CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

Business in a Jobbing Way Quite Active in Some Lines.

COLLECTIONS ARE REMARKABLY COOD

Manufacturers and Their Annual Meetings-Selling Fruit by Auction and the Results-Situation in the Live Stock Market at South Omaha.

The fact that there is an improved feeling in the jobbing trade is very gratifying, even if the actual improvement in business is limited to a few staple lines. It goes to show that there is returning confidence in spite of the hard times and loss of crops, and that the pusiness men of this section of the west are not discouraged, but are going ahead, notwithstanding there are obstacles in the road. As pointed out a week ago, there are certain lines of business from which but little can be expected when the crops are light, but on the other hand the staple lines are more active than was anticipated. A good many jobbers were looking for a light business even in such lines as groceries, dry goods and boots and shoes, but in this they have been happily disappointed. The opening of the present month found the shelves of the merchants almost bare of goods, as a result of the conservative policy in buying that has been the rule during the past year. It soon became evident to the merchants that while their business might not be so large as on some former seasons, there was bound to be some business, and they have been forced to stock up to meet the demand for the fall and winter goods. A good many of the largest retail merchants in the state who have been iccustomed to buy in the east had put off placing their orders until it was too late to go east for the goods, and they have been forced to transfer their business to local houses, thus helping to swell the volume of business. Omaha dry goods houses claim that they are now sending out more goods than they ever did before, even during the most prosperous seasons.

The coming of cooler weather during the sarly part of the week had a tendency to start up business a little in some other lines. Thus the hardware jobbers reported an in-crease in the sales of seasonable goods and a better outlook for business during the next few weeks to come. Collections continue very fair in the country considering the gen-eral situation.

THE MANUFACTURERS. While there is not very much in the way of news affecting the jobbing trade, the past sek has been an active one with the manufacturers. A good many of the Omaha factories are busy and are pushed to fill orders owing to the increased demand for home made goods. One by one the different manufacturing establishments are being forced to increase their plants by the addition of more machinery and the employment of more

The exhibit made by the manufacturers at the state fair is bearing fruit in the way of increased orders for home made goods from various sections of the state.

The secretary of the Manufacturers and Consumers association has just returned from Lincoln and Beatrice, where he has been holding meetings of the members for the election of directors. The Lincoln mem-bers met on Thursday evening at the Lin-dell hotel and elected eight directors, each city being entitled to one director for every five members. J. C. Harpham was elected chairman of the meeting. The following were elected directors: S. J. Alexander of the Farmers & Merchants Insurance company, J. C. Harpham of Harpham Bros., M. A. Warren of the Lincoln Paint and Color company, George H. Clark of the Lincoln Packing company, C. R. Tefft of Kendall & Tefft, W. B. Howard of the Howard Medicine company, H. S. Lientenst, etc. Medicine company, H. S. Lippincott of the State Journal and Charles Hawley of the Western Carriage Top company. The Lincoln members are feeling well satisfied with the results of the manufacturers' display made at the state fair, and are more enthusiastic than ever for "home industry."

On Friday the Beatrice members elected A.

B. Dempater of the Dempater Mill Manuboard of directors. The recent home indus-try banquet was successful in arousing a great deal of enthusiasm in Beatrice, and the Kiein New York Racket store has a window 100 feet long filled with what it calls the first annual display of Beatrice indus-tries. The Institute for Feeble Minded Youths shows a fine line of brushes of their own manufacture, next to which is a sample fence and a roll of barb wire made by the Beatrice Barb Wire and Manufacturing company. The Beatrice Printing company shows a line of book binding and printing. Next are pyramids of canned corn and tomatoes by the Beatrice Canning company and corn and gloss starch made by the Beatrice Starch company. A model wind mill and a fine as-sortment of iron pumps and cylinders made by the Dempster Mill Manufacturing company occupys a prominent place, while the Beatrice Building and Paving Brick company shows a full line of samples of their paving brick, sidewalk tiles and fire-profing. Iron flower stands by the Beatrice Novelty company, buggy tops and wheels made by Lou Wehn and H. N. Sholl and a fine line of men's work shirts and ladies' skirts manu-factured by the Klein New York Racket store complete this very interesting exhibit.

The secretary of the association says that a window like this in every town in the state would afford an object lesson in practical home industry that would be far reach-ing in its influence for building up and encouraging Nebraska manufacturing indus-tries, Meetings in Omaha, Nebraska City and Fremont will be held early next week and the annual meeting of the directors for the election of officers will be held on Fri-

SELLING FRUIT AT AUCTION. At the opening of the Califorinia fruit season last spring the commission men of Omaha organized a fruit auction and inaugurated daily sales of fruit. This action was taken because the shippers of California favor that method of disposing of their fruit, and as markets in the east had adopted the plan it seemed necessary that Omaha should do the same. The fruit season is now well advanced and it is possible method of disposing of fruits.

Up to the present date 169 cars of Cali-fornia fruit have passed through the Omaha auction house, the total sales of which amount to $121,687. This large amount of fruit has not all been consumed in Omaha, but has been distributed from this point to the smaller markets, mostly in Iowa and Nebraska, though shipments have been made to other states. The handling of this large amount of fruit has given employment to quite a large force of men and the trade is, upon the whole, of more importance to the city than those outside of the business might

Omaha commission men were of the opin-ion that there were not enough wholesale dealers in fruit in this city to support an auction house alone, and accordingly they established what is known in the trade as an "open auction;" that is, one in which any person can buy fruit. The very first auction that was held was attended by all the peddlers in the city, and it soon became evident that they were bound to cut an im-portant figure in the trade. As the season progressed this phase of the question be-came better understood. The peddiers are not only buying the inferior fruit, but they have gradually extended their operations until the regular fruit commission houses complain that they are ruinting the business. The peddlers, after making their purchases, load the fruit on to wagons and carry it around to the retail stores and fruit stands and said the fruit at an advance of 5 to 10. and sell it out at an advance of 5 to 10 centa per box. As the retailer pays them cash they can afford to sell at a small margin and still make what to them is good wages. They also load up their wagons and station them on the street in the early morning where the grocers are accustomed to come to buy their daily supplies of the market gardeners and furnish the trade right under the noses of the wholesaiers.

All this trade formerly went to the regular wholesale houses, and it is safe to say that the peddlers have just about ruined the local business of the regular dealers during the past summer. This is not at all surprising, as other cities where open auctions are held have experienced the same thing.

with the local business, but are reaching out after the shipping trade. They have made serious inroads upon the trade of the wholesale houses in nearby towns, such as Fremont, Blair and Tekamah. The jobbers thought that by not allowing any buyer to purchase less than good round lots of fruit at the auction houses would shut out all the smaller peddlers, and they shut out all the smaller peddlers, and they would have to come to the jabbers to get their supplies, the same as formerly. In this they were mistaken, as the peddlers combine, and if one cannot handle a single lot, he divides it up among his friends. It was also provided that every purchaser should deposit $25 with the auction company before being allowed to make a bid, so as to insure the carrying out of contracts. The peddlers got around this by having one of their number make the deposit as required, and then he does the buying for the crowd.

So far as the regular fruit houses are concerned, there is no disputing the fact that the auction has proved a great detriment. On the other hand, there is no doubt but what it is a good thing for the grower and ahipper of the fruit. It brings all the buyers together and increases the competition, and insures him better prices than could be avereded at a private sale. The best interexpected at a private sale. The best interests of the grower would appear to be on the side of an open auction, but it would look at the present time as if the closed auction was the only thing that would protect the regular fruit houses.

Whether the fruit men will take any action to protect themselves against the peddlers the coming season remains to be seen, but whatever they do, the fruit auction will be continued in some form or other, as the auction method of disposing of fruit has come to stay.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

A fair amount of business was transacted A fair amount of business was transacted at South Omaha last week. The receipts of cattle were larger than during the previous week by some 8,700 head, but there was a decrease in the arrivals of hogs amounting to about 5,500. The packing houses are experiencing no little difficulty in securing as many good beef cattle as are required by their trade, and while they are paying better prices than other markets, the cattle do not seem to come here. kets, the cattle do not seem to come here. Several times during the past few days western cattle shippers have divided their shipments, sending one-half here, and the balance to Kansas City, with the result balance to Kansas City, with the result that the cattle brought to Omaha would bring 25c and 35c per 100 more than the others. On some days of the past week there have hardly been enough fat steers here to make a real test of the market, while on other days there has been a fair run, but everything received has sold readily at very satisfactory prices. Prices have ranged very even, there being little change from day to day, but if anything the market is a little firmer at the close than it was at the opening of the week.

The market on cows and mixed stock has been in good shape all the week, there being an active demand and a very fair supply. The business doing in stockers and feeders has been large, and the country has been a liberal buyer, though it has kept dealers busy to keep the supply down, the receipts have been so large. Owing to the large supply the market had a downward tendency during the latter part of the week, and prices dropped 15c and 29c.

The hog market has experienced a decided drop during the week in spite of the falling off in the receipts. A short time ago there was a very active demand from all quarters for provisions, and every one was buying under the impression that the market was going still higher. Some were predicting that hogs would reach $7 in the rear future. All of a sudden the excitement and desire to buy came to an end, and as the market turned downward the demand for hog products has fallen off very materially. Two weeks ago England was a most active buyer, and English cuts were in great de-mand, but at the present time there is almost no demand. In the same way the south was a large buyer, but with provisions it is the same as with all other commodi-ties, no one wants to buy when the market is dropping and the demand has fallen off from that source as well. Some of the wise ones in the trade are now commencing wise ones in the trade are now commencing to predict that the hog market, under the present light demand for the product, will drop until hogs will be selling at this market for $4.50 to $5.

The sheep market does not show much change from day to day, and prices are about the same now as they were a week ago. Omaha is not a very large sheep market, but there is a demand here for a fair number of good muttons, and it is an every day demand, which in the course of a month would amount up to quite a num-

WHEAT OPENS QUIET BUT VERY STRONG

Corn Was Firm Early, but Did Not Long Remain So, and Gradually Weakened and at the Close Was at the Bottom.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.-Northwestern receipts were heavy today, and speculators anticipated a heavy increase in the visible supply. As a result wheat shows a loss of 140 per bu,. while September corn dropped 20 and May to of their previous value. Provisions are lower by 3g for pork, 17%c in lard and 20c in ribs. For the first time since August 6 wheat is worth more money than No. 2 corn.

Wheat opened quiet, but firm, at a small fractional advance. The firmness was in consequence of the inspected receipts here turning out much less than had been estimated. The estimated receipts were 160 cars, and the number actually inspected 108 cars. The general condition of the speculative situation was unchanged. The weakest feature of the day's news was the heaviness of the northwestern receipts, which at Minneapolis and Duluth amounted to 940 car loads, compared with only 650 on the car loads, compared with only see on the corresponding day of the year before. The speculative business was local in character and rather light in volume. Fearing the probability of a heavy increase in the visible supply, the crowd was bearish and all the more inclined to sell on account of the weekness of corn. Deceember opened at 574c, and sagged wearily to 54%c, which was the price when the minute warning bell sounded its caution to prepare for the close. The desire to sell increased and 54½c was reached near the end, with from 54½654%c, the closing price.

Corn opened firm, but did not long remain the till productly became week then so. It gradually became weak, then weaker, and was weakest at the end. Stop loss orders were reached at 14c decline, below 52c for May, and as the closing value was 5214c, there were numerous opportunities for the stop loss orders to come into play. The weakness was principally in consequence of the pressure to sell September, which, for the first time this season, sold at a discount, as compared with May, and for the first as compared with May, and for the first time in about two months, cash corn was cheaper than cash wheat. The receipts were 257 cars by rail and 20,400 bu. by canal. September was worth 52%c near the opening, and 50%c at the close, while May declined ic from the highest to the lowest price made today.

Outs were active from the beginning to the end. Selling was still yery urgent mostly end. Selling was still very urgent, mostly long stuff, and prices were again lowered. The first symptoms of the decline were noticeable at the start, when brokers for Cudshy started to raid the market with heavy offerings. The general disposition was to close, and the price of May declined from 34%c, the opening price, to 34c, the lowest point, and at which price the market closed, a decline of 5%c. October ranged from 29%c to 28%c and closed 7%c under the latter price. Hogs receipts being light and the grain market rather firm at the opening the first few transactions in the provision market showed some steadness: That state of feeding was soon exchanged for one of extreme weakness. Stop orders on the decline were reached in great plenty from the appearance of the offerings and the packers, led by brokers for John Cudahy, made it easy for stop orders to be reached. There was very little recovery at the close, from the bottom prices, sithough a good deal of covering of shorts was in progress during the last fif-teen minutes of the session. Business was active during the greater part of the day. The leading futures ranged as follows:

ing from 1/4 to 2 per cent. In the late dealings speculation was most buoyant and the market was firm, with the prices at or near the highest point of the day. The volume business was rather light and was chiefly in Chicago Gas, Sugar and Reading, Paul led in the transactions in the grangers, the buying in it being good, and a steady rise of 1 per cent to 66 was recorded. cicsing was only % per cent below the highmaining in about the same notch as a week ago. Receipts have also remained about the same as for the previous week, with the exception of a slight increase in the case of poultry. The following will show the arrivals of the leading lines of produce on this market for the past six days as compared with the week onling on the dates at head of column, the figures representing the cases of eggs, packages of butter and coops of poultry:

Sept. 21. Sept. 14. Sept. 7.
Eggs 1.118 1.112 266
Butter 1.1087 1.072 523
Poultry 647 548 525
While the receipts of eggs have not been excessive during the past week, there has been a tembency toward accumulation of stocks. This is due apparently to the fact that the quality of the eggs arriving has been improved, and that a larger propertion of the receipts are now marketable than was the case a short time ago. A few storage eggs are also being put out, and that cuts off the sale for just so many fresh arrivals. Upon the whole, the feeling on the market is hardly as firm as it was a few days ago.

There has been a good armund for choice table Rock Island, there was much interest evi-denced as to the course of the stock today, and perhaps some surprise at the early ad vance of % per cent. The bears, however, were not disposed to permit the rise to go unchallenged, and they made a drive on the stock, in which the entire improvement was lost. The reaction, however, brought out fresh buying orders, under the influence of which a gain of % per cent was made, the last being the best price of the day. Burlington & Quincy appreciated steadily from opening to close, much of the buying being for the western account, and an advance of 56 per cent was established. Northwestern, too, on small trading, showed in the improvement to the extent of % per cent. Sugar was not in active demand, but at the same time there was no anxiety to sell the stock, as the fluctuations were confined within a limit of % per cent, and a net decline of % per cent was effected. In the general list the more important advances are: Lead preferred, 2 per cent; General Electric, I per cent. The only stock which shows a decline of more than a fraction is Colorado Fuel & Iran, which lost 2 per cent. The bond market was strong and fairly active, and prices generally moved upward, Scattle, Lake Shore & Eastern firsts advancing 2 per marketable thun was the case a short time ago. A few shonge suga are also being put out, and that cuts off the sale for just so many frosh arrivals. Upon the whole, the feeling on the market is hardly as firm as it was a few days ago.

There has been a good demand for choice table butter all the week, but the arrivals of such have been rather light. Inferior grades have not been in very active demand. The weather is most too warm to encourage the ship cipating the most been in very active demand. The weather foil butter as yet. Butter method will reduce the demand for genuine butter.

The game market has not shown much activity thus far this fall, the demand being light, consumers being on the lookout for something charge than game.

The poultry market has been fairly active during the pust six days, though it weakened off toward the close. Prices on poultry for sometime have been occasional low points owing to the supply sometimes being in excess of the demand. As the west is a very heavy shipper of poultry to the ensiern markets the following in research to the future demands of the market from the New York Buildeth will be of interest. The Helbrew holidays usually commence in September, and until they close about a month ister the live poultry market present much market the poultry market present much market the live poultry market present much market her and until they close about a month ister the live poultry market present much market her and until they close about a month ister the live poultry market present much market her easier this year than usual and twenty days later than they were last you, the first holidays are later this year than usual and twenty days later than they were last you, the first holiday. New Year's day—not occurring until October i, and the year of 5655 extends, according to the Hebrew calleday, until September 18. The market is influenced almost entirely by the supply and is naturally very sensitive during the holidays. Probably the best market day will probably be October 12 a cline of Friday.

The receipts today were 2,561 cattle, 3,249 hogs and 3,526 sheep, as compared with 2,969 cattle, 3,111 hogs and 109 sheep yesterday, and I,120 cattle, 4,850 hogs and 321 sheep on Saturday of last week. There has been a considerable gain in the receipts of cattle during the week, but a falling off in the arrivals of hogs.

CATTLE—There were about 100 cars of cattle here today, which was a slight falling off from yesterday. There were more beef steers here than yesterday, but still not as many as there ought to be, or enough to steply the demand. One bunch of range cattle brought $4.60, the highest price paid so far for rangers on this market, but they were high-bred and fat. Some Nevada range cattle went at $4.00. The same cattle sold in Kansas City the other day at $2.8576 2.75. There were also some pretty fair natives here. The market was strong and the demand good.

Cows were not in quite so large supply as on most days of the past week, but there was quite a sprinkling here. There was a fair demand and the market was strong.

The fresh receipts at from $1.25 to $2.55 for westerns and receipts that from $1.25 to $2.55 for westerns and receipts are expected to show an increase of this week's total, but the market will stand a series expected to show an increase of this week's total, but the market will stand a series expected to show an increase of this week's total, but the market week and $2.05 head less than for last week and $2.05 head; less than for last week and all the expects of hogs were estimated at 9.06 head; strong and were calless than for the week, and all the expects of hogs were estimated at 9.06 head; strong and were at $2.55 for $2.55 head some at lower figures during the week. HOGS-There was a fair run of hogs here for the last day of the week and they were all sold at a reasonably early hour. The feeling on the market was considerably better, but the market could hardly be quoted much if any higher. Perhaps steady to strong would best express the condition of the market. The quality of the hogs was somewhat better than yesterday and that made the sales look higher, so much so that some salesmen were calling the market higher. The buyers generally were reporting their droves as coating about the same as yeaterday, taking quality into consideration Representativo sales:

WICHITA, Sept. 22.—A special to the Eagle from Woodward, Okl., says that the cattlemen and Cheyenne Indians near there moving their effects into town and the citi-zens are moving. Thursday the Indians drove off several head of cattle belonging to Ira Eddleman. They were intercepted by cowboys this morning. The Indians opened fire, at the same time retreating. One In-dian and one cowboy were killed before the Indians escaped. The people have sent for reliaf to Fort Supply, sixteen miles away, The people are paniestricken, and their terror is augmented by the fact that Fort Supply is soon to be abolished.

Says M. W. Selby, Muncie, III.: "Last summer a coal miner came to my drug store one night, half dead with cramps. There was no doctor to be had. He asked me if I had anything that would help him. I opened a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Chol-era and Diarrhoea Remedy and gave him a large dose. In twenty minutes his pain was all gone. This man had been subject to cramps, but has not been troubled since." Every family should keep this remedy at hand for use in such cases. It can always be depended upon. For sale by druggists.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 22.-The grand jury has returned an indictment against P. B. Martin, member of the general executive committee of the Knights of Labor, for libeling T. V. Powderly, ex-grand master workman of that order. Mr. Martin, in an interview, said that Mr. Powderly was discharged from the order for insubordination in not giving up the property of the order in his possession. The property referred to was the secret work given Mr. Powderly by Uriah Stevens the founder of the order to Uriah Stevens, the founder of the order, to be given by him to no one. He claimed this was personal property.
