

CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

Business remains fair, though there is no boom. HOPES FOR THE FUTURE CONTINUE BRIGHT

Cold Weather has retarded crops to some extent—Trade is all that could be expected with collections remaining unchanged.

It cannot be said that the business situation in Nebraska has been better during the week just past than in the week previous, but the fact that business has not improved with the rapidity that it was hoped it would is due more to fear which it is to be hoped is groundless.

The fact that Nebraska in 1894 experienced such a complete failure of crops has resulted in causing no little anxiety on the part of the business community.

It is, therefore, to be expected that when this question is absorbing the attention of every one that it will, to no small degree, cause anxiety and worry and consequently affect business.

It is proper and prudent that all persons take heed of the nature of the harvest and the slightest use in unnecessary worrying on the self about something which may happen in the future, and the happening of which is decidedly problematical.

Of course it is not possible for conditions exist through 1895 that existed through 1894 disaster will result, but, on the other hand, there is no sure foundation for expecting, or even thinking, that such conditions will be repeated.

The crops in Nebraska today are all right and exceeding so far advanced as any other year, but it is not safe to say that there is any reason to expect that the crop will be better than in 1894.

Lightning did strike twice in the same place, but it is not safe to say that there is any reason to expect that the crop will be better than in 1894.

Day's Market Capped the Climax for Surprises and Sensations. MARKET CUFFED BY BULLS AND BEARS

Went Down Like a Load of Dirt from a Dump Wagon and Then Soared Back to the Clouds with a Rush.

CHICAGO, May 25.—There have been many wild days in the wheat market of late, but today's proceedings capped the climax for surprises and sensations.

It was a load of dirt from a dump wagon, and the professional shorts were not a little surprised in breaking the price down to 74 1/2c at the start, and as much was wanted an hour after when it was selling away from 79c.

The first thing to incite buying was a professional short's order for 100,000 bushels of wheat, and the market immediately advanced to 79 1/2c.

The country was in a mood to take profits and sold big blocks on the decline, but as soon as it was seen that the market was not to be sold, the price advanced to 80 1/2c.

It is not safe to say that there is any reason to expect that the crop will be better than in 1894.

STOCKS AND BONDS

Share Speculation Opened Active and Prices Sharply Advanced.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Share speculation opened active and prices advanced under the leadership of New York Central.

There has been a very substantial increase in receipts this week as compared with last, while supplies still fall considerably short of what they were a year ago.

The general character of the cattle market for the past six days showed little in the way of improvement over the preceding week.

The cow market was strong. Offerings were as usual limited, and with an active market, the price advanced to 10 1/2c.

The market today was about the best of the week. There was a better showing of good finished native carfed hogs.
