Watson's Bill to Abolish the Death Penalty Barely Squeezed Through-McKeeby's Relief Bill Carries a Big Majority -Lincoln's City Assessor.

LINCOLN, March 15 .- (Special.)-With but seven days of its legal existence yet remain ing and with nearly 200 bills on general file and more still in the committee rooms, the senate has at last reached the point in its rapidly wasting life where a sifting committee seems to be absolutely necessary to prevent confusion and even demoralization. An attempt was made last Friday to secure the appointment of a sifting committee, but the objection of McKeeby and other leading republicans was strong enough to lay the matter over for a week. Wednesday night the standless than 25,000 and more than 8,000 inhabitants shall be presented in writing with a hotel and decided to provide for a sifting committee in the standing rules of the senate. The rule was agreed upon last night, as stated in The Bee this morning, and was to-day adopted. It provides as follows:

Rule, 53. A sifting committee of nine members shall be appointed by the presi-dent, whose duty it shall be to have charge of the bills on general file and report such of the bills on general file and report such bills as are deemed mest important for consideration; and bills so reported and recommended shall take precedence in con-sideration of bills now before the senate, except the general and salary appropriation bills and claim bills, which shall be sub-ject to special order at any time.

The rule as adopted gives the sifting committee almost absolute power of life or death over every bill on general file. Its authority s practically autocratic and its diction supreme as long as it has the vote of seventeen senators behind it.

There will be an immense amount of work for the committee. It will be impossible to consider in committee of the whole more than twenty or thirty bills. There are nearly other time the past winter. Much of it has of Lincoln, had examined the track yesterday ten times that number, with authors anxious for their fate. Among the bills that are tolerably sure of running the gauntlet are the beet sugar bills, the Lincoln charter, the blanket ballot bills, Tefft's good roads bill and the Omaha charter. The fate of the cleo-place now, the result of the storm that began margarine bill is still in doubt. Among the long Wednesday and continued until Thursday LINCOLN March 15.—(Special Telegram ) list of bills almost certain to be killed by the sifting committee are the "anti-monopoly" bills, some thirty or forty in number, all the bills cutting down the fees of clerks of the district courts, the county commissioner bills, all of the miscellaneous bills covering such subjects as "decedents estates," "Code of Civil Procedure," etc.

WATSON WINS BY ONE. The final vote on Watson's bill to abolish the death penalty in Nebraska came during the forenoon and the measure was given the equired constitutional sanction of seventeen votes and no more. The opponents of the bill had confidently expected to defeat the bill at the last moment. They had made a careful canvass of the senats several times over and their most careful estimates showed but sixteen votes in favor of the bill. Consequently they were just a little surprised at the vote this forencon. When the vote was called the result showed eighteen senators in favor of the bill. But there were several changes. Before the result had been announced Campbell and Lehr, who had voted in the affirmative, changed their votes to the negative, thus leaving but sixteen votes in favor of the bill, one short of a bare najority. Just when the opponents of the oill had began to think of congratulating themselves, Jeffries, who had originally voted against the bill, swung over to the opposite side and saved the bill. It had been be-lieved all along that Rathbun was against the bill and his support of the measure was Rev. Malone, editor of the Colorado Catholic, lectured last night before the Chicago Single Tax club on "The Catholic Church and the Single Tax."

In the bin and his support of the measure was a surprise. The opponents of the bill had also confidently relied upon the assistance of Saunders, and his vote was also a disagreeable surprise. The vote by which the bill

The bill not only abolishes capital punishment, but adds to the present law two pro-visions which recite that "if any person shall aid, abet or procure any other person to commit any felony, every person so offending shall, upon conviction thereof, be amprisoned in the state penitenitary for any time be principal offenders could be imprisoned for the principal offense; or, if such principal offender would on conviction be imprisoned for life, then such aider, abettor or procurer shall be imprisoned for life, the same as the principal offender would be."

The following provision is also added: If any person shall purposely and of de-berate and premeditated malice, or in the liberate and premeditated melice, or in the perpetration or attempt to perpetrate any rape, arson, robbery or burglary, or by administering poison, or causing the same to be done, kill another; or if any person, by wilful and corrupt perjury, or by subornation of the same, shall purposely procure the conviction of murder in the first degree of any innocent person covery person so of any innocent person, every person so offending shall be deemed guilty of murder the first degree and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the peniten-liary during life.

No bill that has passed the senate has oc casioned more feeling than this measure. The bill, as it was passed by the house, appropriated $200,000 to be expended by the State Relief commission. The commission was authorized to reserve $4,000 of the amount expenses. This bill passed the house, but the opposition was strong enough to pre vent the addition of the emergency clause. The bill received but a cool reception when it arrived in the senate. It came up for consideration in committee of the whole early in the week, and McKeeby presented the sub-stitute, which was passed today. The bill passed the senate by a vote of 29 to 1, with two senators absent. On the original roll call Cross, Hitchcock, Lindsay, Sloan and Steufer voted no. But after the roll call had been completed all of these senators changed their votes to the affirmative except Cross. In explaining their votes Sloan and Lindsay stated that they were not altogether satisfied with the provisions of the bill, but in order to send the measure back to the house with the weight of as large majority as possible they would change their votes to aye. Hitchcock and Steufer changed their votes for the same reason. Cross said that he had voted no after careful deliberation and could see no reason for changing

DAVIS TRIAL ALMOST ENDED amendment providing for the immediate con-sideration also of his bill to abolish the office of county attorney and to provide instead a return of the old system of district attorneys. Senator Tefft's bid was easily disposed of.

It provides for the appointment of a 'clerk' for the State Board of Public Lands and Buildings at a salary of $1,000 per an num. The bill provides that the "clerk"

shall be a practical carpenter and mechanic, and it is made his duty to visit all institutions and do all repair work deemed neces-sary. The committee on public lands and buildings also recommended that all car-penters employed at the state institutions be dispensed with. Tefft claims that the state is now paying $2,700 per year for car-

This no doubt from the hands of Colonel D. A. Scoville to prevented a disastrous wreck. The train stopped so suddenly that the passengers were thrown from their seats. Then there was a rush from the cars. Fully 100 yards from where the smashup occurred are the two engines, the pony switch engine reared high in the air and leaning against the big Pennsylvania mogul. The cab and tender of the yard engine are crushed flat and one of the cabooses is on top of the entire heap. No. 7 was going at such a rate of speed that she seemed to pitch the it along. Far to the front of one of the smashed cars, covered by trunks, twisted rods, bicycles, etc., could be seen a small In less than a minute it was burning fiercely, and as there was no way of get-ting at it the passengers could do nothing stand by and watch it rapidly lick up

Judge Considered it Advisable to Postpone a Murder Trial. PARIS, Tex., March 15.-The examining trial of Mrs. Caruthers and Jim Strange for poisoning the children of the former on Friday brought together a large crowd. Mrs. Caruthers was taken to Roxton, the scene of the murder, yesterday morning, but there was so much excitement that Judge Amonetts postponed the hearing until Monday and transferred it to this city. Some letters ound on Strange, addressed & Mrs. N. A. Doty, under which name he addressed cor respondence to Mrs. Caruthers, were opened by the court. They contained nothing to im plictae Strange, but showed her infidelity and her moral obliquity. It is clear from their contents that he not only won Mrs. Caruther's affections but that he evidently intended to debauch her 14-year-old daughter who was saved from death by the timely ar-

Terrible Case of Depravity. LINCOLN, March 15 .- (Special Telegram.) -A horrible story of depravity was developed in police court circles today. Matron Evans and Officer Bently went to Moll King's place, 2331 South Tenth street, and removed, on a warrant issued out of the county court, her two little daughters, aged 13 and 6 years. The elder had already been inducted into a life of shame by her mother, who is a prostitute well known to the police. Matron Evans learned from the eldest girl a tale beyond credence of her sufferings as a result of her unnatural mother's deprayity. She will be sent to the Girls' Industrial school at Geneva, and the younger one to the Home for Evidence in Their Pockets. J. J. Gramm, a resident of South Omaha reported to the police last night that his room had been robbed. Shortly after the report was made Chris Anderson and A. Nellson were arrested as suspects, and on being searched the stolen property was found in their possession.
