Neither Mr. Bates nor Mr. Amory that Judge Gilbert will look at the matter from a purely judicial standpoint, they are afraid that local sentiment, will have a great deal to do in determining the question.

In Utah the sentiment is very strong for a separate receiver, but the Mormon influence, with but few exceptions, is favorable to the present receivers. In Portland, however, the officers for the ensuing year resulted in the strongest feeling is noticeable, for the very selection of: President, C. E. Perkins, Burlington; vice president, J. C. When asked what effect the Short Line defection would have in the shop forces Mr. McConnell, superintendent of motive power and machinery, confessed that it would not have any great effect on the present force, as the shops were now running with as few men as possible to keep up general repairs. He stated that the clerical force was also down to the minimum, but as for the audit-ing department, there would be the greatest reduction, as the "Short Line" desks, so-called, would be discontinued. He was hope-ful, however, that Judge Gilbert would not grant the application, in view of the fight being made against it by the senior mortgage holders.

"Should the judge, however, hold that he had jurisdiction, and finally appoint a separate receiver, the Union Pacific would have to make the best of the situation and proceed to develop its local business. There is no gainsaying the fact that it is the trans-Mme. M. Yale was recently continental line par excellence, and it will always hold this reputation. If the Short Line goes out and decides to farm out its business to the highest bidder, then the Union Pacific will probably make arrangethe most wonderful." Her re- ments with the Southern Pacific to handle its Pertland business, via Sacramento, business which the Southern Pacific would be glad to get, I take it. There are many con-tingencies that could arise in the event of case today Judge A. H. "The Burlington, which is now handling been admired by the people of considerable Sound business, giving it to the Northern Pacific at Billings, would continue to be a strong competitor of the Short Line, just as it is now of the Union Pacific. This business, in the nature of things, would hardly be diverted to the Short Line, With the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific tied up, the Short Line would have to look to the Rio Grande Western for any business originating in the territory of the Rock Isof every woman who looks at Rio Grande Western. Naturally, this would cut up the business considerably, and business which the Short Line now gets for La Freckla will remove any nothing would have to be paid for at good

The Short Line, on the other hand, has also had in use a large amount of equipment belonging to the main line, and it has been paying interest on the same. As fast as possible the changes wil be made in order that all Short Line equipment may be on he company's tracks should a separate re-

If a list of the men mentioned for the Short Line receivership could have been tabulated it would have been shown to contain the names of at least a dozen individuals, some with good railroad records, others with no record at all as managers of railroad roperties. The first name mentioned was hat of G. W. Ristine, who made an examina tion of the Short Line property for the Amer-ican Loan and Trust company, upon whose findings the petition for a separate receiver was commenced. But Mr. Ristine is said o have refused to be considered as a candidate, for the good reason that his present position yields him $15,000 a year. Then came Edward McNeill, who stands about as much show, in the opinion of those who ought to know, as Moses of ancient time. Paul Morton, whose contract with the Coloalso joined the ranks of the seekers after the receivership. Then came J. M. PORTLAND, Ore., March 12.-In the Oregon Short Line independent receivership special counsel for the government, argued for the dismissal of the case as prayed in this will was not of sound mind and that Mr. Pierce's motion of yesterday, on the urdue influence was brought to bear upon grounds of the insufficiency of the allega-tions in the complaint and that the court here is not the proper tribunal to decide the question. At the conclusion of Judge Tanner's argument ex-Senator Sanders asked if it would embarrass counsel for the govern-ment to state what interest the government had in the line from Ogden to Garrison, or in the line from Granger to Huntington.
General Cowin replied that in the consolidation agreement the Oregon Short Line was recognized as a part of the Union Pacific that company owns a large part of the stock and a large amount of the bonds of these auxiliary roads, and the government claims a lien on this stock and these bonds. He said the receivers were operating the Short Line in connection with the Union Pacific and that if such operation is wrong it can be shown, and on such showing the order can be changed without a change of the receivers. He said it was impracticable that

In regard to the matter of primary jurisdiction, he said the Dillon bill, under which the Union Pacific receivers were apwas filed in the district court of Wyoming. MINERS ARE JUBILANT OVER THE VICTORY

Sixteen Thousand Men in the Pittsburg District Back at Work at the Wages They Demanded When They Went Out.

PITTSBURG, March 12 .- The miners of the Pittsburg district claim that victory is theirs; that they have won the strike for higher wages and they produce figures to prove their claims. With the capitulation of the river operators to the demands for 69 cents per ton, 8,000 miners went back to work at union wages, but in the rush of a resumption of work these 8,000 men were not sufficient and 2,000 miners from the railway mines have been furnished work. Besides this there are 6,000 men at work at the union rates in the railroad mines, according to the figures of the miners' officials. Thus 16,000 miners claim that the battle is wen; that the remaining operators cannot afford to keep their mines closed and let trade go to com-petitors. The strike is not yet a week old and the miners feel that their bold, decisive action has won for them the victory. The demand for coal is good and the visible supply is very short. Lake shipments will begin next month and the operators are in no con-dition to meet the orders which the opening of the lake trade will bring them. Wilson, the general master workman of the Independent Order of Knights of Labor, the new labor organization, is in the city and is Howard Gould, Samuel Sloan, Thomas T. jubilant at the prespect of the miners. He Eckert, D. D. Parmly, S. H. H. Clark, D. feels that the first fight of the new order will be a winning one and if such proves the case it will give it a big boom.

CONTESTING THE WILL.

Property of Father Ryan the Cause of a Logal Battle.

A contest over the will of the late Father James M. Ryan is in progress before a jury in Judge Keysor's court room.

The will contains a bequest of $8,000 to Mary Lamb, a sister of the deceased, the balance of the estate to go to Bishop Richard Scannell. On August 16, 1894, Judge Baxter admitted the instrument to probate, but Lizzie Lynch and Maggie Rohrs, nieces of the late clergyman, allege that Father Ryan when he made him. The testimony yesterday went to show that at the time the will was signed that, while he was a highly educated man, he merely put his mark to the instrument, instead of writing his name.

Mr. Martin has been importuned by mem-bers of his party to remove Deputy Postmaster Wood and appoint Charles Conneyer to the place. It is not probable, however, that such a change will be made.

Does Not Credit the Reports. City Comptroller Olsen thinks that the telegraph reports regarding the recent earthquakes in Mexico must have been written on this side of the line. It was re-ated how the inflammatory gases had burned up all vegetation on the sides of Mount Orizaba and the flowing lava menaced the safety of the dwellers in the valley. Mr. Olsen had a little experience with the earth-quakes in that vicinity during his recent Mexican trip and says that while they may be alarming to a novice they are scarcely noticed by the inhabitants who have become ecustomed to their occurrence. Mount Orizaba is situated about midway between the City of Mexico and Vera Cruz and rises nearly 19,000 feet above the level of the sea. Where it was claimed that the vegetation had been destroyed the mountain was covered with snow and ice that had been accumulating for ages and must have been
