THEY WILL BEAT A RETREAT

A. P. A. Radicals on the Echool Board Realize They Have Gone Too Far.

READY TO CRAWFISH AT NEXT MEETING

Probability is that Misses Arnold and Evans Will Be Elected and that Mrs. Heller Will Be Reinstated - Cause of Change of Affairs.

The adverse comment which was aroused by the action of the Board of Education in refusing to re-elect Miss Ethel Evans as supervisor of drawing and in turning down a number of the oldest and most valuable teachers simply because they were obnoxious to a few political schemers of the pot-rustling brand has caused a change of heart upon the part of several members of that organization. In several cases the action of the radical American Protective association element in the board was too thinly disguised to deceive any one and when one or two of the members who were acknowledged members of the order came out and refused to abide by the dictations of the Winspear Saville-Allan tribunal it became apparent that if their action were persisted in the American Protective association members would have a fight on their hands, in which they stood a flattering chance of defeat. It is stated on good authority that these members have finally recognized the fact that they had gone a little too far and have decided to take the back trail at the next meeting of the board. It is asserted that Miss Evans will be re-lected and that Mrs Harriet H. Heller will also be replaced or the list of teachers. The friends of Mess Fannie Arnold, whose re-election as supervisor of music has been stubbernly opposed on account of her alleged religious faith also claim that the opposition will be with-drawn and that she will be elected to her old position at an early date.

The opposition to Miss Arnold was based purely on religious grounds. No objection had ever been raised to her work during her seven years of service, but the dervish ulti-matum was to the effect that she must b deposed at any cost in favor of Lee G. Kratz FOR APPEARANCE SAKE.

In order to give a semblance of sincerity this action it was proposed to dismis-Miss Evans also, just as Miss McGee wa discharged a year ago, in order to affor an excuse for the dismissal of Miss Stac At the last meeting of the boars Miss Evans' friends asked to have her nam considered separately, as no objection had ever been made to her, but nine membe of the board voted to postpone action until the committee report on Miss Arnold was submitted. The discussion was very hot for a few minutes and the members who voted to postpone were openly charged with being stool pigeons for "Council No. 125." When It appeared that no possible excuse could be formulated for the dismissal of either Mis-Arnold or Miss Evans, and that the members would have to go squarely on record, some of them began to have misgivings and the forces of the radicals began to show Indica tions of weakness. Since then one or two of the nine who voted with them two weeks ago have locked into the matter and have decided that they could find no good reason for repeating their action on the final test and it is claimed that the schemers have given up their plan for the present.
At least one other of the teachers who were dropped will probably be re-elected. This i Mrs. Harriet Heller, who has been considere aris. Harriet Heller, who has been considered one of the best teachers in the service for the past half dozen years. When the committee on teachers and examinations refused to present her name for re-election two weeks ago they claimed that it was because she was lacking in discipline and was a married woman. In the same was a married woman. man. In the same report, however, the committee recommended Mrs. Tucker, the wife of the superintendent of the Omaha Street Railway company. So far as the charge that Mrs. Heller was lacking in discipline was concerned, an investigation deveoped the fact that her markings were per-fect in that particular. Superintendent Mar-ble said that Mrs. Heller's room was one of section that particular. Superintendent Marshelo said that Mrs. Heller's room was one of the first he visited when he came to Omaha. He went there three tinks, and at no time did he find anything to criticise in her work. It was not until one of the members of the order vented his indignation that the true reason for Mrs. Heller's dismissal was discovered. He said that it had been reported to the dervishes that on one occasion when taiking with some woman friends. Mrs. Heller had forcibly remarked that there were two kinds of bigorry. On was Catholic bigotry and the other was Protestant bigotry. If one must be had she preferred the Protestant bigotry, but thought that the A. P. A.'s were going altogether too far. In this connection the member declared that he refused to be dictated to by such men as Allan, Winspear, Saville and Angel, and that if the matter were pressed there would be a little the prefilest light in the board that had yet been scheduled. Following these expressions of opinion it was expected that the next meeting of the board would be signalized by a muss, compared board would be signalized by a muss, com-pared with which, all previous clashes would be insignificant. But if members who are on the inside are to be believed the battle will not come off. The pot rustlers will beat a retreat before public opinion and the action which has aroused such general indignation will be rescinded.

Jubilee Celebration at the Holy Family Church. A delightful silver jubilee celebration was held on the lawn of the Holy Family church at Eighteenth and Izard streets Tuesday evening. The grounds were brilliantly lighted by sixteen electric lamps and many Chinese lanterns. The national colors were used as the decoration and a program of many excel-lent musical numbers was rendered.

The celebration was in honor of the twenty-fifth year of the pastoral work of Rev. F. G. Hillman, who has spent the last seven of these years at Omaha, and in whose honor fully 2,000 people crowded the spacious church yard last evening. Major John B. Furay, in behalf of the congregation, humorously reviewed the history of the Holy Family church congregation when it occupied a small building in its infant days, calling attention to its growth from this humble on his carnest work and expressed the high feeling the congregation felt for him. Father Hillman responded by saying that he could vividly recall the time, twenty-five years ago, when he was ordained a priest, as he on that day was asked by his own mother for a blessing.

Substantial presents in the shape of well-filled purses were given Pather Hillman by the parisheners and by the Young Ladies

The speaking and music took place from an elevated platform in the center of the lawn. The arrangements for the exercises lawn. The arrangements for the exercises were under charge of Father Bronsgest and the ladies of the parish. W. Michaelson furnished the electric lighting. The program consisted of music by Missos Etta Creighton, Susie Brady, the church choir, Miss Cotter, Miss Munchhoff, Madeline O'Rerk, Miss Hussie, H. V. Burkley, and recitations by Miss Shannon, T. P. Lee and Bridget McArdle.

GAGGED THE SLEEPING CLERK

Burglars Make a Big Steal from Rix's Store at Calhoun.

ATTEMPTED ALSO TO CRACK A BANK SAFE

Supposed Guilty Parties Traced to Florence Where One is Caught and Another Escapes-Officers Scouring the Country for Him.

The general store of Henry Rix at Calhoun was entered by three men about 1 o'clock yesterday morning who removed a panel from the back door. F. Frahm, a clerk who sleeps in the store, was awakened by the noise and asked the intruders what they wanted. He was covered with a couple of revolvers in the hands of the robbers, while the third bound and gagged him. Leaving him helpiess, the burglars went through the stock, picking out such goods as could be conveniently carried away. When they departed they took about $300 worth of goods.

The safe in the Calhoun bank was tampered with, but was not opened. Two holes were drilled in the combination lock and fuse powder was inserted. All was ready for the application of the match when the cracksmen took fright and left without finishing their work. It is presumed that the attempted safecracking was done by the same gang that robbed the Rix store.

Soon after the burglars left, Frahm suc eeded in loosening himself from his bonds and gave the alarm. A posse was quickly organized to follow the thieves and they were tracked to Florence, where for som time all trace of them was lost. Finali a saloon keeper named Ryan was encountere who said that three men had called him up at 5 o'clock in the morning and asked for something to drink. They were driving single buggy and a horse was led behind. was discovered that one of the men has driven away with the rig while the other two remained behind and put up at the hotel The city marshal of Florence went to the hotel in company with Ryan and other cit zens and found the two men in bed. Th marshal asked to be allowed to see their valise, when one of the men sald, "Why, we are all right," and nurriedly turned over the contents for inspection. After some further explanations the marshal concluded that the men were all right and decided to let them go.
While the contents of the value were ing exhibited. Ryan had caught sight a brace of bits, such as are used for drilling and he differed with the marshal as to the advisability of letting the men go. It was finally decided to hold the strangers, and they were placed under arrest at the depot Just as they were preparing to leave town. One of them was successfully captured, but the other jumped on the train, followed by an officer. When he saw that he was followed, the suspect jumped from the train and made a rush for the thick brush which lined the track. The officer fired a couple of shots, without effect, and the man got away without injury. His valies was left behind in the flight. It contained a number of pieces of fuse and some bottles full of what is supposed to be acid. This makes it certain in the minds of the officers that the party is the right one, and the most rigid search is being made for the two men who got away. The sheriff from Blair and Sergeants Cook and Haze, and Detectives Hayes and Hudson of Omaha are assisting in the search. The Omaha officers were sent out by Acting Chief Mostyn as seen as the report was received that the burglars had een seen in Florence.

The local police are of the opinion that the Calhoun cracksmen are those who have made so much trouble here. Their methods of operation are similar, and it is not be-lieved that the men who were arrested the other day for the Anheuser-Busch robbery are the men who really did the work. They are much interested in the identification of the man who was arrested at Florence, and he will prohably be brought in by the Omaha officers and locked up here. WORK OF THE ELLIOTTS.

Late in the afternoon the officers returned to the city without finding the man who jumped from the train, although they scoured the woods for him all the afternoon. During the search a tax collector was discovered in the woods and he had some difficulty in per suading the officers that he was not a burglar consent of Sheriff Minks of Blair, wh had arrested him, the man who was capture at the depot was brought to the police station He also brought the vallse that was left by hind by the man that jumped from the train. The valise contained one of the fines kits of burglars' tools the police of the city have ever seen. There were all kinds of bits, braces, chisels and drills of peculiar shape, each evidently to be used at some stage in a job of safeblowing. There was a stick of giant powder and several bottles containing nitro-glycerine and unknow Every article was of the finest make There is no doubt that the prisoner is con nected with the value, for he asked for a handkerchief that it contained.

The prisoner gave his name as C. F. Mar-tin, but he is supposed to be one of the Elliott brothers. Both are very much alike in appearance, and the prisoner bears a strong resemblance to their pictures. His shirts and handkerchiefs were marked with "Ell." He, however, ignored all questions about himself or his former doings, except to say that he had been in Omaha te

AN ALARMING STATEMENT CONCERNING WOMEN.

HOW BAD HABITS ARE FORMED.

The New York Tribane says: "The habit of taking 'headache powders' is increasing to an alarming extent among a great number of women throughout the country. These powders as their name indicates are claimed by the manufacturers to be a positive and speedy cure for any form of headache. In many cases their chief ingredient is morphine opium, cocaine or some other equally injurious drug having a tendency to deaden pain. The habit of taking them is easily formed, but almost impossible to shake off. Women usually begin taking them to releve a raging headache and soon resort to the yowder to alleviate any little pain or ache they may be subjected to, and finally like the morphine or opium fiend, set into the habit of taking them regularly, imagining that they are in pain it, they happen to miss their regular dose."

AT THE FEDERAL BUILDING Grand Jury Once More Resumes Its Labors

-Notes of the Court.

The federal grand jury resumed its labor yesterday. There are a number of counterfeit ers and two bootleggers, who will doubtless receive attention at this sitting. Among the witnesses summoned before the grand jury are a number of Winnbago Indians, including Henry French, the chief of the famous Indian police on Captain Beck's domain Henry says that things are comparatively on the reservation at present. He will obey Captain Beck's orders to the letter at any time, and he says that this sentiment it shared by his associates. Beyond this he reticent upon the subject. It is eviden om his remarks that he is jubilant over an increased police force, and feels capable now of successfully enforcing orders received from the captain with relation to the eviction of Flournoy tenants.
