Wells Too Poor to Pay. J. M. Woodmark with intent to do great bodily injury, but the prosecuting witness awa. failed to make out a case. The scars had not evaporated from the face of the plane agent, however, and so the court directed that a new information be filed, charging Wells with assault and battery, and he will have a trial August 7. Wells claimed that by having J. J. Crow, another saloon keeper from Lower Broadway, subpoensed as a witness he could prove that Woodmark was really the one who began the difficulty and that he merely acted on the defensive to prevent the little piano man from driving him into the earth. He filed an information, stating that he did not have the money with which to pay Crow's fees for testifying, and on that showing Jus-Vien will make an order for the state to

The matter concerning the reduction of park. taxes on the Ogden notel from $7,500 to $5,000 was brought up. The city attorney said that all the council could do was to recommend to the county supervisors to make the desire, reduction, but this did not meet with uni versal approval. Mayor Cleaver and Alderman Greenshields made speeches against it, the latter referring to a lot belonging to the mayor which was assessed at $2,500, and was certainly no better than any one of the Ogden

A resolution was adopted welcoming the Later Day Saints, who are intending to hold a conference hers in September, and stating it was the wish of the city they should find it convenient to make their permanent ecation in this city,

Mayor Cleaver anounced his appointement f Mrs. Mary F. Davenport to the position of director of the public library, to take the place left vacant by the resignation of Rev. E. J. Babcock. As this was a special mesting, called for another purpose, the duty of confirming the appointment was left over for the next meeting. A meeting of the Board of Health was also held, at which City Physician Treynor an-nounced that the physicians of the city had displayed a great deal of laxity of late in reporting cases of whooping cough that came under their notice. Five deaths had taken place from the disease during July, and only five cases were reported. There were plenty of other cases, the Christian Home having had several fatal cases. Manager Lemen had signed the death certificates in the home cases, but had been given a going over, no one but a physician being allowed by law to sign a certificate. On motion of Alderman Shugart the marshal was instructed to publish a notice calling upon physicians to report cases or be prosecuted and fined.

Dr. Treynor also called attention to the reckless way in which garbage collectors were doing their work, hustling their wagon full of filth around under the noses of th public. City Clerk Phillips stated that no one had any legal right to do any garbage collecting this year, there having been no li censes issued. No action was taken.

BOAT CLUB TAKES A HAND.

Will Enjoin the Destruction of the Mosquito Creek Dam near Manawa. For some time past there has been trouble at Manawa because of lack of water in the lake. Not that the lake has gone dry, but the bottom has gradually acquired the habit of approaching the surface so nearly as to cause the steamers to run aground oc easionaloly. Mosquito creek formerly empan artificial channel was made by which it an artificial channel was made by which it was made to empty into the river below the lake, thereby cutting off the lake's visible means of support, At the beginning of the present season a dam was built across the artificial channel, thus sending the creek thundering and plunging back into the lake through its old channel. One night some one whose identity could only be guessed at went out armed with an axe and chapped the dam in pieces. The night after some one else, equally unknown, went out with some bags of sand $2.50 to Kansas City and return via the Burlington route, Saturday, August 16th. Train will leave Main Street depot, Council Bluffs, at 10:45 p. m.; back Monday morning in time for breakfast. Tickets and full information at 517 Broadway.

tions, cuts it to pieces again. Yesterday the Council Bluffs Rowing asse W. A. Wells was tried in Justice Vien's clerk of the district court, setting forth the court yesterday on the charge of assaulting fact that they had an extensive boat house and the usual appliances for boating at Man-awa. The facts above stated were incorporated into the petition, and the court was informed that unless an injunction was issued at once to prevent the dam from being torn out the waters in the lake would speed-lly dry up, and their valuable property ren-dered worthless by the action of the abutting property owners, who were represented as lying around, armed with pickaxes, waiting for night to fall so they might begin their work of destruction.

The defendants named are the Manhattan Beach Improvement company, the Lake Manawa Railway company, Ben Marks, E. Jenkins, David Lane, Lewis township and the township trustees. The railway company, the beach company and Ben Marks are understood be merely friendly defendants, as their aterests are identical with those of the Rowng association. It is the farmers of Lewis ownship of whom the lake people are afraid. E. H. Odell of the Manhattan Beach empany was approached some time ago by ne of them with a demand for $100 damage The dam, the farmer claimed, was sending water all over a lot of his land that was worth as much as 50 cents an acre, and othing but $100 would heal his wounded feelings. Odell couldn't see where there was any money in buying all the farmers in Lewis township at $100 per farmer, and the offer was declined. A short time ago Odell received a letter from Flickinger Bros. stating that they had been employed as attorneys by Jenkins and Lane, and that unless $50 and attorney fees were paid the latter action would at once be taken to have the dam torn out and the sale of liquor by the Manhattan Beach company enjoined as a nuisance. How the Manhattan beach saloon figured in the deal is a mystery to Odell, and he refused to settle until the mystery was cleared up. Last Tuesday Ben Marks and the Manhattan people were served with a notice f H. H. Martens, C. H. Bertz and G. Wittland, trustees of Lewis township, the Moscuito creek dam had been declared by them a nuisance and ordered destroyed. Unless it should be tern out by noon of Friday. August 2 it would then he tor by the authorities and Marks and the Man-hattan Heach company would be subjected to all proper pensities. The lake people at once got together and planned to carry th war into the enemy's camp, and the filing only way in which the dam can be made a perpetual institution will be to station a guard there, and this will probably be done

Decisions in Court. Judge Smith rendered several decisions in the district court yesterday. One was in the suit of Sarah A. Peterson against Henry and Martin Gittens, in which the plaintiff sued to have a deed set aside. The plaintiff, Mrs. Peterson, is the daughter of Gittens by his Some years ago he gave her his note of $800 in payment for her services around home. Later on he fell in love with a lady whose buxom figure entrapped his affections considerably more than those of the other relatives. He made her Mrs. Gittens No. 2 and immediately began to deed his properly to her. Mrs. Peterson saw that her note of $800 would soon be worthless and began suit to have the deed set aside. Judge mith decided the case vesterday in her All the parties are well known residents of Boomer township.

In the suit of Lawrence C. Duffy against F. C. Reed, in which the plaintiff sought to get a judgment for damages by reason of a random bullet from the gun of a profescoal crack shot who gave an exhibition at Manawa, the motion of the plaintiff for a new trial was overruled.

The motion of the plaintiff in the case of William Figgen against E. F. Schroeder for a new trial was overruled.

The petition of J. W. Squire for a new trial of the suit in which he was plaintiff and Frank Grass defendant was also overruled. Squire held a mortgage on the R. P. Snow property and Grass foreclosed a mechanic's lien for $700 on the same property. Subsequently Squire had the case reopened on the ground that he had an understanding with the attorneys of the other side that he previous trial was not to have come off at the time appointed. He tried to prove that his morigage was superior to Grass' lien, but the court found differently. In the suit of Peter Weise against Morri Bros., on a note, a decision was rendered in favor of the defendant, or rather in favor of Sheriff John T. Hazen, who is the real arty in interest. Hazen was a surety on a $1,000 note, along with a lot of other men whose names do not count in business circles. Hazen claimed he could not be held responsible for the note, inasmuch as Weise had granted an extension of the note without his authority, and the decision of the court apheld his position. Judge Smith decided in favor of the defense yesterday by overruling the motion for a new trial.

SETTLING A BOUNDARY DISPUTE. lowa and Missouri Disagree as to an Ancient Survey.

DES MOINES, July 31.—(Special Telegram.)-Governor Jackson is in St. Louis on invitation of Governor Stone of Missouri for a conference to endeavor to settle the long standing boundary dispute between this state and Missouri. The boundary line between the states was surveyed in 1837, and adopted when Iowa was admitted. It was marked by posts, which have disappeared. Later Missouri made a survey ten miles north of the first, and the courts at last decided that the ld line was correct. Meantime the posts had disappeared, and for many years there have been disputes over jurisdiction in the uncertain territory. In Mercer county, Missouri, and Decatur county. Iowa, there has been a feud for years because of the dispute. Governor Stone wants each state to name an engineer, the two to name a third, and the three to be commissioned t settle the whole matter and make a new sur vey and establish marks. If this cannot be agreed to, he wants the case taken into th federal courts at once and settled. The Missourians claimed as the boundary the line running west from the rapids in the Des Moines river, while the Iowans claimed the line running west from the rapids in ht Mississippi river, a few miles north of the mouth of the Des Moines. In 1848 the sureme court of the United States decided that either one of these parallels was the correct boundary line, and held that the line run b John C. Sullivan in 1816 was the correct oundary. The court at the same time at dinted a commission to find and mark thi

Sullivan's line had as the starting point what is known as the northwest corner defining the Osage boundary. This point was established by running a line 100 miles due north from the east bank of the Missouri river, optosite the mouth of the Kansas river. This point was westward 150 miles from the Des Moines river and about sixty miles east from the Missouri river. From that point, where a large iron pillar was placed by the commissioners appointed by the supreme ourt, a line was run due west to the Mir ouri river and a line eastward, not due east, varying about two degrees north east, to the middle of the Des Moines river, making a deviation of about three miles orth of east before the line reaches the Des Molnes river. IN A TANGLE OF INJUNCTIONS. Affairs of South Dakota's Agriculturat College Legally Mixed Up. SIOUX FALLS, S. D., July 31,-(Special.) The supreme court will on August 7 endeavor to arraighten the affairs of the State Agricultural college. The matter grows out of the revolt of the students of the State Agricultural college in 1892 by account of trouble in the State Board of Regents over the faculty of the school. Dr. McLouth, president of the Agricultural college, some time ago tendered his resignation on account of the trouble. It was accepted, to go into effect next month. But subsequently the board persuaded him to remain. This precipitated the row, with the board of regents equally divided on the question of relating Dr. McLouth as president, and Governor Sheldon processed to De McLouth.

opposed to Dr. McLouth.

In making recess appointments the governor appointed Dr. Finnerud of Watertown as regent to fill an unexpired term which ran until March, 1896. Governor Sheldon. taking a poll of the board of regents before taking a poll of the board of regents before sending his appointments to the last legislature for confirmation, concluded that the retention of Dr. Finnerud on the board meant that Dr. McLouth would be re-elected president of the Agricultural college, or else cause a deadlock in the board. He therefore appointed Dr. Coller of Brookings and the appointment was confirmed. When the the appointment was confirmed. When the roll with Dr. Coller as a member, holding that Dr. Finnerud held the seat legally Then Dr. Coller secured from the suprem rount an injunction restraining br. Finnerud from sitting on the board, and Dr. Finnerud mmediately secured from the state court a like injunction relative to Dr. Coller acting, Governor Shelden has in an open letter secused President Shannon of the board accused President Shannon of the board with misappropriating $150 of the state's money, and likewise made a similar charge against Regent Hale of Scotland. Later the governor issued a summons to Mr. Shannon calling him to an audience with the state executive to show cause why he (Shannon) should not be removed for taking the money Mr. Shannon went to the capital, but instead of answering the governor's summons secured from the supreme court an injunc-tion restraining the governor from removing Mr. Shannon from the board. The governor disregarded this order of the court and issued an order removing Mr. Shannon. The latter has retained attorneys to prosecute the governor for contempt, and the papers will be served within a few days.

The meeting of the board of regents was set for yesterday, and Mr. Shannon felt that set for yesterday, and Mr. Shannon felt that he had won a vectory from the governor and would sit as presiding officer when the board met. His hopes were dispelled by the governor securing an injunction restraining Mr. Shannon from acting on the board until August 7. Mr. Shannon secured from Judge Campbell of the state court a restraining order, enjoining the whole board of regents from transacting any business until after August 7, at which time the supreme court was to take up and decide the multitudinous injunctions which have issued in this unseemly quarrel.

WATER RIGHTS IN WYOMING. Decision Expected on a Point of Interest to Irrigation Promoters. CHEYENNE, July 31 .- (Special.)-In the tate of Wyoming the subject of irrigation has become so important that litigation concerning water rights is much more frequent than controversies concerning the title of land. There is at present pending in the courts of this state a question, the decision of which will be watched for with intense interest by settlers. Under the water laws any person appropriating water from any of the streams of the state is compelled to the streams of the state is constructed by the proposed appropriation. Under the construction placed upon this law by the State Board of Control, a bedy clothed by law with the settlements of disputes as to water rights, a person appropriating water of for use on a particular the water so appropriated on that land only, and has no right to use it to irrigate any other land. If followed from this construction that a water right once acquired could not be transferred unless the land on which was originally appropriated was also trans-

However, many of the leading lawyers of the state disagreed with this construction and claimed that under the constitution of the state the water right could be transferred, and further, than an appropriator of water might use it on such lands as he

A case finally arose and the matter is being tested. On a stream in Laramie county, Wyoming, there are three appropriators, there however, not being sufficient water for all three. Upon an adjudication of the water rights of the parties, the first right was awarded to the owner who lived second on the stream. Subsequent to this adjudica-tion this owner of the prior right transferred part of his right to water to the owner who resided below him on the stream. The owners at the head of the stream, claiming that the transfer was void, used all the water that the transfer was void, used an the water they wanted. Thereupon an injunction suit was instituted, restraining the use of the water by the owners at the head of the stream. The district court decided that the transfer was valid, contrary to the construcion placed on the law by the Board of Control, and the whole matter has now gone o the supreme court of Wyoming. The decision will be an important one to the entire west and in the state of Wyoming will forever settle a large number of disputes be-purse, has been added to the program for Manhattan Beach next Saturday. This will without doubt be the greatest bicycle race seen in the vicinity of New York this season, as beside the regular entries at Manhattan Beach those of Sanger, Tyler. Porter and Wheeler have also been received. Wheeler is in much better form and is improving steadily every day, and a great race may be expected when he locks horns with Sanger, Tyler and the other first-class men. Instead of using tandems to pace this race, special purses will be offered for the first man to reach the quarter, half and three-quarter mile posts, thus ensuring a very fast race without the use of pacemakers. The five-mile professional scratch of the same day, for which forty-six entries have been received, will be paced by tandems. These races are to be in conjunction with the amateur races given by the Riverside wheelmen.
