Chapman then produced an amendmen that information of a violation of the law be filed within forty-eight hours, but it went down under a heavy majority.

Speaker Richards then moved that when the committee rise it report the bill for passage as amended, and it prevailed. And bill raising the age of consent from 15 to 18 years was recommended for passage by an unexpected majority in its favor.

WILL PROTECT ALL WOMEN. There was raised a question among lawyers on the floor in the afternoon whether the substitute of Bee's, adopted, does not remove all protection from rape from unchaste and married women as provided now by statute. Bee's substitute to section 1 reads: Provided, that no female shall be entitled to legal proceedings under this act who shall previously have become notoriously un-chaste, and it is further provided that no female person who is now or has been mar-ried, shall be regarded as embraced in this Section 2 of the bill, as recommended for passage, reads:

Said original section 12 of the Criminal Code of the state of Nebraska, being section 5.58 of the Consolidated Statutes, is hereby repealed.

The repealed section of the criminal code protects every female from indecent assault. A repeal of the section by the present bill uld have left all married women, as well as all well known prostitutes, defenseless against violent and indecent assault. To emedy this awkward position the house went into committee of the whole to consider the bill. Bee's substitute was abandoned and an amendment carried which protects all females under 18 years of age, save those no toriously unchaste, and between the ages of 15 and 18 years, and even these from violen assault. In this condition it was recom-mended for passage. Constitutional amendment No. 8, relating to the right of suffrage and providing that a voter shall be able to read his ballot in the English language and write his name, shall have been a resident of the state one year. a citizen of the United States for ninety and a resident of the county for ninety days and of the voting precinct thirty days pre-ceding election, was the occasion of a stormy scene. The woman suffragists mustered in force, and tried to amend their prop-aganda into the measure. They were in good form, active and nearly overtopped their op-ponents, but McNitt, in the chair, voted to decide a tie, and they were defeated. They made another strong rally after the commit-tee of the whole had risen, when an attempt was made to amend the report, asking leave to sit again and recommend the bill for passage, and succeeded in voting this down. 39 to 31. But thirty members were absent, and it is thought they have nearly shown and it is thought they have nearly shown heir strength today. In the afternoon Rouse moved to recommit

ate closed another uneventful week with brief session this morning, at which barely a quorum was present after roll call. The reading of the journal was dispensed with and the senate at once went into committee of the Meiklejohn that he would send whole to consider Sprecher's bill providing for the election of district attorneys. The bill is simple in its provisions. All the sections relating to the county attorneys are repealed. The law provides that at the general election in 1896 and 1899, and every four years thereafter a district attorney shall be elected in each judicial district, who shall receive $2,500 per annum and hold his office for four years. Each district attorney may appoint one deputy, except in Douglas county, where four deputies may be appointed. The deputies are to receive an annual salary of $1,500. In case of a vacancy the judge of the dis-trict may appoint a district attorney, who shall serve until the next general election.

The original bill provided that the governor fill all vacancies, should but the thought it unwise to vest too much power in the hands of a mere governor. The committee of the whole agreed to rec-ommend that the bill do pass. It also voted the same recommendation to the seed grain note bill, already passed by the house. After the committee rose it was decided to out the seed grain note bill upon its passage but after the secretary had read about hal way through it was discovered that there there were but twenty-one senators present. This clause, without uld defeat the emergency which the bill would be valueless. quently the friends of the bill called a halt in he reading of the bill. It will be finished Wright succeeded in having his two insur ance bills, senate files 132 and 98, made a special order for Monday afternoon. The ballot bills, four in number, were also made a special order for Monday afternoon, and the senate then adjourned.
