MIDDLE OF THE ROAD POPULISTS.

OMAHA, July 6 .- To the Editor of The

Some of these reformers, whose treachery placed in the field. They ought to know, and doubtless do know, that national parties and national issues have just about as much to do with municipal laws as socie-ties for the prevention of cruelty to animals have to do with private warfare against bedbugs and fleas; but that, apparently, makes no difference with them. If they can influence any ignorant or prejudiced voter to draw party lines and keep out of the citizens' reform movement, thereby playing into the hands of the strongest party in the field, which is the straight re-

TRAINING SCHOOL CASE.

It Will Be Decided at the Opening of the September Term.

The question of the legality of the teachers' training school will not be tried in the district court at this term. Instead, it will pass over to the convening of court in September, when it will be one of the very first cases taken up and passed upon. Frederick B. Lowe, who brought the injunction to test the legality of the action of the Board of Education in maintaining a training school, has authorized his attorney to carry the case over until than. The atterney who appears in the case said:

"The suit is one against the city-that is, against the Board of Education and its officers and comes under the statutory class of cases which are directed to be placed at of cases which are directed to be placed at the head of the docket. There is really no occasion for the issuance of a temporary injunction, as the court only does that in cases wherein there is some special danger, but as nothing can be done until next fall in the way of continuing the school, we can in the way of continuing the school, we can have the case just as well decided then." "Purely a question of law will be pre-mented to the court. The statute provides, for the powers of the Board of Education, which in cities of a metropolitan class has no more authority to conduct a training school than to operate a medical or other school where special instruction is given. Mr. Goudy, state superintendent, has rendered such an opinion, and Mr. Powell, the attorney for the board, has filed his written opinion to that effect. There is no question as to whether it is a good or a had thing. Of course the opponents say that it is a bad thing because it cats up about $7,000 of the people's money annually, but we will simply ask the court to declare the action of the board illegal and restrain the members from continuing the contract or paying money for the powers of the Board of Education continuing the contract or paying money

F. Thomas of the Board of Education said he had not examined the pleadings, and did not know the condition they were in, but was of the epinion that the board would. but was of the epinion that the boats with the case went adversely, file a bond and

TALKED OF GOLD AND SILVER.

Bimetaille League Meets and Discusses the Money Questions The Republican Bimetallic league was addressed Friday evening by D. D. Gregory, its president. Mr. Gregory began by describing that the public may know the truth about the enormous potential power of this country as compared with England, Germany and France and quoted Mulhall as authority for the statement that the potential power of America in labor, commerce and manufactories exceeded the combined power of these three countries. He said that there were com-paratively few who would not want bimetallism if other nations would join the United States. He stated that the government had been invited by Great Britain to change its double standard to a single standard. He recalled having taken the stump in 1874 to discuss the question of whether the United States should have a single or a double standard, as it was then a vital political question. He favored the Bland law and urged that the enemies of this law had invoked the aid of "Gresham's law" by uniformly misstating it. Gresham's position, he said, simply meant that the poorer metal would be driven out of a country when the demand for money as a metal had been met, but so long as it re-mained more valuable as money than as a metal it would stay in the country. The speaker traced the disparity in gold and silver to the manipulations of Wall street, tating that a syndicate had been depressing the price of silver in New York for twelve years, each sale to the government being lower than its predecessor. Thus the price for the world's market was set and advantage could be taken of the price of silver to real

PLEA FOR THE COLORED MAN. OMAHA, July 6 .- To the Editor of The See: The colored man upon applying for work at the various mercantile and industrial enterprises of this city is in most cases refused work for the reason that he is a colored man. At others he is put off with one excuse or another, but the fact is, because he has a black face. Now, why is this? Prior to this time Mr. Russell had written the superintendent, in which he stated that the superintendent might se-cure plans for the repairs and obtain bids for material, but did not authorize the making of any contracts for any purpose with any parties. Up to this time there has been no action taken whatspever by the Board of Public Lands and Buildings in relation to making any repairs at the institution. Our visit was preparatory thereto; but to our utter surprise we found that Messrs. Lawrie & Fisher had furnished plans and contracts had been entered it through them. as we were informed, for lumber, hardware and tinware and that the building had in places the roof torn off and they had contemplated putting in tin gutters next day. An examination showed that the cornice upon which these gutters were to be placed was largely decayed and entirely unfit to be used without replacing. In such condition the duty of Mr. Russell and mysslf was plain and that was to stop such unauthorized proceedings. The plans prepared by Messra. Lawrie & Fisher have never been submitted to the board nor was any member of the board aware of the fact that such plans had been prepared until they were shown to Mr. Russell and myself at the institution on the 3d. BRINGING JUSTICES TO TIME

County Commissioners Receive the First Fruit of Recent Efforts.

RETURN OF FEES AND REPORT ON DOCKETS

Delinquent Personal Tax List Witt Be Completed-Further Douglas Addition Lot Claims-Breknell Resigns as Interne at the Hospital.

The record of the justices of the peace for Douglas county has been broken. A Millard justice carried off the honors in this direction. For the first time in the history of the county the commissioners, according to Commissioner Jenkins' statement, have been able to induce a justice to make his annual report on the ondition of his docket respecting uncollected state fees remaining in his hands, and hence, under the law, due Douglas county. A meeting of the county board was held yesterday afternoon, at which a report was received from Henry N. Link, stating that he had sent his check for $1 to the county treasurer to pay the fee due the state in the case of Hellenbeck against the sheriff. His report in the Omaha platform do not pertain-covered the entire past year. For some time stand, like the stumbling blockheads that the county clerk has been sending out notices to justices in pursuance of steps taken by the commissioners to bring the justices to to the cause of equal rights could not be time, on the theory that if fees are retained more thoroughly typified than in the bite of without being paid over the offense is punishable under the statute. "This is the first case," Mr. Jenkins stated, but intimated it a straight middle-of-the-road ticket be would not be the last.

A large portion of the meeting was consumed in a discussion of whether or not the delinquent personal tax index should be completed up to date. From time to time the treasurer has been given additional help to arry on the work. The time allowed these employes had expired and several clerks made a bid to do the job for $150. Jenkins proposed that the board take up the considera-tion of the matter, which a week ago was placed in the hands of the finance committee. A point of order was made by Stenberg that the committee, not having reported, the board had no authority over the affair. This was overruled and soon a discussion of the merits of the proposition to complete an index was precipitated. Jenkins maintained that it was a question whether or not the board would complete what had been under way for months. Chairman Williams thought at this time it was a needless expense and the county should hedge on expenditures. Sutton claimed that it would soon bring in a revenue, as thousands of dollars of such taxes cannot now be collected. Stenberg cited the history of an old index, drawn up some years ago and then found velueless. It was determined by a vote to allow the county clerk to complete the work by September 1.

MORE POOR FARM LOT CLAIMS. Two additional claims for poor farm lots were filed, one by Fred Meicher and one by E. Peiskn, making a total of $2,200. Knox county filed a claim for $117.73 for having sent Mrs. Prof. Edward Dworzak to the asylum, asserting that Douglas county must bear the expense, she being a citizen of this One item of court costs was brought to light in the shape of a list for witness fees which the state had to pay for the May term, amounting to $1.058.50; for petit jurors the sum needed is $3.812.40. Talesmen cost $170 additional. The Presbyterian seminary asked for cancellation of taxes upon the Ninth and Harney street property, for which it pays $1 a year rental, the use of the building being a matter of charity. The case of Creighton Medical college against hush was cited to the board's attention to show that as an elucational institution it is entitled to the relief asked. The communication was referred. The Omaha Fair and Speed association filed a request for a donation of the discarded Pa-oillion creek bridge, which has been replaced

Conkey Co., Chicago, Ill., Dear Sirs: The little volume published by you, "Coin a School in Finance," seems to me to be syaluable to the cause of sound money that would like to arrange with you for the pub-lication of as much of it as you are willing to have reprinted. Please favor me with an early response. Very truly, A. Y. Ford, managing editor. I have read "Coin at School in Finance" through twice with great interest. It is a contribution to the education of the people, who are inquiring into this question that is of great value. It has clearly shown the fallacles of Mr. Harvey, set up in his book, which he has put in such shape as to make attracthe casual reader. John H. Gear, United States senator from Iowa.
