the lines, members of the passenger association, and 1 believe there will be little friction in forming a new association. Should, however, two or three lines decide to remain out for the present, the Western Passenger association might not be reorganized for sevaffairs and consequent demoralization in rates. With several lines entirely outside of things demanded prompt action. I under-stand a general meeting has been called for Monday, when the representatives of the roads will informally discuss the advisability of attempting to reorganize the Western Pas-senger association. Should the consen-sus of opicion be against the for-mation of a new association, rates may by still further demoralized, but my observation has been that there is not enough business at the present time to fight

When asked if he thought the Union Pacific would become a party to the new agreement, Mr. Buchanan refused to say, for the reason that he had not had any conversation with

ROCK ISLAND IS FIRM.

Must Abandon Excessive Commissions or it Will Not Come In.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—The Western Passen-ger association lost another line today is the Rock Island & Peoria. The withdrawal was not unlooked for, as the road has always been allied with the Back Island a scholera hogs. The man who bought them had been in the been allied with the Rock Island, and it was been allied with the Rock Island, and it was expected to follow the lead of the main line buy a cholera hog than he would buy one in pulling out of the association. The action of the Rock Island in reducing the rate from Kansas City to Chicago has not caused much excitement among the western lines. much excitement among the western lines. Not much trouble is looked for until the meeting of all the western lines on Monday, and the feeling is that the result will be such that the Rock Island will feel that there is not good reason to put the rate into effect. The matter must be settled at the outset, as the Rock Island will go into the meeting with the demand that all rates be restored and that the payment of all excessive commissions be stopped. If these two things are not promptly granted the Rock Island will at once withdraw and will take no part in the effort to revive the Western Passenger assolation. It now looks as though all the oads having an interest in the western and ciation. transcontinental territory will be represented the meeting, even the Canadian Pacific signifying its intention of being represented. None of the other lines will make any effort to meet the proposed reductions of the Rock Island on the rate from Kansas City until after the adjournment of Monday's meeting. The report was current today that the Great Western had cut the rate to Des Moines, but

It is generally understood that this wood belongs to the person on whose land it lodges, but the owners as a general thing make no effort to gather it up, and in many instances would give some deserving men the privilege of cutting and hauting it away. A great deal of this wood was caught as it ficated down stream by settlers to the belloms, and in this manner they were en-abled to secure enough fuel to keep them ware during the winter. The water in the private is at its lowest ebb now, and the drift dred cords of excellent fuel, and daily many ples can be easily reached, and when the river freezes over it would be easy for men to haudle the driftwood as far north as Figurence and haul it down on sleds on the

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA.

Condemned Ment Allowed to Ve Sold on the Local Market.

Since The Bee mentioned the fact that there had been considerable complaint by eral months. It was the lack of cohesiveness shippers, commission men and the stock which brought about the present condition of yards of incompetent government inspection of cattle and hogs the condition has been conthe ban of the association, other lines in the siderably improved. The government in-association felt they had to protect their insiderably improved. The government interests, and consequently a fight for business ensued, which grew larger as the very nature agent from the Agricultural department, is still here, however, and when he gets through with his survey there are a few heads that will not land short of the basket.

There are enough laws, rules and ordinances in vogue to prevent any impure meat from being sold in this city or Omaha, but the laws cut very little figure here. If the meat of a piggy sow or a cripple would kill any person who ate it, the estire town would have been dead and buried long ago, A gentleman who has been actively connected with the live stock trade in this city for the last ten years said to a Bee reporter that he knew of three or four butchers in this city who bought nothing but condemned ment. A Bee reporter followed this matter lapsed, but individually he saw no good reason for the Overland system to reman out if the agreement could be made satisfac-tory to all parties in interest. A Bee reporter followed this matter big butcher shops that did not handle any other kind of meat. This goes to prove that the government inspection of meat is a great big farce. In many instances the inspectors prevent this tainted stuff from getting into the packing houses, but the local people are not protected in the least. spector.

All these things are being thoroughly looked into by Dr. De Voe, the special general agent for J. Sterling Morton, and when he has for s, stering sorrow, and when he has finished his work there is likely to be a shaking up all around.

Claims to Have Been Slugged.

Gustave Soreason, a carpenter, showed up at the police station last night with one side of his head and face besmeared with blood He said he had been slugged and robbed. Sorenson lives over in the woods near Thir-teenth street. He says that when he ceached the timber at the foot of J street, five men pounced upon him. After knocking him down they took his purse, which contained $5 and some small change, and skipped out. Sorenson was unable to give a description of the highwaymen.
