

Pulse of Western Progress.

A complicated case will come up before United States Court Commissioner Hoover at Gettysburg some time next month, says a Piets special to the Sioux Falls Argus-Leader. The case grows out of the action of a number of Indians who took several lands on Bad river before the opening of the reservation to settlement. After several years of suit, a number of them have secured the title to the land.

tract of spongy marsh soil, in whose depths the soft soap surplus is absorbed. The product is perfectly marketable and, in the coming commercial development of the Big Horn basin, there will doubtless be a natural soft soap syndicate.

MONTANA'S WILD MAN DEAD. John Pettinelli, the wild man of the Wise River mountains, has been found dead in his mountain retreat, a party of special to the Denver Republican. Pettinelli came to Montana during the early period of the war and lived in the mountains with the wild animals of the Wise River mountains, living entirely on raw meat procured by running down game and killing it with a club.

They believe to have been placed there by the Great Spirit as a guide to the hot springs below. The huge stone was taken to a neighboring residence, where it has been attracting the attention of those interested in the relics of the stone age. It will probably be presented to some California museum.

NEBRASKA. Every man on the democratic ticket in Thomas county was elected. Phil Armour of Chicago is storing 15,000 bushels of corn at Beaver City. Cedar county will no longer employ teachers holding third grade certificates.

The telephone system will soon be extended from Beaver City to Arapahoe, and thence up the Republican valley as far as Cambridge. The Modern Woodmen of Pullerton went out the other day, and hauled and cribbed thirty-five acres of corn for the widow of a deceased brother.

It is now reported that the gold-bearing gravel near Millport is in a best eight miles long and half a mile wide and that two other experts believe Bartlett have found as high as $75 and $100 a ton. The Dorchester Star says: "It is rumored about town that Schlatter, the river boatman, is a shoe maker by trade and was formerly in the employ of William Jennings, who once upon a time ran a shoe shop here."

Ed Hoover, a young man near Howe, killed himself, the cause supposed to have been the unendurable misery and excitement caused by a valuable patent he had just procured on a rat and squirrel trap. Temporary aberration of the mind doubtless attended the act.

The Elkhorn road has been used in the district court at Fremont in the sum of $125,000 for damages by the citizens of Dodge, Neb. The petition sets forth that on September 1, 1900, the town was wiped out by fire, which is alleged to have started from a spark from an Elkhorn engine, which, it is alleged, did not have proper sparks, creating the smoke stack.

The managers of the Elkhorn Irrigation company in Hot county have a large force of men at work on the Elkhorn ditch constructing laterals. They have about thirty miles of laterals already completed, which cover an area of 5,000 acres. It is the intention of the company to complete fifty miles more of laterals this fall if the weather remains favorable.

George Herman, postmaster at Richmond, has been found to be $750 short in his accounts. Davonport business men are trying to locate $50,000 in order to improve railroad facilities.

Sixty miners have left Okaloosa for the state of Oregon on account of the low wages at the former place. Dr. Plincy charged with the death of Mrs. Johnson at Clinton, has been indicted for murder in the first degree.

John Peck, aged 21, has mysteriously disappeared from Waterloo, Ia., and his family thinks he has become temporarily deranged. G. M. McFall, postmaster of Okaloosa, has purchased the Daily News of that city and will run it as a straight democratic newspaper.

At Cedar Rapids three tramps assaulted William Brainard, a switchman, and stole his overcoat, coat, vest, shoes, cap and sundries. William Blowers, a prominent Waterloo stockman, accidentally fell on a sidewalk, toppling off into a cellar twelve feet deep.

Three burglars entered the general store of Whitacre, May & Hamilton, cracked the safe and got away with $1,000 worth of jewelry and sundries. The explosion damaged the building to the extent of $500.

William Egge, a farmer residing near Garden Plain, died of lockjaw. A short time ago he caught his hand in a corn shredder while feeding it, and although he had an amputation performed lockjaw set in, from which he died.

John Sullivan, who for a number of years has been roadmaster of the Chicago & North Western in the Illinois Central road, has accepted a like position at New Orleans for the same company. The new position is a much more important one, and pays $500 more a year.

George Benson, a farmer near Fredericks, sold some hogs and delivered them to George Higgins in this city, the hogs were in greenbacks. It was late when he returned home, and for safe keeping, he placed them in the ash of a cook stove. The next morning he awoke and found his wife, not knowing of the money, built a fire in the stove and very nearly reduced the bills to ashes. She was chided beyond recognition. One of the bills, charred beyond recognition, was shown to a friend in Washington to see of Uncle Sam will redeem them.

Three large mounds, relics of the Indians or mound builders, have been discovered near Eldora by Dr. Elliott, Charles Gages and Joseph Hoody. One of the mounds was explored by the men recently. It is round in shape, 168 feet in circumference, forty-five feet in diameter and five or six feet deep. Down at a depth of four feet the men found a number of stone knives, axes and other stone instruments, and a very fine piece of woven fabric, which crumpled when exposed to the light. No bones or remains have been found, but the search is still looked forward to with much interest, as this is the first time these mounds have been opened.

A movement has been started to organize Higgins in this city, the relic was discovered by the Illinois Central road, has accepted a like position at New Orleans for the same company. The new position is a much more important one, and pays $500 more a year.

George Benson, a farmer near Fredericks, sold some hogs and delivered them to George Higgins in this city, the hogs were in greenbacks. It was late when he returned home, and for safe keeping, he placed them in the ash of a cook stove. The next morning he awoke and found his wife, not knowing of the money, built a fire in the stove and very nearly reduced the bills to ashes. She was chided beyond recognition. One of the bills, charred beyond recognition, was shown to a friend in Washington to see of Uncle Sam will redeem them.

Three large mounds, relics of the Indians or mound builders, have been discovered near Eldora by Dr. Elliott, Charles Gages and Joseph Hoody. One of the mounds was explored by the men recently. It is round in shape, 168 feet in circumference, forty-five feet in diameter and five or six feet deep. Down at a depth of four feet the men found a number of stone knives, axes and other stone instruments, and a very fine piece of woven fabric, which crumpled when exposed to the light. No bones or remains have been found, but the search is still looked forward to with much interest, as this is the first time these mounds have been opened.

A movement has been started to organize Higgins in this city, the relic was discovered by the Illinois Central road, has accepted a like position at New Orleans for the same company. The new position is a much more important one, and pays $500 more a year.

George Benson, a farmer near Fredericks, sold some hogs and delivered them to George Higgins in this city, the hogs were in greenbacks. It was late when he returned home, and for safe keeping, he placed them in the ash of a cook stove. The next morning he awoke and found his wife, not knowing of the money, built a fire in the stove and very nearly reduced the bills to ashes. She was chided beyond recognition. One of the bills, charred beyond recognition, was shown to a friend in Washington to see of Uncle Sam will redeem them.

Three large mounds, relics of the Indians or mound builders, have been discovered near Eldora by Dr. Elliott, Charles Gages and Joseph Hoody. One of the mounds was explored by the men recently. It is round in shape, 168 feet in circumference, forty-five feet in diameter and five or six feet deep. Down at a depth of four feet the men found a number of stone knives, axes and other stone instruments, and a very fine piece of woven fabric, which crumpled when exposed to the light. No bones or remains have been found, but the search is still looked forward to with much interest, as this is the first time these mounds have been opened.

of the dead cattle reveals the fact that that organ is filled with compact mass of corn and other grains and hay that seems to be in a semi-digested state, and the supposition is that the food eaten was not thoroughly digested, and lying in the stomach causes irritation and inflammation, resulting in the death of the creature. Some regard the disease as kind of indigestion, as it seems to resemble dry murrain in all respects.

THE DAKOTAS. The meeting of the dairymen of the state to form a state association will be held in Sioux Falls January 8 and 9. Iron Hawk, a Pine Ridge Indian, has been arrested on the charge of cattle killing. Iron Hawk is a medicine man and believes that he has a special privilege of killing all the cattle he wanted.

A special election was held in Bowen township, Sargent county, to vote bonds for $2,000 to sink an artesian well for irrigation purposes. Only two opposing ballots were cast. This township adjoins the town of Norman, which recently voted to bond to put down the artesian well.

David Crooks, one of the prominent farmers of Minnehaha county, suffering from a painful and dangerous wound. He was attacked by an angry bear. The animal bit him on the chest, and tore away a big piece of flesh. The ligaments of the leg were pulled away, and there are grave doubts as to whether he can save the lower part of his leg.

A systematic effort is again being made to rid the cattle ranges of the numerous gray wolves, which during the last year have been causing so much havoc in the Dakota stockmen. During a hunt in the vicinity of Chamberlain, in which thirty hunters were engaged, a number of wolves were in the front rank and only the dog were in the rear. Eighteen gray wolves were killed, most of them being run down and lassoed by their legs.

A movement is on foot for the organization of an independent local telephone company in the Hills. Hiram Dotson of Spearhead is in charge of the project. The company is to be organized on a 200 share basis.

A Salem woodsawyer sued a business man of that city for 40 cents for sawing a cord of wood recently, and lost his suit. The woodsawyer will pay $1 bounty on wildcats, cougars, and coyotes. The stockman's union supplementing it with another $1 in each case.

There are four arrastres at work on Upper James river, and another will be ready to start in a few days. A heavy silver chain, which resembles the color of the water, was recently unearthing while digging in the sand at Rufus for arrow heads.

Dear Reed, who lives a mile above Colquhoun, has a secret place that he has reclaimed in 1832. He found it under the old house that was first built on his place by James Williams. The coin is quite dark and has a hole in the center.

J. J. Williams of Dallas cut down the big oak tree in front of his residence and in its heart a foot from the surface and eight feet from the trunk, he found a silver arrowhead. The tree had doubled in diameter since he moved to Dallas twenty-one years ago.

It is generally supposed that salmon eat nothing but fresh water, but the other day were delivered at Kinney's cannery in Astoria that were totally different in color from salmon usually caught at this time of the year, and were full of small scardines.

The Long Creek Eagle has been having an Irish potato contest. Several weeks ago Robert Powell brought that prize potato, which was a four that pulled two pounds seven ounces. Recently, however, John Armbrust beat that by bringing a "spud" weighing three pounds, four that pulled two pounds and three-quarters pounds.

The Rogue River Courier says that Prof. Payne, who has been succeeded by Prof. John Carter as superintendent of the school, has undertaken to make a young albatross attend divine service by physical force. The result was a success.

Mr. J. T. Howard, an old-time resident of Rich Junction, writes that he has made a rich gold strike at Ouray and sold out for $200,000. He says the claim was an old shaft given him by an old miner who was unable to take care of it. He worked for a short time and soon struck free gold running very rich.

Tyler gold camp is giving evidences of developing into a sensation, and the evidence is that the gold is there. A prospector exhibited a piece of rock, which was taken from the Shiner property. The rock looked like a piece of iron, but when well up in the hole it was found to be gold and it was thought to be worth in the neighborhood of $50, as it was found at less than a mile from the Shiner mine.

The South-Friar sawmill at Lowell is to be rebuilt. A new company has taken hold of the project and Everett has given a land and money bonus. The mill will have a capacity of 50,000 feet of lumber a day.

Assays have been made of croppings found on the Blokomin river, near Cathlamet. The assays showed twelve ounces of silver and one-ninth of an ounce of gold. The second $75.55 of gold and 70 cents of silver to the ton.

The Northern Pacific Railroad company has settled with Mr. Fleet, the Douglas county stockman, for cattle killed in the wreck on the Central Washington several weeks ago. The amount of damages allowed him was something over $10,500.

Surveys have been run and estimates will be made on the construction of an irrigation ditch to cover the Wenatchee flat. It is proposed to take the water from the Wenatchee from a point opposite Mission and across the river at or near the new bridge.

The first creamery and cheese factory in Washington was established at Cheney about five years ago, says the Cheney Sentinel. Now there are fifty-two creameries in the state, a number of which make cheese also. The daily output of all is 7,000 pounds of butter and 2,500 pounds of cheese.

The work of dredging the marsh lands around Snohomish will soon be completed. The lands were owned by the late John H. Butler and are being sold by a colony of Hollanders. They put in their crops and were exceedingly successful. Another colony is expected over from the old country in the near future, which will settle near the Snohomish colony. The colony forms a little community by itself.

MISCELLANEOUS. The Arizona "calf crop" is said to be very small this year. Southern California is importing apples from the east at about $1 per barrel. An Anacostia man found three black foxes playing in his yard one morning recently.

The old Beck mine in Arizona is producing silver that runs 1,000 ounces to the ton. The town of Benson, A. T., will have a tannery soon. Canagarit road will be cut.

AN OLD MAID'S LOVE—By Maarten Maartens. Paper, 50 cents. United Book company, New York.

A COIN OF REFORM—By J. K. Upton. Cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. The Werber company, Chicago.

WHY DOESN'T SHE JUMP RIGHT? Scientific Explanation of a Puzzling Question Often Asked. For twenty years the country has been debating the question, "Why Does a Woman Get Off a Street Car in the Wrong Way?" Every man knows that in nine cases out of ten, a woman, in getting off a car, jumps toward the right side of the car and steps down so that she is often in danger, should the car start, of being thrown upon her head.

THE HOLLY AND THE ROSE—A story for children. By Ann Hely. Paper, 17 pages, 40 cents. Thomas Whitaker, 2 and 3 Bible House, New York.

96—By J. T. Johnson. Paper, 117 pages. Francis and Publishing company, Atlanta, Ga.

MY SISTER HENRIETTE—By Ernest Renan. Paper, 25 cents. J. S. Ogilvie, New York.

CRIMES OF PREACHERS—Paper, 25 cents. The Truth Seeker company, New York.

THE TRUTH SEEKER—By Richard Henry Stoddard. Paper, 50 cents. P. Tenney Neely, Chicago.

DAS HEIDEDORF—By Max Lenz. Board covers, 25 cents. American Book company, Chicago.

AS YOU LIKE IT—By William Shakespeare. Board covers, American Book company, Chicago.

AN OLD MAID'S LOVE—By Maarten Maartens. Paper, 50 cents. United Book company, New York.

A COIN OF REFORM—By J. K. Upton. Cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. The Werber company, Chicago.

WHY DOESN'T SHE JUMP RIGHT? Scientific Explanation of a Puzzling Question Often Asked. For twenty years the country has been debating the question, "Why Does a Woman Get Off a Street Car in the Wrong Way?" Every man knows that in nine cases out of ten, a woman, in getting off a car, jumps toward the right side of the car and steps down so that she is often in danger, should the car start, of being thrown upon her head.

THE HOLLY AND THE ROSE—A story for children. By Ann Hely. Paper, 17 pages, 40 cents. Thomas Whitaker, 2 and 3 Bible House, New York.

96—By J. T. Johnson. Paper, 117 pages. Francis and Publishing company, Atlanta, Ga.

MY SISTER HENRIETTE—By Ernest Renan. Paper, 25 cents. J. S. Ogilvie, New York.

CRIMES OF PREACHERS—Paper, 25 cents. The Truth Seeker company, New York.

THE TRUTH SEEKER—By Richard Henry Stoddard. Paper, 50 cents. P. Tenney Neely, Chicago.

DAS HEIDEDORF—By Max Lenz. Board covers, 25 cents. American Book company, Chicago.

AS YOU LIKE IT—By William Shakespeare. Board covers, American Book company, Chicago.

AN OLD MAID'S LOVE—By Maarten Maartens. Paper, 50 cents. United Book company, New York.

A COIN OF REFORM—By J. K. Upton. Cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. The Werber company, Chicago.

WHY DOESN'T SHE JUMP RIGHT? Scientific Explanation of a Puzzling Question Often Asked. For twenty years the country has been debating the question, "Why Does a Woman Get Off a Street Car in the Wrong Way?" Every man knows that in nine cases out of ten, a woman, in getting off a car, jumps toward the right side of the car and steps down so that she is often in danger, should the car start, of being thrown upon her head.

THE HOLLY AND THE ROSE—A story for children. By Ann Hely. Paper, 17 pages, 40 cents. Thomas Whitaker, 2 and 3 Bible House, New York.

96—By J. T. Johnson. Paper, 117 pages. Francis and Publishing company, Atlanta, Ga.

MY SISTER HENRIETTE—By Ernest Renan. Paper, 25 cents. J. S. Ogilvie, New York.

CRIMES OF PREACHERS—Paper, 25 cents. The Truth Seeker company, New York.

THE TRUTH SEEKER—By Richard Henry Stoddard. Paper, 50 cents. P. Tenney Neely, Chicago.

DAS HEIDEDORF—By Max Lenz. Board covers, 25 cents. American Book company, Chicago.

AS YOU LIKE IT—By William Shakespeare. Board covers, American Book company, Chicago.

AN OLD MAID'S LOVE—By Maarten Maartens. Paper, 50 cents. United Book company, New York.

A COIN OF REFORM—By J. K. Upton. Cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. The Werber company, Chicago.

WHY DOESN'T SHE JUMP RIGHT? Scientific Explanation of a Puzzling Question Often Asked. For twenty years the country has been debating the question, "Why Does a Woman Get Off a Street Car in the Wrong Way?" Every man knows that in nine cases out of ten, a woman, in getting off a car, jumps toward the right side of the car and steps down so that she is often in danger, should the car start, of being thrown upon her head.

THE HOLLY AND THE ROSE—A story for children. By Ann Hely. Paper, 17 pages, 40 cents. Thomas Whitaker, 2 and 3 Bible House, New York.

96—By J. T. Johnson. Paper, 117 pages. Francis and Publishing company, Atlanta, Ga.

MY SISTER HENRIETTE—By Ernest Renan. Paper, 25 cents. J. S. Ogilvie, New York.

CRIMES OF PREACHERS—Paper, 25 cents. The Truth Seeker company, New York.

THE TRUTH SEEKER—By Richard Henry Stoddard. Paper, 50 cents. P. Tenney Neely, Chicago.

DAS HEIDEDORF—By Max Lenz. Board covers, 25 cents. American Book company, Chicago.

AS YOU LIKE IT—By William Shakespeare. Board covers, American Book company, Chicago.

AN OLD MAID'S LOVE—By Maarten Maartens. Paper, 50 cents. United Book company, New York.

A COIN OF REFORM—By J. K. Upton. Cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. The Werber company, Chicago.

WHY DOESN'T SHE JUMP RIGHT? Scientific Explanation of a Puzzling Question Often Asked. For twenty years the country has been debating the question, "Why Does a Woman Get Off a Street Car in the Wrong Way?" Every man knows that in nine cases out of ten, a woman, in getting off a car, jumps toward the right side of the car and steps down so that she is often in danger, should the car start, of being thrown upon her head.

THE HOLLY AND THE ROSE—A story for children. By Ann Hely. Paper, 17 pages, 40 cents. Thomas Whitaker, 2 and 3 Bible House, New York.

96—By J. T. Johnson. Paper, 117 pages. Francis and Publishing company, Atlanta, Ga.

MY SISTER HENRIETTE—By Ernest Renan. Paper, 25 cents. J. S. Ogilvie, New York.

CRIMES OF PREACHERS—Paper, 25 cents. The Truth Seeker company, New York.

THE TRUTH SEEKER—By Richard Henry Stoddard. Paper, 50 cents. P. Tenney Neely, Chicago.

DAS HEIDEDORF—By Max Lenz. Board covers, 25 cents. American Book company, Chicago.

AS YOU LIKE IT—By William Shakespeare. Board covers, American Book company, Chicago.

AN OLD MAID'S LOVE—By Maarten Maartens. Paper, 50 cents. United Book company, New York.

A COIN OF REFORM—By J. K. Upton. Cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. The Werber company, Chicago.

WHY DOESN'T SHE JUMP RIGHT? Scientific Explanation of a Puzzling Question Often Asked. For twenty years the country has been debating the question, "Why Does a Woman Get Off a Street Car in the Wrong Way?" Every man knows that in nine cases out of ten, a woman, in getting off a car, jumps toward the right side of the car and steps down so that she is often in danger, should the car start, of being thrown upon her head.

THE HOLLY AND THE ROSE—A story for children. By Ann Hely. Paper, 17 pages, 40 cents. Thomas Whitaker, 2 and 3 Bible House, New York.

96—By J. T. Johnson. Paper, 117 pages. Francis and Publishing company, Atlanta, Ga.

MY SISTER HENRIETTE—By Ernest Renan. Paper, 25 cents. J. S. Ogilvie, New York.

CRIMES OF PREACHERS—Paper, 25 cents. The Truth Seeker company, New York.

THE TRUTH SEEKER—By Richard Henry Stoddard. Paper, 50 cents. P. Tenney Neely, Chicago.

DAS HEIDEDORF—By Max Lenz. Board covers, 25 cents. American Book company, Chicago.

AS YOU LIKE IT—By William Shakespeare. Board covers, American Book company, Chicago.

AN OLD MAID'S LOVE—By Maarten Maartens. Paper, 50 cents. United Book company, New York.

A COIN OF REFORM—By J. K. Upton. Cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. The Werber company, Chicago.

WHY DOESN'T SHE JUMP RIGHT? Scientific Explanation of a Puzzling Question Often Asked. For twenty years the country has been debating the question, "Why Does a Woman Get Off a Street Car in the Wrong Way?" Every man knows that in nine cases out of ten, a woman, in getting off a car, jumps toward the right side of the car and steps down so that she is often in danger, should the car start, of being thrown upon her head.

THE HOLLY AND THE ROSE—A story for children. By Ann Hely. Paper, 17 pages, 40 cents. Thomas Whitaker, 2 and 3 Bible House, New York.

96—By J. T. Johnson. Paper, 117 pages. Francis and Publishing company, Atlanta, Ga.

MY SISTER HENRIETTE—By Ernest Renan. Paper, 25 cents. J. S. Ogilvie, New York.

CRIMES OF PREACHERS—Paper, 25 cents. The Truth Seeker company, New York.

THE TRUTH SEEKER—By Richard Henry Stoddard. Paper, 50 cents. P. Tenney Neely, Chicago.

DAS HEIDEDORF—By Max Lenz. Board covers, 25 cents. American Book company, Chicago.

AS YOU LIKE IT—By William Shakespeare. Board covers, American Book company, Chicago.

AN OLD MAID'S LOVE—By Maarten Maartens. Paper, 50 cents. United Book company, New York.

A COIN OF REFORM—By J. K. Upton. Cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. The Werber company, Chicago.

WHY DOESN'T SHE JUMP RIGHT? Scientific Explanation of a Puzzling Question Often Asked. For twenty years the country has been debating the question, "Why Does a Woman Get Off a Street Car in the Wrong Way?" Every man knows that in nine cases out of ten, a woman, in getting off a car, jumps toward the right side of the car and steps down so that she is often in danger, should the car start, of being thrown upon her head.

THE HOLLY AND THE ROSE—A story for children. By Ann Hely. Paper, 17 pages, 40 cents. Thomas Whitaker, 2 and 3 Bible House, New York.

96—By J. T. Johnson. Paper, 117 pages. Francis and Publishing company, Atlanta, Ga.

MY SISTER HENRIETTE—By Ernest Renan. Paper, 25 cents. J. S. Ogilvie, New York.

CRIMES OF PREACHERS—Paper, 25 cents. The Truth Seeker company, New York.

THE TRUTH SEEKER—By Richard Henry Stoddard. Paper, 50 cents. P. Tenney Neely, Chicago.

DAS HEIDEDORF—By Max Lenz. Board covers, 25 cents. American Book company, Chicago.

AS YOU LIKE IT—By William Shakespeare. Board covers, American Book company, Chicago.

AN OLD MAID'S LOVE—By Maarten Maartens. Paper, 50 cents. United Book company, New York.

A COIN OF REFORM—By J. K. Upton. Cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. The Werber company, Chicago.

WHY DOESN'T SHE JUMP RIGHT? Scientific Explanation of a Puzzling Question Often Asked. For twenty years the country has been debating the question, "Why Does a Woman Get Off a Street Car in the Wrong Way?" Every man knows that in nine cases out of ten, a woman, in getting off a car, jumps toward the right side of the car and steps down so that she is often in danger, should the car start, of being thrown upon her head.

THE HOLLY AND THE ROSE—A story for children. By Ann Hely. Paper, 17 pages, 40 cents. Thomas Whitaker, 2 and 3 Bible House, New York.

96—By J. T. Johnson. Paper, 117 pages. Francis and Publishing company, Atlanta, Ga.

MY SISTER HENRIETTE—By Ernest Renan. Paper, 25 cents. J. S. Ogilvie, New York.

CRIMES OF PREACHERS—Paper, 25 cents. The Truth Seeker company, New York.

THE TRUTH SEEKER—By Richard Henry Stoddard. Paper, 50 cents. P. Tenney Neely, Chicago.

DAS HEIDEDORF—By Max Lenz. Board covers, 25 cents. American Book company, Chicago.

AS YOU LIKE IT—By William Shakespeare. Board covers, American Book company, Chicago.

AN OLD MAID'S LOVE—By Maarten Maartens. Paper, 50 cents. United Book company, New York.

A COIN OF REFORM—By J. K. Upton. Cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. The Werber company, Chicago.

WHY DOESN'T SHE JUMP RIGHT? Scientific Explanation of a Puzzling Question Often Asked. For twenty years the country has been debating the question, "Why Does a Woman Get Off a Street Car in the Wrong Way?" Every man knows that in nine cases out of ten, a woman, in getting off a car, jumps toward the right side of the car and steps down so that she is often in danger, should the car start, of being thrown upon her head.

THE HOLLY AND THE ROSE—A story for children. By Ann Hely. Paper, 17 pages, 40 cents. Thomas Whitaker, 2 and 3 Bible House, New York.

96—By J. T. Johnson. Paper, 117 pages. Francis and Publishing company, Atlanta, Ga.

MY SISTER HENRIETTE—By Ernest Renan. Paper, 25 cents. J. S. Ogilvie, New York.

CRIMES OF PREACHERS—Paper, 25 cents. The Truth Seeker company, New York.

THE TRUTH SEEKER—By Richard Henry Stoddard. Paper, 50 cents. P. Tenney Neely, Chicago.

DAS HEIDEDORF—By Max Lenz. Board covers, 25 cents. American Book company, Chicago.

AS YOU LIKE IT—By William Shakespeare. Board covers, American Book company, Chicago.

AN OLD MAID'S LOVE—By Maarten Maartens. Paper, 50 cents. United Book company, New York.

A COIN OF REFORM—By J. K. Upton. Cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents. The Werber company, Chicago.