Hill and his bondamen. It is sought by the state to have the trial fixed to occur during the present term. While not spposing a new trial, the defense asks that the trial be not set during the present term. Judge Wakeley and G. M. Lambertson spoke for the state this morning, and all the attorneys for the defense, except Judge Broady, per-sonal counsel for Hill, argued against an immediate trial. At the conclusion the court took the matter under advisement until tomorrow morning. By the attorneys for the defense it was urged that the trial had alconsumed two weeks of their time and that a second trial during the present term would prevent them from fulfilling engagements in other courts and in behalf of other clients. City. These four officers comprise the executive committee to arrange all details of an exhibit of Nebraska's products at the exposition, which opens in September. The president was authorized to appoint chairmon of subcommittees. The following were selected as press committee: F. W. Bostrum of Lincoln, H. K. Burkhart of Omaha, L. W. Hastings Aurora; transportation committee, George Jenkins and John Uit; finance committee C. Holmes of Omaha, D. P. Rolfe and John Heaton. Mrs. John Heaton and Mrs. H. K. Burkhart were selected as a committee in charge of the woman's department of the Nebraska exhibit. By resolution, Governor Holcomb was requested to appoint O. C. Holmes, John Hewitt and Harry Hotchkiss anal delegates from Nebraska.

In the general discussion following the seloction of officers it was developed that there was no fund from which a nickel could be drawn for expenses incident to a display from Nebraska. But it is evident that this condition is not going to deter the energetic delegates from going shead and doing all in their power, with such assistance as can be secured from manufacturing exhibitors, to se-cure for the state a creditable showing at Atlanta. It is argued by the delegates that as so many other western states will be handsomely represented the absence of Nebraska would be quickly naticed and unfa-vorable comment excited. There was a con-sensus of opinion among the delegates that the central exhibit should be corn, with all the numerous manufactured products from that cereal. Other industries could be made to subserve this one, which is so grandly supported by statistics.

Many of Their Concessions in Madagascar Similarly Situated to Waller's. WASHINGTON, May 21 .- Paul Bray, step-on of ex-Consul Waller and his conartner in the concession in Madagascar, was at the State department today and had an interview with Acting Secretary Uhl. The department is making a careful examination of the merits of his claim for reparation and a full transcript of his statement will be forwarded to Ambassador Eustis to serve as the basis for negotiations with the French government. It seems from Bray's account that but one American besides Waller and himself is interested in a concession in Madagascar. This man, an ex-army officer, was recently granted a concession containing mineral, which was approved by the French resident. For this reason the Hovas have always resisted it. There are, however, some British subjects who hold concessions granted directly by the Hovas and standing without the approval of the French resident. Inas-much as the latter had fought to dispossess Waller and Bray from these concessions on the claim that French approval was necessary to make it legal, the Americans may find in the case of the British concessionaires a strong support, for it is believed the French would not dare to make any issue with Great Britain on this matter at present and they cannot consistently discriminate against Americans if the State department undertakes to champion their cause, which it will do exhibits an interesting phase of the character of Mr. PREBLE.

It shows that a detective may serve the law at the expense of his conscience, and that technical,

Mr. FIELDING is never found in the beaten paths; and it will not surprise the readers of this story to discover that it is very far out of the ordinary line of detective fiction. The author has exposed a variety of rascality common enough in real life but new in romance. The story is bright and entertaining; it appeals strongly to thesympathies of the reader. It will be
