CHILD CONTRIBUTED TO ITS DEATH

Judge Woolson Takes Another Railroad Damage Suit from the Jury.

The jury at the federal court has proved to be a useless luxury so far at the present term of court, for not a verdict has been rendered by it in more than a week of constant trial work. Yesterday the Swift case against the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company came to the same end as its predecessors, ing taken from the jury on a motion made by the defense. The plaintiff's attorneys obected to this summary way of dealing with deciding the case against the father and administrator of the dead child, Judge Woolson said the engineer had the right to assume that when the child ran off the track it would stay off. He did not like to talk about a little child being guilty of trespass ing on a company's right of way, but the fact remained that the company had fenced itself in for the purpose of protecting itself from trespassers, and trespassers took their own risks. He did not want to say anything which would lead trainmen to relax their vigilance to protect human life, but he to protect human life, thought the engineer had exercised due diligence in stopping his train when he did and starting it up again when he thought the danger was past, and he ordered the jury to bring in a verdict in favor of the defendant. The trial of criminal cases will commence this morning, and it is probable that bootlegging cases will occupy the entire day, they being by far the principal article of diet at every term of United States court. The cases of W. B. Cuppy, Jennie M. Edington and Avington Edington, all of Avoca, on the charge of defrauding the government by put ng in false pension claims and making false affidavits in support of them, are es-pecially assigned for trial April 10.

For six years the park them but the park commissioners. I do not wish to be understood that the mayor and city council did not render assistance in these suits, for they were willing at all times to help the commissioners, but their term being only two years, new members in it were not familiar with the suits. The first suit was defended by Hon. William Groneweg, to lowed by Hon, M. F. Rohrer, Hon, D. Macrae and Hon, N. D. They were kept at an expense of $75 apiece per annum, which includes the cost of all the many improvements that have been made about the buildings and grounds. Not a death has occurred in the past seven years, excepting among those who were sick when received. The paper published in the interests of the home has a circulation of 40,000 each week and has even aroused the sympathy and active help of people on the other side of the Atlantic. Twenly-seven states are now represented among its immates, many of them taken from the slums and given a good home under good influences. Each year $20,000 is received.

Droppers Will Not Be in It. NEW YORK, April 2.- The third annual American handicap at live grand shooting will begin on Thurspigeon shooting will begin on Thursday morning at Willard's park, Paterson, N. J. Amateur and professional wing shots from nearly every state in the union have entered, and an interesting contest is looked for. "Droppers" will not be heard of in this year's shoot, as the three highest guns will score for the money. Tomorrow's tournament will consist of sweepstakes in which the "shooters" will try their nerve and get a line on their possibilities of success in the big event, which will begin Thursday morning.

Among those who have already entered or the big prize are C. F. Thomas and S. Sedan of Denver, Colo., and J. A. telliott of Kansas City. Over two dozen astern shots have become enrolled. talking here today of the proposed changes in the boxing rules, as advocated by the Olympic club at New Orleans, declared himself opposed to making four-minute rounds and two-minute rests. "There is no necessity," said he, "for any changes, and none are likely to be made. The present rules were adopted by universal consent, and nothing short of that can change them. If the Olympic club is allowed to make changes, every club in the country can do the same thing, and there would be no standard for boxing tournaments. I am opposed to a two-minute rest because am opposed to a two-minute rest because it would give a winded man too much chance to recuperate." Zeigler Won on a Foul. Regarding the New Discovery for Curing Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

Dr. Hartzman, who has made many tests of the new dyspepsia cure, is very enthusias-tic in his praise of this excellent preparation. It is nit a secret patent medicine, but is composed of pure pepsin, bismuth, fruit salts and vegetable essences, made into pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges and sold by druggists at 50c per package, under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Dr. Hartzman states that Stuart's Dys-pepsia Tablets cure dyspepsia and weak atomachs, because they possess the peculiar power of digesting whatever wholesome food is taken into the stomach. act on the boweis like cathartics, but act entirely on the food, digesting it thoroughly and quickly, giving the stomach a chance to rest and recover its natural strength, which it invariably will do after a course of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Short in His Accounts, Fred Rood Runs Away, but is Overtaken by Death. For a number of years Fred B. Rood resided in this city, working for the Cudahy Packing company at South Omaha in the capacity of a bookkeeper, stenographer and expert accountant. Something more than two years ago be acquired the drink habit and as a result he lost his position. He remained in Omaha a few months and then de parted for the west, first going to Butte, Mont., where he remained some months after which he drifted out to the Puget sound country. In Oregon he worked for the Hapgood Canning company for several months and last August he went to Astoria entering the employ of a salmon canning company, where he remained until the early part of December, when he suddenly de parted, saying that he was going to Water-ford, a few miles distant. After his departure it was discovered that he was short in his accounts. A search for his where-abouts was made, but no trace of the missing man could be obtained. Yesterday The Bee received a telegram from Astoria, stating that Monday night the body of Rood was found and that it was standing upright, leaning against a tree, in Beaver creek. The remains were badly decomposed, showing that the man had died several weeks ago. The identification was complete and as there were no marks of violence to be discovered it is supposed that the man died from cold and exhaustion. Rood's shortage with the company for which he had worked amounted to only a few hundred dollars, but it was more than he could pay. He was about 30 years of age and married, his wife residing somewhere in the west.

Adams on the Law of Agency. The lecture room of the Young Men's Christian association was filled last evening with law students and attorneys, to hear Isaac Adams deliver his lecture upon Law of Agency." Mr. Adams dealt with his subject in an entertaining manner, interspersing his discourse with copious illustrations to bring out clearly the points he made,

"The average population of the New York Life building," said he, "is 600. This number of bustness people is made up of attorneys, brokers, insurance men and the like. They are all examples of agents. The building itself is managed by agents acting for a corporation. All corporations do their business through agents. The government of the United States is managed by agents. I give these illustrations to show that this law of agency pervades every department of life. "An agent is any person who in a matter of business or in the administration of afof business or in the administration of af-fairs acts in behalf of another person. So long as one acts on his own account he is not an agent, but the moment he takes on a representative character and acts for another he becomes an agent." The various subdivisions of the subject were enlarged upon, and the relations of a principal to his agents pointed out. Oppor unity for asking questions was given.
