Weak Cables and Rain Influences Caused What to Decline. CORN WAS WEAK THROUGHOUT THE DAY

Home Export Business Reported from the State Board and Though Rather a Small Quantity, It Was a Feature in Bull's Favor.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Wheat dropped, due to influence by the rains, weak cables and general profit taking. Corn closed 1/4 lower, oats 1/2 lower and provisions at moderate declines.

The rain in this region, which came in express continuation of the signal service, was the influence under which wheat opened weak and fell to 1/2 below yesterday's price, July sold at 77 1/2 by down to 75 1/2, and corn, which had been up to 25 1/2, fell to 24 1/2, and oats to 23 1/2.

Home export business reported from the State Board and though rather a small quantity, it was a feature in bull's favor. The Liverpool market was quiet, easier and fell lower. Paris, unchanged for wheat and fell lower for corn.

Another active day was passed in the oil market. The rain of the last twenty-four hours started the decline and the weakness in wheat and corn was the result of some assistance. Babbington's firm was the main buyer of a heavy line they had for Wall Street parties.

The provision market was heavy in tone and did not get to the bottom until late in the afternoon. The price of corn declined another 1/2 and reacted 1/2, closing with a net loss of 1/2. The price of wheat was also down 1/2 and reacted 1/2, closing with a net loss of 1/2.

Cash quotations were as follows: FLOUR—Steady, unchanged; winter patents, 12.00; spring patents, 11.50; 100 lb. bags, 11.00; 50 lb. bags, 10.50.

EDITOR RAKER IS CONVICTED. Verdict Reached After a Long Wrangle and Fifty-Nine Bailouts. TRIAL JURY FINDS HIM GUILTY OF LIBEL. One Juror Admits that Religious Questions Were Taken Into the Jury Room—Remarks Railing of the Court Fur-nish Grounds for an Appeal.

The Raker-Rabbit libel suit was terminated yesterday by a verdict being rendered, finding Raker, the editor of the Gretna Reporter, guilty. The jury had been out since Monday evening, unable to agree, but after an immense amount of wrangling the twelve men reached a conclusion late Tuesday night, though the fact was not announced until this morning.

The charge is made that a religious war was carried on behind the doors of the jury room, the friends of Raker rallying to the support of P. A. prolixities. A member of the jury, who begged that his name not be mentioned, has admitted that the religious question, as he put it, "for a time figured in the case."

This will be made a prominent feature in the criminal court. In addition to this, some features of the case will be brought up in support of the motion for a new trial. The defendant was not allowed to call his witnesses to testify. This ruling was brought out in the course of the trial, and the jury was told that the defendant was not allowed to call his witnesses to testify.

When the jury got into the jury room and read the instructions of the court several jurors said, "If we bring in anything but a verdict of guilty Judge Scott will fine us for contempt of court and perhaps will take the case out of our hands."
