Signatory Powers Send a Collective Note to the Porte Demanding Prompt Redress for the Re-

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 7 .- (Via Sofia)-The representatives of the Signatory powers have sent a collective note to the Turkish government calling attention to the inadequate measures taken by the police authorities to maintain public tranquility in Constantinople and its suburbs and demanding the prompt institution of a rigorous inquiry into the recent rioting, bloodshed and wholesale imprisonment of Armenians here. In addition the powers demand the release of bassies and has presented to the representatives of the powers a communication from the Turkish government repeating the assurance that a plan for reform in Armenia has been accepted by the Porte. It is not believed, however, that this will satisfy the powers. There have been no further excesses, however, although a feeling of great disquiet still prevails and fresh demonstrations upon the part of the Armenians are

The police watching the building promptly notified the military authorities, and a strong force of troops was sent to the spot. A mob filled all the adjacent streets. The action of the militia caused quite a panic among the inmibitary of the quarter and they feel from habitants of that quarter, and they fled from their homes in all directions. The Kurds then entered the workshops among the quays and expelled from them all of the Armenians they could find. Later it is claimed the bodies of

It is frequently recalled that the gendarmes while making arrests repeatedly told the persons taken into custody "to call upon England to deliver you." Those who know the way of the Turkish officials say that this shows that the police were instructed to impress upon the minds of the Armenians that Great Britain was unable or unwilling to assist them in this emergency.

Finally many quarters of Stambul have been placarded with notices inciting the pop-ulace against "the infidels."

The police, it is true, tear down these pla-cards, but they are either unable or unwilling to do so before they have been widely read and have had the effect anticipated upon the population. It is not claimed that the gov-ernment is responsible for this agitation; but the work is being done and the government pparently is unable to put a stop to it. VIENNA, Oct. 7.—The Politische Corre spondence publishes the note which the representatives of the powers at Constantinople have addressed to the Porte, drawing attention to the state of affairs at Stamboul, and advising the Porte to adopt measures for the restoration of order. The note states that subscribers have their information partly from eye witnesses and that it shows the private persons who were arrested were besten and even killed without the peace officers even attempting to prevent it; that those who were wounded were taken to the

Among the motions which the congress will have to consider are a large number dealing with the agrarian program, but they are by no means favorable to the new proposals. Several demands are made that the agrarian program shall be rejected without further ado, while those who do not go so far as this express the opinion that the committee which drafted the program should remain in existence in order to collect further material for the agitation in the rural districts.

Requests are also being considered that the socialists make good their claim to be represented on the presidential bench of the im-perial diet; that they should bring in annually a motion for the introduction of an eight hour day and a minimum wage, and that they shall demand a state probibition of wet nurses, in view of the advantages sterilized milk. Another motion, which is promised good support, proposes that party officials and editors who are members of the Reichstag, and receive a salary of 3,000 marks and more, shall not be paid for their parliamentary services. One member wishes the congress to pronounce that social democracy combat religious communities and the representatives of the doctrines opposed to the proletariat war of liberation.

The Germans learned at the Chicago exposition where the best and cheapest leather in the world could be had. German alum tanned leather has had its day, and the German shoemakers, who, three years ago, would not look at American glazed kid, are now importing it direct and are trying to discover the secrets of its produc tior by sending experts to America and by trying to induce American workmen to come to Germany. Agencies for German leather are found in every large Eurepean city, but the business is largely in English hands. The American trade is helped by the high price of German hides, which handleaps the tanners and limits their output, and the indications point to a scarcity of the domestic Lionized in New York. YORK, Oct. 7.—Elaine Goodale Eastman, the famous authoress and poetess, wife of the Sloux Indian, Dr. Charles A. Eastman, whose unconventional marriage at Ascension church, on Fifth avenue, about four and literary circles, has arrived in the city with her husband on a visit to her father, Henry R. Goodale. This is Mrs. Eastman's first visit to the east since her marriage and she had many callers from among her literary friends. She is almost as youthful in ap-pearance as when she stood a blushing bride at the altar; ner eyes are as bright as ever. To her other accomplishments she has added the charm of a public speaker, and an address she made in the Baptist church, on One-hundred and Twenty-fifth street, excited the closest interest of a large congregation. Many of Mrs. Eastman's friends in Boston have been urging her to make this city her permanent home, but she appears to be much attached to the west and it is probable that she will make her home permanently there.

SABULA, Ia., Oct. 7.-The singularly disding of John Taplaw and Anna Gage is still occupying the attention of the medical fraternity of this city and other cities, but so far no physician has been able to correctly diagnose the disease. Three deaths have occurred and eighty persons are confined to their be's and several of these are not ex-pected to live. The dead are: GEORGE BRYANT, Sterling, Ill.

The peculiarity of the disease is causing great apprehension and is attributable to the failure of the physicians to successfully com-bat it. It is similar to common forms of poisoning and its imperviousness to all anti-dotes and usual remedies is a puzzler. The fact that most of the victims were not stricken until several days after partaking of the wedding feast furnishes another surprise to the physicians. There are twenty-five

Its Consideration Remains Optional With the Superior Body of the Church-New Name of Bishop-Condjutor Adopted.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 7 .- Two more cities gave cordial invitations to the house of deputies of the Episcopalian convention today to hold the convention of 1898 within their borders, Rev. Dr. Arthur Lawrence prescated the Invitation of Boston and Rev. A. W. Knight of Georgia that of Atlanta. Both were referred to the committee without comment.

Memorials to the late Dr. Phillips Brooks, Dr. Washington and other deceased clergymen were introduced. Rev. Dr. William Prall of Detroit read the report of the deputation to the provircial synod of Canada. Its chief recommendation was that another deputation be sent next September to the recently organized general synod of Canada.

A. J. C. Zowden of Massachusetts presented a resolution looking to the more dignified observance of the Fourth of July. He regarded the present celebration idea as trifling and not fitted to the character of the anniversary.

Among the resolutions was one calling the attention of the house of bishops to the infractions of the canons by lay readers, who, it was claimed, were in some instances exseeding their powers.

There was a short debate in the house of deputies this morning over a proposition to put a check on the house of bishops by requiring that it should act on all matters of legislation coming from the house of deputies laid on the table.

The deputies spent the entire afternoon in debate, and the only action on record is that they decided to hereafter call an assistant bishop bishop-caadjutor. This is in accordance with the desires of the revision committee, which recommended the term bishop-coadjutor. This was not done without considerable debate, however, as there was a strong decident. debate, however, as there was a strong ele-

At present he is called presiding bishop and holds office through seniority. The revised version calls him primus and has him elected. There was a strong conception to the use of There was a strong opposition to the use of Latin and many words were suggested. Among them were archbishop, president-bishop and primate. This last will likely be adopted, the ich the discussion is still on.

This evening the Church club of Minnespolittle hope is entertained for their recovery. The house of bishops this afternoon appointed a committee to act with the deputies in selecting a place for the next convention; also a committee in response to the invitation of the archbishop of Canterbury, to suggest subjects for discussion of the Lam in 1897. The committee appointed consists of Bishop Littlejohn of Long Island, Hishop Perry of Iowa and Bishop Hall of Vermont. The bishops spent practically all of the after-noon discussing the constitutional revision question and adopted three chapters, after making some amendments, which were not made public. Tried to Cut His Sweetheart's Thront.
