant to North Main, are in such condition as to be almost impassable for teams. Another year or two, at most, will finish the work of destruction, and the streets will have to be repayed or become unfit for travel. Just what should be done is a question that is perplexing some of the officials considerably. Much of this paving that is so badly worn has not yet been paid for and the property owners might reasonably be expected to object strenuously to being compelled to pay for two sets of paving at the same time. In some cases the holes have been stuffed up with brick, but this lasts only a short time, and the second state of that street is worse than the first. It is suggested by some that the first, It is suggested by some that the sand bank, which lies north of the city and which the city numbers among its possessions, might be used to good advantage in patching the pavements. Much of this bank is said to be gravel of the best quality, and in lieu of any better paving material the streets could be patched with it so as to last a couple of years more at the expense of merely hauling the gravel to the city and of merely hauling the gravel to the city and paying the men to put it in place. It is very likely that unless the council gets action soon and devises some way of dispos-ing of the difficulty the property owners will raise such a roar that the city government will be compelled to take the matter in hand.

TALKED ABOUT CITY LIGHTING.

Aldermen Looking Around for the Suc cessor to the Connell Eluffs Gas Company. At a special meeting of the city council last evening, at which the mayor and all the members of the council were present, the matter of letting a contract for lighting the city came up for consideration. The contract with the Council Bluffs Gas and Electric Light company expires next fall, and it will be remembered that an agitation was begun several months ago for the purpose of driving that company out of the field, or compelling it to reduce its tolls, it being claimed that the latter were exorbitant. At that time a special committee of the council was appointed and instructed to look into the sub-

Alderman Nicholson, chairman of the committee, reported last evening that he had heard from a light expert who wanted the job of making a survey of the city and drawjob of making a survey of the city and drawing a diagram of the lights, to be used in preparing specifications. It might take him three or four days, and he wanted the modest little salary of $25 a day. Nicholson favored letting him have the job, but Keller, Rishton and some of the rest opposed it on the ground that the city engineer could do the work little salary and will without observing available. work just as well without charging anything for it. After a long discussion it was de-cided to add the city engineer and electrician to the committee and let them make the diagram were awarded. The city engineer reported that J. M. Hardin was the lowest bidder on three and four-foot plank sidewalk, and he was given the contract. The council got into a peck of trouble when the matter of six-foot brick sidewalk came up. The two fowest bidders were J. M. Hardin and a man named Bolin, whom nobody seemed to know and who was represented by E. A. Wickham. Hardin's bid was 33½ cents for cash and 34.49 cents for certificates, while Bolin's read 37 for cash and 34 for certificates. Wickham, however, stated that Bolin's bid was erroneous; that the prices for cash and certificates should have been just re-versed. He was willing to let them stand, however, so that he was the lowest bidder on certificates. Then, as it was always in order for the lowest bidder to underbid himself, he made a verbal agreement that he would do the work for 33 cents cash, thus underbidding Hardin on both. This was a kind of scheme that a previous council had refused to allow, but after a long-winded discussion, in which it was first decided to reject all bids, and the decision was after-wards reversed on Wickham's request, Bolin was given the contract. A man named Con-nor was the lowest bidder on artificial stone sidewalk, and was given the contract at $1.08 for certificates and $1.06 cash. The contract for grading Frank street was twarded to Isaac Doty. With regard to grading Twelfth and Thirteenth avenues, the city engineer stated that as the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway company had the exclusive franchise on those avenues he was in some doubt as to whether the city

These three gentlemen com-The wind storm that visited the city during the Grand Army encampment and blew down the Manawa pavilion did a great deal of damage at the school, much more than has ever before been made public, through the great dread of Manager Rothert of seeing his name in print. Fully one-quarter of the t'n roof of the boy's building was torn off. Four chimneys on the main building were blown down, and the heavy masonry broke through the slate roof, rafters, and all, snapping off a timber 12x4 inches in size, and depositing the debr.s on the floor of the hospital room below. One chimney on the industrial school building was treated likewise, and all the slate roof was blown off the chapel. The entire damage is estimated at $2,000, which would make a large hole in the appropriation. The trustees accordingly decided to go to Des Moines on the 24th and see if some arrangements could not be made whereby the repairs could be paid in some other way.

Among the improvements contemplated, and upon which work is to be commenced at once, are a $2,000 cold storage warehouse, bakery, cooking school and gymnasium, the latter three being in separate buildings and to cost about $5,000.
