ALLIANCE, O., May 13.—The thermometer showed 2 degrees below freezing here this morning. Strawberries and all small fruit; together will all vegetables, completely killed. Wheat is reported to be injured in any places. KANSAS CITY, May 13.—Observer Connor KANSAS CITY, May 13.—Observer Connor states that very little damage was done to gardens, and none at all to grain, by last night's frost in Kansas and Miscouri. Garden truck was slightly nipped, the buds and foliage of fruit trees injured somewhat, but not seriously. The most serious damage was done on Friday and Saturday nights.

IN MICHIGAN AND WISCONSIN. DETROIT, Mich., May 13.-Snow storms reported tonight from all points in westsula and upper portions of the southern pen-insula. The concensus of dispatches from this region is that if the wind abates, fruit will be badly frozen. NEW YORK, May 13.—Reports from many sections of the state indicate that last night's Fleming, p-rf 5 frost did an immense amount of damage to growing vegetables, crops and fruit. Telegrams from Dunkirk state that the entire grape crop of the Chautauqua grape belt was almost ruined. The loss is estimated at $1,500,000 in this belt. The Chautauqua grape belt extends though Eric county westward to Eric. It occupies a strip from six to eight miles in width along the southern shore of Lake Eric. The number of acres bearing grapes last year was 26,000. This year 35,000 acres would have been bearing.

At Ripley, where yearly 400 cars were shipped, this year will not have one basket of grapes. The thermometer fell to four degrees below freezing. At Westfield the vines are entirely cut down. Some growers will plow up their vineyards and return to the old style of general farming. Brockton, generally known as the center of the Chautauqua grape belt region, is in mourning today. Nothing is raised there but grapes and the frost last night cut them all down. Jerry Hickman, the millionaire grower and wine manufacturer, says the loss in the belt by reason of the destruction of the grapes will reach at least $2,000,000. His donia nothing of the grape crop can be saved. BUFFALO, N. Y. May 13.—Dispatches from all over western New York prove this section of the state has suffered from frost. All along the grape belt in the Chautauqua grape growers take a melancholy outlook and some dispatches state that the crop is entirely destroyed. They were occupants of a buggy and they halted this between the motor tracks without considering that they were delaying trains on the line. Officer Flint happened along and requested them to get out of the way, but they were too deeply interested in watching the manner in which the Omahogs were pilling up runs and refused to do so. Johnson also advanced a few very strong and pointed arguments to the effect that he had as much right to that part of the street as the street car company. Both are now in jail.

As has been the rule of late, the Omahas played a superb game, both at the bat and n the field, but the Rockfords gave a rocky exhibition of the great sport. They made one or two brilliant plays, but generally deported themselves like a lot of escapes from the Soldiers' Home. Fleming, the pitcher, was the only man in the outfit who created the idea that in four or five years he might become a ball player. His pitching was of the decomposed kind, but he hit well and fielded his position nicely.

Your old friends, Farmer Visner, "Whoa Bill" Kreig and Gussie Alberts were all considerably off, still they are ball players and we will hear from them yet.

Manager Nick came here flushed with an almost unbroken string of defeats, but carrying that old Cincinnati opinion with him that he would be able to give the Omahogs a few lessons in the manly art of ball playing.

He was mistaken, that's all, The day was a trifle cool, yet a fine one for the sport, and there was something less than 10,000 people present to take part in it. The Rockfords opened up with Fleming in the box, and for a few brief seconds the suspicton prevailed that he was a pitcher, but subsequent events completely dissipated the delusion, for after the Omahogs had gotten on to his combination the way in which they lammed, banged and cracked him was enough to give a wooden Indian the night There would be nothing gained by detailing If be killed.

was murdered. Khartoum a steamer was chartered, and the party continued the trip up the White Nile into the territories of tribes who were no clothes. The descriptions of these people, some of whom were dwarfs and others almost giants, their customs and methods of living were very interesting. While in this part of the country the lecturer came across many traces of caravans, and reached one tribe that had been decimated by the slave dealers. He emphatically denied that the English had ucceeded in putting down the slave trade. On the return the party retraced its steps as far as Berber, and then went east to the

Throughout the lecture Dr. Ladd pointed out in how much need of missionaries the natives were, and urged that missionaries should be sent there, if not through Khar-toum, which is now closed, then from either oast. He prophesied that the dark con-inent, larger than Europe and North America combined, and containing one-sixth of the world's population, would become Christianized, not in a few years, but perhaps in ages to come.

The lecture was interspersed with a large number of amusing and entertaining stories and anecdotes, the relation of several hairbreadth escapes from death when some the party were surrounded by natives, and one snake story of alarming proportions.

They Were "Chasing the Duck." Mabel Green and Blanch Cobb met John E. Edmunds and Walt Freeman last night | on South Thirteenth street, near Mason and invited them to buy a can of beer. The money was produced and the beer bought. The party adjourned to a wagon on the corner, but before the amber fluid was even sipped Officer Halter was attracted to the place by the four's bilarious conduct. They were arrested, and the can of beer was left standing on the wagon.

FIELDS EMALL, YEUT RACING WAS COOD

Dr. Morrow Justifies His Friends' Confidence by Winning the Knickerbocker, Taking the Seven Jumps in Fixe Style.

NEW YORK, May 18 .- There was a very slim attendance at Morris park today, the last of the steeplechase races. The fields were small, too, but the racing was good. A contest between the two maidens, Trillion and Ruth S. furnished the comedy for the day, as Trillion fell, and before she could be mounted Ruth S was half a mile ahead. She would not take the Liverpool jump, however, until Trillion had come up with her, when she joined her, but in the rear, and that was the way they finished. Savonara was a 7 to 10 favorite in the opening race, but was beaten by a length by King John in a rattling finish. The Knickerbocker handicap brought out four good ones, with Judge Morrow as the even money favorite, and St. John second choice. Morrow took the lead in front of the grand stand and held it to the end, winning by two lengths from San Joaquin, who came in with a rush at the end, forcing English to use whip and spur. Morrow's jumping was remarkably good. The grand internaional steeplechase had six starters. It was a fine contest, with very little choice be-tween Lady Raymond, The Peer and Pat Oakley and the other outsiders. The six kept in good company until the Liverpool jump in the second, when Pat Oakley fell. The Peer and Lady Raymond then got a long lead, and the last mile was a hard drive, with both jumping beautifully. The mare outstayed her rival and finally Results:

DOESN'T CARE TO HAVE THE FIGHT National Sporting Club Will Offer No Purs for torbett and Jackson.

LONDON, May 13.-A crowded meeting of the National Sporting club was held tonight, at which the secretary read the cable dispatch addressed by Manager Brady o the club, expressing Champion Corbett's willingness to meet Jackson before the club. Jackson was present. He made a club. Jackson was present. He made a speech, begging the club to put up a purse and let him have a chance to meet Corbett. His proposition, however, met no response, owing, it is said, to Corbett's sneering allusion to the National Sporting club. The club declined to put up a purse. Peter Jackson said tonight to a reporter of the Associated press: "I do not think Corbett is in earnest this time. He knows he is unpopular with the National Sporting club, and had small show with them to hang up a purse. Then, it is very near the close of the season, and their books are full for the next season. I feel, and I so told the club, as though my last chance of meeting Corbett is gone. He knows we cannot fight in America. Since the action of the Louisiana courts, there is no other dub which will hang up a sufficient purse. I will meet Corbett anywhere, and have always been anxious to do so. You will remember that my challenge has always been open to him. But I don't think Brady is really in earnest about this proposal. He must surely have known how unpopular Corbett is with the National Sporting club. I have done all in my power, and I am now ready to leave England. I shall sail for America soon after Derby day and go direct to San Francisco."

This committee has prepared a report, recommending that the appropriation be not made, and he report will be read this evening. Members of the council say that as soon as a ominal office is created for Galligan salary will be appropriated.

HE DECEIVED THE PEOPLE.

And is to the Penitentiary for a Year. (From the Lowell Marning Citizen.) At Atlantic, Ia., on May 7, C. M. Allor, alias "Crip" Ailor, was convicted of deceiving the people by selling a worthless com bound, which he represented to be Hood's Sarsaparilla, and was sentenced by Macy to one year at hard labor in the Iowa state penitentiary. Allor's methods were those of a traveling fakir. He has been traveling through Missouri, Nebraska and Iowa, making stands of a day or more in each town, and representing himself as an agent under salary from C. I. Hood & Co., and selling his concection at $1.00 or 50c per bottle, giving with each sale various other worthless articles. Citizens of Griswold, Ia., became suspicious, and ascertaining from a druggist that Aller's compound Hood's Sarsaparilla, but mersiy colored water, had him arrested. Three indictments were found against him, the jury convicted him after only thirty minutes' deliberation, and he was sentenced as above. This incident suggests the wisdom of purchasing medicines only of reputable dealers whom you know. Hood's Sarsaparilla is never sold by peddlers, and such offering it should be at once reported to the authorities or to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The old impression that misfortunes are friends of ex-Fire Chief Galligan, expressed accumulative is again flustrated by the exat the time of his retirement, that some perience of Mrs. William Carrigan, who visited trouble might arise over the half pay stipula- the police station yesterday to give information were well founded, for the Board of tion in regard to the theft of a lot of jewelry which was taken from her home at 1812 Nicholas street. In this case the thief is alleged to be her husband, who stole the jewels with which to decorate the woman for whom

Among the neighbors of the Carrigans was that the retirement be on half pay indefinitely, and the recommendation was adopted the husband, his 19-year-old wife and a little child. For some time past the two families have been intimate and no one suspected the increasing attraction which the society of Mrs. Nelson exercised toward Mrs. Carrigan's bushand

About three weeks ago Mrs. Carrigan was taken to St. Joseph's hospital for treatment, and remained there until yesterday, when she returned to find her husband had gone tion of that time, and that thereafter he should receive half pay indefinitely. The council, so the members of the finance committee say, agreed to this with the unofficial understanding with the fire and police board. however, that it should create an office, even quiries on foot to ascertain her whereabouts, a numinal one, for Galigan at a salary.
