GOSSIP FROM THE STATE HOUSE

British Government Still Pursues the Me Carthy Gang of Sarpy County.

LINCOLN, July 22 .- (Special.)-The Engarty gang assaulted the fam ily of Mrs. Dawson, go by default. A few weeks since the British consul at Chicago called the attention of Governor Holcomb to the matter. The latter instituted an investi-gation and made a report of the same to the consul at Chicago. Today the governor reretary of State Adee, Washington, saving that Lord Hough of the British legation had called his attention to the matter and desired further information on the subject In fact, Lord Hough wanted a full and com plete statement of the affair, together with all the details. This will be prepared and forwarded to Secretary of State Olney at an early day. The investigation instituted by the governor developed the fact that Mrs. Dawson, who was enroute to Tacoma, Wash., was assaulted by the gang and dispossessed of some of her goods. Because of this she was unable to continue her journey, which she was making with a wagon, and was compelled to remain over in the state of Nebraska. Subsequently she corresponded with the British consul at Chicago, who has referred the whole matter to the British legation at Washington.

The death of Mrs. Mary Roth, who expired at 4 o'clock this morning at the asylum, is attended by a horrible story. She was violently insane and a few days since built a fire of brush and driftwood and leaped into the flames. This was in Chase county. She was terribly burned and preparations were at once made to transport her to Lincoln. The scene of the tragedy was seventeen miles from the railroad. This distance she was conveyed in an open wagon. She was then brought 275 miles and conveyed to the asylum on a stretcher from the depot, arriving there Saturday morning, two full days from the attempted suicide. Dr. Green says he has practiced on Blackwell's Island and in some of the largest hospitals in New York, but he never saw such a horrible sight.

Magnificent Out Yield.

CHEROKEE, Ia., July 22 .- (Special.) -The oat crop average in Cherokee county will be much greater than was first anticipated. A farmer living in the eastern part of the county had some oats which went down as on as they commenced to ripen. He cut them with a mower, threshing them out of the winrow, and received the enermous yield of 104 bushels to the acre. There were twenty acres in the field. It is estimated that the average yield throughout the county will be between sixty-five and seventy-five bushels. A great many farmers are running short on twine, owing to the fact that it is taking from three and one-half to four pounds to the acre, when two to three pounds ing for some time unadjusted. The questions of Prof. Ebright's removal from the Bilind Asylum at Nebraska City, or a possible removal of Superintendent Gillespie of sible removal of Duaf and Dumb institute, were in the market, so a great deal of the harvest in the market in t will have to be bound by hand. Barley and rye were a good crop throughout northwest-ern Iowa, and the potato and corn prospects are better than ever before. Corn is entirely out of danger.

He, however, turned his attention to the house, where he discovered fire in the kitchen. Quickly putting this out, he called several neighbors residing lose by, and on their return it was found that one of the bed rooms was also on fire, the blaze being in the bed. After some trouble this was extinguished. In the barn which burned there were two horses, one double carriage and a phaeton, none of which were saved. The house was outside the water limit of the city. Sheriff Price went to the scene early this morning, but as yet there has been no arrests made.

GOODE TRIS TO THE PEN Clever Work of a Defaulting Confidential Clerk Recalled.

Sheriff Drexel took to the state penlientiary yesterday morning a prisoner who is sentenced to serve a seven years' term at hard labor Goode, the man who went to explate E. E. Zimmerman was called upon, and responded with some words of encouragement. It was necessary for the party, he said, to meet the issues as they come up and to grapple with them, decide upon the best solution of problems of government and then falsifying his employer's books systemati-cally at the opening and closing of each month, drawing out a sum which made his Councilman Taylor, in a short speech, claimed for the present city council credit for many reforms that had been inaugurated in the administration of city affairs. He thought that the needed reforms could be The clew was finally found by observ City Clerk Higby defended the present ing that Goode entered all his thefts on office holders in the city and county government, and claimed that they were doing bet-ler than any of their predecessors and were money," Goode explained, "for the purpose deserving of the abuse heaped upon of treating our customers. They came in from the country and I wished to give them wine and cigars to make trade brisk." He was convicted for taking $100, though the actual peculations netted several thousand, of the Market. That Omaha bonds still retain their desirable features in the estimation of investors was in evidence at noon yesterday, when City Treasurer Dumont opened bids for the purchase of $89,000 of district street improvement bonds. There were nine bidders on the whole amount, the highest being Mason, Lewis & Co. of Chicago, whose offer of $1.0467 will be ommended to the council for acceptance This is as good a price as has ever been paid for Omaha 5 per cent bonds. The highest price on record is $1.6542. This was for bonds that were to run for seven and o years. The bonds that were offered yesterday average one year shorter and in view of the difference in time of maturity the bid of J. H. Rothwell, a cattleman of Creighton, Mason, Lewis & Co. is regarded as practically at par with the higher price for the longer

The bonds that were offered yesterday were eighty in number and for $1,000 each. They were drawn on street improvement Nos. 515, 581, 582, 584, 585, 587 and 589 and mature in from three to nine years. Other bidders were: R. L. Day & Co., Blake Bros. and J. W. Longstreet & Co., Boston; C. H. White & Co., New York; S. A. Keene & Co., Chicago; First National bank, Daytor O., and John Dale and Powell & Potter of this

Will Remember the Court. D. McMunn was in Jail, charged with vagrancy. He is an old-timer and assured the Union Pacific Hotel company, is at the court that he had just secured nice, respectable quarters and was going after his Saratoga he could go, McMunn made a courtly bow and remarked to the court: "I thank you, judge, and will remember you in November."

Judge Berka says his boom is growing and he is sure of McMun's vote if the old man is out of jail on election day and the judge is running for any office.
