BORN OF COMMERCIAL NECESSITY
Senator Burrows said that the question of trade is closely interwoven with our whole trade is closely interwoven with our whole onational life. It was the caure of the reposit of the colonies and a potent factor in the establishment of our constitution. The conflicting regulations of the several states of the confederation crippled commerce and jealousy was engendered that brought the states to the verge of civil war. In the light of history it could be assected that our national government sprang from commercial necessity more than from any other single cause, or all other causes combined. It was not surprising after eight years' experience with the confederation to find the framers of the constitution stripping the states of all authority on the subject of commerce, and expressly conferring on the national government the power to regulate commerce with foreign nations and among the several states. The regulation of our forcisn and domestic trade has been steadily pursued since then in appropriate legislation. The limit of the power thus conferral. BORN OF COMMERCIAL NECESSITY. commensurate with the requirements was a power sufficiently comprehensive to embrace not only the objects and instru-mentalities of commerce, but to construct, oversee and make safe the highways over oversee and make safe the highways over which thet commerce moves.

In taking from the states all control over commerce and lodging it exclusively in the national government state lines were swept away and a national highway across the continent was opened. With trade absolutely unshackled, is it any wonder our domestic commerce has attained proportions which are the marvel of the age?

He quoted figures showing the growth of American business and concluded: "If this supply of our domestic production shall exceed the demands of domestic consumption let us find a way under reciprocity to se-ceed the demands of domestic consumption let us find a way under reciprocity to secure foreign markets without impairing or surrendering our own, turning our attention to the 55,000,000 people on the hemisphere to the south of us, unfurling our flag in every part of Central and South America, plercing the barriers between the two oceans with a new highway of commerce open to the sea and penetrating the centers of South American trade with an intercontinental railway."

Charles Every Smith of Philadelphia ox

Charles Emory Smith of Philadelphia, exminister to Russia, was the third speaker, his toast being "National Development and Opportunity."

PROGRESS IS WONDERFUL. PROGRESS IS WONDERFUL.

Ours is a land of fulness and not of famine. Providence has dowered as with matchless opportunity and the world's evolution unfolds before us the crowning destiny of mankind. In 100 years a marvelous growth has advanced our country from almost nothing until today it possesses more than one-fifth of all the wealth of all the world.

In the two decades from 1870 to 1890, the three mighty powers of Great Britain, France and Germany all combined, with their 125,000,000 people, gained in wealth $80,000,000,000, while the United States alone, with its 60,000,000 people, gained $338,000,000, while the United States aren's two-thirds as much as all the others put together.

In 1860, the product of our manufacturers was little more than half of England's. In 1890, it was more than double her output. Our expansion in industries was more than twice that of England, France and Germany together. Their debis are piling up; ours are melting away. Their taxes are rising; ours are falling. Their expenditures are fightfully swelling; ours are relatively declining. Their productive forces are stripped for armies and armaments; ours at the plow, the forge, the loom and the extremediate the plow, the forge, the loom and the extremediate in the sixth round at the olympic club tonight.

BADE FAREWELL AND WELCOME. Scottish Claus Receive a Chief and

Bid a Goodbye. Scottish clausmen gathered in numbers in Patterson hall last night to celebrate an occasion in which sorrow and joy were so mingled that neither predominated and the affair. therefore took on a mellowness that rendered it one of pleasure, even if it was a formal farewell to one of the friends of Clan Gordon, William Ross, the secretary. The rejoicing was in the shape of a welcome to an honored friend, the royal chief of the order, W. H. Steen of Braidwood, Ill.

The earlier portion of the evening was spent in the lodge rooms of the clan, where an hour was spent in a business session. Meanwhile the wives, daughters, sisters, sweethearts and friends of the members gathered in the large hall until almost every seat was occupied, and when the members, the majority in the pretty plaid and other regalia, arrived, they barely found standing The program of speech, music and song and refreshments was at once begun.
Royal Chief Steen naturally devoted his speech to the order of which he is the supreme representative. He spoke of Clan Douglas of St. Louis, No. 1, the clan from which the order had sprung, and which con-sisted at first of only a number of Scotchmen who had gathered together to contribute a few dollars to aid the bereaved relatives of decreased Scotchmen. He related how the or-der had grown, but denied that at any time it had encroached on the territory of any other Scottish society. He remarked concerning the advantages of the order and urged times their usual size. As a result of this the feminine relatives of the members to speak good of it whenever opportunity offered, because its primary object was to help them. He concluded by detailing present prosperous condition of the order In the very midst of his speech he stopped

"MEN MUST WORK WOMEN MUST WEEP"

It was a great poet who penued the above lines, but he was very much mistaken. He was wrong in saying that women MUST weep. Women were misery. Why should they weep?

WOMEN'S WEAKNESSES are the curse of womanhood. They have wrung tears from many a wife and mother. What a pathetic story could be told of the suffering caused by sick headaches, backaches, miserable tired feelings and the thousand and one painful symptoms which so many women endure. But it is all unnecessary,

THEY CAN BE CURED. Thousands of happy women testify to this fact. Ask them and they will tell you how much they owe to the benefit received from taking Warner's Safe Cure. the best and most reliable remdy for all ailments of womankind. Tracts Recovered from the Sloux City & St. Paul Rond to Be Taken Up. WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 .- (Special Telegram.) Secretary Smith has approved the instructions to be sent the register and receiver of the Des Moines land office, relative to the opening of the Sioux City & St. Paul railroad land for which title was declared to be in the United States by a recent de cision of the United States supreme court. There are 21,779 acres to be opened anew to settlement, of which 800 acres are in Dixon county and the balance in O'Brien

Applications now on file for lands are declared to be null and void and to carry no rights with them, but in order that these applicants may be protected, each one of record is to be specially notified of the date of the opening and is to be required to make a new application, setting a day after the opening of lands on which to make final proof. Each applicant is also required to publish a notice of his intention to make application for his tract before the expiration the usual practice of the department is to be
