Ice Men Want an Investigation. Ice men of Omaha are having a lot o trouble at present on account of the agitation of the impure ice question. The commissioner of health asked the council for an appropriation sufficient to cover the expense of having a chemical analysis made of samples of ice from the various cuttings in this vicinity, as in his opinion a large quantity of the product was impure and unfit for use. This was at the beginning of the year, and as the council has not made the required and Capitol avenue about two years ago, was appropriation the matter has hung fire. MANY SUITS ARE IN SIGHT. Sisters of Emily Hespeler Arraying Them.

selves in Court to Contest a Wil', Metaphorically speaking, a bombshell lropped yesterday among the relaives of the late Emily B. Hespeler, who died on February 19 last. It was in the shape of a will, bequeathing all of her property to her stepson, Colonel George Hespeler, and disinheriting a dozen or more of her own relatives. Soon after the death of Mrs. Hespeler, a sister, Mrs. Mary Byers, called at the house, 1238 North Twentieth street, and took away a runk containing a lot of valuable personal property, which she had conveyed to her own house, much against the wishes of George Connelly, a roomer at the Hespeler home. She then telegraphed to Colonel Hespeler, informing him of the death of his sister.

Later on Connelly swore out a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Byers, charging her with larceny, and she was called into police court, where the case was continued for two weeks. In the vent that Mrs. Byers is held guiltless of the larceny charge she will commence a criminal prosecution against Connelly, in addition to suing him for defamation of char-

Mrs. Hespeler's maiden name was Brob man, and when 19 years of age she went to work for the man whose name she bore and who was a wealthy manufacturer, after whom the town of Hespeler, in Ontario, Canada, was named. Hespeler was an old man, and he had two sens older than the fair Emily, but this did not prevent his becoming a victim to the charms of his preity employe. The result was a marriage, with the understanding that if she survived the old gentleman, she should be his sole heir, and in turn, upon her death, she should will all of her possessions to his sons. Hespeler died, as also did one of his sons, and he widow came to Omaha. She did not succeed, financially, and out of an estate originally worth $100,000, she leaves but little over $11,000 in personal property and real estate. About a year ago she got into a personal encounter with one of her sisters, Mrs. Morrow, who sued her for $50,000 damages for injuries to her person. The sister recovered a judgment for $4,000.

which was, however, reversed upon second trial before Judge Ambrese. The relatives of the deceased fondly hoped and believed she had left no will, as a careful search of her personal effects was eagerly made. Mrs. Hespeler did make a will, however, which she left in Canada, and which arrived Friday. Under it Colonel George Hespeler, her stepson, is made sole heir and administrator, without bonds. Among the personal effects of the deceased are 146 pieces of lace, valued at $2,000. There is every prospect of a half dozen suits being commenced over the will by the different relatives of Mrs. Hespeler, who consider themselves unjustly treated. Doings of the Courts.

The jury in the case of Thomas against Justice of the Peace Edgerton has brought in verdict in Judge Hopewell's court in favor of the plaintiff for $101.93.

COUNTY MAKES A DEMAND

sheriff Must Settle for Fees Received from the County Court. Of all the offices in the county that of the county judge furnishes, or rather in past years has furnished to constables, the richest Baxter all this has been changed, and there has been, as a consequence, no end of growling on the part of the regularly elected constabulary. But their complaints have had no effect whatever upon either the judge or the sheriff. The constables got no processes to serve, and, of course, no fees. It all came about in this way:

When Judge Baxter entered the office he found that under the law constables could serve civil, but not probate processes. He therefore applied to Sheriff Drexel to have a deputy appointed for the county court, and finally James C. Swift was appointed to that How was Swift to be paid?

The county commissioners only allowed the sheriff five deputies, the stated salaries to be taken out of the fees of the office. Swift could not be added to the roll in this way, so Mr Drexel permitted him to pay himself by pocketing the fees and mileage earned by him n the county court. This suited Swift first rate, and since a year ago last January he has But it did not suit the chairman of the finance committee of the county commis-sioners, and on several occasions Mr. Jenkins who was then acting in that capacity, wrote to the county attorney, Mr. Kaley, for his opinion as to the liability of the sheriff in the matter. No answer was received from Mr. Kaley, and the matter was dropped until recently, when Mr. Stenberg, now chairman of the finance committee, applied to County Attorney Baldrige for his opinion which he promptly furnished. It was to the effect that Sheriff Drexel must account for every dollar which had been collected by Swift and pay it over to the county treas-

An expert has been engaged in the county judge's office for two days attempting to get at the amount due the county on this account, but he has reported to the commismissioners that it is impossible for him to make even an estimate, owing to the fact that mileage and fees are lumped and entered under one item. They will have to be segregated, however, for the reason that the county to the fees, though the process will be long and tedious.

Why cannot some sort of arrangement be made in Omaha as was done in Detroit by the suggestion and under the direction of Mayor Pingree? With the expenditure of $2,100 for seeds, tools, food and lodging for the unemployed the vacant lots of Detroit, with the consent of the property owners, were planted with potatoes. All the unemployed who desired to do so were given employment. The result was that over 40,000 bushels of potatoes, worth $28,000, were raised. There are any number of vacant lots in this city, many of which could, no doubt, be used for this purpose by consent of the property owners without cost. If vacant lot not be gotten, the fifty acres of poor farm land belonging to the county could be util-Why not go ahead and do something in this

At this juncture an objection was raised as to the validity of warrants on which the arrests had been made. They were countersigned by W. S. Seavey, chief of police, and it was suggested that at the time when they were issued, Mr. Seavey was simply a private citizen, and Captain Mostyn was a private citizen, and Captain Mostyn was acting in his stead. Some time was occupied in looking up authorities on this point, and City Attorney Connell was telephoned for an opinion. Mr. Connell said that he believed that the warrants would hold good and on this representation the trial proceeded, although Judge Berka said that he was not altogether satisfied that the proceedings would be regular.

POTATO FARMS FOR THE POOR New York City is Adopting a Rational

Method of Charity. NEW YORK, March 16 .- The New York Charities conference has decided to adopt the scheme of potato farms for the poor which was inaugurated by Mayor Pingree of Detroit last summer. A committee has been appointed to carry out the plan on a large scale and active work has been commenced, The plan is simply obtaining the use of idle tracts of land in the city and dividing them up into patches of one-third of an acre for each family. Potatoes for planting and other vegetable seeds will be furnished. Each man must then attend to his little farm and all the products are his own.

Mr. William Steinway has offered the use of a tract of land containing 200 acres in Long Island City, and Mayor Willett gives a large tract at Winwood, Columbia college donates seven acres on Morningside Heights. All of these offers were received before any public appeal was made, and it is expected that thousands of acrs will be tendered when asked for. New York has a large area of unoccupied land. According to a census taken by Postmaster Dayton through the detter carriers there are 17,329 vacant lots, containing over ,000 acres, below West One Hundred and Forty-fifth street and the Harlem river. In the annexed district are many thousand acres that the committee expect to be offered for the summer's use.
