BEECHER HIGBY DECLARED CITY CLERK

Mayor Bemis Delivers His Annual Message Advising Numerous Reforms and Municipal Owership of Corporation Franchises Now in Existence.

When the city council convened last night all of the new and most of the retiring members were present, to say nothing of the numerous spectators who occupied seats in the galleries, anticipating an all night session, or at least a spirited fight over organiza-

At ten minutes after the usual hour for calling the session to order Mr. Bechel stepped to the president's chair and called the council to order. After the roll call had been completed he nominated Mr. Saunders as temporary chalrman. Saunders was elected by a unanimous vote, after which Mr. Thomas moved that the council proceed to the election of a president. This motion prevailed, and the members expressed their preference as they responded to the roll call. The result of the ballot gave Mr. Edwards ten and Mr. Bechel eight votes. Those voting for Edwards were: Bechel, Edwards, Gordon, Jacobsen, Jaynes, Kennard, Kment, Saunders, Taylor and Thomas, while Back, Burkley, Cahn, Holmes, Howell, Lemly, Mercer and Prince stood by Bechel. As soon as the vote was announced the nomination of Edwards was made unanimous, and he was invited to the president's chair. He thankel council, and said that during his term of office he would administer the affairs of the city in accordance with the charter and Beecher Higby, the city clerk-elect, was requested to take the clerk's chair, and as roon as he had secured possession of the coveted seat Mr. Bechel moved an adjourn- poses. ment. Mr. Saunders fought against this, and urged that there was other business which

THAT PLATTE RIVER CANAL.

The most important undertaking now in contemplation by the city is the construction of a canal from a point near Fremont to a point near Seymour park, whereby it is proposed for the purpose of generating electricity to secure a water power second only to the great falls of Niagara. While I do not claim to be possessed of accurate personal knowledge regarding the feasibility of this scheme. I am satisfied from the surveys and reports which have been made that the scheme is practicable, and, if properly undertaken and conducted can ibility of this scheme, I am satisfied from the surveys and reports which have been made that the scheme is practicable, and, if properly undertaken and conducted, can be carried to a successful end. In all undertakings of this character we must accept as our basis of action the conclusions of practical and experienced engineers. With regard to this proposed enterprise, we have the unqualified opinion of engineers whose past experience, as well as present reputation and character, is such as to carry conviction that it can be made a success.

The question now to be considered is, how best can this enterprise be undertaken and carried forward? At the recent election the proposition to grant a subsidy in aid of the construction of the proposed canal was voted down, chiefly, I believe, for the reason that it was considered by many that the work should be carried on as a public enterprise, and the canal, when completed, should be owned and operated by the municipality. I am strongly inclined to this view of the matter. I believe that the construction of the canal should be undertaken and carried forward as a municipal enterprise, and that when completed it should forever be owned and operated by the municipality for the best interests of the city. Until certain amendments are made to the present charter it would be impossible to issue the bonds required for the construction of the canal. Amendments to the charter authorizing bonds to be issued for this purpose have been prepared and approved by the charter committee, and these amendments, as I understand them, contemplate uniting the city of South Omaha to Omaha, with a view to carrying forward this enterprise in the interest of both cities, and bringing into full realization the "greater Omaha." In the event of the passage of these charter amendments your honorable body will be confronted with a good many important questions, which will require your most careful consideration, and with regard to which I will be glad to counsel and advise with you from time to time

Railroad company to be made.

LAMPS AND STREET LIGHTING.

In each annual message which I have addressed to the city council I have had occasion to refer to the question of street lighting. Every municipality has its periods of wrestling with this question, and Omaha has been no exception. One year ago I had the pleasure of announcing an arrangement which had been entered into with the gas company by which the price of gas had been satisfactorily fixed by a sliding scale, which will result in a great saving to the city and to gas consumers. The past year has witnessed the completing of an amicable arrangement whereby the electric light question, so far as it relates to street lighting, has been settled for three years. I cannot say that I am entirely pleased with the result in the latter case, as I am firm in my opinion, frequently expressed, that municipal ownership is the only proper solution of this question. The basis of my contention regarding are lights, since I have been in office, has been that the city was not receiving the amount of light required by its contracts with the electric light company. I have seen no reason to change my position on this point, but the whole matter has been amicably adjusted and a new contract made, which dates from the first of the present year and runs for three years. This contract sith the dectric light company of $6,500 on the 200 lights with a voltage of 50 and an amperage of 9.6, instead of requiring lights of 2,000 candle power, as was the case under the old contract. The price per lamp per annum has been reduced from $1.5 and $1.4 to $12.0 for each lamp. This reduction will effect an annual saving of $6,500 on the 200 lights now in use, compared with the old prices. The difference between the city and the electric light company is adjusted by reducing the bills for lighting for the last six months to a basis of $111.50 per lamp per year, making a reduction for the 200 lights of over $3,000. This makes a total saving to the city should be prepared before that time to meni. Mr. Saunders fought against this, and urged that there was other business which demanded the attention of the council. The motion to adjourn was withdrawn, and the message of Mayor Bemis, which was to follows, was read and ordered printed:

Discussing Health Matters.

During the past year the health of the city has been up to its usual high standard, and Omaha has maintained its reputation as a clean and healthful city. There has been no epidemic, and the comparatively few cases of contagious diseases have been of a mild type. Much good has been accomplished by the Board of Health, notwithstanding the board has been continually withstanding the board has been continually hampered by political influences and considerations, which I trust will end with the adoption of the amendment to our city charter, suggested by the charter committee. After many unsuccessful attempts we have finally secured an ordinance regulating the sale of milk, which the supreme court has decided to be valid. I am hopeful that we may be able, when freed from political influences, to secure a rigid and impartial enforcement of this ordinance and thereby further protect the health of our people. withstanding the board has been continually thereby further protect the health of our people.

The necessity for an ambulance for conveying the sick and injured to their homes or a hospital, to which I referred in former messages, still exists. A vehicle suitable for this purpose could be purchased and operated at small expense, and it is as much a necessity as any other humane provision for emergency cases.

The collection and disposal of garbage has been in a state of turmoil during the greater part of the year, and the members of the Board of Health have had several narrow escapes from being sent to jail for contempt of court while attempting to discover some way out of the difficulties into which the matter was thrown by conflicting decisions of the lower courts. The supreme court of the state, however, has decided that the ten-year garbage contract is legal, and for the present the city will be obliged to comply with its terms.

OPENING POSTPONED.

C. A. Skating Park It is Promised

Will Be Ready Next Saturday. The opening of the skating ring at the Young Men's Christian Association park did not take place yesterday afternoon, although the park had been flooded and was thrown open to the public. The parties that had undertaken to have it ready for opening yesterday failed to do so. The preparations have now been placed in the hands of Mr. Waltemeyer, and he has announced the opening for next Saturday afternoon at 2:30

A large number of people enjoyed very fair skating yesterday, but not as good as it will be when the lake has been completed. The entire central portion of the park, where the foot ball field was, is being banked with dirt. When the embankment is finished it is proposed to fill the enclosure with an average of a foot of water. With such a depth and sheltered as it is by the fences depth and sheltered as it is by the about the park, excellent and safe skating about the park, excellent and well built shed is assured. A large and well built shed has been placed at the southwest corner of the pond, and this is to be converted into a restaurant and a warm club house. A small price of admission will be charged to the

For the opening a number of races are being arranged, to which no entry fee be charged. The list consists of sev gentlemen's races, races for couples and races bys. Prizes of skates will be given winners. All entries must be handed in before the hour of opening.

SCOTT KEEPS THE DOCKET

Colleagues Decidet that He Shall Sit in the Criminal Cases Another Year.

ACTION A SUMPRISE TO THE BAR

Prior Comment of Other Judges Seemed to Give Assurance that a Change Would Be Made-What They Said Antecedent to Yesterday's Meeting.

The judges of the district court spent portion of yesterday in assigning the different courts for the coming year and in fixing the dates for the sessions. The meeting was held at 10 o'clock and was attended by all of the judges. Only two changes were made in the assignments, Judge Ferguson, who has been in the equity court, and Judge Ambrose, who has been in the law court, exchanging benches. When the next session of court opens the different rooms will be presided over as follows: Room 1, Judge Scott; room 2, Judge Keysor; room 3, Judge Ferguson; room 4, Judge Hopewell; room 5 Judge Blair; room 6, Judge Ambrose; room 7. Judge Duffle. Room 1 is the criminal court; rooms 2, 3, 4 and 5 are the law courts and rooms 6 and 7 the equity courts.

The sessions of court in Douglas county will commence February 4, May 6 and September 23; in Washington county, February 25 and September 23; in Burt county, March 25 and October 14; in Sarpy county, March 11 and October 7. Judge Ambrose will preside at the sessions in Sarpy county, Judge Blair in Washington county and Judge Keysor in Burt county.

The announcement that Scott was again given the criminal docket met with vigorous protests on all hands. Some of the lwaeyrs, however, view it with feelings of mingled grief and satisfaction, for while those who practice in the criminal court are warm under the collar, those who practice in the other courts are leaping about in the greatness of their joy that they will not have to submit their cases to Scott.

It is said that pressure was brought to bear on the judges from various sources, and also that Judge Scott wanted the court and none of the others did. Judge Scott had given it out cold that he must have the criminal court, and that if he didn't get it something would drop and drop hard. It is said that for the last month Scott has been rustling among his friends in order to have them induce the other judges to continue him on the criminal docket. The influence was of an opposite nature. It has been of no unusual occurrence during the last few weeks for the judges to meet lawyers who have prayed that Scott be not appointed to the court in which they practice. A lawyer from the equity court would say: "For Gods' sake don't put Judge Scott upon the equity bench," and another whose practice lies in the law court would come with the request "Don't assign Scott to the law court." On the other hand, the lawyers of the criminal court were just as anxious to see the bench of their court filled by some other judge.

IT WAS NOT EXPECTED. The action taken yesterday with reference to Scott's assignment is all the more inex-plicable in view of the known sentiments entertained by each of the several judges as to the impropriety of such assignment. few weeks ago a reporter was detailed to canvass the matter. He was instructed to in-terview the judges and report whether or not they, or any of them, were favorable to the assignment of Scott to the criminal bench for the new year. It was a matter of common report that a majority of the bench op-posed such action, and the general belief among members of the bar has been that Scott would never again be permitted to take the criminal docket.

The judges will meet on the first day of the year to the work. Scott has an inkling of their in-tentions, and has postponed his vacation and will not leave until the matter is decided.
