LEADS THE GERMAN AFTER TEN YEARS

Whist Club Gives a Very Original Cotillion at Lake's-High Five Party for Mr. and Mrs. Scovit-Details of the Drake Wedding.

Have you ever thought how difficult it is to follow a woman in conversation. "Woman's at best a contradiction still," says Pope; and certainly no angler was ever more at a loss among the slippery and finny tribe than a man is among wayward, capricious and frivclously-disposed woman. Now that Lent is shortly to be with us it is suggested that the women who are seen most in society adopt the habit of exhausting one subject before jumping to another. There are women who have a marvelous faculty for skimming rapidly over the surface of things, reminding one of the swallow as he sometimes skims over the water in search of food, dipping here and there in his rapid flight. It is as breathless and fatiguing to follow them in their conversation as to pursue a squirrel as he leaps with wonderful agility from tree to tree. No sooner do you Imagine that you have caught their meaning and are going to enjoy a little conversation that can beast of some consecutiveness, than you are obliged, by a powerful wrench or intellectual sleight-of-hand, which recalls the feats of acrobats and jugglers, to divert your thoughts suddenly into a totally different channel, wholly unconnected with anything that has gone before, till you are led through fee and Miss Durfee of Kansas City. mazes of which a volatile woman alone is capable. Overpowered with the exertions of the chase, you give up, simply exhausted by the process, without any clear or distinct on any one subject.

This exercise is frequently accompanied by a considerable amount of vivacity and entertainment which would otherwise be unbearable. Shouts of laughter succeed one another as you find yourself enin a kind of steeplechase, or in an intellectual version of the old fashioned game of "hunt the slipper," only with this difference, that while the talk is slippery, slipper is not there. Or it may be that the transitions are too rapid for the completion of any sentence calculated to explain the idea which, for the moment, has possession of the wind, and while you strain every faculty you have in order to gain some insight into the meaning of what is said you are abruptly asked, in the mid-dle of half uttered, half expressed, incoherent and broken sentences, whether you do not understand.

If it were not for the arch good humor with which the question is put you would disposed to resent such an off handed way of disposing of conversation. And, af nil, what is it you are supposed to understand? Ideas not expressed, thoughts not shaped into words. Fairly puzzled, yet not willing to own your defeat, or too cour teous to insinuate the utter incomprehen sibleness of your fair friend, you either try to catch at some meaning as well as you can, or content yourself with giving vague kind of answer, that may mean any thing or nothing, or endeavor to shelv the whole matter by an affirmative which if not strictly in accordance with the truth seems the only loophole of escape. This game is played again and again with equal ingenuousness, and the most abstruse questions are touched upon in the same reckless and superficial manner, for no subject is either too grave or too deep for them. No sybil ever uttered darker sayings nor ounded more perplexing riddles than some of the young women of the present

The marriage of Miss Drake, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Drake, and Mr. Albert Frederick Miller of Franklin. Pa., is now announced to take place at Drake residence at 4 o'clock February 26, to be followed by a reception. Miss Alice Drake is to be maid of honor, the bridesmaids being Miss Adelaide Miller of Franklin, Pa., a cousin of the groom, and Miss Blanche MacBane of Fort Dodge, Ia. assisting girls will be Miss Colpetzer Miss Bessie Norton; the flower girl will be Josephine Drake, and the ring bearer, Miss Metta Miller, a sister of the first bridesmaid. The best man on this occasion is to be Mr. Charles Miller, jr., of Franklin, Pa., a cousin of Miss Drake's flance; the groomsmen will be Messrs. Samuel Megeath and William Clarke, while the ishers chosen are Mr. Harry Wilkins and Mr. James C. Ritchey. Miss Drake is one of Omaba's favorite society girls, a debutante, and comes of a fine family while circles. The wedding is to be exceedingly beautiful, and the trosseau in keeping with the standing of the Standard Oil representative in this city.

A totililan Dance.

It has been a long time since so delightful a german was given by the leaders of social life in Omaha as that of Wednesday evening, at the residence of Judge and Mrs. Lake on Dodge street, by the Whist club. This club has been in existence for several winters, meeting around at the homes of its members, and composed of men and wo men well known in society, who have given up the grand round of pleasure for the more sedate joys of home and married life. Now M. D. Youell, C. H. Warburton, E. Call, R. and then, however, the old time spirit of W. Walton, John Dooling, J. H. One of them, known as "A Knotty Problem," was worthy of any leader, causing consternation to the who drew the end of a handkerchief having the knot upon it. But the two figures that caused the greatest comment and amusement, and worthy of Beau Brum inself, were known as "All Small and "Return Partners Lead," titles having a whist-like flavor. The leader had procured, but not without considerable effort, pictures, tintypes, card photographs and ever old daguerreotypes of the participants in the darce. Pictures of their childhood days and these picture formed the basis for the figure above. To the ladies were given funny little pictures of the boys who had grown sines those photograph days into manhood and "bearded like the pard," some of whom being filled "with wise saws and modern instancea;" while to the men were given the pictures of little "kids" in pinafores other gowns reminiscent of very young childhood. And the fun was fast and furious when the men and women attempted to ing in the church parlors. them by the leader, as their partners in the $300.00 for an Idea.

This is the biggest price ever offered for a atch line or heading for an advertisement, Hayden Bros, will give a choice of several first class planes worth $300.00 each for the head line adopted and in addition will give orders on their music department for $50.00 worth of music for the next five best ideas, according to merit.

To secure an absolutely impartial decision applicants are requested to sign in number only and to mail corresponding number with name and address to The Bee office, where it will remain until after the award is made. The right is reserved to use any head line

The following are the facts to be advertised: Hayden Bros. of Omaha are the only firm in the world showing a complete line of the instruments manufactured by the five most renowned plane makers on earth. Hayden Bros, are not tied up with red tape restricions like regular selling agents, but are free o make the lowest prices ever heard of. Hayden Bros. put special streess on the Steinway and Vose pianos because they bave a larger line in stock and can buy them cheaper than any other makes of equal reputation. Do not be misled by any one claiming the sole agency. Hayden Bros. have them direct from the factory as well as from the Max Meyer & Bro. Co. stock. Music trade papers are saying pianos cannot be sold in a department store, but sensible people who do not care to be boodwinked by silly frills are not so notional and the best proof this is that Hayden Bros. sold pianos, organs and musical instruments in ne week than any five music stores west of hiesgo have sold in six months. The music papers say this innovation will be ed with unusual interest and Hayden trade illos, propose to keep them guessing,
