ASKING FOR ARBITRATION

Facking House Strikers Want Wages Question Referred to Third Pa ties.

Question of Grievances at Other Cities Dropped-More New Men Put to Work - Laborers in a Bad Plight-A Quiet Sunday.

Late last evening the strikers made the arst concessions yet given out. At a meeting of the executive committee the following was drawn up and turned over to the press

Resolved, By the executive committee of the South Omaha packing house employes, that we will go to work immediately upon the four companies' agreeing to the following: The men all to be taken back to work as usual.

The question of wages to be submitted to arbitration, as follows:
Each packing company to choose three arbitrators to confer with a like number chosen by the employes. The six so chosen to choose a seventh, and in each of the four packing houses the question of wages to be left to the arbitration committee so chosen.

chosen.

The findings of this arbitration committee to be binding for one year.

We respectfully request an answer before Tuesday, August 7, 1894.

This proposition applies to one or more of the four packing companies.

Further, that we, the committee, will station twelve men, union men, at the Fourth ward boundary to take such men home from their work and to protect them from the nonunion men.

from the nonunion men. The packers refused to say last night what they would do in the line of arbitration. The committee will wait upon them bright and early for an answer. It will be observed by this last proposition that the men do not make any reference to alleged grevances in other cities. They now appear to be content to have their own grievances settled and let those in other cities alone.

WHAT IT IS COSTING. Although the butchers' strike has as ye assumed but small proportions, it has proved assumed but small proportions, it has proved an expensive move, for both workmen and the packers. If the packers had submitted to the first demand it would have made per-haps a difference of $75 a day on their pay roll. There are less than 100 beef butchers n South Omaha, and they struck for an advance of 5 cents an hour. Their request might have been granted the very first day of the walkout in case the proposition did not contain a clause which read that the men would not go to work under any circumstances until "all grievances were settled in Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City.' This left the proposition open to the packers and while they were figuring on what was the best thing to do one gang after another left the houses, until the while force in each plant was practically out on a strike. Since the very first day of the walkout the packers have been quietly sliding in new men. It is true that it is no easy matter to secure beef butchers, but they are about the only workman whose places it will be hard to fill. The great surprise to the packers was that many of the laborers went out through sympathy for the butchers. The beef butchers make 40 cents an hour and the laborors get from $1.50 to $1.75 a day. The places of the latter are practically filled now. Some of them, if they show up for work in the morning, may get back, but the majority of them will be frazen out. beef butchers can go elsewhere and get work at good pay. The most of them have saved enough money to get away, but the poor laborer who struck because some one else did is shut out and will be an object of charity from the end of the first day he loafs until he begins work again. Already the men who went out have lost as much as they would have gained by the increase in pay in one year. It is true that the packers have also lost heavily, but they can stand it a great deal better than a man who has nothing but a house full of hungry chil-dren and no coal in his cellar, or even bread

Many of the men have not gone back to being assaulted. All of those who do go back this morning will do so with the understanding that they are only to receive the same pay they were getting when they walked out A dining room and sleeping apartments have been fixed up in all of the houses and nost of the men will sleep and cat in the buildings until after the excitement is over. More men were slipped into the plants yesterday and last night. It has been a long time since South Omaha has experienced as quiet a Sunday as yesterday. The strikers did not congregate on the streets in large numbers as they have been doing during the week, but quietly met at their respective homes or did not meet at all. There was a quiet meeting of the execu tive committee in the afternoon.

Last night a thousand men met at the big hall at Twentieth and Q streets, where they were addressed by Sam Nedrey of Omaha and other labor speakers.

"I expect to be running a larger force by Tuesday than I have for some time," said Manager Noyes of the Hammond house. "I also expect that a great many of our mer who went out will show up for work at 7 o'clock. I have been lead to believe that they are coming. I hope they will. If they do not, there will be other men to take their places. That is certain. Yes, we have al-ready put on some new men, but none of the old men will be refused if they come at the regular hour Monday morning.

It was reported last evening that twenty butchers from Chicago had been placed in the Cudaby house and that they would go to work this morning. Any amount of lang men can be secured by the packers. In fact they have already employed quite a number and have them in the building ready for work.

There will not be much chance for quar rels and assaults in case the old men refuse to go to work and new men take their places, because the new men will not have to leave the plant for anything.

WILD TALE OF THE SEA.

Vessel Supposed to He Lost Arrives in Port with Her trew Starving. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5 .- The British ship Cambrian Chief, supposed to have been lost enroute to Coquimbo and on which 85 per cent was paid several weeks ago for reinsurance, is reported safe in harbor at Taltall, Chili. A letter from Captain Thomas was received here today. Several weeks ago the British ship Dee, from San Francisco, arrived at Valparaiso, having on board the wife and child of Captain Thomas and several of the crew of the Cambrian Chief. They reported the Cambrian Chief as probably lost. During a terrific gale the vessel had been dismasted. Just at nightfall the Dee sighted the Cambrian Chief in distress and succeeded in getting a boat to her. This boat rescued Mrs. Thomas, her child and several of the Cambrian's crew. A second boat from the Dee was sent back for Cap-tain Thomas and the others of his crew. The gale increased and in the darkness the Dee lost all trace of her own rescuing crew and of the Cambrian Chief. When day broke nothing of them was to be seen. It was known then all of the Cambrian Chief's boats had been smashed and there was thought to be no hope for the men who had remained on board or for the rescuing party from the Dee. The second chapter of this thrilling tale of the sea comes from Captain Thomas. He reports that the gallant res-cuers from the Dee reached his vessel in safety. When dawn came and the Dee was nowhere in sight despair seized this little band of sailors. But finally when the pumps were sounded and it was found that the ves-sel was taking very little water, hope came back to them. Jury masts were rigged and at last the Cambrian Chief was got under slow way. But heavy blows were encountered and several times Captain Thomas had to take in nearly all sail in order to save the masts. Another peril was yet to be encountered, however. During the ship's slow progress towards the South American coast nearly all her provisions had been consumed and it became necessary to put the crew on short allowance and later on very short allowance. When the Cambrian Chief reached Taltall the sailors had just strength enough to shorten sail and drop anchor. Then they sank down on the decks, exhausted, and waited for the shore boats to come. Much of the vessel's cargo of genral merchandise was fettisoned during the storm that dismantled her.

TROUBLE OFER MONGOLIANS.

Servants on Board the Charleston Now Want to Be Registered. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5 .- Local authoriies of the federal government are wrestling with the cases of eight Chinese employed as servants on the United States ship Charleson, who ask to be registered under the recent Chinese exclusion act. During all the time the Chinese in this country were being registered under the new law the Charleston coolies were serving on that vssel in Brazilian waters. The time for registration having long since elapsed, Revenue Collector Welburn refuses to accept their application. He says such action would leave a loophole or hundreds of Chinese, who might claim have served on American ships during the period of registration. United States District Judge Morrow now has the case under consideration. When the Mongolians sail for China on the Charleston they want o claim American citizenship. The Chinese have apparently come to the onclusion that it is no longer safe to bring coolies into this port as returning mer-chants. Commissioner Heacock has made false swearing in his court a dangerous ex-periment, and the white witnesses required by the law, are rather hard to find. Owing to this state of affairs the "merchants" are now coming via Mexico, and many of them are awaiting trial on writs of habeas corpus obtained from the southern district court.

NEW INSTITUTION IS BORN

Ancient Order of United Workmen Observe Their First Floral Day.

Imposing Street Procession with Music and Regalis, with Decoration of Graves and Memorial Exercises at Hanscom

BEAUTIFUL PROGRAM CARRIED OUT

Park-Grand Officers Present.

A beautiful, clear, cool day greeted the United Workmen yesterday for the celebration of the initial floral day of the order. It is purely a local institution, growing out of the feeling that a day, suitable in season, should be set aside annually for the purpose of keeping green the memory of deceased brothers. Yesterday's exercises were so successful that Floral day will become an annual event in the Workmen circles in this city, and it is hoped that the sentiment which resulted in its adoption here will spread to other cities and ultimately become as firmly rooted in the order as the national Memorial day has among the American people.

Yesterday morning committees from each of the lodges visited the cemeteries of the city and decorated the individual graves of their deceased members. Flowers of all kinds were freely donated and used. No grave was overlooked, but all were planted with living flowers and were strewn with wreaths and other floral emblems.

In the afternoon at 2:30 the lodges of the city began to gather about the corner of Fifteenth and Douglas streets. Shortly after 3 o'clock the line was formed and proceeded on the following route: West on Fifteenth to Sixteenth, south on Sixteenth to Leavenworth, west on Leavenworth to Park avenue, south on Park avenue to the park and thence to the stand in the park. The procession was headed by a dozen carriages, containing the visiting dignitaries of the order and their Omaha brethren. Following them came the Odd Fellows band, which preceded the seven lodges of the city, marching in the following order: Union Pacific No. 17, Omaha No. 18, North Omaha No. 159, Hermann No. 96, Gate City No. 98, Patten No. 173, America No. 299. Patten lodge and Union Pacific lodge were headed by their teams, dressed in na'ty

All the members were the badge of the order. There were fully 1,000 in the line, which presented a fine appearance, with the flapping lodge banners and bannerettes and the waving of Old Glory. The line was in of Marshal William Taylor and Aides J. J. Burr and Frank Johns on.

EXERCISES AT THE PARK. On arrival at the park the stand was immediately occupied by the dignitaries, who were Grand Master Workman J. G. Tate of Hastings, Grand Foreman R. W. Laflin of Wymore, Grand Recorder George H. Barber of Lincoln, Grand Receiver E. A. Polley, Finance Committeemen H. S. Wetherell of Republican City and J. H. Erford of Seward, W. S. Houseworth of Lincoln, J. E. Butler of Lincoln and S. R. Patten, J. W. Carr, William Turner, E. S. Ely and George Magney of the committee on laws, all of Omaha. Dr. Patten was master of cere-Around the stand was massed an audience of fully 3,000 people. The wives of the members had preceded the column on street cars and awaited its arrival. The exercises were opened with the proinclation of the customary ritual for such occasions by Master Workman S. R. Patten and Past Master Workman Rev. J. P. D. Liwyd. After a reading from the bible Rev. E. L. Ely of the Saratoga Congregaional mission, who was speaker of the day, began his address.

He opened with a graphic description of the times of the civil war, and said that out of the multitudes that went forth hundreds of thousands laid down their lives for their cause and hundreds of thousands returned to live out partial lives. one these were dropping out of the ranks. In honor of the r memory the nation gathers once each year in the cemeteries and covers their graves with beautiful flowers. Another army began to band together at the close of the war; unlike the other, an army of peace for the protection and care of the homes of the land. From this army there were many who had dropped out and it was appropriate that the living members should respect the memory of the dead and the principle they

The speaker told how Christ lifted up the mass of humanity which was lying in the dust, crushed between ecclesiasticism and the Roman power. He died upon the cross for His principles. The Ancient Order of United Workmen was founded upon the same principles. The cross of Christ stood for the fatherhood of God, the brotherhood of man and charity. These the speaker be-lieved to be principles of the order. Today the world needed to learn the lesson of the brotherhood of man and could learn it only by looking toward the cross of Christ. All questions that agitated the world would be solved. Christ gave up His life to help Today the mother and father were giving up their lives for those they loved It was to encourage this principle that the Ancient Order of United Workmen lived to protect the home. Thus the institution rep-resented a principle that was well pleasing in the sight of Jesus Christ.

There was need, the speaker said, of more charity in the lodge room. A helping hand should be held out to the unfortunate and to those who have fallen to temptation. By living up to these principles the order would not be looked upon as the enemy of the church, but as its strongest ally and greatest help. There were certain lines of work the church could not pursue and should hail with delight an organization that could pursue them and thus make homes brighter and better.

BETTER THAN PENSIONS. Rev. Ely was followed by Grand Master Workman J. G. Tate, who made a short ad-dress. The speaker said he thought that he knew all the fundamental principles of the order, but a new thought had been presented to him by this beautiful ceremony. It was no doubt suggested by Memorial day, but there was a difference. "A soldier gives or risks his life for his country and receives the merest pittance. A member of the order pays a tenth of the amount of his insurance in assessments and receives the whole amount. Has not the debt of humanity been thus discharged? No. We do not insure, but protect in life and death. So long as God lets me live I stand to protect my home n case of my death." The speaker closed with a refutation of the charge that the order dropped members over 45 years of age and would not allow them to be reinstated and that it assumed its frater nity character as a cover to keep from having a reserve. Such charges were all falsehoods. "Keep to the principle of fraternity. In these days of darkness remember how much is due the lodge and oneself, the order and the church.

The exercises were closed with prayer by Rev. C. W. Savidge. The members then fell into line, the grand officers at the head, and preceded by the band, proceeded to the mound that had been prepared for the occasion in a little valley of the park. Sur-rounded by their brethren, with bowed and uncovered heads, Master Workman Patten and Past Master Workman Liwyd uttered the impressive funeral services of the order over the grave strewn with flowers.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 5 .- A strange showing of the transplanted customs of the Slav element in this region was made near Teith last evening. The victim was a young woman who had violated the moral code that is supposed to govern these people. A party of Slavs took her from her friends, stripped off her clothes, pinioned her hands and feet, lashed her to a stake and whipped her savagely over an hour. She was re-viled, tormented and spat upon by anybody who cared to. She was left at the stake and remained there six hours, as the case is stated to the local authorities, before anybody dared to release her. A young man offered to release some of her cords and was beaten off by the mob. When the girl was taken down she could scarcely move. County Detective Campbell has the case in hand.

Sounds "odd" but it fits the case precisely-After a destructive cyclone, you "clear the debris," and to wipe it out of memory you must sweep it cleanafter a hurricane of business—as it is customary to the Nebraska-it behooves us to "clear away the debris," or, perhaps, more Bostonishly expressed, "To dismiss the superfluous conglomoration of unwelcome accumulations."

Right here in Omaha we call em odds and ends-good honest merchandise they are-to be sure-but of no value to us, because we never carry goods to next season-and above all, we never begin a season on broken stock,

You'll find, by carefully looking over, something you can use, in every department-and if it be your style and fit—there is a golden strike right there-because the price is likely one half what it used to be-or, perhaps a trifle above.

In our suit department we have a good many broken lots of suits-can't very well sell 'em down to tho root, because we have always such a tremendous collection-same case with the trousers department-for the same reason we have some remnants in our boys' and children's department—and iu our hat department-and in our shoe department and more so in our men's furnishing stock-in shirts-underwear and the like, where the supply and demand is tremendous.

We firmly believe in cleaning house of broken lots-experience taught us so-and we therefore apply the broom of reduction, and dust off the last vestige of profit—and often below the price they could be manufactured at.

A sale for mutual benefit--we clean house-you save the stuff.

Don't Fool With Your Eyes.

Headache Caused by Eye Strain. Many persons whose heads are constantly aching have no idea what relief scientificaly fluted glasses will give them. This theory is not universally established. "Improperly fitted glasses, will invariable increase the trouble and may lead to TOTAL BLINDNESS." Our ability adjust glasses safely and correctly is beyond question. Consuit us, Eyes tested free of charge.
