Nason, president of the State Relief com-

"At the suggestion of prominent citizens, I object of soliciting the co-operation of the honorable members of the school board in assisting the State Relief commission in alle-viating the distress, which I regret to say is assuming appailing proportions among the citizens among the drouth districts in the state, by authorizing the teachers in the various schools to receive contributions of money, clothing and provisions for distri-bution by this commission. We suggest to popularize the movement that it be made a 5 cent collection fund.

"In 1890, when the citizens of this city made it possible for this commission to dis-tribute clothing, provisions and fuel to a very large amount, the teachers of the city schools in their warm hearted efforts to aid us afforded important asistance."

The communication created considerable discussion. Some of the members were heartily in favor of it, while others thought it would be a bad precedent to establish. The latter were opposed to it especially because many of the children in the schools had parents so poor that it would embarass them to be called upon for articles, and particularly money. A suggestion was made

Later in the meeting Mr. Babcock offered the following resolution, which was passed: Resolved, That the teachers in the various schools be and are hereby authorized to receive from the children of their schools contributions of ciothing or provisions for the citizens in the drouth districts of this state, and that all contributions so made be distributed through the State Relief commission.

The president stated that he had been unable to obtain 10,000 copies of the president's annual report, printed at a cost not to exceed $25. The lowest figures he could get was $40, and he wanted further instructions.

Mr. Tukey offered a resolution that 10,000 copies of the report be printed, at an expenditure not to exceed $40. Mr. Gibson thought that it was throwing money away to spend it for printing the address, as the report of the finance committee, which cov-ered the same matter more exhaustively, had been published in the city papers, but his ob-jection had little effect. The resolution was passed by a vote of 9 to 2.

Nasty cod-liver oil and its filthy "emulsions" and mixtures, had been tried in nearly all these cases and had either utterly failed to bene-fit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for fit, or had only seemed to benefit a little for a short time. Extract of malt, whiskey, and various preparations of the hypophos-phites had also been faithfully tried in vain. The photographs of a large number of those cured of consumption, bronchitis, lingering coughs, asthma, chronic nasal catarrh and kindred maladies, have been skillfully reproduced in a book of 160 pages which will be mailed to you, on receipt of address and six cents in stamps. You want one of these in your library or living room. They have grown to be as much a necessary part of the furniture of a modern house as a piano or a leather easy chair.

There are over fifty different styles, copies of genuine colonial originals, but for the three essentials of comfort, beauty of outline, and historic suggestiveness there is no pattern so popular as this.

It embodies the high back with the gallery back above, the "dug" or recessed seat, the broad arm rests, the tapering cross-braces, the nearly every well known feature of the 18th century construction. We take special pains with the marquetry of our colonial frames, and at the low price at which we are selling these chairs there is nothing that can compare with them at the price in this country.
