IMPORTANT WITNESS DISAPPEARS.

Man Who Knows All About the Sugar Speculation Cannot Be Found.

WASHINGTON, July 24.-Edward O. Levy, a New York broker and employe of Wheeler & Co. of New York, was before the senate Sugar trust investigating committee today. While not a member of the firm of Wheeler & Co., he acts as a personal representative of Mr. Guillardeau of that firm in his absence and it is understood that his testimony substantiated that given by Mr. Guillardeau when before the com-mittee and that it related to an order for Sugar stocks alleged to have been given by Senator Camden. The committee still refuses to give out the testimony, but the members unite in saying that the testimony is important and that if they are able to complete it on the lines which they are following the result will be either to fasten the charges or bring them to a point where their falsity can be established.

The chain, however, will be incomplete so long as the committee fails to find one witness for whom search is making. This witness is said to be Samuel Battershall, who formerly represented the New York firm of Seymour, Young & Co. in this city Witnesses who have so far been examined have named Battershall as the man who at one time had in his possession orders from senators for the purchase of Sugar stocks. The committee regard the disappearance of the witness wanted at this time as sig-nificant. His absence is also delaying the final consummation of the committee's Senator Camden was today asked if he desired to make any statement concerning the reports in the newspapers to the effect that the testimony had involved his name in Sugar speculation. He replied that he did not desire to say anything at present, but will defer any statement he had to make until he could have an opportunity to see the testimony.

Many rumors were reported from the committee to the effect that they were on the trail of important discoveries. Members of the committee would not deny these rumor and some acknowledged that they consider the recent developments as of importance and said the fact that the proceedings had not been made public gave them clues that they might not have been able to obtain It is acknowledged that Batter shall is the missing witness that is so much desired, and the lines of the new evi will be determined more definitely when he is found.

One of the persistent rumors that were in circulation was that the committee had obtained a copy of an alleged order for Sugar stocks signed by a senator and that this order purported to have been given before the senator testified before the comee that he had no dealings in Sugar. This was repeated to a member of the com mittee who said he had no way of telling how such information got out of the com-mittee, and that all he could say was that testimony had been discovered which will call for a great deal of explanation and further that it would be unfair to the ac cuaed to publish any testimony until he has an opportunity of making a defense. The mitteemen further asserted that it was a very unsavory affair all around.

CITED THE ANTI-TRUST LAW.

District Attorney Milchrist's Response to the Defense of Debs.

CHICAGO, July 24 .- During the proceed ings in the trial of President Debs and his associates for contempt today District Attorney Milchrist called the attention of the court to the act of 1890 known as the antitrust law. He read some of its provisions stating that if two or more perions conspired to obstruct interper ons conspired to obstruct inter-state commerce they shall be deemen guilty of an offense against the government guilty of all onches against in the United States circuit court in equity. The district attorney said that under this law the argument of the defense that the bill under which the injunction was issued is yoid fails to the ground. The bill was filed under the act of 1890. There is a doubt, Mr. Milchrist said, that the govern There is no ment has such a pecuniary interest in in-terstate commerce that it has a right to file such a bill. The government maintains itself in part by the revenue derived from the postal service. The greater part of today's session was taken up with the argument of Attorney Erwin of the defense. Mr. Erwin was fre-quently interrupted by Judge Woods, who questioned the attorney closely. Judge Woods was particularly inquisitive regarding the advisory character of the A. R. U. offcers' duties.

"If the officers could not order a strike but could advise the organizations' bers," asked the judge, "why could not th former advise the men to desist after the strike was in force?"

Attorney Erwin replied that the govern-ment's complaint contained nothing regarding advice, but simply charged the defend ants with ordering strikes.

"If the government meant advice instead order," said the attorney, "it should have id so. Our answer fully covers the case of order," said so. as stated by the prosecution." Attorney Bancroft, attorney for the Santa Fe railroad, followed Mr. Erwin. He at tacked the answer of the defendants, claim-ing it was insufficient. His argument was definitions of the various kinds of contempt, both in law and in equity. Mr. Cetting concluded for the defense, after which Judge Woods gave the decision, refusing to dis-charge the defendants.
