

PUSHING TO THE NORTHWARD

Burlington Trains Will Be Running Into Billings in a Few Weeks.

TABLE OF COMPARATIVE MILEAGE

Missouri Pacific Will Build a Freight Depot at South Omaha and Join the Elkhorn in Building a Passenger Station at Lincoln.

General Freight Agent Crosby of the Burlington has returned from Chicago, where he attended a family meeting of Burlington officials on Monday.

We expect to reach Huntley about the 29th of this month, from there using the Northern Pacific tracks into Billings.

A Union Pacific official regarding the expectation of the Burlington people to revolutionize the trade of the sound country, said: "It will undoubtedly be a pretty fight for place, but the Union Pacific does not mean to be behind in the race."

So much has been said regarding the distances to Montana, that the following table has been prepared, showing the mileage as between the Union Pacific and Burlington, and which may be regarded as official:

Table of comparative mileage between Union Pacific and Burlington for various destinations including Helena, Portland, Tacoma, and Spokane.

Missouri Pacific Improvements

Messrs. W. B. Doldridge, general manager; H. C. Townsend, general passenger agent; H. G. Clark, general superintendent; Frank Beardon, superintendent of locomotives and motive power; C. M. Rathbun, superintendent of the Central Branch; and J. O. Philippi, assistant general passenger and freight agent of the Missouri Pacific, left yesterday for Lincoln by special train.

When at South Omaha Wednesday the general manager's attention was called to the meager facilities for storing goods there and after going over the situation it was decided to build a freight depot for the Missouri Pacific near the viaduct, the building to cost about $10,000.

Freight Agent Sholes Laid Up

Lyman Sholes, division freight agent of the Omaha line, is laid up at home, the result of a peculiar and painful accident.

Railway Notes

Judge W. R. Kelly of the Union Pacific has returned from St. Louis, Mo., where he was the private secretary, went to Denver yesterday.

A fare and a half has been authorized for the meeting of the Army of the Tennessee at Council Bluffs October 3-4.

General Manager Holdrege has gone to Sheridan, and will before returning inspect the Billings extension as far as the contractors have built the road.

There will be a general meeting of the members of the Commercial club on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

On Saturday evening there will be a meeting of the shippers' association to discuss plans for better rates for Omaha jobsbers and a full attendance of the association is desired.

Commissioner Utz has a number of new enterprises under consideration, and hopes to secure several new factories here before spring opens up.

Three small building permits were issued by the inspector of buildings yesterday.

J. A. Bryana will build a cottage at 2735 Baldwin street at a cost of $1,000.

MISS WELLS ON LYNCH LAW

Denies the Main Charge Against the Negroes of the Era.

PLEADS FOR JUSTICE TO HER RACE

Anti-Lynching Society to Be Organized in Omaha—Mayor Remits in an Introductory Speech Pays Compliments to Haskell and Wheeler.

A large audience greeted Miss Ida B. Wells, the young colored woman, at an exhibition hall last evening, to listen to her address, "Lynch Law in America," delivered under the auspices of the Bishop Worthington Lyceum.

The meeting was opened by Rev. J. A. Williams, and, in his brief remarks, he alluded to the work and objects of the Bishop Worthington Lyceum.

Miss Wells was introduced by Mayor Bemis. The mayor humorously alluded to his present impeachment trial, saying that this was his fourth day in court and the four days had convinced him that his two principal accusers were pretty black men.

Miss Wells stated that her theme, "Lynch Law in America," had been selected by her more from necessity than from choice.

The Building Trades council of Omaha will hold its first annual picnic at Tietz's park next Sunday.

TAKEN A TUMBLE.

Things—this year—are not what used to be. Seems like the country has taken unto itself a tumble.

No one to blame. The woolen man saw free wool coming and the cloth got cheaper, the manufacturer wanted our ready cash badly and clothing had to go down mighty low for it.

A year ago we retailed a suit for five dollars, that kept buyer puzzled and seller raked his brains how it could be done—a suit considered a truer bargain at $10.00 than any one sold in Omaha at that price.

Suits that were six fifty last year are but five dollars this year. Somewhat finer in workmanship too, and a good size collection of patterns to select from.

Suits that we sold last year at ten dollars were—beyond contradiction—the best fifteen dollar suits ever sold legitimate or otherwise.
