Verdict for Morris.

The case of Peter Weiss against Morris Bros. went to the jury in the district court yesterday afternoon, and at 8 in the evening a verdict was returned in favor of the defendant in every particular. Every interrogatory given by the jury was answered favorably to the defense. In reply to the interrogatory as to whether the note had been altered subsequently to its date, the jury answered in the affirmative. It is believed that the jury decided that it had, and that being the case the note and consequently the mortgage which were given to secure it were rendered invalid.

Pottawattamie County Republicans Announce Themselves on the Governorship.

SOLID HARLAN DELEGATION

Efforts to Swing the Convention to Drake a Failure-Resolutions of Instruction Sent Through After a Stubborn Opposition.

Not in ten years, as one of the delegates yesterday put it, has there been a convention of the republicans in Pottawattamie county held when of 177 delegates 177 or 178 were present. When the clans began to gather at the court house it was evident that a tremendous interest was felt in the outcome, and this was the more wonderful inasmuch as every one supposed there would be such an overwhelming majority of Harlan men present that the nomination of delegates to the state convention would be merely a matter of form.

But the surprising interest was due to the fact that during the morning the rumor crept about that the Drake men, unabashed by the positive way in which they were set upon last Saturday evening in the primaries, had been quietly trying to secure proxies from the country delegates who were not here to read the papers, and so would not be expected to know anything special was in the air. But there were no such ignoramus on any of the delegates, as subsequent developments showed.

The result of the convention was, in short, that a solid delegation was elected by the Harlan men and instructed to vote and work for the nomination of ex-Senator James McParland as gubernatorial nominee. This was not accomplished, however, with any great amount of ease, and for a time it looked as though the resolution of instruction would be voted down, notwithstanding the overwhelming majority of the Harlanites among the delegates.

But the matter was turned over to the chairman T. C. Dawson of the county central committee, called the convention to order and named W. H. Kilpatrick of Neola as temporary chairman of the primaries, to be left with the crowd, and as a result, in spite of frequent motions to adjourn, made by Council Bluffs men, C. H. Converse's motion to carry on as the convention, which was carried. A resolution to this effect had been passed by some of the Harlan men on resolutions, but was knocked out in the committee room.

CHOOSING THE COMMITTEES.

On motion of Jacob Sims the delegates then passed out by districts to select members of the committees on credentials, permanent organization, resolutions and delegates to the state convention.

The first of the delegates were outside the visitors had pretty much a monopoly of the room. Among the "visitors" were a good bit sprinkling of Drake men, who had been present at the primaries. One of them, T. J. Evans, arose and said: "Mr. Chairman, where do we meet?" There was a general laugh, and the chairman was asked two solid walls lining up the men of his district. Evans sat down amid the laughter of his fellows, and William Arnd, Spencer Smith, Ernie M. Baker, John L. Baker, Baker, Cap. Hubbard, John Lundt, City Attorney Hazelton and several other reformers, who were sitting on the floor, were looking on with weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth.

When the district chairman in they made their reports, arranging the committees as follows: Resolutions—T. B. Bardeley, J. K. Annis, G. H. Summit, J. B. Matlock, J. C. Hauser, W. E. Blairbridge, J. J. Steadman.

Delegates—F. A. Turner, W. M. Orr, Frank Shinn, T. W. Gaster, D. B. Dalley, Dr. F. S. Thomas, James J. Hill.

COMMITTEE WILL SANGUINE.

While the committees were out deliberating W. H. Hewitt called on C. G. Saunders for a speech. Mr. Saunders said it was rather hard for him to be called on to burrah his own town.

"I never had much oratory in me, and what little I had was knocked out of me last Thursday night. I expect to go down to Des Moines with these Harlan men, and rather think they will come back cheering with me. If they don't, I shall come back cheering with me."

The remainder of his speech was a good-natured rant of democracy, delivered in Saunders' best style, and was enthusiastically received by the crowd, and with a few exceptions, the greater the sacrifice in values.

Dr. O. W. Gordon, T. R. Bardeley, Colman W. F. Baker, Spencer Smith, C. H. Converse and J. J. Steadman made speeches.

Chairman of the committees on permanent organization, recommended N. M. Pusey for chairman, J. H. McCarthy for clerk, and H. J. Chambers for reading clerk. His report was received unanimously.

CHICAGO-NEW YORK RATES RESTORED

J. P. Morgan in Detail of European Invoicers Reads Over the Title Act. NEW YORK, June 27.—The board of presidents of the Trunk Line association met here today. The demoralized condition of east and westbound rates was the main subject under discussion, and before the meeting adjourned an agreement was entered into and signed to maintain the full published tariffs on all classes of traffic after July 8. It was further agreed that any existing contract at rates below the authorized tariffs shall be null and void.

BUCKING INSTRUCTIONS. C. H. Converse, a Harlan man from Avoca, made a strong talk in opposition to instructing the delegation. "You instruct your delegates, and you put a collar on them. They can do more for Harlan untroubled than instructed."

W. E. Blairbridge, who can fairly be said to be unimpeachable in the Harlan movement, said that he had no objection to the proposition of Council Bluffs had showed their preference for Harlan by passing in a delegation to the county convention that stood 48 to 16 for Harlan, and in a vote on a resolution to instruct the delegation, he believed that the delegates should be instructed to do the will which had been unambiguously expressed.

TWO COUNTERFEITERS CAPTURED

William Hansen and Harry Gatewood Arrested at Rock Island. RED OAK, Ia., June 27.—(Special Telegram)—The United States secret service agent, assisted by Deputy W. A. Richards and E. W. Heidwig, made two very important captures of counterfeiters today. They are William Hansen and Harry Gatewood, alias McCondon, old members of the McCarty gang of counterfeiters, who so boldly operated in the west. They had about $100,000 of the queer on them which arrested, and had drafted about $10 around the race track on the previous night. They were detected in passing a dollar on a side show man. The catch was all dollars, made by a perfect mold. The officers had wind of their being headed this way and were on the lookout. They are both from Omaha. Hansen gave the whole gang away and confessed everything. They will be taken to Council Bluffs tomorrow for arraignment.

GLENWOOD, Ia., June 27.—(Special Telegram)—The Mills county republican convention convened in the court house in this city at 2 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of electing delegates to the republican county convention.
